A New York letter says that Isaiah Rynders, a noted democratic politician years ago, who was supposed to have a competency, has lost his property, and in his old age is very poor.

It is believed in Europe that the czar will commute the sentence of Hessy Helfman, the woman who was condemned to death for complicity in the murder of the late czar.

It is announced that Lord Colin Campbell, a younger brother of the marquis of Lorne, is about to marry Miss Gertrude Blood, formerly of New York, and that the Princess Louise will attend the wedding. Miss Blood is a daughter of Victoria Woodhull, of unsavory reputation, and Col. Blood, one of her husbands.

A St. Petersburg despatch says that the Siberian plague, which was recently reported as having made its appearance in the environs of that city, is spreading with alarming rapidity. Horses are dying by scores, and many persons are afected. The local authorities are helpless, owing to the want of efficient doctors, and the fact that the peasants sell the skins of the beasts which have died of the disease. A high official has left St. Petersburg to take active measures to arrest the epidemic.

Mrs. W. B. Davis, formerly of Auburn, Me., now of Massachusetts, recently vomited up a brass neck chain five inches long, which she swallowed fifteen years ago.

A Rockport dory fisherman, Charles Norwood, caught the other day a halibut that weighed, after trimming, 305 pounds. The wonder is, too, that he caught it on Milk Island ledge, a shoal only about six fathoms deep, and with a line so light that it would easily have snapped had he not trolled the monster along carefully to the shore, where he was finally captured. —Newport Herald.

Burnett's Cocoaine.

A Lady's Hair Saved by its Use.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE will keep the hair in a strong and healthy condition by stimulating the roots of the hair and restoring the natural action upon which its growth depends. Twenty years ago a single bottle saved a lady's hair in a desperate case where every other treatment had failed; and since that early success thousands of cases of Baldness, Dandruff, Loss of Hair and Irritation of the Scalp have yielded to this remedy.

The superiority of Burnett's Flavoring Extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength.

It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. A REGULAR MEETING of Storer Post, No. 1, G. A. R., will be held at Odd Fellows' hall on Daniel street, on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. PER ORDER.

FELLOWS' Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

GRIEF.

Excessive anxiety, or prolonged Study, will produce infirmity in the Nervous System, in proportion as the strength of that system is expended upon the mind in troubled thought, so are the organs of digestion, assimilation and nutrition, rendered inactive and sluggish in proportion as the system becomes infirm. Every individual has some one organ weaker than the rest, and this is always the first to suffer during nervous prostration; for example, afflicting news sometimes causes total suspension of the muscular action of the heart, producing sudden hemorrhage and death. No doubt any longer remains of the practibility of restoring the nervous system, and through the nerves the muscles of the impaired organs. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been proved to possess such power in numerous instances. It will impart strength to overcome trouble and affliction. Persons who are accustomed to looked upon the dark side, and who see no pleasure in living, on using this Syrup soon learn to value and enjoy life, and those who study deeply during long hours, will find in the Syrup a promoter of the power of endurance in the brain.

There is no doubt of this fact, that an impaired Nervous System causes Consumption, Neuralgia, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Heart Disease, and a host of others. Fellows' Hypophosphites, which effectually cures Nervous debility, should cure these diseases also. "Remove the cause and the complaint will cease."

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., Feb. 23d, 1880.

JAMES I. FELLOWS, ST. JOHN, N. B.

Dear Sir: I have been prescribing your Hypophosphites for several years, both in Canada and the United States, and, being particularly at this famous resort for invalids, where thousands annually congregate. For those in whom the brain and nervous System has been exhausted from excess or overwork, I have found no combination of remedies so prompt and efficacious in restoring the vital forces. I hope that every person needing relief will avail themselves of so valuable a preparation. Respectfully,

ALEX McMASTER, M. D.

AROUND HOME.

Hon. John Wentworth of Chicago is at the Rockingham house.

Patrick Hennessey, of No. 19 Water street, formerly a member of the board of aldermen, died on Saturday last.

The steamer Appledore had about all the passengers she could accommodate on her last trip to the Shoals on Saturday.

J. P. Morse, Esq., of Morse & Ilsley, insurance agents and real estate brokers, will spend this week and the next at Caswell's hotel, Smuttynose island, Isles of Shoals.

The skeleton of a whale sixty-three feet long is preserved intact under a shed on Appledore island.—Portsmouth cor. Manchester Union.

And has been for years.

The marines at the navy yard were paid last week, Major Green Clay Goodloe, paymaster of the corps, having visited the barracks upon his quarterly round of pay service.

Sheriff Kent sold at auction on Saturday the stock of ready made clothing and gentlemen's furnishing goods in the store recently occupied by E. Green & Co. The stock was small, having been appraised at only $631.54, and most of it went at low prices.

Four young men from Lowell, Mass., members of a canoe club, arrived in this city Saturday evening with two canoes, on their way to lake Winnipesaukee. They remained here Saturday night, and started up river at five o'clock Sunday morning.

A small audience attended the performance of "Billee Taylor" at Franklin theatre on Saturday evening. The piece is a rather "thin" affair, being not nearly as good as "Olivette," and the latter is not to be compared with Pinafore or the Pirates of Penzance.

The family of Choate Burnham, Esq., of Boston, arrived at his farm on Gerrish's island, Kittery, last week, to spend the hot season. A flagstaff has been erected on the "lookout" hill between the farm buildings and the ocean beach, from which a handsome ensign will be displayed.

The family of Mr. William G. Parker of Kittery, on Wednesday of last week presented him with a beautiful and costly easy chair, the occasion being his 83d birth-day. The old gentleman's son William made the presentation speech, and a very pleasant social evening was spent.

The instructor of Glover's band, of Auburn, Me., which won the first prize, $150, in the recent band tournament at lake Maranacook, is Mr. N. M. Perkins, formerly a resident of this city and a member of the naval band. Mr. Perkins wielded the baton for the band during the tournament.

At the brokers' board in Boston, Saturday, Eastern railroad stock sold at 50 1-2; Portland, Saco & Portsmouth, 113 1-4; Eastern 4 1-2s, at 111 1-2. At auction, Portsmouth, Saco & Portland railroad sold at 115 3-8; Great Falls Manufacturing Co., 120 1-2; New Hampshire state 6s, 1901, brought 127.

A good job was done on a small piece of Vaughan street last week. The cobble stones having been taken up by the aqueduct men to stop a leak, they were hauled off instead of being put down again, and that section of the street macadamized. The upper part of Vaughan street, from its junction with school street, is now all macadamized, and the rest of it should be, for the street is more travelled by transient visitors than any other in the city, and the old cobble-stone paving is a relic of a past age.

The annual meeting of the Portsmouth company will be held at South Berwick on the 27th inst.

The Exeter Coal Co. are negotiating for the purchase of another schooner, to load on a draught of eight feet.

Paymasters H. T. Wright and Albert W. Bacon, U. S. N., are trying their luck at fishing in the streams at East Wakefield, in Carroll county.

Judge Virgin of the Maine supreme court has granted an injunction in favor of the Old Orchard Junction railroad, restraining the Eastern railroad from removing the frogs which connect the roads.

The Eastern railroad pay trains arrived in this city on the 14th, and the hands were paid. They were ordered to step into another car attached behind, where each of them were examined for color-blindness. Though it was a rigid test none failed to pass, and all were given certificates that they were free from color-blindness. This was glad news, for some feared they might not pass.—Dover Democrat.

We received a very pleasant call, Thursday, from George W. Marston, of New York city, formerly of the Portsmouth CHRONICLE. He has been spending a short vacation in his old Portsmouth home, and made his first visit to Concord in five years. He is in excellent health, and contemplates a short trip to London, on business, in a few weeks. He received a warm greeting from many old friends in this city.—Concord Monitor.

The Bowdoin college class of '78 held their triennial reunion at the Preble house, Portland, Me., on the 15th inst. The class cup was presented to George C. Purington, Jr., the "class baby," son of Mrs. S. C. Purington, (nee Bailey,) formerly assistant teacher in the Portsmouth high school. The degree of M. L. was conferred at Bowdoin upon Mr. Willis W. French of this city, a member of the class of '78.

As two young gentlemen in a team from Rye were turning into Richards avenue from Middle street, Saturday, the horse shied and hit the carriage against a tree or post, pitching both the young men out and leaving the hind wheels and body of the carriage; the horse then took to the sidewalk, cleared himself from the forward wheels, and ran some distance down the avenue, when he was stopped. The carriage was considerably damaged, but the men and horse were not much hurt.

"Willis G. Myers, Stationer." A new script sign bearing the above legend appears over the door of the Congress block book-store, which has been kept in turn by Shores, Foster, and its present proprietor. The summer visitors who patronize Preston during their calls to town are quite in the habit of dropping into Myers' for the last new book, or some tastefully prepared stationery, or to supply the little wants which sea-side sojourners always discover when they come to Congress street.

Among the petitions presented and referred in the legislature last week was one by Mr. Randall of Newcastle, from George W. Towle and others, for legislation giving the people of Newcastle free use of the beach from Fort Point lighthouse to the beacon south of the United States fort on Jerry's point. Mr. Brown of Hampton introduced "an act to incorporate the Hampton Beach Aqueduct company," and Mr. Hatch of Greenland "an act to incorporate the Portsmouth Electric Light company." In the senate Mr. Treat of Portsmouth introduced (by unanimous consent) a bill to amend the charter of the city of Portsmouth, the amendment providing that the school board shall be elected at a special town meeting held for the purpose, instead of by the board of mayor and aldermen as at present, which latter plan has been found to work well. The senate passed the bill to legalize the first meeting of the grantees of the Rye Beach railroad, and the house passed the bill to incorporate the Dover Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, July 16; Batchelder, J.

John Burns, charged with an assault upon Elizabeth Burns, was discharged.

John F. Felch, charged with an assault upon Charles F. Felch, was also discharged. These two parties are brothers, and live in Seabrook. It was a family row, and nobody was hurt.

New Hampshire National Guard.

Both branches of the legislature have passed a joint resolution making a special appropriation of $10,000 for the state militia. This fund will be used for the purchase of overcoats, knapsacks and cartridge boxes, which are sadly needed. This will place the militia upon a complete war footing. Further legislation will be asked for the purpose of securing authority for reducing the number of companies in each regiment from ten to eight. It is intended that this reduction shall be effected by discharging six inefficient and inconveniently located companies. As the number of men in each organization is about fifty, the total reduction will be three hundred, which will bring the aggregate of the state troops from 2,000 down to 1,700. It is the intention of Brigadier-General Clough and other officers to endeavor, after the changes above-named are made, to make the New Hampshire National Guard in equipment, discipline and efficiency, second to no other troops in the country.

Naval Gazette.

Pay Inspector Edward May is detached from duty as inspector of provisions at the Portsmouth navy yard, and ordered to settle his accounts.

Paymaster Charles F. Guild is ordered to duty as inspector of provisions at the Portsmouth navy yard.

Chaplain James J. Kane, attached to the receiving-ship Franklin, is granted leave of absence for one month from July 20th.

The report of the detaching of Capt. Ralph Chandler from command of the Minnesota is confirmed. He is to go to the Boston navy yard.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

"Harper's Magazine" for August is received, with other magazines, by W. G. Myers. It contains a rich variety. The sketch enticled the "White Mountains," by S. A. Drake, is profusely illustrated. "A Day in Africa," by T. B. Aldrich, is good reading at this season of the year. Poems by the late Mr. Fields, Miss Sarah O. Jewett, and very many other interesting articles, serve to make this a choice number. It is also to be found at the news-room of Moses Bros.

"God Save Our President," a National hymn, words by Geo. R. Jackson, music by E. H. Bailey, has been issued by White, Smith & Co., 516 Washington street, Boston, and the language of the song expresses the wish of every loyal heart.

A WELL KNOWN LADY

Escapes the Grave, and Prays for her Deliverer.

SPASMS.

Mrs. S. A. McIlwain, of Fergusonville, Delaware county, N. Y., writes: "Only a few days before I commenced using the "Favorite Remedy," in one of my spasms and sinking spells, my friends thought I was dead, and gave up the attempt to restore me to consciousness. I am confident that if I had not taken your medicine. "Favorite Remedy," during my periods of critical illness I should never have recovered. * * * That the Lord may bless you and increase your means of doing good is my daily prayer, and may many yet unborn praise the "Favorite Remedy" and its discoverer."

THE RUBY RIVER.

To keep the blood pure, is the principal end of inventions and discoveries in medicine. To this object probably no one has contributed more signally than Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, New York., in the production of a medicine which has become famous under the title of the "Favorite Remedy." It removes all impurities of the blood, regulates the disordered Liver and Kidneys, cures Constipation, Dyspepsia, and diseases and weaknesses peculiar to females.

☞ When inquiring of your druggist for this new medicine, avoid mistakes by remembering the name, Dr. David Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy," and the price, which is only one dollar a bottle, and that the doctor's address is Rondout, New York.—Ed.

Sunstrokes.

A prominent Cleveland physician who has had large experience in treating persons who had been sunstruck, gives the following points regarding the symptoms and proper immediate treatment. Said he: "If a person feels a dizziness and sees black specks before his eyes he should be at once hurried to a shady spot. The wrists should be wrapped with iced cloths, over the pulse, and as soon as possible a lump of ice should be placed at the base of the brain, the patient's head resting upon it. It is best also to plunge the arms in cold water half way up to the elbow, until the physician arrives. If accessible, cold cloths might be placed over the chest. It is very essential to produce a movement of the bowels as soon as possible, that the circulation of the blood may be equalized. Sunstroke is caused by the blood becoming so greatly heated that the nerve centres are affected."—Cleveland Herald.

Facts About Sahara.

Dr. Lenz, in a recent lecture at Paris on his journey from Morocco to Timbuctoo, has been correcting some of the generally-received notions as to the condition of the Sahara. It really forms a great plateau, about 1,100 feet above the level of the Atlantic. In no part of this plateau is there to be found that depression below the level of the ocean which is shown on the maps of certain geographers, and which has led to wild schemes of converting the Sahara into a great inland sea. Moreover, the Sahara is not one dead sandy level, but really varied in its aspect. Rocks are succeeded by sandy plains; here and there are oases covered with alfa grass and stagnant, shallow sheets of water. The fresh water fossils, which are met with in many parts, show that the Sahara is not the bottom of a dried-up sea. Again, the temperature is not nearly so hot as might be expected. In short, the Sahara is not so bad as it has been called; wild beasts are rare, and the most formidable enemies to be met with are the Touareg tribes, who, according to the report, recently massacred the French Trans-Sahara expedition. As to Timbuctoo, Dr. Lenz found he had to traverse a great space covered with ruins before he could reach the inhabited part. There are now only 20,000 inhabitants, but many schools and rich libraries.—New York Sun.

—Nebraska version: "She gayly seized the kerosene to stimulate the fire, and the tenor who had loved her, at the funeral led the choir."

—"Never milk while the cow is eating," is the advice of a bucolic contemporary. Judging from the character of much of the milk that comes to market, it would be more to the point never to milk while the cow is drinking.

—They say that Guiteau has succeeded in beating almost every boarding-house keeper in Washington. That explodes the insanity theory. It takes a mighty intellect to escape being cheated by a Washington boarding-house-keeper, let alone cheating him.

—An exchange states that "Joseph Welch and John Harris were fatally injured at Buffalo by falling from a scaffold." We can't tell from the item whether they were painters or murderers. But we should bet they were painters, as very few murderers meet death that way.

I Have Always Paid Rent!

For a house to live in. This year I have half paid for a cottage, with money which, before I used Sulphur Bitters in my family, was paid to the doctor and the druggist. They cured my wife of female weakness.—Mechanic, Salem.

—Ralph Waldo Emerson, many years ago, in the days of transcendentalism, supplied for a long time a pulpit in East Lexington, Mass. Rev. Dr. Hedge, who was then a young preacher in Maine, went to Lexington through Mr. Emerson's means, and preached several Sundays. A lady of the congregation, says the Literary World, was asked how Mr. Hedge was liked. "Oh," said she, "we are a very simple people, and can understand nobody but Mr. Emerson."

"It never fails me where indicated, and its purity and perfect combination renders it invaluable," says the distinguished author and scientist Dr. Tullo S. Verdi of Washington, D. C., (Commissioner National Board of Health), of the Liebig Co.'s Articated Extract of Witch Hazel. Cures piles, salt rheum, rheumatism, periodical pains of females, catarrh, neuralgia. Sold in fifty cents and dollar sizes.

—A Kansas man is reported to have two hearts. He is probably the only man in the world who can serve both God and Mammon, but he isn't the only one who is engaged in trying to.

"Rough on Rats."

The thing desired found at last. Ask druggist for Rough on Rats. It clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, bedbugs; 15 cts. boxes.

Skinny Men.

Wells' Health Renewer. Absolute cure for nervous debility and weakness of the general functions; $1 at druggists.

—The Iowa man who last winter wrote to Gov. Long, of Massachusetts, to choose him a wife, recently called on the governor to see why he had not complied with his request.

Why throw away so much money trying worthless medicines, when for 35 cents a remedy can be procured that will cure coughs, colds, sore lungs and croup? Give it a trial. Adamson's Balsam will do it. Trial bottle, 10 cts.

—The directors of a French railway company, who "directed" the concern in their own interests, have been ordered to pay $2,500,000 to the stockholders. All the "rings" are not in America.

"The Domestic Tyrant."

"The average man," quote Mrs. Partington, "is a weak and irritable domestic tyrant," and Mrs. P. is correct. Tyrannical to a fault the average man will enter the blissful paradise of a happy home, scratch himself in fiendish glee, send the baby into convulsions, and for what? Why, because he has the itching piles, and is too mean to buy Swayne's Ointment, which is an infallible cure for the worst cases of that annoying complaint.

POSITIVELY CURED BY

Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First.

Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.

Second.

Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognised by the profession.

Third.

Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.

Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth.

Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth.

Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

Redistricting the State.

The following is the bill introduced in the legislature last week, providing for "redistricting the state for the election of representatives in Congress."

SECTION 1. The state shall be divided into two districts, for choosing representatives in the Congress of the United States, and each district shall be entitled to elect one representative.

SEC. 2. Said districts shall be formed and limited in manner following: The counties of Rockingham, Hillsborough, Cheshire, and Sullivan shall constitute the first district; the counties of Strafford, Belknap, Carroll, Merrimack, Grafton, and Coos shall constitute the second district.

SEC. 3. Section one and two of chapter thirty-three of the General Laws of New Hampshire shall be repealed, and this act shall go into effect upon the passage by Congress of an apportionment act, allotting to New Hampshire two representatives in Congress.

Still Another Comet.

Prof. Swift, director of the Warner observatory, Rochester, N. Y., has just verified the discovery of another comet, in the constellation of Auriga, made July 14th by Prof. J. M. Schaeberle of Ann Arbor, Mich. This new comet is apparently coming directly toward the earth, and, for a telescopic comet, is very bright; indeed, it can readily be seen with a good opera glass. It is quite remarkable that it should be in just the spot where the present comet was first seen by the naked eye in this latitude, and it shows that the two bodies must have crossed each other's paths. This makes the fourth comet discovered within ten weeks, a circumstance heretofore unknown in history. Prof. Schaeberle has duly filed his application for the Warner prize of $200, and as yet he is the only claimant.

Paymaster Hoy, as soon as the loss was discovered, made good the amount. An order has been issued for the arrest of Didier on the charge of embezzlement.

John A. Tobin, passed assistant engineer U. S. N., is at present abroad engaged in the collection of such information as may be obtained relating to the construction, armament and powering of steam-ships in England and Scotland. Under date of February 10th Mr. Tobin was ordered to Glasgow, Scotland, for special duty in obtaining professional information which may be deemed valuable to the naval service. The first duty was to attend the naval exhibition at Glasgow, and on its conclusion he has been busily engaged in procuring data from the various ship-building firms in England and Scotland, and when he returns home he will embody the results of his visit in a report to the bureau of steam engineering. Under date of July 1st, Mr. Tobin was notified, by direction of the secretary of the navy, of the appointment of the advisory board recently convened, and requested to furnish for the information of the board such memoranda touching the newest types of architecture, armament, power and battery, as practicable, and which he might deem would be of value to the government. Mr. Tobin has great force of character and is destined to achieve eminence in his profession.—Army & Navy Register.

News and Notes.

Two ballots were taken on Monday to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. Conkling, without choice. The votes were both alike, and as follows: Necessary for a choice, 59; Lapham had 54, Conkling 27, Potter (dem.) 34, Evarts one.

Mrs. Eliza Garfield, the President's mother, had a severe attack of cholera morbus on Friday. From her advanced age, over eighty-one years, it is feared she may not recover.

Four more cases of lockjaw from wounds from toy pistols have occurred at Baltimore. Three have proved fatal, and the fourth is not expected to recover. This makes a total of seventeen cases of lockjaw from the use of toy pistols on the Fourth of July, in that city.

F. B. Brecktelheimer, formerly Austrian consul at St. Louis, was arrested in Galveston, Texas, last week, for embezzling $14,000.

Mrs. Ruth Blaisdell of Belgrade, Me., has been arrested on a charge of burning the buildings of B. F. Yeaton. She had had trouble with Yeaton's family, and threatened to burn them out. The evidence was not strong enough to hold her for trial, and she was put under $500 bonds to keep the peace one year.

Joseph Maynard, a Worcester, Mass., youth of fifteen years, died on Tuesday night of last week from lockjaw caused by shooting himself in the palm of the hand with a toy pistol on the Fourth.

A horse and buggy were stolen from the stable of Reginald Morton of Newburyport on Sunday night. The theft was soon found out, and the team was found on the street at about three o'clock Monday morning, having probably been abandoned by the thieves on their discovering that they were pursued.

The secretary of the treasury has awarded a life-saving medal of the first class to Ida Lewis Wilson, the heroine of Newport, for brave and heroic daring, in that in February, 1881, she saved the lives of two men at the peril of her own. The medal would have been awarded to her long before on account of her heroic record, but under the law of 1814 it was not possible until the rescue of last February.

Mayor Slocum of Newport, R. I., at a meeting of the board of aldermen last week publicly called the writer of an article in the Newport News a villain. Hearing that Mayor Slocum had given the name of the writer, Lucius D. Davis, editor of the News, said that he was the writer, and the mayor then repeated his original remark, following it up with profane language of the most insulting character. The board out of respect for itself, and to protect the mayor from further disgrace, adjourned.

The French force occupied Sfax, Tunis, on Saturday, taking the place by assault after a hot bombardment by the fleet. The French lost eight killed and forty wounded.

The governor of Chihuahua, Mexico, in an official report says the Apaches killed five engineers of the Mexican Central railroad, and one American traveller, during their recent raid.

The fire in the Stanton coal mine at Wilkesbarre, Pa., has been extinguished, after burning two years.

Don Carlos, the pretender to the Spanish throne, is ordered to leave France.

The Fiji Times of April 30th reports that a horrible massacre has been perpetrated at the island of Tapitawa. The natives were proselytized by a Kanaka missionary named Kubu, who induced them to give up their weapons. The people of the southern portion of the island became dissatisfied with the constant requisitions on them, and their apostle Kubu preached a crusade against the northern people, armed his followers, and led them in person. An indiscriminate slaughter ensued, over a thousand women and children being massacred. The bodies were collected in a pile and burnt. Kubu has been taken to Honolulu to answer for the crime.

The first 11-inch breech-loading rifle converted from a 15-inch smooth-bore gun has just been completed at the South Boston foundry, and will be mounted at the Sandy Hook proving ground by the end of this month, and tested. This gun will be fired with about 120 lbs. powder and a 550-lb. shot. It is built on the same plan as the 8-inch breech-loader, which has already been fired over 600 rounds, and it is believed will be equally successful.

A $200,000 Bet.

In 1856 St. Joseph was the western terminus of railroad communication. Beyond, the stage coach, the saddle horse, and the ox trains were the only means of communication and commerce with the Rocky mountains and the Pacific slope. In the winter of 1860 there was a Wall street lobby at Washington trying to get $5,000,000 for carrying the mails overland one year between New York and San Francisco. The proposition was extremely cheeky, and Wm. H. Russell, backed by Secretary of War Floyd, resolved to give the lobby a cold-shower bath. He, therefore, offered to bet $200,000 that he could put on a mail line from Sacramento to St. Joseph that would make the distance—1,950 miles—in ten days. The bet was taken, and the 8th of April the day fixed upon as the day for starting.

Mr. Russell called upon his partner and general manager of business upon the plains, Mr. A. B. Miller, now a citizen of Denver, and stated what he had done, and asked if he could perform the feat. Mr. Miller replied: "Yes, sir; I will do it, and do it by a pony express." To accomplish this, Mr. Miller purchased 300 of the fleetest horses in the west, and employed 125 men. Eighty of the men were to be post riders. These he selected with reference to their light weight and their known daring and courage. It was very essential that the horses should be loaded as lightly as possible, therefore the lighter the man the better. It was necessary that some portions of the route should be run at the rate of twenty miles an hour. The horses were stationed from ten to twenty miles apart, and each rider would be required to ride sixty miles. For the change of animals and the shifting of mails two minutes were allowed. When there were no stage stations at proper distances, tents sufficient to hold one man and two horses were provided. Indians would sometimes give chase, but their cayuse ponies made but sorry show in their stern chase after Miller's thoroughbreds, many of which could make a single mile in one minute and fifty seconds.

All arrangements being completed, a signal gun on the steamer at Sacramento proclaimed the meridian of April 8, 1870—the hour of departing—when Border Ruffian, Mr. Miller's private saddle horse, bounded away towards the foothills of the Sierra Nevadas, and made his ride of twenty miles in forty-nine minutes. The snow was deep in the mountains, and one rider was lost in a snow storm for several hours; and after the Salt Lake valley was reached additional speed became necessary to reach St. Joseph on time. From here on all went well until the Platte was to be crossed at Julesburg. The river was up and running rapidly, but the rider plunged his horse into the flood, only, however, to mire in the quicksand and drown. The courier succeeded in reaching the shore with his mail bag in hand, and traveled ten miles on foot to reach the next relay.

John Fry, a popular rider of the day, was to make the finish. He had sixty miles to ride, with six horses to do it. When the last courier arrived at the sixty-mile post out from St. Joseph, he was one hour behind. A heavy rain had set in and the roads were slippery. Two hundred thousand dollars might turn upon a single minute. Fry had just three hours and thirty minutes in which to win; this was the finish of the longest race for the largest stakes ever run in America. When the time for the arrival was nearly up, at least 1,000 people stood on the river bank, with eyes turned toward the woods from which the horse and its rider should emerge into the open country on the rear of Elwood—one mile from the finish. Tick, tick went thousands of watches! The time was nearly up! But nearly seven minutes remained! Hark! a shout goes up from the assembled multitude: "He comes! He comes!" The noble little mare, Sylph, the daughter of Little Arthur, darts like an arrow from the bow, and makes the last mile in one minute and fifty second ending on the ferry-boat with five minutes and a fraction to spare.—North Pacific Rural Spirit.

—The President recently asked to see a newspaper. Colonel Rockwell said they were all being saved for him. "What, all of them, Rockwell?" he asked. "Yes, all." "Perhaps it wouldn't be best for me to get well," sadly remarked the President.

The superiority of Burnett's Flavoring Extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength.

FELLOWS' Compound Syrup of HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

GRIEF.

Excessive anxiety, or prolonged Study, will produce infirmity in the Nervous System, in proportion as the strength of that system is expended upon the mind in troubled thought, so are the organs of digestion, assimilation and nutrition, rendered inactive and sluggish in proportion as the system becomes infirm. Every individual has some one organ weaker than the rest, and this is always the first to suffer during nervous prostration; for example, afflicting news sometimes causes total suspension of the muscular action of the heart, producing sudden hemorrhage and death. No doubt any longer remains of the practibility of restoring the nervous system, and through the nerves the muscles of the impaired organs. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been proved to possess such power in numerous instances. It will impart strength to overcome trouble and affliction. Persons who are accustomed to looked upon the dark side, and who see no pleasure in living, on using this Syrup soon learn to value and enjoy life, and those who study deeply during long hours, will find in the Syrup a promoter of the power of endurance in the brain. There is no doubt of this fact, that an impaired Nervous System causes Consumption, Neuralgia, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Heart Disease, and a host of others. Fellows' Hypophosphites, which effectually cures Nervous debility, should cure these diseases also. "Remove the cause and the complaint will cease."

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., Feb. 23d, 1880.

JAMES I. FELLOWS, ST. JOHN, N. B.

Dear Sir: I have been prescribing your Hypophosphites for several years, both in Canada and the United States, but more particularly at this famous resort for invalids, where thousands annually congregate. For those in whom the brain and nervous System has been exhausted from excess or overwork, I have found no combination of remedies so prompt and efficacious in restoring the vital forces. I hope that every person needing relief will avail themselves of so valuable a preparation. Respectfully,

ALEX MCMASTER, M. D.

AROUND HOME.

Rear Admiral Alfred Taylor, U. S. N., and family, arrived at the Rockingham Monday evening.

The selectmen of ward three have appoined Daniel F. Akerman as moderator, in place of Wm. Alton, resigned.

It was the degree of M. S. (master of science,) that was bestowed upon Willis W. French of this city by Bowdoin college, and not M. L. as printed.

The funeral of Mr. Patrick Hennessey on Monday was attended by a large number of people, the line of carriages being very long; there were probably fifty or more vehicles in the procession.

The fine soda fountain formerly in the drug store kept by Mr. Briant on the corner of Market and Daniel streets, Portsmouth, is now in operation in the new store of W. M. Walker at York Corner. The new post-office is also in this store.

A petition is being circulated asking the legislature to amend our city charter so as to provide for the election of the board school by the citizens instead of by the board of aldermen. A counter petition is also in circulation, and signers to both are numerous.

The Christian society and Sunday school will have their annual picnic at Pinkham's grove, Dover point, on Wednesday, if fair weather; if not, on Thursday, provided that day is pleasant. Train leaves at ten o'clock; tickets to be had of the committee.

The Methodist society and Sunday school have arranged for a picnic at Stratham grove, Bay-side, on Wednesday. Cars leave Concord depot at five minutes before eight o'clock A. M., and at twelve o'clock, noon. Round trip tickets, 25 cts for adults, 15cts for children.

In Newmarket, last Thursday evening, a three-years-old son of George York pulled open a drawer and found a revolver, which he of course pulled out and went to playing with. He ceased playing with the weapon in a short time, a bullet hole in one of his hands attracting his attention.

Two young men named Davis and Tuttle, said to belong in Eliot, were at York beach on Sunday with a Portsmouth stable team. The animal finally fell from exhaustion and was considerably injured, while the buggy had its top knocked off and was otherwise damaged.

The steamer Fearless, which went to the Shoals on Sunday in place of the Mystic, carrying the mails and Sunday papers and about twenty-five passengers, did not leave the islands until seven o'clock in the evening, the heavy breeze rendering a return at an earlier hour impracticable.

The steamer James Sampson will resume her regular trips between this city and Kittery this (Tuesday) morning, much to the satisfaction of the navy yard workmen who have been compelled for several days past to cross the river in row boats, as was the case in the days before the steamboats were put on the route.

Ex-Gov. Goodwin last week made a visit to the Burnham farm, Kittery, for the first time in thirty years. The venerable and venerated ex-governor of course found many changes and improvements made in the neighborhood since his last previous visit; but he climbed "the lookout" hill with the agility and ease of a much younger man, and showed by his keen interest in all he saw that advancing years have not dulled his appreciation of the bright and beautiful in nature.

Edward H. Schmidt, of Kittery, took an overdose of laudanum on Saturday morning, and died Sunday morning. It is said he had been addicted to the use of laudanum of some time. He leaves a widow and four children.

The Newmarket Advertiser of last Saturday says: "Rev. C. B. Pitblado will preach in a neighboring town next Sunday, and in case he is unable to secure a preacher to fill his place here, Mrs. Pitblado will supply the pulpit."

The Newburyport Herald of Monday says: "A gentleman and lady stopping at the Shoals chartered the steamer James Sampson, to bring them and their friends to this city, yesterday, to attend church. They arrived about nine o'clock, attended church, and left for the Shoals again after taking a view of the city."

"Citizen" writes from Kittery to the Biddeford Journal that the Kittery Free High school has closed, and that "early in its last week the teacher flogged the entire male portion of the school, with two exceptions, to be sure of punishing some one, or more, whom he suspected as guilty of a misdemeanor. Why the females were not included is unexplainable. This is but one exhibition of a system which has hitherto prevailed, and seems to be the only element of cohesion which this school has developed thus far, and at present preserves in an unimpaired degree."

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

A party of men with a small schooner and a submarine diver were at work along the navy yard wharves on Monday, picking up whatever they could find that has dropped overboard from time to time.

Constructor Wilson arrived at the navy yard on Monday evening from Washington, the naval advisory board having adjourned until October. Constructor Wilson will with Constructor Hichborn proceed to prepare at this naval station plans for vessels of war to be submitted by a committee consisting of Messrs. Lenthall, Wilson and Hichborn, to the board. Draughtsmen will be sent to aid in this work. Constructor Hichborn is expected to be at the navy yard to begin the work on Monday next.

The Army and Navy Register of last week says: "The board which recently made the survey reports that it will cost about $250,000 to repair the 'Omaha' at the Portsmouth, N. H., yard, and the secretary of the navy will probably order the work to begin at an early day. The 'Benicia' and 'Plymouth,' of the same class, will also be repaired."

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS.

The democrats of ward one held their caucus in the Elm street ward room on Monday evening.

John S. Treat was elected chairman, and N. K. Raynes secretary.

The following ward committee was chosen: Dennis J. Lynch, James F. Jenness, Nathan Whalley, Charles A. Canney, Charles H. Foote, Michael Crowley, Freeman Pearson, John S. Treat, John H. Galloway, Ozro J. Hobbs, Charles W. Stimson, Albion Littlefield, Charles Dennett, Ira C. Seymour, Alexander G. Cobb, Nathaniel K. Raynes, Sewell W. Webber, Samuel Spinney, Isaac Furber, James Burns.

The caucus adjourned to Thursday evening, July 28th, at 7:30 o'clock, when nominations will be made.

UNDERGROUND WIRES.

Mr. Editor: The following paragraph is taken from the Times' report of the last week's meeting of the board of mayor and aldermen of this city:

A communication from the agent of the Mutual Union Telegraph company, asking permission to locate poles on the streets of the city, was referred to the committee on streets. The company desire to set poles on Market, Daniel, Chapel, State, Water and South streets, and the city government is inclined to believe that the city will not permit them to do so, but will oblige the company to lay its wires under ground.

There are no telegraph poles now on our streets, so far as I know, and I for one am not anxious to see them there; but it is to be hoped that our city government will not throw any needless obstructions in the way of the possible establishing of another telegraph office in this city. The Western Union is an immense concern, and anything which will tend to prevent it from becoming an absolute monopoly should be encouraged by the people's servants; and in this light every privilege accorded to the Western Union should be granted to the new competitor for public favor. The Western Union and the telephone people run their wires over the tops of the houses, apparently wherever they please, either through some authority unknown to me, or by permission of the private individuals interested; possibly it would be the better course to have the Mutual Union do the same, but any reasonable concession to the company's wishes would be wise. The telegraph facilities of this city have never been so satisfactory as when the Atlantic & Pacific, and subsequently the American Union, companies had offices here; and the absorption of the competing lines by the Western Union has not been conducive to the public convenience or interest. If any special concessions are granted to the new company by our city, the grant should be so guarded that the privileges will lapse on the company's "consolidation" with any other.

SPADE.

CLEAN UP.

Mr. Editor: This is the season of the year when we should look well to the matter of health. Now is the time for the ounce of prevention to be applied. Our mayor should see to it that the health officers make a thorough inspection of our back yards, sink drains, cess pools, or other malaria-breeding places,—the plague spots of our town. It is not well to fix the attention wholly upon the two millponds, because they are almost harmless as disease-producers when compared with the neglected premises that in many a concealed locality is reeking with its foul odors from decaying vegetable matter of one kind and another, festering and rotting in the blaze of a summer's sun. A breath of air wafted across such a neglected heap of filth, and breathed into the system, poisons the blood and is, under many conditions, as fatal as the plunging of a knife into the heart. Every good citizen will "Sweep before his own door," but there are many among us who are ignorant of the results of such carelessness as we have hinted at, and it is to these that the attention of our health officers should be turned; and without waiting to have the localities reported to them. The city teams do a good work as scavengers every Wednesday and Saturday, but they don't get all the refuse matter, we fear. The waste and crumbs of the table thrown daily into the back yard and left to soak and rot in the sun, an open sink drain, or such like, are far more apt to generate a poisoned atmosphere than the salt water ponds at the north and south parts of the town.

MARSHALL HOUSE, YORK, July 18th.

A party of guests from this house visited the Franklin theatre, Portsmouth, on Friday evening last, to see the comic opera.

The lightning on Saturday evening was the sharpest known here for years, and the rain fell in torrents. The lightning burned the coil of the magnetic bell of the telephone—a very rare occurrence—throwing the whole thing "out of kilter." Mr. Samuel Horton of Portsmouth was sent for to put it in shape, and will have it in working order tonight.

Capt. "Sim." Nicholson, of Newburyport, who for the past eight years has had charge of the boats and sailed the yacht belonging to this hotel, was taken to the Massachusetts General hospital on Saturday. About ten days previous, while out with a fishing party, he ran a fish-hook into one of the fingers of his left hand, but nothing particular was thought of it until a few days later, when it grew very sore, and on Friday it was lanced. His whole hand seems to be badly poisoned, and fears are entertained that he may lose it—if indeed that shall prove the worst result.

There were 150 guests in this house on Saturday. The new dance hall was opened on Saturday evening, and dancing was indulged in nearly up to midnight by the lovers of that pleasant exercise and recreation. The wind blew almost a hurricane on Sunday afternoon, making it almost impossible (and wholly uncomfortable) to sit outside the house. Fire in the parlor, evenings, is all the style. There is a barber shop in the house; and it has first-class accommodations in every way. T.

At Lebanon, on the 16th inst., a barn belonging to S. S. Houghton of Boston was burned; lose $500.

The farm buildings of Goodrich Chamberlain at Nashua were burned on Sunday, the fire being caused by boys playing with matches. The fire spread to James B. Greeley's buildings, and they also were destroyed; Greeley's loss is $3000, and his insurance $1500. Another building took fire, but was saved.

The heaviest thunder storm for many years visited Mount Washington on Saturday evening. The Tip-Top house, the Summit house and signal station were all visited by a bolt of fire, but no serious damage was done.

A whirlwind of very unusual violence passed through the vicinity of Contoocook last Friday, moving southward. People were surprised to see heaps of hay taken up and carried out of reach. In one case hay was carried a mile and set down on another farm. Other slight damages are reported.

The man found dead in Durham some days ago, and reported to be one of the gang of Gypsies that have been prowling around this section of the country for some weeks, was buried by the selectmen of Durham, his wife asserting that there was no foul play in regard to his death. It is now said that the officers have secured evidence to fix the crime upon the guilty person, who is a brother of the murdered man's wife, the relationship accounting for the attempt of the latter to screen the murderer.

George Garland, of Farmington, burst a blood vessel on Friday while trying to lift a bundle of edgings at a sawmill, and died in a few minutes.

Three pairs of twins were born in Rochester last week, each pair being composed of a boy and a girl.

Mr. John Meader, of Durham, who was thrown from his carriage last week and was reported as probably fatally hurt, was not seriously injured.

Amos Dow of Seabrook, said to be a very pleasant and companionable man forty-six years old, lives in a house which he built some years ago, and which he says no woman has ever entered. He put up over the door of the house, when it was new, a sign which reads as follows: "Notice. Admittance to Gent's but no Ladies." He gives no reason for his strange dislike to the opposite sex.

A party of about a dozen gentlemen from Newmarket started on a yachting cruise Monday, having chartered a large yacht at Portland, where they embarked for a trip along the coast.

The bridge over the Merrimac river at Lawrence, Mass., connecting North and South Lawrence, was burned on Sunday; it was built in 1793, and rebuilt in 1848; the loss is not far from $30,000. The Boston & Maine railroad bridge, the round house, and many other buildings, took fire, but no great damage was done beyond the destruction of the bridge.

"The Domestic Tyrant."

"The average man," quote Mrs. Partington, "is a weak and irritable domestic tyrant," and Mrs. P. is correct. Tyrannical to a fault the average man will enter the blissful paradise of a happy home, scratch himself in fiendish glee, send the baby into convulsions, and for what? Why, because he has the itching piles, and is too mean to buy Swayne's Ointment, which is an infallible cure for the worst cases of that annoying complaint.

POSITIVELY CURED BY

Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First.

Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.

Second.

Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.

Third.

Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.

Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth.

Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth.

Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

"A Gentleman of Leisure:" a novel by Edgar Fawcett. Boston; Houghton, Mifflin & Co.; "Little Classic," style, 18-mo, price $1.25.

This story contains a sketch of fashionable society in New York city. If it is a faithful portraiture, it is certainly a deplorable exhibit of the metropolitan mode of existence. When we visit with the hero (who returns after a long absence abroad) one of the fashionable clubs, and are told that "your upper classes here do not read, they have not time; they live in too great hurry and bustle. One must have leisure to read; the American knows nothing of leisure," we are made acquainted with a sad truth, if truth it is. The sketch of the routine of fashionable people whose career depends upon success in Wall street, the delineation of the snobbish, idle young men who do nothing but ape European ways and wear foreign-made apparel, and the portraits of the vulgar gentlemen and ladies (?) of Gotham seem to have been drawn under a practiced eye. The evening at Mrs. Bang's—whose given name the author by some means seems to have forgotten, and substituted a second a few pages further on—where Wainwright, under the patronage of Mrs. Spencer Vänderhoff, was shown some of the "literary cliques" of the great metropolis, is certainly rich in its description.

The ordinary tale of love, where the well-bred young hero marries the sister of the broker's extravagant wife, is somewhat inartistic in its make up. It may be that such a described young man could fall in love with such a girl as Ruth, who speaks of Mrs. Vanderhoff knowing the greatest quantity of people, but we think the author was too much absorbed in setting off the fashionable foibles of New York society to be too attentive to the simple matter of details in his story. Though the happening of a superior man being linked to an inferior woman is in real life not less frequent, perhaps, than the joining of an able woman to a man of lesser ability, yet we always expect in novels the summum bonum to be the marriage of the perfect hero to the angelic creature whom, after trials and troubles unnumbered, he woos and wins just before the close of the last chapter.

"A Gentleman of Leisure" is a book which if it contains exaggerations of New York "society" life, yet serves

"To hold as it were, the mirror up to nature"

In such a manner as will reflect the images of many gay Gothamites, who if unwilling to see themselves as others see them, are yet distinctly recognizable by the rest of the world.

"Ice Yachting on the Hudson" is the timeliest paper in the announcement for the "Midsummer Holiday Scribner." The most experienced ice-yachters are agreed that no better season could be chosen for this sport than from the 15th of July to the 1st of September. A nice sultry day, with the thermometer in the nineties, is the most enjoyable time either to take the trip or to read about it. Mr. Stedman's first essay on "Poetry in America"—a subject too little treated by American critics—will appear in the August Scribner. It is part of the new work projected by Mr. Stedman on the "Poets and Poetry of America," and treats of the relations of the art of versification to American life and history.

The July issue of the "Illustrated Scientific News" teems with interesting illustrated articles, a few of which are as follows: The Doblear Telephone; Glass Grinding Machine; Ancient Pottery from Cyprus; Mechanical Larynx; Pleasure Car of the days of Louis XIV; Amateur Mechanics; The remarkable Palmyra Palm; Curious Fishes; Illustrations explaining the bursting of Fly Wheels; A Velocipede Carriage. In addition to the numerous engravings there is a large number of interesting, useful and practical papers, relating to various departments of popular science. This is one of the most elegantly printed and valuable periodicals. Sold by newsdealers. Published by Munn & Co., 37 Park row, New York.

The table of contents for the August number of the "International Review" is inviting enough to tempt the attention and reward a thorough reading. George W. Julian opens the number with a most entertaining chapter of "Reminiscences of the Thirty-first Congress," the first Congress which evidenced an element of anti-slavery sentiment, and had Webster, Clay, Calhoun, Benton, Cass, Douglass, Seward, Chase, Bell, Davis of Mississippi, Hale, Ewing, Corwin, Hamlin, Houston and Mason, Thaddeus Stevens, Winthrop, Cobb of Georgia, McDowell,

Giddings, Preston King, Horace Mann, Marshall, Toombs and Alexander H. Stephens for members. The accomplished pen of Mr. Julian, who was himself a member of this Congress, could scarcely fail of drawing great interest from such a theme. The younger portion of this generation will find much information in the article which they can scarcely afford to do without. "College Graduates in the Ministry" is the topic selected by Rev. Charles F. Thwing for an article of considerable interest and value. Eugene L. Didier writes of "An American Bonaparte."—Jerome Napoleon Bonaparte, son of the weak brother of the great Napoleon, who sold his allegiance to his beautiful American wife for the crown of Westphalia, and the hand of the daughter of the king of Wurtemberg. A valuable contribution is W. H. Phillips' "The Divorce Question," and one calculated to draw attention to the crying need of a uniform and national divorce law. A slightly metaphysical, but exceedingly readable essay upon "Rights," is contributed by David A. Wasson. An anonymous author tells of "Some Curiosities in Horological Reckoning," and the number is brought worthily to an end by a Celt's statement "Why Ireland has been Misgoverned." There is not a dull line in any one of the seven articles, and the number has never been exceeded in elements of popular interest. A. S. Barnes & Co., New York.

I Don't Want a Doctor!

I have tried them, and they have only swindled me. I have figured up what they cost me for the last four years; it was just $824.31. If I had it now it would be a fortune to me. This year my bill for medicine was only five dollars, for which I purchased six bottles of Sulphur Bitters. They cured me of scrofula after suffering four years.—Workingman.

"Liebig Co.'s Arnicated Extract of Witch Hazel, has proven in my practice to be incomparably superior to any preparation of Witch Hazel I have ever used. I have often been disappointed in the curative effects of the commonly vended articles and am glad that we can now have a reliable preparation."

"A Girl's Choice."

It was in a drug store of course. All interesting incidents occur in drug stores,—that is, nearly all. She was pretty, with blue eyes and golden hair, one of those kind of beauties the poet would have called an "angel," but for the fact that a colony of pimples on her fair frontis-piece precluded all thought of a celestial being. Bowing timidly to the handsome clerk, she asked for "Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases," and upon receiving it vanished like the morning dew before the summer sun.

There was a little sensation at Wells River, Vt., last Friday morning, in consequence of Mrs. Frizell of Groton arriving down there to recapture a daughter fourteen years old, who disappeared the day before with a boy eighteen years old, named Bigelow, who was married the same day, by E. G. Parker, Esq., of Woodsville. She failed in the attempt, as the girl clung to her new choice.

Fruit of the tropic's burning clime,
Thy wondrous virtues, fadeless still,
Exert an influence sublime,
In ministering to human ill;
And many a pang along our way

The Missing Bullet Discovered.

A Washington despatch reports that on Monday District Attorney Corkhill found the missing bullet which was fired at the President, and for which there has been so much search. It appears that a German glazier, who tramps around the streets, repairing windows, went into the depot to get a ten-dollar bill changed on the morning the President was shot. He was standing in the main room some forty feet from where the assassin stood, and in a southeast direction. He had commenced to unstrap his box, in which he carried glass, and had gotten one strap off his shoulders when he heard the noise of the pistol, and immediately three panes of glass in his box were shattered. He at once rushed from the depot, thinking it was no place for safety. On Saturday he was cleaning out his box, and found the ball in his putty, and was narrating the fact to his friends when one of them told him that was the time the President was shot, and brought him to the district attorney's office, where he made his statement and gave up the ball.

News and Notes.

The President's symptoms on Monday evening were a trifle less favorable than they had been for several days, but no serious uneasiness was caused to his attendants thereby. At 1:30 o'clock Tuesday morning he was sleeping quietly, and the indications were favorable.

On Tuesday the vote for a successor to Mr. Conkling was: Lapham 68, Potter (Rep.) 45, Conkling 28, Woodford one. Necessary to a choice, seventy-two.

Assistant Secretary of State Blaine was at Gloucester, Mass., Monday, accompanied by Judge Trescott, paying out the money received from Great Britain for unlawful interference with our fishing fleet by the Newfoundland mobs. The amount to be distributed in Gloucester is between $50,000 and $60,000, a little over half the amount claimed. Reimbursement is made for actual expenses incurred in the fishing trips, with interest, but all constructive losses are ruled out.

The Ohio democrats appear to have done their very best to re-elect Gov. Foster by nominating a man utterly unfit for the place, and who got the honor by the most open and shameless use of money among the delegates.

The internal revenue receipts for the year ending June 30th amounted to $135,054,399.19, an excess of $5,000,000 over the estimate made by the secretary of the treasury in December last, and of $54,000 more than the estimate of Commissioner Raum. The receipts are $11,000,000 more than for the year ending June 30th, 1880.

The wife and daughter of George Thomas of Plymouth, Mass., were drowned in the harbor Sunday evening. The two ladies were sailing with William J. Waterson, and when off High cliff, about a mile and a half from the town, the boat ran upon a rock, turned over and filled, but remained fast upon the rock. Three young men saw them, and swam out to their assistance. In taking them out of the boat it was dislodged and sank. The party then endeavored to take the women ashore, a distance of only about thirty yards, but were unable to do so, and were obliged to loose them to save themselves. The bodies have been recovered.

Quite a sensation is created in Washington by the publication of a scandal involving a wealthy ex-official of note and a pretty clerk of the treasury department. The wife of the official found that her husband was "keeping house" with the young woman, and a divorce suit is threatened.

Willie Burke, ten years old, was thrown from a second story window at Taunton, Mass., Saturday night. His collar bone was broken, and he received severe bruises about the head. His parents have been arrested on suspicion of doing the deed.

Andrew McElwain of South Hadley, Mass., accidentally shot his son John last Sunday afternoon, and it is thought the young man cannot recover. McElwain was drunk and flourishing a carbine, and while his sons were trying to get it away from him it went off, the bullet striking young McElwain just below the breast bone. Both his arms and a part of his body are paralyzed, and his chances of recovery are considered poor. Andrew McElwain is a respectable farmer, of quiet disposition except when in liquor. He has been lodged in jail.

Lieut. Ray of the United States signal corps sailed from San Francisco on the 18th inst., with nine companions, on the schooner Golden Fleece, for Point Barrow, Arctic ocean, where he will establish a station for meteorological observations. A house ready for erection, instruments for observations, and provisions for three years, are comprised in the outfit of the expedition.

"Billy the Kid," a notorious murderer and outlaw who for several years has been the terror of New Mexico cattle men, was killed last Thursday by Pat Garrett, sheriff of Lincoln county. Garrett had been on his trail some time. On Thursday he overhauled him in a cabin at Fort Sumner, and shot him dead. The "Kid" was a native of New York city, and his real name was McCarthy.

William G. Montirth and his reputed wife Mabel, the former the leader of the choir, and the latter the organist of the Division street Methodist church in Paterson, N. J., were on the 18th inst. arrested for bigamy, non-support of family being also preferred against Montirth. The arrests were made on complaint of Mrs. Williams, who arrived in Paterson from England a few days ago, and who claims that Montirth is her husband. She says that his right name is Williams and that he deserted her and her four children in England ten years ago, and eloped with a Mrs. Fox, who has a husband. The couple were always regarded as exemplary Christians. They do not deny the allegations, but Montirth claims that his wife was not true to him in England, and Mrs. Fox that her husband abused her. Both are in jail, and Mrs. Williams and her four daughters, aged from eleven to eighteen years, have taken possession of the house owned and formerly occupied by Montirth. The affair causes much excitement in Paterson.

A report from Winona, Minn., says Paul Held, a Swiss emigrant who had lately bought a farm in Eagle Creek valley, became insane through failure of crops and homesickness. Sunday morning he was found dead in the front room of the house, his wife and two children dead in the next room, three children dead in bed up stairs, and the two oldest boys in the hayloft mortally wounded, all shot through the head. The revolver was found in the house.

Greenleaf, near Fort Gibson, in the Cherokee nation, about fifty miles west of Fort Smith, was the scene of a horrible tragedy Saturday. The Creek and Cherokee Indians were having a barbecue preparatory to nominating their candidates for the ensuing election next month, and whiskey flowed freely. Two full-blooded Indians, Bill Lovett and Deer Track, became drunk, and in their frenzy made an onslaught on some of the party. Seven men were killed or mortally wounded. The murderers are at large, and no efforts are being made to arrest them.

Howard Davis of Buxton, Me., was arrested on Friday for dealing in counterfeit silver coin, and committed to jail in default of $1000 bail.

Two outlaws visited the camp of Mille Lac Indians near Atkin, Minn., on the morning of the 18th inst. about two o'clock, and murdered the chief and four Indians. The murderers were arrested, and Agent Tibbett asked for instructions regarding them, as there was much excitement. The governor answered that they should be taken to St. Paul or Minneapolis for safe keeping, and to call for state aid if necessary.

Secretary of State Blaine announces the release by the German authorities of the young man Brink, a Connecticut citizen, who was recently impressed into the German military service while temporarily visiting the home of his ancestors on the Rhine.

Houston Turner, colored, was taken from the custody of the sheriff at Nashville, Tenn., on the 18th inst., by a mob, and hanged. His crime was outrage upon a white woman.

Henry S. Smith was hanged at Corinth, Miss., July 18th, for the murder of James Burt in 1880.

Episcopal services are held each Sunday evening at Old Orchard beach, Rev. Mr. Small of Christ church, Biddeford, officiating.

—An observing individual remarks that if a man has any nonsense in him it is sure to come out when he makes his will, if not before.

—An Arizona man called "Billy the Kid" has slain thirty-nine men, and they talk of sending him to Congress. They've got to get him out of Arizona somehow.

—Now is the time to invest your money in a brewery. Professor Proctor says that in 15,000,000 years every trace of water will have disappeared from the face of the globe. Saloons will do a rushing business, but it will be a mighty dull season for boat races.

—One of the handsomest, as it is the newest, designs for a fire-screen has a frame of brass work, across which is hung a curtain of dark crimson silk, with sprays of wild flowers embroidered in their natural colors. The curtain hangs in soft folds, and can be drawn aside at pleasure.

FELLOWS' Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

GRIEF.

Excessive anxiety, or prolonged Study, will produce Infirmity in the Nervous System, in proportion as the strength of that system is expended upon the mind in troubled thought, so are the organs of digestion, assimilation and nutrition, rendered inactive and sluggish in proportion as the system becomes Infirm. Every individual has some one organ weaker than the rest, and this is always the first to suffer during nervous prostration; for example, afflicting news sometimes causes total suspension of the muscular action of the heart, producing sudden hemorrhage and death. No doubt any longer remains of the practibility of restoring the nervous system, and through the nerves the muscles of the impaired organs. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been proved to possess such power in numerous instances. It will impart strength to overcome trouble and afflictions. Persons who are accustomed to looked upon the dark side, and who see no pleasure in living, on using this Syrup soon learn to value and enjoy life, and those who study deeply during long hours, will find in the Syrup a promoter of the power of endurance in the brain. There is no doubt of this fact, that an impaired Nervous System causes Consumption, Neuralgia, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Heart Disease, and a host of others. Fellows' Hypophosphites, which effectually cures Nervous debility, should cure these diseases also. "Remove the cause and the complaint will cease."
HOT SPRINGS, ARK., Feb. 23d, 1880.
JAMES I. FELLOWS, ST. JOHN, N. B.
Dear Sir: I have been prescribing your Hypophosphites for several years, both in Canada and the United States, but more particularly at this famous resort for Invalids, where thousands annually congregate. For those in whom the brain and nervous System has been exhausted from excess or overwork, I have found no combination of remedies so prompt and efficacious in restoring the vital forces. I hope that every person needing relief will avail themselves of so valuable a preparation.
Respectfully,
ALEX MCMASTER, M. D.

The steamer Startled Fawn, of Haverhill, Mass., was in this port on Tuesday with an excursion party from that city.

The steamer Mystic, having had some new tubes put in her boiler, got up steam on Tuesday afternoon, and worked all right.

Mr. Dennis Shea is erecting a building on the railway wharf, to increase his facilities for the manufacture of cement drain-pipe.

The ship Ladoga, of 866 tons register, built at this port in 1854, and overhauled in 1878, has been sold at auction in New York for $8,750.

The schooner River's Bride sailed on Tuesday on her fishing trip since she was hauled up for repairs last fall. She is a fine boat now—better than when new.

The Old Orchard Junction railroad opened Monday morning. It connects with all the regular trains on the Eastern railroad except the midnight (Pullman) train from Bangor.

The first sword fish of the season, in this market, was purchased by C. Sullivan & Co. on Tuesday; it weighed 319 pounds, and was taken by the schooner Grace Choate, off Jaffrey's.

The schooner T. B. Garland, the latest addition to the Dover Navigation Co.'s fleet of coasting vessels, sailed from the Kennebec river last week on her first voyage, with 412 tons of ice for Philadelphia.

Sylvester S. Felch, the collapsed merchant of South Newmarket, and alleged abortionist, had his preliminary examination in Boston on the 15th inst., and was ordered to recognize in $15,000 for his further appearance.

Mr. Nicholas Zambelli, who was shockingly (and at the time it was supposed fatally) injured some months ago at Hon. Frank Jones' farm by the falling of a clay bank, was on the street Tuesday in a small carriage propelled by boy-power.

It is reported that York county officials last week made an unceremonious visit to the lunch shanty erected on one of the Fishing islands in the lower harbor by a Portsmouth man, but on what errand and with what result we have not been informed.

An enterprising clothier of this city, a member of the legislature, is said to have done a thriving business in Concord last week, selling no less than seventy-five flannel suits to our legislative Solons. During a junketing trip to the mountains a few days ago, four of the leading member of the house were measured for suits at the Tip-top house on Mount Washington.

A Newmarket party of eleven persons went to the "mineral springs," Dover, on Monday, and the mineral water had such an effect upon them that they became very noisy and disorderly, and the Dover police took in five of the number, viz: two men named Swallow and Mace, with their wives, and the wife of Adam Crystal of Newmarket. The other six escaped. Four of the party are weavers in the Newmarket cotton mills.

The visitors at Pocahontas point, Gerrish's island, last Sunday afternoon, were treated to a view of a yacht race "as was" a race. A large schooner yacht came up from the eastward under jib, close-reefed foresail and reefed mainsail, and proceeded to work into the harbor, the tide being at strong ebb, and the breeze fresh, with very heavy puffs. At about the same time a fishing schooner was sighted several miles further at sea, towing a scine boat astern, and carrying an enormous jib that reached from the bowsprit end to the masthead and hauled away aft to the fore rigging, whole foresail and mainsail, and gaff-topsail. The yacht was an able boat and under comparatively short sail, yet whenever the big puffs came she would have to luff and shake; but the fisherman paid no other attention to them than to heel over a little further and go ahead a good deal faster, and when the yacht reached an anchorage in Pepperell's cove the fisherman was abreast of Whaleback, having gained at least three miles on the yacht from the time the two vessels were first observed.

A CARD.

To my Friends and the Voting Public: Having been importuned by many leading citizens and heavy tax-payers of Portsmouth to allow my name to be used in a proposed citizens' caucus to nominate a candidate for mayor to stand upon the broad platform of reform in every department, I would thus publicly decline the honor. While thanking them for their kind intentions, other and more remunerative demands upon my time render it imperative that I keep aloof from the arena of municipal politics, much though it may need purging and a strong hand at the head of our city government. I shall, however, as in days past, keep an eye constantly on the movements and actions of those who may fill the different positions, and it shall be my constant endeavor, both by my influence and voice, to keep the municipal train upon a clear track. Again expressing my thanks, I remain the ever-watchful friend of the public,

JOHN K. A. HANSON.

Maine Soldiers' Reunion.

Headquarters Executive Com.,
Asso'n of Maine Soldiers & Sailors,
Portland, July 5th, 1881.

To the Officers of the several Veteran Associations:

Comrades:—A grand reunion and encampment of Maine veterans, under the auspices of the Association of Maine Soldiers and Sailors, will be held at Portland on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 23d, 24th and 25th, 1881.

All honorably discharged soldiers who served in Maine organizations at any time during the war of the rebellion, and all honorably discharged Union soldiers and sailors who now are, or at any time have been, residents of the state of Maine, are cordially invited to take part in the reunion.

Invitations have been extended to the President of the United States, to Generals Sherman, Sheridan, Hancock, and other distinguished military gentlemen to be present as guests of the Maine veterans.

Comrades representing regiments, batteries, or veteran organizations, of the army or navy, are requested to furnish the committee with the names and addresses of corps, division, or naval commanders under whom they served during the war, in order that they may be invited to attend.

Suitable camp equipage having been tendered the association by the United States government, it is the purpose of the committee to provide tents, straw and water for the veterans free of expense.

Appropriate music will also be provided for the reunion, and arrangements will be made with responsible parties to furnish rations or meals at low rates, to those who desire them. Regimental associations, Grand Army posts, and other organizations formed for the occasion, are at liberty to make their own arrangements for subsistence if preferable, or veterans will be permitted to bring rations with them if most convenient, with the privilege of purchasing tea or coffee of the caterers within the encampment.

Arrangements are also in progress with the several railroad and steamboat companies for reduced rates of fare during the time of the reunion.

It is hoped, with the assistance of the veterans throughout the state, to make the reunion the most successful and entertaining that has ever been held in Maine. The executive committee are very sanguine that the veterans will generally avail themselves of this opportunity of coming together again, since they are receiving assurances from all parts of the state of the intention of the veterans to be present and participate in the festivities.

It is impossible for the committee at this early date to give the programme of the three days' entertainment. Circulars, however, will be issued as soon as possible, giving the details of all arrangements, and in the meantime the committee will be glad to receive suggestions and answer any inquiries that may be made by the veterans.

Very respectfully, in behalf of the executive committee,

GEO. M. SEIDERS, Secretary.

EXECUTIVE COMMITEE.—General Geo. L. Beal, (Chairman,) Gen. John M. Brown, Col. Thomas A. Roberts, Col. Edward Moore, Col. Fred Robie, Col. Charles Walker, Col. A. M. Benson, Major Wm. H. Green, Capt. George H. Abbott, Lieut. Chas. W. Roberts, H. P. Ingalls, Wm. H. Pennell, C. D. Starbird; Geo. M. Seiders, secretary.

New Hampshire Items.

James W. Farrington was drowned in the Androscoggin river at Gorham, Monday afternoon.

A large double tenement house in Laconia, owned by E. F. Burleigh, was burned July 18th; loss $3500; insurance $2500.

At Old Orchard, one day last week, officers raided the premises of Martin J. Flaherty, who was suspected of selling something stronger than root beer. After searching the upper part of the house and finding nothing the officers proceeded to the cellar, and digging about three below the surface found a barrel of ale, a keg of whiskey, a keg of rum, and five bottles of whiskey and rum. A rubber pipe, the nozzle of which was buried in the sand, connected with the barrel of ale.

Burnett's Cocoaine.

A Lady's Hair Saved by its Use.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE will keep the hair in a strong and healthy condition by stimulating the roots of the hair and restoring the natural action upon which its growth depends. Twenty years ago a single bottle saved a lady's hair in a desperate case where every other treatment had failed; and since that early success thousands of cases of Baldness, Dandruf, Loss of Hair and Irritation of the Scalp have yielded to this remedy.

The superiority of Burnett's Flavoring Extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength.

DAVID KIMBALL & CO.,

No. 36 Market street,

Portsmouth, N. H.

Richard Thompson and wife, living at Roach point, Moosehead lake, Me., obtained five gallons of rum and went on a spree with another man one day last week. Three days after the woman was found dead, but the men were so drunk that they knew nothing as to when or how she died.

Capt. John Cann, of a North Sydney, Cape Breton, pilot boat, reports that on Sunday, July 10th, ten miles off shore, Flat point bearing west, he picked up a ship's long boat containing a man that could not speak a word of English. There was but one oar in the boat, and no rowlocks. It was impossible to glean anything from the man which would throw light on the vessel he belonged to or how he came to be adrift. He was taken on board with the boat in tow, and the pilot boat put into Grace bay, where some of the crew, accompanied by the mysterious sea tramp, landed. Shortly afterward the stranger disappeared, and could not be found. The boat has a green stripe running around her, and gives a keel measurement of about twenty-two feet. On each side of the bow a small flag is painted, each having the letter "S" painted in the body.

How to Plant Celery.

The old method of setting celery at the bottom of a trench is still occasionally followed, either by gardeners who have done this in the old country, or by our own people who have not learned the better way of planting it on the surface. Celery is one of the plants with which little is gained by hurrying; it will not grow rapidly until after midsummer, when we have the favoring conditions of warm days and cool, dewy nights, and our experienced gardeners do not set out the main crop until the present month. Market gardeners grow celery as a second crop, to follow an early one for which the soil has been well manured; if this can not be done, then the soil must be well enriched before planting. It rarely pays to raise celery plants in a private garden, if one is where they can be purchased. In buying plants, select those that look strong and stocky, a condition produced by proper cutting back their leaves while in the seed-bed. The plants are to be set in rows, four feet apart, and six inches distant in the rows; they require careful planting, and should be no deeper in the ground than they were originally in the seedbed.

In all transplanting, it is important to have the earth closely in contact with the roots of the newly set plant; this may be done by going along the row and pressing on each side of the plant with the foot, or by carefully crowding the earth down with the hands as each plant is set. If a cloudy time cannot be selected for planting, then do the work towards evening, and give a thorough watering. The plants have nothing further done to them until September, when the leaves are brought to an upright position, and earth is drawn around to hold them there. We hope to give the after treatment in the proper month; in the meantime, the celery has nothing to do but grow, in which it must be encouraged by hoeing or cultivating often enough to destroy all weeds and keep the soil loose, taking care in these operations to not throw any earth in the heart of the plants.—American Agriculturist.

Health and Happiness.

It seems strange that anyone will suffer from the many derangements brought on by an impure condition of the blood, when Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup will restore perfect health to the physical organization. It has proven itself to be the best blood purifier ever discovered, effectually curing scrofula, syphilitic disorders, weaknesses of the kidneys, all nervous disorders and debility. It corrects indigestion. It makes the old feel young, and the young feel gay; and will invariably drive out of the system the many ills that the human flesh is heir to. It acts like a charm, especially when the complaint is of an exhaustive nature, having a tendency to lessen the natural vigor of the brain and nervous system.

The French Catholics of Woonsocket, R. I., who comprise about one-half of the population of the place, dedicated on Sunday a new church which cost about $40,000.

I Have Always Paid Rent!

For a house to live in. This year I have half paid for a cottage, with money which, before I used Sulphur Bitters in my family, was paid to the doctor and the druggist. They cured my wife of female weakness.—Mechanic, Salem.

John Driscoll of Athol, Mass., employed on the gravel train of the Fitchburg railroad, was instantly killed Monday night by the cars, his head being completely severed from the body. He was about sixty years old, and from St. John, N. B.

A few days ago Master Lina Luce of Waltham, Mass., started on his bicycle for Auburn, Me., a distance of 225 miles. His father, Hon. Enos T. Luce, started with a horse at the same time. The boy made the trip in four days, and his father came in a little behind.

"The Domestic Tyrant."

"The average man," quote Mrs. Partington, "is a weak and irritable domestic tyrant," and Mrs. P. is correct. Tyrannical to a fault the average man will enter the blissful paradise of a happy home, scratch himself in fiendish glee, send the baby into convulsions, and for what? Why, because he has the itching piles, and is too mean to buy Swayne's Ointment, which is an infallible cure for the worst cases of that annoying complaint.

POSITIVELY CURED BY

Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First.

Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.

Second.

Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognised by the profession.

Third.

Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.

Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth.

Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth.

Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

New Hampshire Legislature.

The senate on the 19th inst. passed acts uniting the Northern and the Concord & Claremont railroads; to incorporate the New Hampshire Botanic society; authorizing the town of Laconia to exempt from taxation the property of the New Hampshire Veterans' association; and house joint resolution authorizing the refunding to express companies and expressmen of certain taxes paid by them under chapter sixty-three of the general laws. The senate refused to concur in the house bill to establish a bounty on woodchucks.

The arguments on the application for leave to extend the Dover & Winnipesaukee railroad to the Weirs were made before the House committee on railroads on Tuesday evening, the 19th. Col. Whipple indulged in some disparaging remarks as to Portsmouth, which caused profuse apologies to be made to the Portsmouth delegation by the opponents of the measure, on Wednesday. The amendment presented by the committee from this city, and which it was said would be accepted by the advocates of the bill, was on Wednesday objected to, and an amendment was offered by the Boston & Maine railroad with all the important conditions as to transportation, etc., emasculated. This was rejected by the committee, who held a conference with Mayor Sise at the state house and determined to adhere to the amendment first submitted. The railroad committee will make two reports, one in favor and the other against the proposed enactment.

The hearing relative to a change in the mode of electing members of the board of education in Portsmouth, was had on Wednesday, the 20th. Senator Treat presented the case of the petitioners, followed by Representatives Hoyt and Coffin. Secretary Pender made an explanation of the manner in which our schools are manged, and Representatives Ryder, Hawkes, Laighton, Freeman and Pierce stated that they had heard of no complaints as to the present system, and first learned of the proposed action at Concord a few days since. Senator Treat read letters from Rev. James DeNormandie and Messrs. Jos. H. Foster, Hill, Clark, and Ex-Mayor Broughton, endorsing the change in the mode of election. Judge Bufford also made suggestions as to his opinion of the mode of choosing the board. Remonstrances from more than five hundred tax-payers were before the committee, and numerously signed petitions in support were also presented.

At the hearing on the proposed amendment of the recently enacted law as to minority voting in corporation meetings, several of the leading manufacturing companies of the state were present by counsel; and Capt. Wallingford in behalf of the Cocheco Manfacturing Co., of Dover, presented his objections to a law of this dangerous character. The Manchester Print Works, Great Falls Manufacturing Co., and other interests, protested against the passage of such a law, which would in its effect keep foreign capital from coming to our state for investment in manufacturing.

Conservatism at Dartmouth to be Put on the Defense.

Editor Chronicle: Your vigorous editorial upon the gift of an LL. D. by a Maine college to Mr. Moody Currier, a Dartmouth graduate, met with attention in Concord, whose Dartmouth alumni hope their brethren in Rockingham county will, through the press, speak their minds as to Dartmouth's policy in the bestowal of degrees.

Under the presidency of Dr. Bartlett but ten persons have been pronounced Doctors of Law. They are Gen. E. F. Noyes, John L. Hayes, Prof. E. D. Sanborn, Prof. Wm. C. Robinson, the Marquis of Lorne, Judge Nathan Crosby, Prof. Horace E. Smith, Gov. C. H. Bell, and Levi P. Morton. Calling some of these men Doctors of Law does not make them so. Moody B. Smith of New York city, Judge Oliver Miller of Maryland, and Prof. C. C. Langdell of the Harvard Law school, know more law than a majority of those whom Dartmouth's trustees have honored. During Dr. Bartlett's administration there has been less unwillingness to give Episcopalians and Unitarians degrees than formerly. In '79 Bishop Niles was made a Doctor of Divinity.

Twenty-two of the professors are Orthodox Congregationalists, and one of the very best is a Baptist and a West Pointer. A professor of Greek, and one of Anglo-Saxon and English language, are needed. Please agitate for the best men,* without regard to theology or college of graduation, that $2,000 salaries can procure. Also for the organization of the alumni of Rockingham county to co-operate with those of Merrimack and Hillsboro' in neutralizing the conservative influence of Prof. Noyes and the other reactionary members of the Grafton county alumni, who have a theological and bread-and-butter interest in Dartmouth college.

President Bartlett, who in a letter about ten years ago denounced the gift of an LL. D. to an unworthy rich man in these words, "A bargain and a sale, a college doctorate for so much money," can be depended on to make Dartmouth clean in this matter. What she needs is knowledge of her alumni, and ability to discern their worth and to discriminate between the worthy and the unworthy. One of the objects of organization by counties is to enable the alumni to gather facts for the use of the trustees when they are about to elect their successors, or appoint professors, or confer honorary degrees. WALTER GIBSON, Class of '58.

News and Notes.

Treasurer Gilfillan the other day mailed 54,000 checks, representing about $5,400,000, in payment of interest on the registered four per cent bonds of 1907; also 1,500 checks, representing nearly $2,000,000, in payment of the semi-annual interest on Pacific railway currency sixes.

An independent telegraph cable is to be laid from Germany to Valencia and thence to the United States, at a cost of £165,000.

A Roman Catholic presbytery at Roxton Falls, province of Quebec, was burned July 19th, and a priest named Larue was burned to death.

The following is a statement of the issues of postal cards for four years: 1878, 200,630,000; 1879, 221,797,000; 1880, 272,550,500; 1881, 308,536,500; total, 1,003,514,000.

Boston, unless a New York exchange is fibbing, has an "Association to promote the claims of the heredity." The "heredity" usually claims and generally obtains all the "heredity" soft jobs that men aspire to, therefore we cannot discover the necessity for the association. We guess the New York exchange is poking fun at the "heredity."

M. Munkacsy, the Hungarian painter, has just declined to take less than $160,000 for his new picture of "Christ before Pilate." It is not so long ago that this brilliant and now wealthy artist was a cabinet-maker's apprentice, and was thankful to earn small sums in his leisure hours by painting flowers upon the furniture of the peasant farmers of his native town.

The Welting opera house building in Syracuse, N. Y., covering half an acre of ground and being occupied by fifty tenants, was burned on the 19th inst. Loss $398,000; insurance $270,000.

Two trains on the Fitchburg railroad collided half a mile east of Zoar, Mass., on the 19th inst. The engineer of one train and the fireman of the other were killed, and the other engineer fatally injured. The damage to the trains amounted to $20,000.

Steamer City of Winnipeg was burned in Duluth, Minn., on the 19th inst., with four of her crew.

A coffin factory at Cincinnati was burned July 19th; loss $22,000.

In Boston, on the 19th inst., Daniel T. Dwyer, a bartender, stabbed William Morrison, another bartender, thirteen times, during a fight in the street. Dwyer was locked up to await the result of the wounded man's injuries.

Twenty years ago to-day the battle of Bull Run was fought.

The coinage executed at the United States mints during June was: Gold, $6,029,600; silver, $2,413,370; base, $38,372; total, $8,481,842.

More than 1,400 new post-offices have been established within the past year.

The Yorktown Centennial commissioners met a few days ago and formally accepted the model for the proposed monument. It will cost $100,000.

It is stated that a factory in New York city makes 60,000 pounds of oleomargarine daily, at a cost of twelve cents per pound, and sells it at eighteen cents per pound, making an annual profit of over $1,000,000.

Uses of Charcoal.

Charcoal, laid flat, while cold, on a burn, causes the pain to abate immediately; by leaving it on for an hour, the burn seems almost healed, when it is superficial. And charcoal is valuable for many other purposes. Tainted meat, surrounded with it, is sweetened; strewn over heaps of decomposed pelts, or over dead animals, it prevents an unpleasant odor. Foul water is purified by it. It is a great disinfectant, and sweetens the air if placed in trays around apartments. It is so porous in its "minute interior," it absorbs and condenses gases most rapidly. One cubic inch of fresh charcoal will absorb nearly one hundred of gaseous ammonia. Charcoal forms an unrivaled poultice for malignant wounds and sores, often corroding away dead flesh, reducing it one-quarter in six hours. In cases of what we call proud flesh it is invaluable. It gives no disagreeable odor, corrodes no metal, hurts no texture, injures no color, is a simple, safe sweetener and disinfectant. A teaspoonful of charcoal in half a glass of water often relieves a sick headache; it absorbs the gases, and relieves the distended stomach pressing against the nerves which extend from the stomach to the head.

Eccentric Bequests.

A Manchester lady bequeaths a surgeon £25,000, on condition that he should claim her body and embalm it, and "that he should once in every year look upon her face, two witnesses being present." Another lady, of an economical turn of mind, desires that if she should die away from Branksome, her remains, after being placed in a coffin, should be inclosed in a plain deal box, and conveyed by goods train to Poole. "Let no mention," she states, "be made of the contents, as the conveyance will not be charged more for than an ordinary package." A French traveler, recently deceased, desired to be buried in a leather trunk, to which he was attached, as it "had gone around the world with him three times;" and an English clergyman and Justice of the Peace, who, at the age of eighty-three, had married a girl of thirteen, desired to be buried in an old chest which he had selected for the purpose. Tastes differ in the matter of burial. One man wishes to be interred with the bed on which he was lying; another desired to be buried far from the haunts of men, where nature may "smile upon his remains;" and a third bequeaths his corpse for dissection, after which it is to be put into a deal box and thrown into the Thames. One man does not wish to be buried at all, but gives his body to the Imperial Gas Company, to be consumed to ashes in one of their retorts, adding that should the superstition of the times prevent the fulfillment of his bequest, his executors may place his remains in St. John's Wood Cemetery, "to assist in poisoning the living in the neighborhood." A person may approve himself of cremation, but it is a little hard when he requires his relatives to approve of it also. —The Spectator.

—"Don't weep, my friend," said the pastor to the sorrowing widower as he stood beside his wife's coffin. "Don't weep, she has gone to heaven." "Yes, I know she has gone there," sobbed the afflicted man; "and that is what makes it so hard to bear. I know I'll never see her again."

Burnett's Cocoaine.

A Lady's Book Saved by its Use.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE will keep the hair in a strong and healthy condition by stimulating the roots of the hair and restoring the natural action upon which its growth depends. Twenty years ago a single bottle saved a lady's hair in a desperate case where every other treatment had failed, and since that early success thousands of cases of Baldness, Dandruff, Loss of Hair and Irritation of the Scalp have yielded to this remedy.

The superiority of Burnett's Flavoring Extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength.

GRIEF.

Excessive anxiety, or prolonged Study, will produce Infirmity in the Nervous System, in proportion as the strength of that system is expended upon the mind in troubled thought, so are the organs of digestion, assimilation and nutrition, rendered inactive and sluggish in proportion as the system becomes infirm. Every individual has some one organ weaker than the rest, and this is always the first to suffer during nervous prostration; for example, afflicting news sometimes causes total suspension of the muscular action of the heart, producing sudden hemorrhage and death. No doubt any longer remains of the practibility of restoring the nervous system, and through the nerves the muscles of the impaired organs. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been proved to possess such power in numerous instances. It will impart strength to overcome trouble and affliction. Persons who are accustomed to looked upon the dark side, and who see no pleasure in living, on using this Syrup soon learn to value and enjoy life, and those who study deeply during long hours, will find in the syrup a promoter of the power of endurance in the brain.

There is no doubt of this fact, that an impaired Nervous System causes Consumption, Neuralgia, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Heart Disease, and a host of others. Fellows' Hypophosphites, which effectually cures Nervous debility, should cure these diseases also. "Remove the cause and the complaint will cease."

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., Feb. 23d, 1880.

JAMES I. FELLOWS, ST. JOHN, N. B.

Dear Sir: I have been prescribing your Hypophosphites for several years, both in Canada and the United States, but more particularly at this famous resort for Invalids, where thousands annually congregate. For those in whom the brain and nervous system has been exhausted from excess or overwork, I have found no combination of remedies so prompt and efficacious in restoring the vital forces. I hope that every person needing relief will avail themselves of so valuable a preparation. Respectfully,

AROUND HOME.

Yacht Raven, of Boston, was at Trefethen's wharf, Kittery, on the morning of the 20th inst.

Hon. Stillman B. Allen of Boston, and a party of friends, were at the Burnham farm in Kittery on Wednesday.

Hon. John S. Treat, state senator from this district, is prominently spoken of as the probable candidate to be supported for mayor of this city by the democrats at the coming election.

The owners of the Kearsarge mill property have received letters from the Globe Manufacturing Co., offering under certain conditions to locate their prospective works in this city.

In the state senate, on the 19th inst., a large number of remonstrances against the repeal of the law establishing a board of education in this city, signed by many of the most prominent citizens, were presented.

The Eastern railroad refused to connect with the Old Orchard Junction railroad to-day. Judge Virgin has granted an injunction on them, which was served on the Eastern road to-day. This will probably make them connect.—Biddeford Times, 18th.

A lady living in a neighboring town has easily and safely cleared her premises of potato bugs this year, by turning her flock of Guinea hens into the potato patch, or wherever the beetles appeared. She is raising a large flock of these fowls for service next season.

Some of the workmen in the department of construction and repair at the navy yard are now working over time, commencing at five o'clock in the morning and knocking off at eight-o'clock in the evening. This is owing to the hurrying-up of work on the Lancaster.

The barn of Mr. Albion Hammond, of East Eliot, was struck by lightning during the heavy thunder shower of Saturday evening, the 16th inst., and damaged to the amount of fifty dollars. A barn owned by a Mr. Smith, and situated near York woods, was also struck during the same shower.

Spare the birds. Cherries are now ripening, and the birds are claiming a share of them. What of it? Shouldn't they have them? They have worked all the spring and summer to keep the trees clear of vermin, and ought to be rewarded. Yet thoughtless men are unmercifully murdering them. V.

The anchor recently invented and patented by Major Urch was taken to the navy yard on Tuesday of this week, and exhibited to the officers on duty there, and was by them unanimously pronounced to be an invention of decided value. The anchor has been shown to several shipowners and underwriters of this city, and strongly endorsed by them all.

A horse attached to a farm carriage, belonging to a Mr. Drake of Rye, ran away on Pleasant street, Wednesday afternoon of this week, colliding with H. F. Gerrish's store team on Market square, wrecking the buggy, and considerably scratching and bruising the horse. Mr. Drake escaped injury. The horse was stopped by Mr. Porter R. Emery of Kittery.

Charles Wesley Tuttle died in Boston on the 17th inst., at the age of fifty-two years. Mr. Tuttle was an interested student of New England history, and a diligent explorer of its unpublished records. He wrote a number of articles for the "Historical and Genealogical Register," and was a frequent contributor to the publications of historical societies in Massachusetts, New Hampshire and other states. During several years past he had been engaged upon a life of Capt. John Mason of New Hampshire, and had collected very valuable materials for a history of the settlement of New Hampshire. A few months ago he delivered in the Unitarian chapel in this city an address before the Historical society, commemorative of the 250th anniversary of the settlement of this state at Odiorne's point; this address was rich in information, and the society voted to publish it. Mr. Tuttle leaves a widow, the daughter of Hon. John C. Park, but no children.

During the few days that the steamer Mystic was off her route between this city and Kittery, recently, her boiler was fitted with an entire set of new tubes of the best make and material. She recommenced her regular trips on the 20th inst., and is now in excellent condition throughout. Capt. Trefethen, while going on board the steamer Pinafore at the Shoals on the 17th, sustained an injury to one of his legs which has made him quite lame ever since.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

On account of an accident to a bridge near Boston, on the 20th inst., the passengers who should have arrived here early in the forenoon did not come until 1:30 P. M., when the train that left this city at 7:30 A. M. returned, bringing the passengers from Boston, but no mail. The mails arrived about five o'clock, when a train of fourteen cars, drawn by two engines, passed through the city to the eastward. The delay is said to have been caused by a schooner striking the Mystic bridge near the draw. Why the mails were not transferred to the first train we do not understand.

PISCATAQUA ASSOCIATION.

The Piscataqua Association of Congregational Ministers met in the Congregational church at Eliot, Me., Rev. D. V. Hibbard pastor, on Tuesday of this week.

Rev. Mr. Freeman of York was chosen moderator. Present, Brothers White, Lewis, Haines, Peabody, Rand, Quick, Borchers, Clark, Eastman, Wood, Davis, Robie, Stearnes, Fitz, Kingsbury, Cutler, Sewall and Norcross, and Rev. Messrs. Lapham and Mitchell of the Methodist church, Eliot.

The committee chosen at the last meeting to consider the question of celebrating the centennial of the association in October next, were empowered with authority to arrange the place of meeting and the programme.

Rev. Joseph Kingsbury of Rye read a narrative of his christian experience.

Rev. E. Robie, D. D., preached a sermon from Luke I., 1st four verses.

By request of the association Rev. Dr. Robie led in a prayer of thankfulness to God for the good prospect of the President's recovery, and pleadings for his complete restoration to health.

In the evening a public meeting was held, and addresses were made by Brothers Norcross, Clark, Eastman, Borchers and Rand.

The ladies of the society spread bountiful tables in the vestry at dinner and tea.

ANCIENT ORDER OF HIBERNIANS.

The Ancient Order of Hibernians has five hundred and twenty-nine members in good standing in this state. Martin Flaherty, of Manchester, state treasurer, reports a balance of $4,617 in the treasury, against a balance last year of $1847. Thomas Garvey, of Dover, has been elected county delegate for Strafford county to the United States Convention. P. O. Mahoney is delegate from Rockingham county.

The following is a list of the Division officers of Portsmouth; President, M. J. Ryan; vice president, J. J. Lynch; treasurer, T. O. Leary; corresponding secretary, Michael Riley; recording secretary, Thomas Elwood. The board of trustees is composed of the Division officers.

Mr. Hoye of Manchester is state delegate to the National Convention.

There is connected with the order a national benefit institution with a capital of $500,000, managed entirely by the society. Each division is expected to pay the same amount to the general fund, regardless of its numbers. Life insurance is paid out of the national fund. If from misfortune or inability a member has been unable to pay his dues, having once been a member, upon his death his family receives a benefit. The largest division in this state is that of Manchester. It is said that the Manchester and Portsmouth divisions have paid more to the general fund than any other in the state of New Hampshire. X.

New Hampshire Items.

Hiram Wheeler, a respected citizen of Berlin, hanged himself in a fit of despondency on the 18th inst. The body was found hanging to a tree back of the cemetery near his house. The coroner's jury assign no cause but mental aberration.

Alonzo Pinkham of Dover neck, and his wife and child, were thrown from a wagon in Dover on the 18th inst., their vehicle being struck and overturned by a runaway team belonging to Dr. Horsch, the latter team having been stampeded by some malicious boys. All three of the persons thrown out were severely injured.

The legislature having authorized the state to be represented at Yorktown by three companies of the national guard, as escort for the governor and staff, considerable anxiety is shown among the companies as to which will be selected.

Walter W. Snow, of Dover, was on the 19th inst. fined $2 and costs, $10.54 in all, in the police court of that city, for inhumanly beating his eight-years-old son for the trifling offence of soiling his clothes.

Contempt of Court.

Tom Marshall was engaged in the trial of a case in the interior of Kentucky, when a decision of the judge struck him as so bad that he rose and said:

"There never was such a ruling as that since Pontius Pilate presided on the trial of Christ."

"Mr. Clerk," responded the judge, "fine Mr. Marshall $10 for contempt of court."

"I confess, your honor," continued Tom, "that what I said was a little hard on Pontius Pilate, but it is the first time in the history of Kentucky jurisprudence that it is held that to speak disrespectfully of Pontius Pilate is contempt of court."

"Mr. Clerk, make the fine $20 for a continuous contempt," said the judge solemnly.

"Well, Judge," Tom added, "as you won all my money last night at poker, lend me the twenty."

"Mr. Clerk," cried the judge, hastily, "remit the fine. The state can afford to lose the money better than I can."

"I congratulate the court upon its return to a sane condition," said Tom, resuming his seat amid roars of laughter.

Toads among Plants.

A writer in the London Journal gives some interesting statements respecting the toad. In the matter of feeding he says the toad is not very particular, either as to quality or quantity. Anything that creeps or crawls will do for him—wood lice, beetles, spiders, slugs, worms, even snails with their shells, are put out of sight as if by magic, for he has a peculiar way of catching his prey. He watches the moving insect for an instant or two; then suddenly darting out his tongue while at a distance of one or two inches, the insect is snatched up and swallowed instantly. One evening he gave one a wasp and a bumble bee. Both were snatched up directly they commenced to move, apparently without causing the toad the slightest discomfort, though they must have reached his stomach in a tolerably active condition. In plant houses especially forcing houses, where insects increase in their number so rapidly at all seasons, the toad's services are especially valuable; and if a suitable ladder made of a narrow board with bits of laths tacked on it two inches apart, be set in a corner, slanting from the floor to the stage, he will climb it, and thus be enabled to make himself still more useful. But perhaps the most remarkable fact concerning the toad is, that though he can, and does, eat a great deal, he can exist a long time without eating anything. Years ago he buried one for a month in the earth, as an experiment, and when dug up it was apparently as well as ever. More recently, having been bothered with myriads of wood lice in an early cucumber house, and not being able to find toads in February, he later on, when they became plentiful, buried three in a nine-inch pot, with a slate on the top, eighteen inches under the ground, that he might have them handy for the next early forcing season. But that season he did not require them, so they remained buried until the following one, and were, on being taken up, apparently not much the worse for their eighteen months' fast, though they didn't have any ice water or alchoholic baths.

Curious History of a Lunatic.

James D. Rhymus was a patient in a private mad-house. Mrs. Bigelow, wife of the physician in charge, took a deep interest in his case. She believed that insanity could be cured by moral suasion and generally mild treatment, and she chose Rhymus as a subject on which to test her system. He steadily improved, until sanity was at last re-established. In the meantime Mrs. Bigelow had become a widow. She soon afterward married Rhymus, and he became a physician. That was twenty years ago. Dr. Rhymus made insanity a specialty in his practice, and had charge successively of many asylums. He adhered to the theory of mild treatment which had proved efficacious in his own case, and for the purpose of putting it into thorough practice, he leased, a short time ago, the Grand View Hotel, near Denver, Colorado, turning it into an asylum. In order to train his keepers by degrees, he at first only admitted three patients, and these were supposed to be only slightly deranged. But he was mistaken in one of these, and one morning found himself attacked by a furious mad-man, who choked him insensible, and would have killed him if his wife had not fought heroically to free him. During the commotion caused by the struggle, the two other patients escaped, and one of them drowned herself. This bad beginning of the enterprise drove Dr. Rhymus insane again, and while out of his mind he slew his wife.

—The papers say that "Senator Vest of Missouri is at the Warm Springs, Va., with his invalid wife." Where are the healthy ones?

—European tours will soon become unfashionable. The horrible discovery has been made that it is cheaper to summer in Europe than at an American watering-place.

Feeding Cows Grain in Summer.

Cows which have all the sweet pasture grass they need, do not need other food. They will give the most and the best milk on an abundance of good grass, that they will on almost any feed. Few cows, however, are supplied with all the pasture grass they can consume. The larger part of our pastures soon get short of feed, and the cows do not obtain all they want to eat. As a consequence cows generally begin to fall off in their milk soon after July sets in, and the falling off of milk continues each month until late in the autumn, when it is found the cows are nearly dry. Many farmers provide a supply of corn fodder to feed the cows in August and September, but this is not soon enough to begin giving the extra feed. Often times the cows have shrunk one-third or one-half in their milk before the corn fodder is ready for them, and after the flow is once diminished, it is increased with much difficulty.

As soon as the pastures begin to fail, the cows should be furnished with additional food sufficient to maintain their full quantity of milk. It does not pay to allow a herd of cows to shrink one-third or one-half in their milk before the summer is gone, and there is no need of it. By feeding grain of some kind, the flow of milk may be maintained throughout the summer, and even late into the autumn. Corn meal, bran and cotton seed meal are all good for feeding for this purpose, and the return in milk, butter and cheese will amply repay the outlay. At no season in the year will a better return be obtained for the amount of grain fed to milk-giving cows than in the summer, when the pastures begin to fail. In winter the cold weather causes part of the grain to go to maintain the animal warmth, but in the summer very little food is required for this purpose, and it is nearly all converted into milk or flesh.

It is hoped that many of our farmers will try feeding grain this summer. Begin as soon as the quantity of milk begins to diminish, and feed just enough to maintain full flow. It will be found that such feeding will pay. Not only will the total amount of milk obtained during the summer and fall be largely increased, but the cows will also be in a good condition for winter dairying, giving a good mess of milk. The cow is a milk-machine, and the more food each cow can economically work over into milk, the greater the profit from dairying. Never allow the machine to become idle in part for want of sufficient supplies of raw material.—Exchange.

He Expected to.

Caught anything yet? "inquired an anxious fisherman of a small boy who was intently watching a cork bob. "No; but I will when I get home. Dad said he'd skin me alive if I went fishin' agin. But my spirits ain't easy crushed. Who-o-p"—and with a yank he threw a half-pound bull-head on the bank. "You can have it, mister. I dassent carry it home." And the boy jingled the quarter in his pocket and sung to himself as he remembered that the third "city cove" he'd struck since morning.—New Haven Register.

—There is a man in New York who makes his living by turning red noses white. In the same city there are several thousands who make their living by turning white noses red.

—The American lawn-mower has been introduced into England, and now the English, disturbed in their morning naps by the clanging fiend, have sent over for the profanity that goes with it.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptoms indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

—"Had drank" is not English grammar, says a high authority. It certainly is not. "Was drunk" is better grammar, and more in accordance with the facts, nine times out of ten.

A Fool Once More.

"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her, she is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Such folly pays."—H. W., Detroit, Mich.—Free Press.

—Jerome Hopkins writes to the Springfield Republican that Wagner's "Grand Centennial March," for which $5,000 was paid by the Ladies' Committee of the Philadelphia Exhibition of 1876, is the weakest of its composer's compositions, and has never been performed in Europe. When King Ludwig of Bavaria, rallied Wagner on the subject, according to Mr. Hopkins, the musician laughed and "said the piece was only an early work of his, a study in triplets, good enough for the Americans."

"The Domestic Tyrant."

"The average man," quote Mrs. Partington, "is a weak and irritable domestic tyrant," and Mrs. P. is correct. Tyrannical to a fault the average man will enter the blissful paradise of a happy home, scratch himself in fiendish glee, send the baby into convulsions, and for what? Why, because he has the itching piles, and is too mean to buy Swayne's Ointment, which is an infallible cure for the worst cases of that annoying complaint.

Second.

Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.

Third.

Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.

Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth.

Because over 1000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Success of the Toy Pistol.

Under the above heading the Springfield (Mass.) Republican says:

Rochester has had three deaths from the toy pistol; Lewiston, Me., Portsmouth, N. H., and Richmond, Ind., each one; Reading, Pa., three, all from lockjaw; Lawrence, a girl whose eye was put out; and Baltimore, as already noticed, thirteen deaths and thirteen serious wounds from the same cause. Philadelphia had fifteen deaths a year ago from the toy pistol, and none this year when it was suppressed. The example should be followed here. If boys must shoot, give them a rifle and a range. To put the pistol in their way is like educating the next generation in the use of the stiletto.

There have also been several deaths in Boston from the same cause; and the number of accidental deaths from the use of the "toy" on the 4th, all over the Union, is much larger than the list of deaths from the accidental or willfully murderous use of so-called more deadly weapons on that day, as reported in the papers. The only way to put an effectual stop to this wholesale killing of themselves by boys, is to prohibit the sale of the deadly contrivances; so long as they are allowed to be exposed for sale the boys will buy them; and manufacturers will produce them as long as there is a demand.

News and Notes.

A suit has been commenced in the United States circuit court at New York by the government against the steamer Saratoga of Ward's Havana line, and her officers, to recover duties amounting to $400 on cigars smuggled on that vessel.

In Exeter, Me., July 16th, an elderly lady named Smith was burned to death through her clothes taking fire from a stove.

Guiteau the assassin is receiving proper treatment now. In accordance with instructions he was on Tuesday evening, the 19th inst., placed in a cell on the side of the jail where there are no other prisoners, and where means of escape are impossible. He will be allowed to see no other person, will not be permitted to hold conversation with any of the guards, and will be rigorously excluded from receiving or sending any communications except those delivered by the district attorney, or received by his direction.

At Louisville, Ky., July 20th, Mrs. John Fichtner, wife of a prominent master builder, threw concentrated lye in the face of Dr. G. W. Priest, an eminent dentist, probably destroying his sight. The woman alleges that Priest seduced her, which he positively denies.

John Kane, John McNamara and Edward Finnell have been arrested for the murder of Henry W. Wright of South Egremont, Mass., who was found dead in the pond of the rubber mill at Newton, Conn., last March.

Sitting Bull, with about 300 people, many of them women and children, surrended to Major Brotherton at Fort Buford on the 20th inst.

George W. Coles, aged twenty-eight years, a native of Hartford, Conn., employed as bookkeeper in Harry Miner's theatre in New York city, was fatally shot on the night of the 19th inst. by Mrs. Elizabeth Coleman, wife of a sea captain trading to the West Indies. The woman has four children. She charges that Coles seduced her and then betrayed her to her husband, who thereupon began proceedings for divorce. The woman has been arrested.

Contractors building a railroad in Carter county, Kentucky, have called on the state for protection against an organization called "The Natives," who have driven their men from work.

A telegraphic despach of the 20th from Saratoga, N. Y., says: "John A. Bookwalter and Col. Edgar M. Johnson, democratic candidates for governor and lieutenant governor of Ohio, met at Congress hall to-day, and telegraphed the committee of the convention their acceptance." As Bookwalter's nomination was secured by the open and shameless purchase of delegates in the convention, it seems superfluous to announce that he has "accepted" the purchase.

The fever and ague is making some little trouble for the Boston & Albany railroad. Fifty of its engineers, firemen and brakemen are unable to work, and were it not for the fact that freight is running rather light just now, considerable difficulty would be caused. Enough substitutes have been obtained, however, to prevent any stoppage. The men mostly live in West Springfield, Mass., where a good deal of fever and ague prevails, and their night work necessarily exposes them more than others.

Secretary Windom has restored to Internal Revenue Commissioner Raum the control of the appointments of store keepers, gaugers, etc., which was taken away by Secretary Sherman, the order going into effect immediately. Gen. Raum was not for Sherman in the Chicago convention, but for Grant. Immediately after the convention, Sherman issued the order taking away from the commissioner all internal revenue appointments. Gen. Raum's friends say that this was done for revenge. Whatever the cause may have been, Secretary Windom has rescinded the order.

On the 20th inst. Miss Jennie McLaughlin of Providence, R. I., aged nineteen years, was walking on the track of the Stonington railroad near where her father was killed a year ago, when she fell in stepping from before a train, and her ankle was so crushed as to necessitate amputation.

Mrs. William N. Monroe of Providence, R. I., went to Chicago recently to get her child who was with a former husband from whom she was divorced, and while there the man stole from her a child by her second marriage, which however she recovered and brought back to Providence.

A Kansas City despatch says James Bridger, the old scout and companion of Fremont, after whom Fort Bridger is named, and the first white man to follow the Santa Fe trail across the plains,, is dead, at the age of seventy-six years.

Enoch Long of Alton, Ill., a prominent anti-slavery man, who was wounded in defending Lovejoy's printing office from the attacks of a mob during the memorable slavery riots, died July 20th, aged ninety-one years. He was a native of New Hampshire, went to Illinois in 1814, and was one of the founders of Presbyterianism in that state.

Katie Hayes, white, a southerner and a school-ma'am, has scandilized folks around Crawford, Texas, by marrying a negro.

An archery club went out to practice at Ensiga's mountain, Mo. Miss Matthews had a lovers' quarrel with Mr. Grace, and when it came her turn to shoot at the target, a few minutes afterwards, she sent an arrow into the young man's breast. It was all an accident, she said, and she was ever so sorry, but he believed she meant to kill him, and had her arrested.

Miss Dorothy Dix, the distinguished philanthropist, is slowly dying at Washington. She did no end of hard work in promoting prison reform and improving the condition of asylums for the insane before the war broke out, and was leading nurse in the service of the sanitary commission. A gifted and accomplished lady, of simple and refined manners, she has earned a place in the first rank of modern helpers of mankind, by the side of Florence Nightingale, Mary Carpenter, and Mrs. Frye.

Mrs. J. T. Hinckley, of Eureka, Nev., shot a Mexican who tried to rob her and her husband on the road the other day.

Mrs. Silas Raymond of Onarga, Ill., has died of a nervous shock received on hearing of President Garfield's assassination.

An Excellent Ordinance.

Mayor Grace of New York has approved an ordinance making it a misdemeanor to throw or deposit on any sidewalk or cross walk any part or portion of any fruit or vegetable, or other substance which, when stepped upon by any person, is liable to cause, or does cause, him or her to slip or fall. A fine of not less than $1 nor more than $5, or imprisonment of from one day to ten days, is the penalty. The ordinance also directs that the proprietor of every fruit store or fruit stall-stall, under penalty of $5 fine or ten days' imprisonment, keep a copy of the ordinance, printed in large type, posted in a conspicuous place about his shop.

—William Sprague of Rhode Island has spent a fortune of $12,000,000 left him by his father. It is supposed he went to Niagara and hired a hack.—Boston Post.

—There are not less that twenty colleges valedictorians occupying subordinate posts, a majority of them, small clerkships, in the treasury department at Washington. How many of them will ever be good for anything else?

Northern Sheep Skins 35 to 40c each.
Western Lamb Skins 65 to 85c each.

The trade for beef cattle has not varied much from that of one week ago. Most of the lots of cattle in market were of a good grade, and the larger portion were taken by butchers, for slaughtering purposes, the demand for shipping cattle not being quite equal to that of one week ago. The best grades of beeves sold at 6 1-4 to 6 3-4c per lb live weight. At the present time there are but a few cattle brought in from the west but what cost more than 5c per lb live weight, the larger portion of beef cattle selling at prices ranging from 5 3-4 to 6 1-2c per lb live weight. The cattle from Maine consisted largely of milch cows; only a few beef cattle or working oxen among them.

Working Oxen—Only a few arrive in market and a moderate demand for them. We note sales 1 pr, girth 6 ft 5 in, weight 2400 lbs, for $195; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 5 in, live weight 2200 lbs, for $205.

Milch Cows—Extra $70 to $75; ordinary $25 to $40; springers $30 to $40 per head. The cow trade for several weeks past has been very dull. The supply in market this week was light. We quote sales of a spring cow for $135; the lot 2 springers $70 each; 9 milch cows for $180; 1 milch cow $25; 1 jersey cow $45; 1 springer for $38.

Sheep and Lambs—Extra sheep cost from 7 to 7 1-2c per lb live weight.

Sheep and Lambs—Western sheep cost landed at Brighton from 5 3-4 to 6 3-4c per lb. live weight. Lambs from 7 1-2 to 8c per lb live weight, mostly owned by butchers. None offered in market for sale.

Swine—Fat hogs 6 3-4 to 7 1-4c per lb live weight, store pigs 7 to 8c per lb; spring pigs $2 25 to $3 50 per head. Light supply in market.

A great many petitions have been presented at this session of the legislature praying for a change in the divorce laws, and all demanding that they shall be made more stringent. Instead of yielding to the demand the legislature has passed an act requiring the clerks of courts to make a record of all divorces granted, their causes, circumstances, occupation, etc. This is legislating in the right way. Without the absolute facts on which to base it, additional legislation on the subject of divorce would be as likely to be mischievous as sound. When the facts are in they can hardly fail to throw light on the subject, and point out what legislation, if any, is necessary. If the legislature will now throw over the railroad controversy to a commission, to get at the facts also, it will have done two statesmanlike things if it should not accomplish anything more.—Nashua Telegraph.

Burnett's Cocoaine.

A Lady's Hair Saved by its Use.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE will keep the hair in a strong and healthy condition by stimulating the roots of the hair and restoring the natural action upon which its growth depends. Twenty years ago a single bottle saved a lady's hair in a desperate case where every other treatment had failed; and since that early success thousands of cases of baldness, Scaling, Loss of Hair and Irritation of the Scalp have yielded to this remedy.

The superiority of Burnett's Flavoring Extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. FELLOWS' Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

GRIEF.

Excessive anxiety, or prolonged study, will produce infirmity in the Nervous System, in proportion as the strength of that system is expended upon the mind. In troubled thought, so are the organs of digestion, assimilation and nutrition, rendered inactive and sluggish in proportion as the system becomes infirm. Every individual has some one organ weaker than the rest, and this is always the first to suffer during nervous prostration; for example, afflicting news sometimes causes total suspension of the muscular action of the heart, producing sudden hemorrhage and death. No doubt any longer remains of the practibility of restoring the nervous system, and through the nerves the muscles of the impaired organs. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been proved to possess such power in numerous instances. It will impart strength to overcome trouble and affliction. Persons who are accustomed to look upon the dark side, and who see no pleasure in living, on using this Syrup soon learn to value and enjoy life, and those who study deeply during long hours, will find in the Syrup a promoter of the power of endurance in the brain.

There is no doubt of this fact, that an impaired Nervous System causes Consumption, Neuralgia, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Heart Disease, and a host of others. Fellows' Hypophosphites, when effectually cures these dreadful diseases also. "Remove the cause and the consequence will cease."

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., Feb. 23d, 1880.

JAMES I. FELLOWS, ST. JOHN, N. B.

Dear Sir: I have been prescribing your Hypophosphites for several years, both in Canada and the United States, but more particularly at Hot Springs, as a resort for Invalids, where thousands annually congregate. For those in whom the brain and nervous system has been exhausted from excess or overwork, I have found no combination of remedies so prompt and efficacious in restoring the vital forces. I hope that every person needing relief will avail themselves of so valuable a preparation.

Respectfully,

The Tremont Gun club of Boston had a pigeon-shoot in Eliot on Thursday.

Another effective blast was made on the Gangway ledge, Thursday afternoon.

Mr. J. Langdon Ward's yacht, formerly called the "Emma," has had her name changed to "Grampus" by order of the secretary of the treasury.

The stockholders of the Kearsarge mills are receiving a dividend of six and one-sixth per cent, being a final dividend of the assets of the company.

James E. Morrison has opened a very neatly-fitted pool and billiard room at No. 42 Market street, up one flight of stairs, with tables of the best make.

The annual meeting of the Rockingham County Temperance association will be held on the camp grounds at Epping, Thursday, July 28th, at half-past ten o'clock in the forenoon.

A new tile floor is being laid in the general business room of the custom house, and a new counter has been placed in the office of the collector of internal revenue in the same building.

"Uncle Hi" Varrell, a native of Newmarket and formerly a well known horse man in this state, died very suddenly on the 1st inst. at Fennimore, Wis., where he had resided for about ten years.

There was a picnic and crowder party at Wallis' sands, Rye beach, on Wednesday of this week, but it was not gotten up by the Improved Order of Red Men of this city, as has has been stated. The tribe as an organization had nothing to do with the affair.

On Wednesday July 20th, Michael Allow, a French boy ten years old at work in the Pepperell mill at Biddeford, was caught in a belt and carried over the shaft, receiving probably fatal injuries. A child of that age has no business in any such place, and his employment is an outrage.

Capt. Coleman at Dover point has an apple tree which he claims was brought to this country from England in a tub in the year 1627, and placed where it now stands. This will make it 254 years old, and it is perhaps the oldest apple tree in this state. Last year a small number of apples were gathered from it, and there are a lot of small apples on it this year. —Dover Republican.

The Eastern railroad is fortunate in being so situated as to take in more of the summer travel than any other road in New England. It has nothing but a continued succession of popular shore resorts, through which its iron rails are laid, that during the summer months are crowded with visitors. From Chelsea to Cape Ann, and from Beverly all along it includes all the shores and beaches as its attractions, including the coast of Massachusetts, New Hampshire and a part of Maine. It secures a large amount of travel, and is in very truth a seaside railroad.——Conductor Jacob Johnson was in town on Wednesday last, and examined the employes of the Eastern railroad located here with reference to color blindness, and all passed the tests successfully. —Cape Ann Bulletin.

Two boys, aged respectively ten and eleven years, ran away from their homes in Kittery on the 18th inst., having previously prepared for flight by helping themselves to money and valuable extracts from a store kept by the father of one of them—a gentleman already sufficiently afflicted, he having lost a beautiful young daughter about a year ago, and having another who has been very ill with heart disease for weeks past. The latter's friends feared that her brother's silly escapade might prove fatal to her, and in consequence were very glad when the runaways were brought back on the 21st.

A fine likeness of the late Hon. John H. Bailey has been placed in the aldermen's room in the city building, with the other portraits of former mayors of the city.

The schooner Addie & Hattie has been newly painted, and fitted out for a trip of sword-fishing, Capt. Davis, at the request of some friends, will make an excursion trip on Sunday. Tickets will be one dollar, including lunch and chowder. Those wishing to avail themselves of a pleasant ocean trip may apply to T. J. Sheehan, corner of State and Water streets.

A horse belonging to Mr. Daniel Littlefield ran off with a buggy to which he was harnessed, Thursday, capsized the buggy by running it against a woodpile as he left the staole yard, and started down the street at a lively pace. He was soon stopped by Mr. Eugene Foote, switchtender on the Eastern railroad, but not until he had broken one shaft of the buggy and considerable scarred the top.

Some wicked man has been doing quite a large business within a few days past, in the line of poisoning cats in the vicinity of Market square. Among others, he poisoned our pet kitten, for which we hope—but there! the revised edition, which we now use, affords no language fit to express what we hope will happen to him, in this world and that to come. If our prayers are only answered he will have an awful hard time of it for thirty or forty million years to come.

The delay of the trains on the Eastern railroad, on the 20th inst., was not occasion by a schooner running into a bridge, as at first reported, the facts being as follows: At an early hour in the morning the draw bridge over the Mystic river, between Somerville and Everett, Mass., was opened in order to allow a steamer to pass up the river. Just as the beams of which the draw is constructed were swung clear of the opening the iron stays supporting them gave way, and the free end of the draw fell upon the pier. It was fortunate that the break did not occur just as the free end of the draw left its supports in the bridge proper, as in that case it would have fallen into the opening and might have caused a more serious breakage. The cause of the accident was the rusting away of the iron where the stays were connected at the free end of the draw. The passengers on the early inward trains crossed the opening in the bridge by means of a temporary foot bridge and were taken to Boston on trains sent out for them. The eastward bound trains were held back, owing to the large amount of baggage to be sent, until repairs were completed, which was effected soon after noon.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, July 21st, Mayor Sise in the chair:

A few small bills were ordered to be paid.

A petition for the acceptance of Elm court as a public highway was referred to the committee on streets.

Albert R. Hatch asked that the award in favor of Samuel Wilson, as damages on account of the laying out of the new street in continuation of Vaughan street, be paid to him. The communication was accepted.

Joseph H. Thacher asked leave to encumber Vaughan street for building purposes. Granted.

The mayor announced that supervisors of election required to be elected by the board at the next meeting.

Ald. Hall reported in favor of the payment of the bills of S. C. Whittier for services as coroner. Report accepted.

The committee on police reported that the quarterly report of the city marshal was correct, and it was placed on file.

Ald. Vaughan reported in regard to the proposed new drinking fountain, that it would cost one-third more to procure it now than at the time the subject was first introduced in the board. An order for the erection of the fountain at once, on the east side of Market square, was passed.

There was considerable discussion regarding the giving of permission to erect telegraph poles in certain streets of the city. The general opinion of the aldermen seemed to be that the board had no right to grant such permission, and the petitioners for the same were given leave to withdraw.

Adjourned for one week.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, July 21; Batchelder, J.

Moses M. Stearns, one of the crew of the little schooner which several days ago commenced picking up articles from the bottom of the river near the navy yard wharves, appeared as complainant against Isaac W. Deering, master of the schooner, for an assault. Deering was dismissed.

A counter charge of assault was then made by Deering against Stearns, and the latter was fined $1, costs $6.90, which he paid.

THE O. O. J. R. R.

The Old Orchard Junction railroad is now running all right, the Eastern road making the required connections. The Biddeford Times of the 19th inst. says that a party of the new road's men went to the head of the road at four o'clock the previous afternoon to put the "frog" in, and were somewhat surprised to meet with no opposition from the Eastern. At five o'clock notice was received that Superintendent Sanborn of the Eastern road had ordered all trains to connect with the Old Orchard Junction line, so the officer who had been provided to act in case of war had nothing to do but lie under a bush and smoke cigars. The Times says the stockholders in the new road are John S. Morris and Charles D. Brown, both of Portland; Lee, Higginson & Co., of Boston; and H. W. Staples of Biddeford,—each of whom owns a quarter of the stock. It further says:

We have Mr. Staples' word for it that neither the Eastern nor the Boston & Maine have interest in it, although many have thought one or the other of these roads was really furnishing the money. Like most all other schemes into which men are betrayed, it was built for the purpose of making money, and there's no doubt it will succeed in that direction. It is one of the prettiest roads anywhere about, and must be seen to be appreciated.

New Hampshire Items.

The house and barn of F. A. Cushman at Lebanon were burned by lightning on the night of the 20th inst. At the same time a large fire was seen in the direction of Hanover. A barn in Canaan was burned at about the same time, and a water main in Keene was burst, by lightning. The shower was the heaviest for a long time in that vicinity.

Prof. E. T. Quimby of Dartmouth college has invented and secured letters patent on an electric clock, which is designed for use in mills and manufactories, to take the place of the watchman's clock now in common use. Prof. Quimby's clock is used at Great Falls, Littleton and Manchester, and is said to work admirably. A company has been formed in Boston for the manufacture of these clocks, with a capital of $20,000.

At a meeting of the governor and council on the 19th inst., Stephen S. Chick was appointed coroner for Strafford county, vice Dr. John R. Ham, of Dover, resigned.

There is considerable prospect that the Profile and Franconia Notch narrow gauge railroad, now open between Bethlehem junction and the Profile house, will be changed to a wide gauge and extended down through the Pemigewasset valley to Plymouth, and the survey is now in progress. This will open up a large and attractive new country, and serve to increase very materially the enormous summer hotel business already carried on in that mountain region. It is understood that the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad will build the extension, that solid and substantial corporation always holding itself in readiness to forward any railway enterprise that in its estimation will tend to promote industry and thrift among the people of New Hampshire.

Mrs. Mary A. Randall died in Nashua on the 20th inst., from the effects of a sunstroke received on the 10th, since which time up to her death she was delirious.

At a meeting in Concord, Wednesday afternoon, July 20th, of the members of the brigade staff of the New Hampshire national guard, an elegant set of horse equipments were presented to their popular commander, Brig. Gen. Joseph M. Clough of New London, who is also in the state senate.

The long-continued dry weather, together with the unusual cold weather in June, has very seriously affected crops in northern New Hampshire. Reports received from various sections of the state show that the hay crop will hardly be above half the average, while oats, wheat, corn, potatoes, etc., will be very light. In addition to other scourges the grasshopper is doing great havoc in lands in that section, cutting down all growing garden plants and doing tremendous damage to hay. One prominent farmer says that on his land the hoppers eat more grass than one man can gather each day.

—A Buffalo girl recently was married in a $150 pair of stockings. Was that all?

Statistics of Immigration.

The chief of the bureau of statistics reports that the total number of immigrants arrived during the year ended June 30, 1881, at the customs districts of Baltimore, Boston, Detroit, Huron, Key West, Minnesota, New Bedford, New Orleans, New York, Passamaquoddy, Philadelphia and San Francisco, was 660,239, as against 451,902 during the proceding fiscal year. The total number of immigrants arrived in the United States during the year ended June 30, 1880, was 457,257. It is estimated that the total immigration into the United States during the year ended June 30, 1881, amount to about 668,000 persons, a larger immigration than during any preceding year in the history of the country.

Naval Affairs.

The court martial in the case of Sailmaker Isaish E. Crowell of the receiving-ship Wabash, at Boston, concluded taking testimony on the 20th inst. The charge against him is scandalous conduct aboard the ship Wabash, and the specifications charge him with enticing two young girls—Mollie Blake, aged thirteen years, and Lizzie Blainey, aged eleven—into his room on board the Wabash for immoral purposes. The decision of the court, together with the evidence, will be forwarded to the judge advocate general at Washington, and a final decision rendered within ten days or two weeks. Mr. Crowell has a wife and daughter, and has been in the naval service for more than twenty-nine years.

"T. D." Pipes.

It is a matter of inquiry by a great many, especially smokers, what the initials T. D. on a large number of the clay pipes offered for sale all over New England mean. Thereby hangs a tale. There once lived in Newburyport, Mass., an eccentric genius named Dexter, who used to have his name written with the suffix, "My Lord Timothy." He was a great smoker, and invariably used a clay pipe manufactured at a pipe factory in that city. In order that his name or its initials might not be lost to future posterity, Mr. Dexter endowed this factory, with the understanding that every pipe offered for sale by should bear the initial letters of his name, and from the day of the endowment until the present time, every clay pipe made by the Newburyport Pipe Manufacturing Co. bears the twentieth and fourth letters of the alphabet, which, when Englished, means Timothy Dexter. —Exchange.

A Baltimore boy, nine years old, procured an old army musket that had lain in the garret unused for eight years, placed a cap on it and fired, blowing the head off a youthful playmate. He expressed the customary astonishment, and "didn't know it was loaded." The "unloaded" musket or pistol is only less dangerous than the "toy" pistol.

I Don't Want a Doctor!

I have tried them, and they have only swindled me. I have figured up what they cost me for the last four years; it was just $524.31. If I had it now it would be a fortune to me. This year my bill for medicine was only five dollars, for which I purchased six bottles of Sulphur Bitters. They cured me of scrofula after suffering four years.—Workingman.

—Mr. Froude says that "Pickwick" will be unreadable to our grandchildren. This is probably so; but then, our grandchildren will have its place Mr. Froude's side-splitting "History of England."

"Liebig Co.'s Arnicated Extract of Witch Hazel, has proven in my practise to be incomparably superior to any preparation of Witch Hazel I have ever used. I have often been disappointed in the curative effects of the commonly vended articles and am glad that we can now have a reliable preparation."

E. C. FRANKLIN, M. D.,
Professor Surgery.
Medical Dep't University of Michigan.

Cures piles, salt rheum, catarrh, painful mouthfuls, leucorrhoea, varicose veins, neuralgia. Sold in fifty cents and dollar sizes.

—If some of the men who make it a habit to play croquet most of their time would put half the vim into their business that they put into their playing, they would retire on handsome fortunes in a few years.

Health and Happiness.

It seems strange that anyone will suffer from the many derangements brought on by an impure condition of the blood, when Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup will restore perfect health to the physical organization. It has proven itself to be the best blood purifier ever discovered, effectually curing scrofula, syphilitic disorders, weakness of the kidneys, all nervous disorders and debility. It corrects indigestion. It makes the old feel young, and the young feel gay; and will invariably drive out of the system the many ills that the human flesh is heir to. It acts like a charm, especially when the complaint is of an exhaustive nature, having a tendency to lessen the natural vigor of the brain and nervous system.

—In going over the pay-roll of one of the assistant commissioners of highways in Philadelphia, the controller made the discovery that Daniel Redding, of the first ward, had put in a bill forty-four and a half days' work in June, and the account was tallied and sworn to.

"The Domestic Tyrant."

"The average man," quote Mrs. Partington, "is a weak and irritable domestic tyrant," and Mrs. P. is correct. Tyrannical to a fault the average man will enter the blissful paradise of a happy home, scratch himself in fiendish glee, send the baby into convulsions, and for what? Why, because he has the itching piles, and is too mean to buy Swayne's Ointment, which is an infallible cure for the worst cases of that annoying complaint.

Summer Complaints

I have known PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER almost upon the day it was introduced, and after years of observation and use I permit its presence in my household as an indispensable necessity.
T. S. POTTER, U. S. Consul.

POSITIVELY CURED BY

Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First.

Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.

Second.

Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.

Third.

Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.

Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth.

Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth.

Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

LEFT BEHIND.

Will thou forget me in that other sphere—
Thou who hast shared my life so long in this—
And straight grown dizzy with that greater bliss,
Fronting heaven's splendor strong and full and clear,
No longer hold the old embraces dear
When some sweet seraph crowns thee with her kiss?
Nay, surely from that rapture thou wouldst miss
Some slight, small thing that thou hast cared for here.
I do not dream that from those ultimate heights
Thou wilt come back to seek me where I bide,
But if I follow, patient of thy slights,
And if I stand there, waiting by thy side,
Surely thy heart with some old duteous will stir,

—LOUISE CHANDLER MOULTON, in Harpers for August.

A Pennsylvia Patriarch.

The Erie Gazette says: "About thirty-five years ago Michael Hare died near Waterford, in this county, at the remarkable age of one hundred and sixteen years. He was buried in what was called the 'old graveyard' in Waterford borough. His remains have been removed of late and deposited in the new cemetery, and the good people of Waterford are now about raising funds to erect a suitable monument to the memory of probably the oldest person that has ever died in this state. The Buffalo Express says that this man was probably one of the best authenticated cases of extreme longevity on record. He was an Irishman, and a British soldier at Braddock's defeat in 1775; served under Wayne in the revolution at Stony Point in 1779, and was then one of the oldest men in his regment; and was with St. Clair when the Indians defeated him in Ohio in 1791. He was in jail at Erie for drunkenness and disorderly conduct after he was one hundred years old. He was one of three lives named in a life-lease of land in Ireland. Consequently legal attestation of his being still alive had to be made and transmitted to Ireland every year. Thus the proof of his astonishing longevity is a nearly or quite perfect chain."

Honored and Blest.

When a board of eminent physicians and chemists announced the discovery that by combining some well known valuable remedies, the most wonderful medicine was produced, which would cure such a wide range of diseases that most all other remedies could be dispensed with, many were skeptical; but proof of its merits by actual trial has dispelled all doubt, and to-day the discoverers of that great medicine, Hop Bitters, are honored and blessed by all as benefactors.—Democrat.

—They wonder now why "Old Abe," the Wisconsin war-eagle, never laid any eggs. "He" was a female. She knew that if she betrayed herself in this way, she would lose all credit for bravery and patriotism, and be denied the privilege of "bearing arms."

Statistics show that more people die of consumption than from any other cause. Slight colds are the true seeds of consumption. Beware of the slightest cough. Adamson's Botanic Balsam stands without a peer. Trial size, only 10 cts.

—A gentleman was bidding his little son adieu one morning before leaving for business, when the former said, "Be a good boy, to-day, my son." The little fellow looked up instantly and replied, "I'll try, papa; you be a good man." The father probably needed the advice as much as the child—perhaps more.

To persons employed in constant mental toil, study or anxiety, Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites is especially adapted, namely to teachers, clergymen, editors, lawyers, and impecunious business men.

—It having been remarked that cigarette smoking is killing thousands of young men, the Chicago Tribune savagely says that the kind of young men who smoke cigarettes can all be spared. The fittest would still survive.

"A Girl's Choice."

It was in a drug store of course. All interesting incidents occur in drug stores,—that is, nearly all. She was pretty, with blue eyes and golden hair, one of those kind of beauties the poet would have called an "angel," but for the fact that a colony of pimples on her fair frontispiece precluded all thought of a celestial being. Bowing timidly to the handsome clerk, she asked for "Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases," and upon receiving it vanished like the morning dew before the summer sun.

—A late newspaper story says, thrillingly, "The fountains of love were choked by the slime of resentment, and the octopus of hate sapped the very life blood of self-esteem!"

Fruit of the tropic's burning clime,
Thy wondrous virtues, fadeless still,
Exert an influence sublime
In ministering to human ill;
And many a pang along our way

Portsmouth Chronicle.

SATURDAY, JULY 23, 1881.

[Entered at the Post-Office at Portsmouth, N.H. as second-class matter.]

New Hampshire Legislature.

According to the Concord Patriot, the legislature during fifty days has only been in session eighty-three hours and twenty-eight minutes. Members will receive pay for fifty days' work, or $150 each, and mileage, for eighty-three hours' work, or at the rate of about $18 for a legal day's work.

On the 21st bills were given a final passage to incorporate state banks in Manchester, Portsmouth, Nashua, Concord and Littleton; and to fix the salaries of the justice ($1500) and the clerk ($600) of the Manchester police court. The joint resolution appropriating $5000 for repairs upon the normal school buildings at Plymouth, was first tabled and then recommitted. The railroad committee gave a hearing in the evening on petitions for a general railroad law. Judge Cross of Manchester and B. Wadleigh of Boston appeared for the petitioners. The former made a lengthy argument in favor of the law, and the hearing was then adjourned till Tuesday evening, the 26th inst.

Mr. Hatch of Greenland, agreeably to previous notice, moved to reconsider the vote whereby the bill entitled an act in favor of the county farm of the county of Rockingham was indefinitely postponed. The gentleman explained the bearing of the bill, which was to provide a school district for the school of the county farm at Brentwood. Messrs. Quimby of Hanover and Dearborn of Auburn supported the motion, and the bill was reconsidered and ordered to a third reading.

News and Notes.

It is now stated that the reports of the approaching marriage of Lord Colin Campbell, son of the Duke of Argyll, and a daughter of the American adventuress, Victoria Woodhull, are wholly erroneous. The lady to whom Lord Campbell is to be married is a daughter of Mr. Edward Blood, a gentleman of large wealth and high standing in English society.

One of the richest men in this country, when he began business put out this sign: "Cyrus W. Field, Rags."

Jay Gould is said to work seven days in each week, all the year round. And yet he is worth fifty millions. The worst kind of slavery is the slavery of money.

The body of Owen Murphy was found in Bacon's pond, at Mansfield, Mass., last Thursday morning. Indications are that he was foully dealt with, as his head was severely cut in several places, and his nose badly mangled. His clothes were found on the shore. The body was floating when found. He was seen Wednesday night, perfectly sober. He worked in Taunton, where his family reside, a wife and two children. He was forty-five years old.

At Providence, R. I., July 21st, the first piece of A. & W. Sprague property was sold by auction, under direction of the trustee and committee of creditors. It was a wharf on Indiana street, and sold for $20,000, probably to the Stonington Steamboat company. Before the sale the announcement was made that all the property had been attached on suit of the Quidneck Company vs. the A. & W. Sprague Manufacturing company, for $2,000,000. The suit was regarded as intended to embarrass the sale. The creditors' committee guaranteed the integrity of the sale.

At Hamilton, Mass., last Thursday, a barn belonging to the Asbury Grove Methodist association, situated near the Asbury camp-ground, was struck by lightning and destroyed. The barn contained twenty-five tons of hay, and two horses; one of the horses was killed by lightning, and the other was burned, the flames spreading so rapidly as to prevent rescue. There were ten men in the barn when it was struck, but none of them were hurt.

A very heavy thunder storm prevailed in Massachusetts on the afternoon of the 21st inst., buildings and trees being struck by lightning in Brighton, Charlestown, Brockton, Chelsea, Fall River, Somerville, New Bedford, Concord, Natick, Abington, Saugus, Quincy, Fitchburg and other places. At New Bedford a schooner was struck and had her mainmast shattered. At Abington a valuable horse was killed while standing under a tree.

A Russian student who had sworn to kill the new czar of Russia, but killed himself instead, his courage having failed him for the commission of the murder, before his death gave the police the names of nineteen confederates, all of whom are nihilists, and each of whom had sworn to kill the czar. These nineteen villains are under arrest.

Citizens of Jersey City recently drove off the employes of a telephone company who were cutting down shade trees on an avenue. The police refused to protect the trees.

A despatch from Cornish, Me., to the Portland Press, on the afternoon of the 21st inst., reported Justice Nathan Clifford of the United States supreme court to be dying, with a probability that he would live but a few hours longer.

Four men were killed in one mine at Deadwood, D. T., on the night of the 20th inst., and one man in another, through the mines caving in.

Frank Hyde, an American rifleman, won the Albert prize at Wimbledon, England, on Thursday last.

A circus performance at Pottsville, Pa., on Thursday, was broken up by a mob, and a number of the performers badly hurt.

James G. Fair heads the personal assessment roll just filed in San Francisco, with $42,200,000. J. C. Flood is assessed $36,500,000 for himself, and $20,500,000 as trustee for J. W. Mackey. Charles Crocker is assessed at $20,000,000.

West Newbury, Mass., is excited over a case of child murder, said to be the first in the history of the town. No arrests have been made.

A cotton mill of 42,000 spindles capacity is projected, to be built in New Bedford, Mass., to be called the Mechanics, and to be managed by Thomas Bennett, long the agent of the Wamsutta mills.

A turtle seven feet long, four feet wide, and weighing about 800 pounds, was caught in a net in the ocean opposite the Surf hotel at Fire island on the 21st inst., by menhaden fishermen, and taken inside the bay and made fast to the dock. The oldest fishermen there had never seen anything like it, and pronounce it a regular sea monster.

New Hampshire Items.

Mrs. John Moreley, of Salmon Falls, recently received $1200 in pension arrears.

James W. Farrington, who was drowned in the Androscoggin river at Gorham village on the 18th inst., was one of the oldest citizens of that town, and well known around the mountains. He attempted to swim across, being a good swimmer, but when in the middle of the stream was taken suddenly either with a fit or the cramp, and the current being strong was swept down before help could arrive.

At a meeting of the governor and council, on the 21st inst., Daniel W. Bill of Gilsum was appointed a trustee of the state reform school; A. H. Powers of Grantham was appointed a fish commissioner; Mason W. Tappan of Bradford was renominated for attorney-general; and Oliver Pillsbury of Concord was renominated for insurance commissioner.

Heavy thunder storms are reported over a wide extent of the north and west part of the state on Wednesday night, July 20th, with hail as large as robins' eggs. There was a copious rain, with broken glass, prostrated crops, etc.

Naval Affairs.

Lieut. Louis Kingsley is detached from duty at the New London naval station, and placed on waiting orders.

Lieut. Willie Swift is detached from duty at the Boston navy yard, and ordered to New London.

Repairing the Tallapoosa.

The secretary of the navy has issued an order directing that the work of repairing the United States steamer Tallapoosa, the despatch vessel of the navy on the Atlantic coast, now at Washington navy yard, shall be prosecuted with all possible haste, so that the vessel may be ready for sea by the 12th of August. The Tallapoosa has been undergoing extensive repairs for some months, and in the ordinary course of work would be ready for sea service about the 1st of September next. Anticipating the recovery of the President, who is very anxious for a sea voyage, the secretary of the navy desires to have the Tallapoosa ready for that purpose. She is a paddle wheel steamer of 650 tons, and is regarded as more suitable for the trip proposed than the screw steamer Despatch. The plans include a swinging bunk, in which the President can rest with ease and be entirely independent of the pitching motion of the vessel. It is regarded as probable that the Tallapoosa will be employed for the President's benefit for some weeks after he recovers sufficiently to be placed upon her. Everything that can be done to contribute to his comfort and that of his family will be provided in the improvements of the vessel. She will ply between Washington and Norfolk for a short time, and when the weather appears favorable she will run up to Long Branch and perhaps to Long Island sound.

—Three deaths are already reported in Concord, from eating cucumbers. They are more fatal than sunstroke.

—An exchange has as a heading to an article, the announcement—"The Locomotive Works." Of course it does; it has been working these fifty years.

—"Marie! what's that strange noise at the gate?" "Cats, sir!" "Cats! Well, when I was young, cats didn't wear stovepipe hats and smoke cigars." "Times are changed, sir."

—Theatre-going is great fun in Leadville. When a new play proves to be shocking bad the author is enthusiastically called before the curtain, and at a given signal the audience begin shooting at him for drinks.

Burnett's Cocoaine.

A Lady's Hair Saved by its Use.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE will keep the hair in a strong and healthy condition by stimulating the roots of the hair and restoring the natural action upon which its growth depends. Twenty years ago a single bottle saved a lady's hair in a desperate case where every other treatment had failed; and since that early success thousands of cases of Baldness, Dandruff, Loss of Hair and Irritation of the Scalp have yielded to this remedy.

The superiority of Burnett's Flavoring Extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength.

FELLOWS' Compound Syrup of HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

GRIEF.

Excessive anxiety, or prolonged Study, will produce infirmity in the Nervous System, in proportion as the strength of that system is expended upon the mind in troubled thought, so are the organs of digestion, assimilation and nutrition, rendered inactive and sluggish in proportion as the system becomes infirm. Every Individual has some one organ weaker than the rest, and this is always the first to suffer during nervous prostration; for example, anything causing sometimes causes total suspension of the muscular action of the heart, producing sudden hemorrhage and death. No doubt any longer remains of the practibility of restoring the nervous system, and through the nerves the muscles of the impaired organs. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been proved to possess such power in numerous instances. It will impart strength to overcome trouble and affliction. Persons who are accustomed to looked upon the dark side, and who see no pleasure in living, on using this Syrup soon learn to value and enjoy life, and those who study deeply during long hours, will find in the Syrup a promoter of the power of endurance in the brain. There is no doubt of this fact, that an impaired Nervous System causes Consumption, Neuralgia, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Heart Disease, and a host of others. Fellows' Hypophosphites, which effectually cures Nervous debility, should cure these diseases also. "Remove the cause and the complaint will cease."

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., Feb. 23d, 1880.

JAMES I. FELLOWS, ST. JOHN, N. B.

Dear Sir: I have been prescribing your Hypophosphites for several years, both in Canada and the United States, but more particularly at this famous resort for Invalids, where thousands annually congregate. For those in whom the brain and nervous System has been exhausted from excess or overwork, I have found no combination of remedies so prompt and efficacious in restoring the vital forces. I hope that every person needing relief will avail themselves of so valuable a preparation. Respectfully,

ALEX MCMASTER, M. D.

AROUND HOME.

The ram for the U. S. S. Lancaster arrived at the navy yard on Thursday. Its weight is about six tons.

The schooner Helen F. Tredick arrived on Friday, with one hundred and twenty-five barrels of fine mackerel to C. Morris Tredick.

At a meeting of the governor and council, on the 21st inst., William H. Sise, Joseph Grace and Richard Bartlett of this city were appointed pilot commissioners.

The Methodist society of Newmarket had a picnic at Garrison hill, Dover, on the 21st inst. The party, which was a large one, went to Dover by the Boston & Maine railroad, and there took teams for the picnic grounds.

The Boston & Maine railroad, it is alleged, carries coal from Portland to Dover, forty-eight miles, for a dollar a ton—to compete with the Portsmouth & Dover road—while it charges fifty cents a ton to take coal from South Newmarket junction to Newmarket, one mile, or from the same place to Exeter, five miles.

In the legislature, on the 20th, the house committee on fisheries and game reported on a petition of S. H. Foster and twenty-two others of Portsmouth, asking for an amendment to chapter 177 of the general laws, in regard to game laws, recommending that the petitioners have leave to withdraw. The report was accepted and adopted.

The Times office was serenaded Friday afternoon by three Italian girls, dressed in a sort of female uniform, who stood on the sidewalk and fired instrumental music up into the windows. The serenade commenced when Bro. Hanscom was about half-way through with the composition of a political editorial of the most appalling character, and he hasn't got it finished yet.

About forty ladies and gentlemen from the navy yard village, Kittery, went to the Spruce creek district near Kittery Point on Thursday last, and passed a very pleasant day with Mr. Mugridge and his wife, the latter of whom was for many years a resident of the "foreside." Mrs. Mugridge has stopping with her this season a lady from St. Louis, Mo., and her two daughters; the lady, who is blind, is a native of Portsmouth, but has not paid a visit to her native place for forty years.

The body of a girl baby about ten weeks old was found in the Mousam river near Kennebunk on Thursday last. On the previous evening a young woman with a child in her arms called at a farm-house near the Eastern depot to rest, but soon left; the same woman, judging from the description, stopped at the village at a late hour, but had no child with her then; and the child is supposed to have been murdered by her on Wednesday evening between the time she was seen at the depot and her arrival at the village.

There is a bill now pending in the legislature, reducing the force of the National Guard of this state to eight companies in a regiment, which will necessitate the disbandment of two companies in each regiment. As there is but one infantry company (Co. C. of the 1st Reg't, Capt. James B. Ford commanding,) in this city, and this is the only seaport in the state, it is not unreasonable to presume that the Portsmouth company will be retained. And we hope the brigadier-general commanding will not only allow us our one company, but that it will be one of the three detailed to participate in the celebration at Yorktown, Va. We are informed that the company has experienced a radical change as regards its membership, and will soon be recruited up to the maximum; they are drilling hard, and propose to earn the reputation of being the best-drilled company in the regiment.

See notice of auction sale of carryall, Mexican saddle, furniture, etc., at No. 16 Congress street, to-day.

An assay of samples taken from the Eliot mine, about thirty feet from the shaft, gives a result of six and three-quarters pennyweights of gold and fifteen ounces of silver, or about $24, to the ton.

Mr. Augustus Stevenson, proprietor of the steamer James Sampson, having extended to Portsmouth Commandery, No. 47, United Order of the Golden Cross, an invitation for a trip down the harbor in that steamer on the afternoon of the 28th inst., the commandery at its meeting last Thursday evening accepted the invitation, with thanks. The James Sampson was greatly improved, both as to accommodations and strength, by the extensive repairs recently made on her; and she presents a very handsome appearance.

THE LIVER.

The Unusual Attention which this Organ is now Attracting from the American People. Its Delicate Structure and Susceptibility to Injury from Wounds or Disease.

During the past few weeks, owing to an event of national interest, much has been said and written about the injurious effects of wounds in this organ, and according to the Surgical History of the War of the Rebellion, of the thousands of cases of wounds in the liver, not above sixty survived, and they were not violent ones. The record is filled with recoveries from gunshot wounds in the head, the lungs and the pelvic region, but it is a "miracle" when one outlives even an ordinary wound in the liver. No other proof is needed of the delicacy of its structure, nor of its extreme susceptibility to injuries, whether violent, like a gunshot wound, or as the result of disease. Of course injury from a wound produces speedy results, and though organic diseases may affect the patient for years, and render his life a long-continued burden, the same end is eventually reached.

The structure of the liver is delicate and yet simple. It is composed of two lobes, which lie directly under the right lung, and is of a spongy character. When the venous blood is circulating from the various parts of the body to the lungs, it passes through this organ, and is there relieved of its rank poisons, part of which are used for digestion and part for a cathartic of the waste materials of the food we eat. If the organ is at all diseased these poisons remain in it, instead of being used as nature designed, and with every coursing of the blood through the lobes of the liver, the nature of the disease is intensified, and hence a neglect of any disorder in this organ is almost certain to bring on chronic liver disease, so terrible to contemplate. In curing liver troubles, not only must the organ be rid of its old complaint, but, at the same time it must be prevented from contracting other diseases, and the agency used must have such power with the kidneys and lungs (the other two purifiers of the blood) that it will, while restoring the impaired liver, give to them strength sufficient to do part of the purifying work of the disabled organ. There is a peculiar dependency between the kidneys and liver, and no remedy can be of benefit which does not act upon both at the same time. The reason why so little success has hitherto been reached in the treatment of liver disease is because the philosophy of treatment has been lame and the remedies employed have been inadequate. It is a conceded fact that until within the past few years there has been no known remedy for chronic kidney diseases, and it is certain that the liver cannot be restored to its right action if the kidneys are affected. It is a fact that when the liver is diseased the kidneys are also troubled; hence, it follows that liver diseases are hard to cure chiefly because the doctors know of no agency which will at one and the same time operate on both the kidneys and the liver.

Admitting, then, that no form of treatment can be effective which does not seek to reach both the liver and the kidneys at the same time, it would be strange, indeed, if in all the researches of this wonderful age of scientific invention no such remedy had been found. The doctors admit they have nothing to offer, but independent scientists have honored their learning and patience by discovering a pure vegetable remedy whose success in the past few years in the treatment of kidney difficulties shows conclusively that it can cure every form of known kidney disease, and what it has done for the kidneys it is equally capable to do and does to for the liver. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure was the discovery of a practitioner, who proved its worth in his own case, and then gave it to the world. It acts both as a food and a restorer on the kidneys and liver, so that when disease is cured in one of these organs it cannot go to the other, but is entirely removed from the system.

The symptoms of kidney and liver difficulties are great and unnatural weariness, headache, belching of wind and food from the stomach, constipation, piles, displacements and inflammation of the sexual organs of women, a sallow countenance, skin eruptions, and the especially fatal complaints of the hot season. These troubles are caused principally by malaria, which is, at the present time, becoming so great an evil in this land—so much so that President Paul A. Chadbourne of Williams College has just published a long and interesting article on its wide-spreading prevalence. He states that malarial poisons appear in all localities, the high and dry, the low and damp, in the crowded city and there are no differences as to the effects produced. Malaria is in the water we drink, in the air we breathe, in the food we eat, and while constantly and naturally increasing with the growth of the country, it is just at present afflicting us, as the epizooty did a few years ago, as a wide-spread and dangerous epidemic. Prof Chadbourne is not an alarmist and what he says is confirmed by other distinguished medical authorities.

Whatever may be the cause of malaria, its existence is a terribly established fact, and so much so that it is attracting the attention of the leading physicians, scientists and scholars in every portion of America. By means of its blighting powers the blood becomes poisoned and the most terrible diseases follow. The special field for the operation of this poison is in the liver. If this organ is at all diseased, malaria siezes it with a death grip. It is therefore absolutely necessary to keep the liver in perfect condition and especially at this time. The elements of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure are exactly fitted for just this very purpose. Composed of a pure and simple vegetable extract, and prepared in the most careful manner, it has been the means of restoring more people to health within the past year than any other agency known in the land. Prof. S. A. Lattimore, Ph. D., LL. D., one of the analysts of foods and medicines for the New York State Board of Health, pronounces its elements and composition purely vegetable, neither poisons nor injurious, and the manufacturers present it to the public with the utmost faith that if taken faithfully and persistently, according to the directions, it will cure every form of liver disease and kidney disorder.

Pointed Praying.

The chaplain who opened the Springfield, Ill., house of representatives with prayer last Monday, made a very important innovation on the usual method of performing that ceremony. He begged that "the Omnipotent would give the members more wisdom and greater propitutude."

This was very good, but it was tame compared with that portion of a prayer offered in the Pennsylvania house one morning when the clergyman raised his voice and said: "O, Lord, give these law makers more brains! more brains!! more brains!!!" As he uttered this pious petition the third time the word "amen" was heard at the reporter's table.

A Maine paper reports an incident of similar character. The senate of that state was in a deadlock, and the preacher used the following appropriate language: "O Lord, have compassion on our bewildered representatives and senators. They have been sitting and sitting, and have hatched nothing. O Lord, let them arise from their nest and go home! all the praise shall be thine."—Exchange.

—A Russian lady, who is dazzling Paris, is named Mlle. Skirtsoff. She would dazzle any place.

—Aunt Esther had been trying to persuade little Eddie to retire at sunset, using as an argument that the little chickens went to roost at that time. "Yes," said Eddie, "but the old hen always goes with them." Aunty tries no more arguments with him.

—Papa—"That picture shows the story of Prometheus and the vulture that fed on his liver. Every day the vulture devoured it, and every night it grew for him to eat again." Sympathetic child—"Poor dear old vulture! How sick he must have been of liver, every day."

—The other morning a lot of milk going from New Jersey to New York city was poured into the North river from the decks of the ferry boats. The reason for this was that the milkmen were told that an inspector was waiting on the New York side to make a test, and none of them had milk that would pass muster! If all the milk that is not pure is to be poured into the rivers, there won't be room for the water.

—The marriage insurance companies seem to be doing a thriving business in the interior of Pennsylvania, notwithstanding a judge's decision that he can find no law authorizing their incorporation. A Harrisburg company claims to have put upon its books, within the last six months, three million dollars in marriage policies, and hopes to make it ten millions before the year ends. A Lebanon operator has hunted up all the engaged and good-looking girls in that county and pursuaded most, if not all, of them to take policies in his company.

—A Kentucky cow raised on the farm of Erastus Ellsworth of East Windsor Hill, has a remarkable record. April 16, 1877, she gave birth to twins, one male and one female; March 18, 1878, she gave birth to triplets, two males and one female, making five calves in eleven months and three days; July 9, 1879, she gave birth to twins, both males; October 7, 1880, she gave birth to triplets, two males and one female, making ten calves in three years, five months and twenty-one days. The calves have all been of good size, healthy and handsome, and have all been raised on the farm.

Centaur Liniment.

Invaluable to families, and owners of horses Sold everywhere.

—A bright little five-year-old miss was taken to the barn to see some sheep, and after looking at them for a moment, she exclaimed, "Oh, auntie, see! The sheep all wear their hair banged."

Castoria.

For sour stomach, constipation, and fretfulness of children. Pleasant, safe and cheap. 900 drops; 35 doses, 35 cents.

—Minister Thornton says that the way the English government spoiled the crazy fun of shooting at the Queen, which used to be indulged in at short intervals, was by adding periodical and regular whippings to the penalty of imprisonment.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, nervous prostration and debility, impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

—On the Newburyport Herald job-office door is a card on which in big type is the legend "Boys are not allowed in this room." One afternoon three little girls came to the door, and the largest, reading the notice, said, "We are not boys," and they boldly entered.

A Fool Once More.

"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her, she is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Such folly pays."—H. W., Detroit, Mich.—Free Press.

"The Domestic Tyrant."

"The average man," quote Mrs. Partington, "is a weak and irritable domestic tyrant," and Mrs. P. is correct. Tyrannical to a fault the average man will enter the blissful paradise of a happy home, scratch himself in fiendish glee, send the baby into convulsions, and for what? Why, because he has the itching piles, and is too mean to buy Swayne's Ointment, which is an infallible cure for the worst cases of that annoying complaint.

POSITIVELY CURED BY

Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First.

Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.

Second.

Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognised by the profession.

Third.

Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.

Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth.

Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth.

Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

The Lake Shore Railroad.

The report of the majority of the railroad committee upon the application to extend the Dover & Winnepiseogee railroad was submitted to the house on Friday. It recites at some length the history of legislation and attempts at enactments regarding this line of road, much of which has appeared before. The rise and progress of the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad is sketched, and the effect of building the Lake Shore is discussed. The report closes as follows.

It was stated by counsel for the Boston & Maine road that the cost of the construction of the Lake Shore road, hardly seventeen miles in length, would be about a million of dollars, and that the Boston & Maine railroad proposes to construct said road under a lease to itself, but no evidence was submitted as to the subject. This would give to the Boston & Maine road a line extending from Boston to the Weirs, a hundred and sixteen miles in length, in addition to its existing line from Boston to Portland, a hundred and fifteen miles in length (the road between Boston and Dover being common to the two lines), besides numerous branches.

It was proved that the Boston & Maine road had a pooling arrangement with the Eastern road, governing the fares and freights at competing points reached by said roads. Under this arrangement, Dover is largely supplied with coal from Portland, distant forty-eight miles, at one dollar a ton, instead of from Portsmouth, distant only ten miles.

Similar arrangements exist between the Boston & Maine and Boston & Lowell roads, at Lowell and Lawrence. The committee therefore regard the inference as inevitable, that the construction of the Lake Shore extension would result in a similar arrangement between the Boston & Maine railroad and the other roads interested.

The effect of this would be that the dividends upon a million dollars, and the cost of operating an additional road, would be imposed upon the business of central and northern New Hampshire.

The suggestion that northern New Hampshire would be furnished with a convenient outlet to Portsmouth and the seaboard by the Lake Shore extension, seemed entitled to only little weight when taken in connection with the fact that Portsmouth is fifty-one miles nearer the center of the White mountain region and the country beyond, both northerly and westerly, by way of the existing Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway and the Portland & Ogdensburg roads, than it would be by the proposed Lake Shore extension.

If, on the other hand, rivalry should follow, the result upon the Boston, Concord & Montreal road, with its limited resources, might be disastrous, whilst its effect upon the Boston & Maine road, with its twelve millions of productive capital, would be comparatively unimportant, and an ultimate combination would still be inevitable.

It further appeared that the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway road extends from Conway Junction, eleven miles from Portsmouth, to North Conway, seventy-one miles; that it was built largely by means furnished by the Eastern railroad, and has hitherto proved unremunerative; that at North Conway said road connects with the Portland & Ogdensburg road, and furnishes, in connection with the last mentioned road, a direct route from Portsmouth to Fabyan's, a distance of 113 miles.

The Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway road, at Rochester, is in close proximity to the Dover & Winnipesaukee road. From Rochester to Boston, the distance over the Eastern road and Boston & Maine is substantially the same. This bill gives to the Boston & Maine road the right of connection with the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway at this point, and thus enables the Boston & Maine road to divert newly developed and largely increasing business from a road hitherto unremunerative, and toward the construction of which it has contributed nothing.

The distance from Rochester to Boston is seventy-eight miles, and a right of connection by the Boston & Maine road, at that point, makes the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway road, which the Eastern road had constructed at great cost as a feeder to its own road, an equal feeder to the Boston & Maine, and thus compels a pooling arrangement with it for the entire business of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad.

The committee do not approve of the principle which allows one road, without a public exigency, the opportunity of diverting business from an existing road for its private purposes; nor the privilege of forming combinations with rival roads, by means of which existing interests would be seriously embarrassed without even incidental public benefit.

It seems to the committee that this result would follow the construction of the Lake Shore road, under the existing bill providing for the connection at Rochester, should the Boston & Maine road form a combination with either the Boston, Concord & Montreal, or the Eastern, in antagonism to the other.

The committee, after an exhaustive hearing in which all parties were heard who desired to be, have come to the following conclusions:

First, That the extension of the Montreal road to Colebrook and beyond is essential to the best interest of the state, and that railroad facilities can only be afforded to that section by such extension.

Second, That the construction of the Lake Shore road would seriously weaken the Montreal road, and impair its capacity for such extension.

Third, That the construction of the Lake Shore road would afford only little additional local accommodation, and make only slight development of the re-

Sources of the state. Its principal effect would be to divert business from one line of road to another, and impose upon the business community the burden of the support and operation of an additional railroad.

Fourth. That it is unjust and inequitable that the Boston & Maine road be permitted to divert, for its own benefit, the business created through the energy and perserving efforts of the Boston, Concord & Montreal road, and toward the development of which the Boston & Maine road has contributed nothing.

Fifth. That it is also unjust and inequitable that the Eastern road should be compelled to make the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway road, which it has constructed at great cost as its feeder to its own road, an equal feeder to the Boston & Maine road.

Sixth. That when the Dover & Winnipiseogee railroad, in the name of which corporation this extension is now sought, was asking legislative aid, the plighted faith of the state was given that said road should not be extended beyond Alton, its present terminus, and that no application should be made therefor. This pledge was embodied in the legislation of 1862, affirmed in that of 1863, approved by the action of the legislature of 1868, and accepted and relied upon by the stockholders of the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad, in their contribution of the means for the extension and development of their railroad.

The committee therefore recommend the passage of the following resolution:

Resolved, That the further consideration of the bill entitled "An act in addition to an act to incorporate the Dover & Winnipiseogee railroad, passed June 1, 1862," be indefinitely postponed.

A minority report, signed by Alonzo H. Quint and Selwyn B. Peabody, was also presented, expressing the opinion that the "act in addition," etc., ought to pass, but giving no reasons therefor except some "glittering generalizations." Both reports were tabled, ordered printed and made the special order for Tuesday forenoon, July 26th, at eleven o'clock.

I Don't Want a Doctor!

I have tried them, and they have only swindled me. I have figured up what they cost me for the last four years; it was just $524.31. If I had it now it would be a fortune to me. This year my bill for medicine was only five dollars, for which I purchased six bottles of Sulphur Bitters. They cured me of scrofula after suffering four years.—Workingman.

Statistics show that more people die of consumption than from any other cause. Slight colds are the true seeds of consumption. Beware of the slightest cough. Adamson's Botanic Balsam stands without a peer. Trial size, only 10 cts.

"Rough on Rats."

The thing desired found at last. Ask druggist for Rough on Rats. It clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, bedbugs; 15 cts. boxes.

Skinny Men.

Wells' Health Renewer. Absolute cure for nervous debility and weakness of the general functions; $1 at druggists.

"A Girl's Choice."

It was in a drug store of course. All interesting incidents occur in drug stores,—that is, nearly all. She was pretty, with blue eyes and golden hair, one of those kind of beauties the poet would have called an "angel," but for the fact that a colony of pimples on her fair frontis-piece precluded all thought of a celestial being. Blowing timidly to the handsome clerk, she asked for "Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases," and upon receiving it vanished like the morning dew before the summer sun.

Fruit of the tropic's burning clime,
Thy wondrous virtues, fadeless still,
Exert an influence sublime,
In ministering to human ill;
Sanford's Jamaica Ginger doth allay.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

MONDAY, JULY 25, 1881.

The New York Senatorial Fight Ended.

The faction fight among the republican members of the New York legislature over the choice of senators to succeed Roscoe Conkling and Thomas C. Platt in the Congress of the United States, ended on Friday, the 22d inst., after a continuance of ten weeks. Warner Miller was elected for the long term (to succeed Platt) on the 16th inst., and on that day it was supposed the contest would end on the 18th; but it did not, the balloting on the latter date and for the rest of the week up to Friday resulting in "no choice."

On Friday, at noon, the two houses of the legislature met in convention as usual, and voted with the usual "no choice" result, followed by a recess until 1:30 o'clock. During the recess the republicans of both houses and both factions held a conference, and after some little sparring between the friends and opponents of Conkling it was agreed that a caucus should be held at three o'clock, when a vote was taken for a candidate, Lapham receiving sixty-one votes to twenty-seven for Conkling, with two scattering. On the reassembling of the convention a vote was taken, Eldred G. Lapham receiving ninety-two votes to forty-two for Clarkson H. Potter, the democratic candidate, and as but sixty-eight votes were required for a choice, Mr. Lapham was declared elected to fill the unexpired term of Ex-Senator Roscoe Conkling.

The President.

The President had an ill turn on Saturday morning, his pulse going up to 120 or 125, and his temperature to 104, during the forenoon. At 1:30 P. M., the symptoms were a little more favorable. At ten o'clock Saturday night it was announced that "the President is sleeping quietly; pulse, 106. There is a manifest subsidence of the disquieting symptoms of the day."

Telegraphic reports of President Garfield's condition on Sunday shew continued improvement.

The Conkling Result.

The country rejoices that the Albany contest is over. Mr. Conkling's greatest blunder of his life has ended with the verdict which every sensible man anticipated. The result shows that the republican party is not bound up in any one man; that statesmanship may re-elect a man, but political power is transitory and uncertain. Mr. Conkling has played his cards, and lost. Shorn of the patronage he had wielded under President Grant, he gradually lost his hold upon his followers, and was compelled to retire without the endorsement his ambition sought.

He thought too much of himself, and too little of his country. In other words, he was selfish. The Empire State will for a while, perhaps, have less prominence in directing the administration of our politics, but the country will progress. Whenever a man falls, a successor at once comes in to fill his place, and the world moves on as before. The long-drawn battle has cost the state of New York a large sum, but the result will be that the party in New York will be on a better basis. The democrats seem to have been quiet spectators of the affair, without taking much of a hand in the protracted squabble.

News and Notes.

The New York legislature adjourned sine die on Saturday.

A case of real Asiatic cholera was discovered in East Des Moines, Ia., Friday. It will probably prove fatal.

Prof. Stone of Cincinnati thinks the new comet may be the one reported by the Chinese to have been seen in 1337.

The principal towns of New Mexico are raising funds for Patsy Garrett for service to the territory in killing "Billy the Kid."

A Santa Fe special says all the employes of the Navajoe agency have left the agency, owing to the threatening attitude of the Indians and fears of a general massacre. It is believed at the military headquarters at Santa Fe that Galen Eastman, the agent, will be either murdered or forced to leave the reservation.

John W. Patterson was hanged at Clinton, Mo., on Friday, for the murder of James G. Clark in 1868. Albert P. Talbot and Charles E. Talbot were hanged at Marysville, Mo., on the same day, for the murder of their father last September.

Assistant City Marshal Dow of Taunton, Mass., took to the Westboro' reform school, Friday, John McAvery, James Glass and Rice M. Blakely of that city, thirteen, fourteen and fifteen years old, who according to their own confessions have been engaged for three years past in breaking into and entering stores in Taunton, and have baffled the officers until recently. On the 17th inst. the gang broke into five stores there. They are adepts at picking locks, and can unlock a handcuff with a pin, they say. They have entered some 100 stores in Taunton and Fall River in the day time, and were intending to go to Canada to conduct the business of thieving. The boys all belong to respectable Taunton families.

Julius Dall, a German who had been missing since Wednesday, the 20th inst., was found Friday afternoon hanging in the woods at South Lawrence, Mass., doubtless having committed suicide. He is the third German who has committed suicide in Lawrence within a month.

Mr. Matthews, editor of a paper in Perry county, Ark., was assassinated on the night of the 21st inst. by one of the "Perry county bandits." Judge Harris has been warned to leave the county, under pain of death. There was trouble in that county some time ago, and Gov. Churchill sent the commander of the state troops, Gen. Newton, to that point to investigate. This kept the ruffians quiet for awhile, but they have again commenced their reign of terror.

Three hundred and thirty-six new postal money-order offices will be put in operation by the post-office department on August 1st.

Small-pox is raging in Santo Domingo to a fearful extent. Parties are daily organized to help bury the victims.

Over twenty deaths have occurred from diphtheria in Munroe, Me., and the disease is still spreading, new victims being taken every day. Wesley Scribner buried the last of three children on Monday of last week. Whole families are swept away.

Dr. Gatling of Hartford, Conn., the inventor of the Gatling gun, has produced a gun that is said to be the best one yet. It will be mounted on the gunwale of a ship with apparatus for sweeping three-fourths of the horizon, and the range is three miles, at least. It has a rifled steel barrel 50 1-4 inches long, with a calibre of 1.45 inches, and throws a solid shot weighing 1 1-4 pounds and steel pointed, capable of piercing the iron casing of a torpedo boat three miles away. It is a breech-loader and is fed by hand, but the loading and firing is automatic. Two men can manage it. It is called the Gatling torpedo gun.

At Eastport, Me., July 22d, Lawrence Doherty, eighty-three years old, was arraigned before Justice Bates for an indecent assault upon a fourteen-years-old girl, and was bound over to the October term of the supreme court at Machias. Doherty is married.

Antonito, Colorado, has been infested for several months with a gang of robbers, who have held up and robbed all strangers coming into town. The gang was broken up on the night of July 21st, by the hanging of the principal, George C. O'Connor, who in his capacity of justice of the peace shielded them, and had citizens arrested and fined without the least provocation. A vigilance committee caught him in his saloon, and hung him in an old slaughter house.

A recent discovery of copper and silver bearing ore near Fort Laramie, is creating much excitement at Cheyenne, D. T. Miners are stampeding to the new district, which is about six miles wide, and swarming with propectors, all of whom are making locations. Surface essays vary from sixty to a hundred and fifty dollars. A town site is laid out, and buildings are already going up.

The oat crop in Grundy and Will counties, Illinois, is half destroyed by the army worm, which has however mysteriously disappeared. A pest resembling the army worm is making ravages in the vicinity of Desmoines, Iowa. Reports are received from Marshall county that a small black or light brown worm is eating everything green before it.

The British Medical Journal publishes some hospital reports by "Miss Clark, M. D." These are the first papers of the kind ever printed in an English medical newspaper of prominence.

A Gloucester, Mass., despatch of July 22d says: "The Georges fleet report a greater scarcity of fish than has been known before for several years. Five arrivals this morning, bringing only 47,000 lbs. of codfish and about 1,000 lbs. of halibut, and the average for the past week has not been much better. The mackerel fleet report an improved prospect, large schools being encountered thirty or forty miles off Monhegan. Nine arrivals were reported this morning, with 2,310 bbls. Schooner Alice M. Hawkes arrived this morning with seventy bbls. fresh mackerel; sold to the canning factory. There have also been two arrivals from the Cape Sable grounds, with 70,000 lbs. codfish."

Burnett's Cocoaine.

A Lady's Hair Saved by its Use.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE will keep the hair in a strong and healthy condition by stimulating the roots of the hair and restoring the natural action upon which its growth depends. Twenty years ago a single bottle saved a lady's hair in a desperate case where every other treatment had failed; and since that early success thousands of cases of Baldness, Dandruff, Loss of Hair and Irritation of the Scalp have yielded to this remedy.

The superiority of Burnett's Flavoring Extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength.

AROUND HOME.

The steamer Empire State made an excursion from Boston to the Isles of Shoals on Sunday.

Superintendent Kendrick, of the Old Colony railroad, passed the Sabbath at Straw's point, Rye.

Music Hall for the season of 1881-1882 will be opened on Thursday, Aug. 18th, by "The Tourists."

Hon. Daniel Marcy, accompanied by his wife and son, returned home from his European trip on Saturday afternoon.

Rev. Edward H. Hall of Worcester, Mass., preached at the Unitarian church on Sunday, exchanging with Rev. Mr. DeNormandie.

The steamer Malta, in which Hon. Frank Jones and wife sailed for Liverpool on Saturday from Boston, carried but nine cabin passengers.

There were five yachts in the lower harbor on Saturday. On Sunday there were five colliers there, with coal for parties in this city and up the river.

Schooner D. & J. Lee, which has discharged a large cargo of coal at Neal's wharf in Kittery, sailed thence on Saturday afternoon in tow of the tug Clara Batemen.

In Boston on Saturday, Eastern railroad stock sold at 50 3-4; Portland, Saco & Portsmouth, 115; Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway, 31; Great Falls Manufacturing Co., 121.

Pleasure boats were in active demand on Sunday, and visitors were numerous at the summer resort on Fishing islands. The tug Clara Batemen and the yacht Wm. H. Russell took excursion parties out on the ocean, and the steamer Mystic had a large party on her trip to the Shoals.

On Saturday afternoon an envelope having the name "Davis" written on it, and containing a sum of money, was lost on the Street, it is supposed somewhere in the vicinity of the shoe factory. The finder will do a meritorious act by returning it to No. 8 Langdon street or to the counting room of the shoe factory, as the money was the week's earnings of an industrious and worthy woman who can ill afford to lose it.

The secretary of the navy, after conference with the heads of bureaus, has determined upon the following scheme of work in the bureau of construction and bureau of steam engineering during the present fiscal year. At the Portsmouth yard, after the Lancaster is sent out, the Omaha will be repaired. She will require new boilers. Repairs on the Plymouth will be commenced next winter. Her machinery does not need much overhauling.

Capt. Bancroft Gherardi and Lieut.-Comdr. Caspar F. Goodrich are ordered to special duty in order to expedite the fitting out of the Lancaster. Adml. Fairfax visited this navy yard recently to observe the progress being made in fitting out the ship named. When completed she will be in every way creditable to all who have had to do with her, and will have no superior in any navy in the matters of ventilation, comfort and liberality of equipment. The principal officers intended for her are already selected, and the list will soon be made public.

The hosiery manufactory in this city, which has been run by Messrs. Kennedy & Son, is to change its plan of operation. A stock company has been formed, with a view to enlarging the establishment and increasing its business. The capital is $15,000, the shares are one hundred dollars each, and we understand they have all been taken. Considerable new machinery has been put in, and the facilities of the manufactory has largely improved. At a time when the business shall further increase, the capital may be raised to $25,000. This showing is certainly very encouraging, and we hope the business will still increase.—Times.

Mr. Varney, a news agent at Old Orchard beach, has chartered a train for the season on the Old Orchard Junction road, connecting with the Eastern road, which enables him to get the Boston Post at his sales-counter twenty-seven minutes before the Herald arrives on the train over the Boston & Maine road.

The Lancaster will be taken into dock at the navy yard on Tuesday to receive the castings which are to be bolted to the ram. The weight of this metal is 11,500 pounds, and with other work upon propeller, etc., will require the ship to be in dock for a fortnight. The guns are expected by water from Boston. The Lancaster in her appointments, improved construction and other respects, will be the finest flag-ship which Uncle Sam has ever sent on a foreign station. An immense eagle with outstretched wings forms the head. It was carved upon the yard, and when gilded will present a fine appearance.

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, July 23d; Batchelder, J.

A young man who was brought before the court for drunkenness, and who acknowledged the offence, pleaded that he had never been arrested before, in which statement he was corroborated by the police; he signed the pledge, and was let off on probation. We suppress his name, and hope we shall never have another chance to do so in such a connection.

THE ACUSHNET.

The sea trip from Boston by the steamer Acushnet is of a pleasant character. The steamer leaves Comey's wharf, which is just north of Chelsea ferry in Boston, on Tuesdays and Thursdays at half-past ten o'clock in the forenoon. Comey's wharf is easily reached by the horse cars running to Chelsea ferry. The car goes down Washington to Milk street, and then round by the post-office across State to Hanover street, and at the end of the route, a short walk takes one to the steamboat wharf.

The Acushnet is commanded by Capt. Frank Bird, favorably known in this city when in command of the steamer Major, plying between Portsmouth and the Oceanic at the Isles of Shoals. Last season he was in command of the "Rose Standish." He is a skillful steamboat captain and an excellent pilot, and knows his business thoroughly. The Acushnet is carrying a goodly number of passengers. Many of the visitors at York come by this conveyance, taking their horses and carriages with them for use while at the sea shore. The trip is enjoyable at this season. The run is made in about seven hours, and a substantial dinner is served on board. The steamer in addition to good cabin and state room accommodations below the deck, has a fine large and airy saloon on her upper deck, with smoking room and other conveniences.

The wharf at which the Acushnet lands her freight and passengers in this city is near the ferries to Kittery, and the navy yard landing. The steamer is a staunch and safe sea-boat, and is well patronized. The round trip can be made by going to Boston on the 7:15 A. M. train, which reaches the hub an hour and a half before the steamer sails, giving at least a full hour's time in Boston. Capt. Bird starts his steamer promptly on time, and his attention and courtesy to his passengers are as unceasing as when he commanded the Major with so much satisfaction to the guests of the Oceanic. The captain carries the fine gold time keeper presented to him at the close of the season by the patrons of the Oceanic, the reception of which merited token was a generous surprise to him on one fine day a few summers since.

New Hampshire Items.

The deposits in savings institutions in New Hampshire at present are larger than ever before, excepting in 1877. The aggregate is $32,097,454.17. The increase over 1880 is $3,838,126.76. The number of depositors is 9,602 more than last year.

The eighth annual "Life and Advent Union" campmeeting will commence at Wolfeboro' on Aug. 6th, and continue to the 15th. Rev. F. H. Burbank of Philadelphia will preach the opening sermon, and other prominent clergymen are expected during the meeting.

Dr. Alexander, a few days ago, took from the stomach of a woman of Fisherville, who has been in ill health for the past three years, a lizard about four inches long.

Siloam Slack, of Plainfield, on Saturday fell from the roof of a new barn he was building, and was instantly killed. He was about fifty years old, and unmarried.

At a meeting of the New Hampshire Veterans' association at Concord, on Wednesday of last week, it was voted to change the time of holding the annual reunion at the Weirs from the second Tuesday in August to August 30th and 31st, and Sept. 1st. Invitations will be extended to Generals Hancock, Ord and O. O. Howard to be present on this occasion.

Whitefield has just had a fashionable wedding. The contracting parties were Edward Ray, son of Congressman Ossian Ray, and Miss Alice S. Brown, daughter of Hon. Alson L. Brown of Whitefield. Among those present were Senator Blair and wife, Judge Ladd and wife, Mrs. Evarts W. Farr, Mr. Frank Thayer, Mrs. E. T. Milliken of Boston, Hon. N. R. Perkins and wife of Jefferson, and Mr. and Mrs. Chapman of Milton, Mass.

Naval Affairs.

The school-ship St. Mary's was at Cadiz, Spain, July 5th, and expects to arrive at New London, Conn., Aug. 10th.

Boatswain Francis A. Dran, attached to the Boston navy yard, is granted leave of absence for one month from August 16th.

Paymaster James Hoy is detached from the Tennessee, and as fleet paymaster of the North Atlantic squadron, and ordered to settle his accounts.

Paymaster Albert S. Kenny is ordered to the Tennessee, and as fleet paymaster of the North Atlantic squadron.

Every effort is now being made at Portsmouth, N. H., to get the Lancaster, which is to be the flag-ship of the European station, at sea early in August. She takes the place of the Trenton, and it is desirable that she should reach the straits of Gibraltar before the departure of that vessel for the United States, as some changes of officers will probably be made. The Trenton, in order to reach our coast to participate in the Yorktown celebration, must leave Gibraltar by the 10th or 15th of September. The present fleet paymaster of the squadron, Pay Inspector Williams, will continue on the station. Rear Admiral Howell has been accorded the privilege of returning in the Trenton, or by passenger steamer from Europe. The Trenton will be somewhat crowded with the descendants of LaFayette, and the admiral may find it more comfortable to take a private steamer.—Army and Navy Journal.

A great gale occurred at the Shetland islands on the 21st inst., and eleven boats belonging to the islands are missing. The boats carried sixty-three persons, all of whom are probably lost.

Two employes of the branch office at Matanzas, of the Spanish bank of Cuba, fled with two accomplices on board the Spanish steamer Alicarte, which one of the accomplices had chartered under pretence that he intended to fetch cattle from Alvarado, Mexico. The employes robbed the office of $200,000 in specie. The bank officers say that the amount stolen is not yet fully ascertained. The Alicarte left Matanzas on the 19th inst.

Jenny Lind, (Madame Goldschmidt,) the greatest of all singers, has received from the King of Sweden the Order of the Seraphim. She is the first woman who has ever obtained this order.

The receipts of apples in Great Britain from American ports amounted to 1,348,806 barrels during the period from August 1, 1880, to May 14, 1881. The receipts from Boston were 510,300 barrels, and from New York 599,200 barrels.

Not so "Fastidious."

It often happens that a front tooth is broken off even with the gum, while the rest of the teeth remain good. This root may be removed and its place supplied with a sound healthy tooth, previously removed for that purpose, and made to grow and perform all the functions of a natural tooth. A number of operations of this kind have been successfully performed by Dr. C. B. Stoddard, of Austin, Texas. As a rule the teeth are selected from the mouths of healthy negroes, and the price paid is from $3 to $10. A Charleston paper says: "Some of the most fastidious ladies in Texas have had this operation performed, and are justly proud of the fact." These ladies may be well-dressed and polite, but they are certainly not "fastidious."

A Rope of Women's Hair.

In his detail of Indian horrors that came under his notice, Mr. Markley, the New Mexico Indian-killer, states that in 1867 he gave an Indian half a dollar for a hair rope ten feet in length, and about the size of his little finger. He untwisted the end and found that it was made of red, auburn and black hair, which, from the length of each hair, was evidently that of women. He questioned the Indian, who told him the rope was made from the hair of the women and girls slain in the Mountain Meadow massacre, for complicity with which murder, John D. Lee, the Mormon, was tried and shot a few years ago. The place where he purchased the rope was at Paleronagote, sixty-five miles from Mountain Meadow, where the most harrowing and brutal massacre of modern times occurred.

Was it a Prophecy?

The following "prophecy" appeared in the Voice of Angels, "a semi-monthly journal, edited and managed by spirits," but printed, as it would appear from the date line at the head of the copy before us, at North Weymouth, Mass. The copy of the paper in which this "prophecy" appeared is dated February 1st, 1880. The prediction is as follows:

The year 1881 will come in with a demoralized country, a war in a foreign country.

A president will be assassinated in that year.

Poverty and want will stare Ireland in the face.

Commerce will be stopped. All nations will mistrust one another.

Much blood will be shed for nothing.

Man will rise against man—brother against brother. But such things needs must come before we can come back in a new life. G. WASHINGTON.

The "Maalstrom," Ancient and Modern.

Poets and more prosperous people often tell about the dust and dimness of time, which obscure the past, and shroud facts and persons from the view of the present. But time sometimes acts in quite the opposite manner—like a high wind or a strong light, which blows away the dust or pierces the foggy veil which has obscured the truth. School children used to shrink with terror over the story of the awful "Maelstrom" on the Norwegian coast, which by a fatal fascination drew great ships, whales and smaller craft with irresistible power into its fatal depths. A geography picture gave a thrilling idea of these disasters—a terror to sailors, beside which the wreck-boding mermaid and the death-designing Lorelei paled into mere shadows. In a raging swirl of mountain waves, half a dozen great ships at once were riding giddily in concentric circles to their doom. The story was used to point many a moral in Sunday school book and lecture, and, doubtless, more than one imaginative child has had a night-mare dream of descending drizzily into that horrible black liquid tunnel. But lo! the fog lifts on the breath of modern exploration, and the "Maelstrom" is a harmless eddy, which might, perhaps, draw in a small boat or a superannuated and weak-minded porpoise.

A Few Blunders.

This was the sort of apology the editor of a contemporary had to make to his readers from time to time, during the three months that his head compositor was over head and ears in love: For "Fleshy brown noses," read "Freshly blown roses." For "We shall be hanged," read "We shall be changed." For "The enemy was repulsed with great laughter," read "The enemy was repulsed with great slaughter." For "Eating a coachman," read "Beating a coachman." For "Small ox in a lady's pocket," read "Small box in a lady's pocket." For "The lot of horses," read "The lot of her sex." For "With bending step and lighthouse form," read "With bounding steps and lightsome form." For "Sunbags flag," read "Sunbeams play." For "Is the broom to mammy given," read "Is the boon to memory given." For "Ne'er to face a gander," read "Ne'er to fade again." For "The bison is no drum," read "The vision is no dream."

I Have Always Paid Rent!

For a house to live in. This year I have half paid for a cottage, with money which, before I used Sulphur Bitters in my family, was paid to the doctor and the druggist. They cured my wife of female weakness.—Mechanic, Salem.

Andrew Johnson, John Howard and Joseph Yates, boys from nine to twelve years of age, were drowned in a pond at Fall River, Mass., July 22d, while bathing.

Health and Happiness.

It seems strange that anyone will suffer from the many derangements brought on by an impure condition of the blood, when Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup will restore perfect health to the physical organization. It has proven itself to be the best blood purifier ever discovered, effectually curing scrofula, syphilitic disorders, weakness of the kidneys, all nervous disorders and debility. It corrects indigestion. It makes the old feel young, and the young feel gay; and will invariably drive out of the system the many ills that the human flesh is heir to. It acts like a charm, especially when the complaint is of an exhaustive nature, having a tendency to lessen the natural vigor of the brain and nervous system.

The bequests of Alfred D. Jessup of Philadelphia to the town of Westfield, Mass., are not likely to be realized, since they are contingent on his three children dying without heirs. One of his daughters is married and the other is engaged, while the son is married.

"Liebig Co.'s Armicated Extract of Witch Hazel, has proven in my practice to be incomparably superior to any preparation of Witch Hazel I have ever used. I have often been disappointed in the curative effects of the commonly vended articles and am glad that we can now have a reliable preparation."

E. C. FRANKLIN, M. D.,
Professor Surgery.
Medical Dep't University of Michigan.

Cures piles, salt rheum, catarrh, painful menthlies, leucorrhoea, varicose veins, neuralgia. Sold in fifty cents and dollar sizes.

The Baptist church in Brewster, Mass., was struck by lightning last Thursday. The steeple was demolished, and the belfry fired. The charge passed through the house to the ground. Damage estimated at about $500. The society is not wealthy.

"The Domestic Tyrant."

"The average man," quote Mrs. Partington, "is a weak and irritable domestic tyrant," and Mrs. P. is correct. Tyrannical to a fault the average man will enter the blissful paradise of a happy home, scratch himself in fiendish glee, send the baby into convulsions, and for what? Why, because he has the itching piles, and is too mean to buy Swayne's Ointment, which is an infallible cure for the worst cases of that annoying complaint.

HENRY F. GERRISH.

Daily Chronicle.

Jim Keene's Washerwoman.

"The fact is," said Jim Keene, the great New York rival of Jay Gould, as he relaxed his usual taciturnity under the genial influence of one of Sam Ward's dinners the other day, "the fact is that, no matter how clever and thorough a man's system of stock operating may be, there is always occurring some little unforeseen and apparently insignificant circumstance that is forever knocking the best laid plans into a cocked hat."

"As how?"

"Well, for instance, about a year ago I was doing a good deal in Lake Shore, and counted on making a good clean-up. I discovered, however, that there was some hidden influence in the market that was always against me. It didn't exactly defeat my plans, but it lessened the profits. I soon saw that there was some operator who was kept informed as to my movements in time to make me pay for this knowledge."

"Broker give you away?" said several.

"Not at all. I never gave an order in advance, and besides, I used, as now, half a dozen brokers, and also gave 'cross' and 'dummy' orders in plenty. One day, while I was standing by the window of my up-town place, cogitating over this state of affairs, an elegant private coupe drove past, and stopped just around the corner of my door. It contained a richly-dressed lady and a ragged-looking girl. The latter got out, rang my basement bell, and was admitted. I sent for my man-servant and inquired who the girl might be."

"'She comes for the wash, sir,' he said.

"'Does she generally come in a coupe?' I inquired.

"'Why, no, sir,' said my man, very much surprised; 'her mother, the washerwoman, is very poor.'

"Just then my own carriage drove around for me, and as it passed the other I could see the lady eagerly sorting the soiled clothes in the coupe in her lap. This excited my curiosity, so I had my driver follow along behind. Pretty soon the coupe stopped, and the dirty little girl got out with the bundle and went into a brown-stone front on Twenty-ninth street. The coupe then kept straight on down to Wall street and stopped in front of a broker's office, where a lady alighted with my entire lot of soiled shirt cuffs in her hand."

"Shirt cuffs?" cried the entire company.

"Exactly; shirt cuffs. I saw through it all in a moment. You see, I am,—or rather was, a great hand while at dinner, or at the theater in the evening, to think over my plans for the next day, and to make memoranda on my cuffs to consult before starting down town in the morning. My washerwoman had found this out, and had been quietly 'coppering' my game by means of my cuffs for over a year."

"Well, by Jove!" said Sam Ward, pausing for a single instant in the sacred mystery of salad dressing.

"It's the cold fact," continued Keene. "In less than eight months she had cleaned up over $600,000, and washed my clothes, at least my cuffs—in an $80,000 house. She had diamonds and horses until you couldn't rest."

"You didn't make any more cuff mems. after that?" laughed several.

"Well, not many—just a few," said the great operator, holding his Burgundy up to the light. "I believe I kept it up about a month longer, at the end of which time I had raked in the washerwoman's bank account, and even had a mortgage on the brown-stone house. It was a queer concidence, wasn't it? But perhaps the information she wanted on the cuffs after that wasn't exactas it had been, somehow, nor as reliable."

And the "king of the street" emptied his glass with an indescribable wink that made Beach, who was short on Harlem, shiver like a cat who had just swallowed a live mouse.—San Francisco Post.

Honored and Blest.

When a board of eminent physicians and chemists announced the discovery that by combining some well known valuable remedies, the most wonderful medicine was produced, which would cure such a wide range of diseases that most all other remedies could be dispensed with, many were skeptical; but proof of its merits by actual trial has dispelled all doubt, and to-day the discoverers of that great medicine, Hop Bitters, are honored and blessed by all as benefactors.—Democrat.

It was in a drug store of course. All interesting incidents occur in drug stores, —that is, nearly all. She was pretty, with blue eyes and golden hair, one of those kind of beauties the poet would have called an "angel," but for the fact that a colony of pimples on her fair frontis-piece precluded all thought of a celestial being. TUESDAY, JULY 26, 1881.

The President.

The unfavorable symptoms in the President's case, Saturday, were occasioned by the cessation of the discharge from the wound, the flow of the pus having been stopped, causing a sac to form. Sunday morning this sac was cut into and emptied, an incision being made several inches below where the bullet entered; the relief was immediate, and the alarming indications commenced to abate at once; the surgeons were greatly encouraged, Sunday afternoon and evening.

At two o'clock in the afternoon on Monday the President was sleeping quietly, and Dr. Bliss reported "everything is going on well." There was no fever, and temperature, respiration and pulse were normal.

Senator Jones and Ex-Senator Conkling called at the executive residence on Monday afternoon.

Villainous, if True.

A cable despatch from London, dated the 25th inst., says: "A most extraordinary discovery was made at Liverpool yesterday. A number of clock-work machines with quantities of dynamite in casks were found among the cargo of the Cunard steamship Malta. The casks were supposed to contain cement, as the manifest called for packages of that article. Other casks of a similar nature were also found on the steamship Bavarian. One of the machines was sent to the home office, and the dynamite was taken out to sea and destroyed in thirty fathoms of water. Efforts will be made to discover the maker of the clock-work, which was certainly made in the United States."

O'Donovan Rossa says he has not shipped any dynamite in barrels or otherwise to England, and knows nothing of any dynamite machines having been sent there.

News and Notes.

Mrs. Lucinda K. Taylor, wife of George Taylor of Abington, Mass., was brutally assaulted on Monday evening of last week while on a lonely piece of road on her way home, by "Puck" Jones, a worthless, drunken bummer about twenty-seven years old, who beat the woman into submission. The ruffian has a wife in Brockton, Mass., but she left him two years ago on account of his brutality.

Horace Waters & Co., of New York, now sell pianos and organs on installments in all parts of the country.

At Salisbury beach, Mass., on Sunday, Samuel Howard, a factory hand from Lawrence, went in swimming immediately after eating a hearty breakfast, and was drowned. He was sixty-five years old. William Warner, sixty years old, fell from a swing at the Pines on the same day, and was hurt so that his arms and legs became paralyzed; it is doubtful if he ever fully recovers.

In Newburyport, July 24th, William Kerrigan, aged thirteen years, stabbed Mickey Kelleher, aged eleven years, with a penknife. The wound is not dangerous.

At Thomaston, Me., on Saturday afternoon, Afred Dubay, a French convict, who had been allowed to work around the premises, escaped from the state prison. Mrs. Charles Berry and sister, of Rockland, had a horse and carriage opposite the prison stable, and as they were about to get into the carriage Dubay rushed across from the stable, and jumping into the vehicle seized the reins from them, and vigorously applied the whip, driving the horse upon the run toward Warren. Postmaster Willis followed him as far as Coughlin's, four miles off, when he dropped the reins and ran into the woods. He had eleven months more to serve.

Hannah Chapin, widow of Rev. E. H. Chapin, died suddenly a few days ago.

Augustus Dunn, a boy of Brooklyn, N. Y., died July 25th. A toy pistol did it.

Mrs. Catherine Behler, of Brooklyn, N. Y., lighted a fire with kerosene on the 24th inst., and was burned to death.

Captain Charles P. Smith, who commanded the steamboat Seawanhaka at the time of her destruction by fire, died on the 24th inst. at his residence in Roslyn, L. I. His death was due to erysipelas, which originated from the terrible injuries he sustained in the Seawanhaka disaster. Captain Smith was fifty-five years old.

The steamer Dora, which arrived at San Francisco on the 23d inst. from Ounalaska, Aleutian islands, brought Rufus V. The Aleut Indians are suffering from a fatal epidemic which has carried off a large number of tribes. The catch of fur seals has been only moderate so far this season.

A small, greenish striped worm has attacked the elm trees at West Point, N. Y., and well-nigh ruined them. It eats the leaves, and attacks the young and tender branches upon which the new leaves are to form. The worms, which are numbered by the million, have rendered the stately elms entirely useless as shade trees, and fears are entertained that they will kill the trees outright.

Another nihilist has been found murdered in a cemetery at St. Petersburg with his throat cut from ear to ear. Ex-Warden Pillsbury wants the state to re-imburse him for expenses sustained by him in the investigation into his official conduct. This would indeed establish a singular precedent. An official to be repaid for his legal and other expenses where his acts in office are under trial upon charges of malfeasance. Quite a number of persons, in the interest as they believed of justice and humanity, were induced to subscribe towards the expense of this investigation on the part of those making the charges. The state should first repay these sums before permitting the relief sought by the ex-warden to be granted. It will be a dangerous system to inaugurate, and the proposition is the coolest thing seen during the hot season.

A family of seven persons living on a farm near Chaseburg, Wis., were drowned in a severe storm on Friday.

A Lady's Hair Saved by its Use.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE will keep the hair in a strong and healthy condition by stimulating the roots of the hair and restoring the natural action upon which its growth depends. Twenty years ago a single bottle saved a lady's hair in a desperate case where every other treatment had failed; and since that early success thousands of cases of Baldness, Dandruff, Loss of Hair and Irritation of the Scalp yielded to this remedy.

The superiority of Burnett's Flavoring Extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength.

FELLOWS' Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

GRIEF.

Excessive anxiety, or prolonged Study, will produce infirmity in the Nervous System, in proportion as the strength of the system is expended upon the mind in troublesome thought, so are the organs of digestion, assimilation and nutrition, rendered inactive and sluggish in proportion as the system becomes infirm. Every individual has some one organ weaker than the rest, and this is always the first to suffer during nervous prostration; for example, afflicting news sometimes causes total suspension of the muscular action of the heart, producing sudden hemorrhage and death. No doubt any longer remains of the practibility of restoring the nervous system, and through the nerves the muscles of the impaired organs. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been proved to possess such power in numerous instances. It will impart strength to overcome trouble and affliction. Persons who are accustomed to looked upon the dark side, and who see no pleasure in living, on using this Syrup soon learn to value and enjoy life, and those who study deeply during long hours, will find in the Syrup a promoter of the power of endurance in the brain.

There is no doubt of this fact, that an impaired Nervous System causes Consumption, Neuralgia, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Heart Disease, and a host of others. Fellows' Hypophosphites, which effectually cures Nervous debility, should cure these diseases also. "Remove the cause and the consequent will cease."

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., Feb. 23d, 1880.

JAMES I. FELLOWS, ST. JOHN, N. B.

Sir: I have been prescribing your Hypophosphites for several years, both in Canada and the United States, but more particularly at this famous resort for Invalids, where thousands annually congregate. For those in whom the brain and nervous system has been exhausted from excess or overwork, I have found no combination of remedies so prompt and efficacious in restoring the vital forces. I hope that every person needing relief will avail themselves of so valuable a preparation. Respectfully,

ALEX McMASTER, M. D.

The schooner Mayflower, Davis master, arrived at this port from Bangor on Monday, with one thousand fish barrels for C. Morris Tredick.

The schooner Julia A., with three sword-fish, and the Clara Bella with five, arrived in the lower harbor on Sunday. The Addie & Hattie and the Flying Cloud sailed on Monday, sword-fishing, and the Helen F. Tredick for mackerel.

It is announced that the Children's Home has received another large gift, Mr. George Bilbruck having presented to the institution the building occupied as a home for several years—we believe ever since the charity was instituted.

The goods in Hussey's boot and shoe store, No. 51 Congress street, (Franklin buildings,) have been marked away down, the proprietor wishing to clear out his spring and summer stock to make room for goods suited to the fall and winter trade.

A man was arrested in Taunton, Mass., last week, for forgery, held in $500 for trial in September, and sent to jail in default of sureties. He gives the name of Henry L. Emery, and hails from Kittery. It is said in the papers that his father is a paymaster in the navy.

The schooner Daniel Marcy came into the lower harbor one day last week with one hundred and fifty barrels of mackerel. On Saturday the schooner Anna M. Nash delivered at Doane's wharf two hundred and seventy-nine barrels of mackerel, and the Mayor Jones arrived with four hundred barrels.

Geo. Herbert & Co., wholesale fish dealers, on Monday purchased ten sword-fish brought in by the schooners Clara Bella, of Kittery, and Charlie Boy, of Rockport, Mass. The fish aggregated 3600 lbs., and were all sent to Boston except one, which was sold to a local firm of retail fish-dealers.

A large party of men, women and children, said to be from this city, and occupying ten tents, were camped out at Wallis' sands, Rye beach, on Sunday. On the same day numerous small parties of picnickers—some of them being "gander" parties, others being composed of two or three young fellows and their girls, and others still being evidently family affairs—were scattered all along the shore from the sands to near Odiorne's point.

Mr. William B. Keen, the extensive carriage manufacturer of Amesbury, Mass., and owner of the schooners "W. B. Keen," "Julia A." and "Clara Bella," is spending a portion of the summer in Kittery. He has recently purchased the schooner "Minnie," of Provincetown, which will shortly sail for this port; she is said to be a very fine boat. The W. B. Keen is taking mackerel for the canning company at Portland, Me.; the has caught four hundred barrels this season.

The Charlestown (Mass.) News of July 23d says: "Constructor Hichborn passed through Boston yesterday on his way to Portsmouth, ready to begin his duties on Monday. Mr. Hichborn is an old Charlestown boy, and is one of the most popular officers in the navy, as well as one of the most efficient. His experience, with that of Constructor Wilson, will enable them to lay before the naval advisory committee in October plans so complete and satisfactory that they will be at once adopted."

Mackerel were last week taken from the river by hook in large numbers, as far up as Dover point.

Commodore John W. Easby, chief of the bureau of construction and repair, visited the navy yard on Monday and received the regulation salute.

The schooner Christie Campbell, of this port, has been reported having sixty-five thousand pounds of fish on board. She would bait up once more this trip.

The schooner Albert Woodbury, Downs master, got after a school of mackerel on Sunday, and took between one hundred and two hundred barrels of them.

The Farragut base ball club of Rye beach will play a game with a picked nine of this city at the Plains on Thursday afternoon, game commencing at four o'clock.

The handsomest bass we have seen for years was captured down river on Sunday by Mr. Zach Randall of Newcastle. The fish weighed fifty pounds, and was bought by C. Sullivan & Co.

The tally-ho coach from the Farragut house, Rye, drove into town Monday, loaded down with a merry crowd of ladies and gentlemen. Two other large teams also came up, each bringing a full load. A large part of the visitors took the steamer Appledore for the Shoals.

The Boston Post says: "The man who was killed on the Eastern railway, near the Point of Pines, a few evenings since, has been identified by his father. His name was George Davis, and his home was in Exeter, N. H. He was a painter, and at the time of his death was employed in North Cambridge."

A carryall containing five young men was upset and considerably smashed on Sunday evening, through too sudden a turn being made from South street into Sagamore road, by which the carriage was run against a stone wall. The young men were all thrown out, but no serious damage is reported to any of them.

The schooner Sea Witch, of Gloucester, Mass., which from divers reasons was a source of considerable sensation during the latter part of last week, sailed from this port early Sunday morning. This was the vessel that early in the week commenced to hunt along the wharf frontage of the navy yard for articles lost overboard.

Among the arrivals at this port on Monday were the brig Antelope, Curtis master, from Richmond, Va., with 514 tons of coal; schooner Challenge, Meservey master, from Port Johnson with 223 tons of coal; schooner Billow, Haskell master, from Richmond with 204 tons of coal; schooner Kioka, Rogers master, from Hoboken with 143 tons of coal; orig Eliza, Renault master, from Lingan, N. B., with 390 tons of coal—all to J. Albert Walker.

THE LIFE-SAVING SERVICE.

Sumner I. Kimball, Esq., the general superintendent of the life-saving service, was in town last week, and in company with division superintendent Capt. J. W. Richardson, of Portland, visited the station at Rye, and examined proposed sites for a station at Gerrish's island, Kittery. Supt. Kimball, who has devoted much time to the subject and visited every station on the Atlantic coast, it is said regards "Jerry's point" at Newcastle as the more advantageous position in which to locate a station. [Frost's point, Rye, opposite Jerry's point, we should think presents advantages as to launching boats in southeast gales, patrolling the beach, and observing vessels on the coast to the eastward of this harbor, which Jerry's point does not possess]. While at Rye an offer was made of a new site for the station there, without cost to the government, there being some question as to the occupation of the present location, the fee of the land not having been conveyed to the government.

Mr. Kimball is a native of York county, Me., and is a son of Increase Sumner Kimball, the senior practising lawyer at the York county bar. He has with unceasing devotion to the result made this service the most effective of that of any country, and has most judiciously disbursed the appropriated sum at his command in the interest of this great service to humanity. With Capt. Richardson he is now on a tour of inspection along the coast of Maine, and will also select sites for new stations at Damariscone island, near Boothbay, at Hunnewell's beach, near the mouth of the Kennebec river, and one near Portland.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The proposition to change the mode of electing members of this board, it would seem, cannot commend itself to the good judgment of the friends of our public schools. It has ever been the desire of the these who seek for the best results in our school management, to have members of the board selected not by a political caucus, but from the better judgment of a responsible set of men, themselves chosen by the people. It is this course which will permit us to avail ourselves of the services of ladies and gentlemen confessedly of fitness for the place, and often with enthusiastic desires to further the interest of our schools by a systematic policy which is liable to be seriously deranged by frequent changes incident upon political success of either party. Primarily, in small towns, there can be no better plan then the election in the districts of members of the school committee, but in cities the case is different. At a special election called to choose members of the school board comparatively few persons would attend, save perhaps those who might desire some particular person or measure to be aided by their votes.

There is no pretence that by the present system excellent incumbents are not chosen. It is certain, however, that several members of the present board would not be willing to be run as candidates at the polls, or even be likely to be nominated. The case where a most capable lady in the city of Boston was ignominiously defeated by the very class of voters whose children were to be most benefitted by her experience and ability, is in point. The best friends of education in Boston have seriously deplored this result, and shall we subject ourselves to a like misfortune? It is safe in all matters of this kind, to let well enough alone. The men who largely pay our taxes, though deriving no immediate benefit in the matter of schooling, yet from a desire to see our school fund judiciously and economically managed favor the present system; and it is not complained that the board as constituted is remiss in duty, partisan in administration, or deficient in knowledge as to its duties. Let us hope therefore that the legislature will pay a due respect to the request of so large a number of our tax payers as have by their remonstrance indicated a desire to "let 'well enough' alone."

FIRE.

Shortly after nine o'clock Monday evening fire was discovered in a small addition at the side of J. W. Sowersby's bakery on Water street. The alarm was promptly given and as promptly responded to by the fire department, but before an engine was got at work the flames were playing around the side and on the roof of the main building, and for a short time a serious fire seemed imminent; but the danger was soon over, and the fire out. The loft of the bakery contained a large amount of ship bread, crackers, etc., all which was ruined by smoke and water; a quantity of sugar, flour and other material on the lower floor was gotten out uninjured.

The fire was without doubt incendiary, as no person had been in the shed where it commenced for many hours, and the fires in the ovens were put out at four o'clock in the afternoon; the shed was used for storing what kerosene was kept on the place, for filling lamps, etc., and would of course easily be set on fire. About five years ago a bake-house on the same site, and several buildings between it and Hunking street, were burned, early one Sunday morning, it was supposed by an incendiary, though nothing was ever discovered to fix the crime upon any person.

The building, which was considerably damaged, is owned by Mr. John Nutter, and reported to be insured. Mr. Sowersby is insured, but to what extent, and the extent of his loss, we did not learn.

—The Prince of Wales is again in debt, and the Gladstone ministry is being importuned to allow an appropriation to be made by Parliament to pay the festive Albert's bills.

A Famous Miser.

Vandille, a remarkable French miser, was at one time mayor of Boulogne, and while in that position partly maintained himself by being milk-taster general at the market; while munching a scrap of bread he would partake of gratuitous draughts. He always traveled to Paris on foot, and fearful lest he should be robbed, took good care never to have more than three pence in his pocket; if he needed more money he begged on the road. By such methods, and lending money to the French government, he made a fortune of £850,000, sprung from a single shilling. During the very cold winter of 1834 he found it necessary to purchase some extra fuel, and endeavored to beat down the wood merchant in his price. The man drove off, and Vandille stole a few logs from the back of the cart. In hastening away with them he became overheated and contracted a bad fever. He sent for the surgeon, telling him he wanted to be bled. As the surgeon charged half a livre, which he thought too much, a barber was called in, who agreed to open a vein for threepence. "But, friend," said the cautious miser, "how often will it be requisite to bleed me?" "Three times," replied the barber. "Three times! And pray, what quantity of blood do you intend to take from me at each operation?" "About eight ounces each time." "That will be ninepence; too much! too much! I know a cheaper way; take the whole twenty-four ounces at once, and that will save me sixpence." He saved his sixpence, but lost his life.

A Lucky Inventor.

Mr. Eddy, the veteran patent solicitor of Boston, is a regular encyclopedia of incidents referring to inventors. He tells of a man named Hurd, who belonged in Stoneham, who realized $30,000 and gave to the world one of the most valuable inventions ever produced—all the result of only about an hour's thought. His invention was the machine now everywhere used for extracting molasses from sugar. When the idea occurred to him he sketched it down and gave it to Mr. Eddy, and authorized him to take out a patent. Returning home he forgot all about the matter, and applied himself to other affairs. Subsequently a gentleman engaged in the sugar business saw the invention in Mr. Eddy's office, and at once appreciated its value. The solicitor was instructed to purchase the patent, which he supposed he could do for a moderate sum. The first offer of $1,000 was refused, and not until the figure of $30,000 was reached did Mr. Hurd surrender. The machine is used in all the sugar countries of the world. Mr. Robertson, who was the American consul at Hague, and the Aspinwalls of New York, made millions out of the invention.

—The people at North Linneus are too trusting for this cold world. Complaint having been made that the mail matter directed to that post office often fails to reach the parties for whom it is intended, it is innocently stated that letters and papers are often placed in a box outside the door and covered with a slate, on which is written, "The mail is in the box under this slate." Who would not live in such a haunt of simple faith and innocence? What's the fare to North Linneus?—Portland (Me.) Advertiser.

Centaur Liniment.

Invaluable to families, and owners of horses Sold everywhere.

—On a Coney Island veranda the other day three hundred or more Brooklyn gentlemen were promenading with as many Brooklyn ladies, when some wag yelled, "Look out, your wife's coming." Thirteen couples continued the promenade. The men of the others slid around the back way, and took the first train home.

Castoria.

For sour stomach, constipation, and fretfulness of children. Pleasant, safe and cheap. 900 drops; 35 doses, 35 cents.

—It may interest our smokers to know that a New York judge has just decided that a man has a right to punch a smoker in the ribs with the end of his umbrella if he "puffs the smoke of a bad cigar in his face, even if it is in a smoking-car." The smoker, who sued, had to pay costs.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptoms indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

—Jay Gould's profits last year were six million dollars. How nice it must be to be able to buy a whole custard pie at once and not feel that you have to suffer for the extravagance.—Free Press.

A Fool Once More.

"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her, she is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Such folly pays."—H. W., Detroit, Mich.—Free Press.

—A man who paints signs on fences and rocks fell from a precipice in Colorado, last week, and was killed. Precipices should be encouraged.

"The Domestic Tyrant."

"The average man," quote Mrs. Partington, "is a weak and irritable domestic tyrant," and Mrs. P. is correct. Tyrannical to a fault the average man will enter the blissful paradise of a happy home, scratch himself in fiendish glee, send the baby into convulsions, and for what? Why, because he has the itching piles, and is too mean to buy Swayne's Ointment, which is an infallible cure for the worst cases of that annoying complaint.

Summer Complaints

At this season, various diseases of the bowels are prevalent, and many lives are lost through lack of knowledge of a safe and sure remedy. PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is a sure cure for Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera, Cholera Morbus, Summer Complaint, etc., and is perfectly safe.

HENRY F. GERRISH.

Daily Chronicle.

Will He Succeed?

In nine cases out of ten, a man's life will not be a success if he does not bear burdens in his childhood. If the fondness or the vanity of his father or mother has kept him from hard work; if another always helped him out at the end of his row; if instead of taking his turn of pitching off, he stowed away all the time—in short, if what was light fell to him, and what was heavy to some one else; if he has been permitted to shirk until shirking has become a habit, unless a miracle has been wrought his life will be a failure, and the blame will not be half so much his as that of his weak and foolish parents.

On the other hand, if a boy has been brought up to do his part, never allowed to shirk his responsibility or to dodge work, whether or not it made his head ache or soiled his hands, until bearing burdens has become a matter of pride, the heavy end of the wood his choice, parents as they bid him good-by may dismiss their fear. The elements of success are his, and some time and in some way the world will recognize his capacity.—Young Folks' World.

A lady writes to the London Truth concerning a recent dramatic representation: "I had noticed in an opposite box a lady in cream-colored satin and superb ornaments, who appeared to be more than half asleep. As I was coming out I encountered her. A gentleman in faultless evening dress was addressing her in a low voice. I heard him say: 'Stand as straight as you can. The carriage will be here in a moment. You must stand straight.' A kind of desperate look was on his face. His companion was intoxicated! A few moments later he almost lifted her into a carriage, which rolled away to one of the stateliest 'homes' in England, if home it can be called, where the master shuns the eye of his own servants, knowing that they are aware of his wife's disgrace."

Experience taught Me!

And my money paid for it. After having liver complaint four years, and spending money on nostrums and doctors who didn't help me, I tried Sulphur Bitters. Six bottles cured me. I shall always use them.—Millwright.

—A western shepherd was speaking of the extremes of temperature to which they were subjected in the district where he resided. Suddenly his New York friend asked, "How does your wife stand the heat?" A peculiar look stole into the countenance of the ecclesiastic from beyond the Mississippi as he quietly answered, "My wife has been dead a year."

Cases in which the heart is weak and irregular in action are soon restored to health and regularity by Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites.

—Young man, says the Capital, you may own one of the finest dress suits, cut a la swallow-tail, in the town; your head may be stored with useful information, enabling you to converse intelligently upon a given subject; you may have learned to assume forms of a "swell" politeness, which is a cross between stable manners and idiocy; but if you have never mastered the German, you stand amid the glitter and glare of society, even as the guest at the scriptural bridal without the wedding garment. Better for you, O young man, that you make for yourself a cravat of millstones and seek a watery grave.

Don't Die in the House.

Decline of Men.

Impotence of mind, limb, or vital function, nervous weakness, sexual debility, etc., cured by Wells' Health Renewer. $1. At druggists. Depot at Thacher's.

—A conductor on a Georgia railroad ejected a passenger from one of his cars, the other day, for taking off his coat in the presence of ladies and refusing to put it on.

"A Girl's Choice."

It was in a drug store of course. All interesting incidents occur in drug stores, —that is, nearly all. She was pretty, with blue eyes and golden hair, one of those kind of beauties the poet would have called an "angel," but for the fact that a colony of pimples on her fair frontis-piece precluded all thought of a celestial being. Bowing timidly to the handsome clerk, she asked for "Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases," and upon receiving it vanished like the morning dew before the summer sun.

—King Alfonzo, of Spain, is no better than other royal libertines. After his marriage with Mercedes, he continued his liason with the wife of a colonel in the army, who, discovering her one day in a carousal with the king, assaulted him. After recovering from the stab he received in the affray, the injured husband was sent to Cuba and his faithless wife retained at court.

When pangs the mortals flesh assail,
And give a bitterness to life,
Making the cheek with anguish pale,
Amid the fierce internal strife;
Then Sanford's Ginger soothes the pain,
And smiling Health looks up again.

—The Prince of Wales is again in debt, and the Gladstone ministry is being importuned to allow an appropriation to be made by Parliament to pay the festive Albert's bills.

—A man who paints signs on fences and rocks fell from a precipice in Colorado, last week, and was killed. Precipices should be encouraged.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 27, 1881.

(Entered at the Post-Office at Portsmouth, N. H. as second-class matter.)

The President.

Much uneasiness was felt on Tuesday as to the President's condition, but the surgeon's in the afternoon said he was as well as on the previous day at the same hour.

New Hampshire Legislature.

The Lake Shore railroad charter was discussed in the house on Tuesday, upon the resolution to indefinitely postpone the subject. Mr. Quint of Dover made a forcible speech advancing the right of this section of the state to increased facilities, and denying the binding effect of previous legislation against the extension of this line. At the conclusion of the speech, hearty applause was given all over the house. Mr. Quint said he should at the proper stage offer an amendment to the bill, which would give to Portsmouth the advantages of this increased railway construction. It is supposed that several gentlemen will speak upon the subject.

Justice Clifford.

Hon. Nathan Clifford, senior associate justice of the United States supreme court, who died in Cornish, Me., on the 25th inst., was born in Rumney, N. H., Aug. 18th, 1803. He began his law practice in Newfield, York county, Me., in 1827, and was sent to the Maine legislature in 1830, and was speaker of the house in '33 and '34. In the latter year he was appointed attorney general of the state, serving four years. He was elected to Congress in 1838 and again in 1840; was attorney general of the United States from 1846 to 1848, and in 1849 was one of the commissioners to ratify peace with Mexico. In January, 1858, he was appointed to the supreme bench by President Buchanan, and retained the position till his death; and he was president of the electoral commission of 1877. He was an able lawyer and conscientious judge.

His funeral will take place at the First Parish church in Portland, Me., at three o'clock Thursday afternoon, the 28th inst.

Naval Affairs.

The Alliance, Comdr. Wadleigh commanding, arrived at Hammerfest on the 25th inst., with all well on board. She is on the search for the Arctic exploring steamer Jeannette.

The Vandalia anchored in Fortune bay, Newfoundland, July 21st, and would remain there until about the 27th. The British man-of-war Phenix was at Fortune bay when the Vandalia arrived, and the crews of the two vessels fraternized cordially.

New Hampshire Items.

The expenses of the state board of fish commissioners for the past year were $1,969.93. Among the items were $500 for the Brackett patent right fishway, the same amount for salmon eggs, and $105.35 for detective services.

The working of the Surry mines is to be prosecuted with renewed activity; a furnace and machinery for reducing the ore will be put in, and a tramway will be built down the mountain side. Additional stock to the amount of $10,000 was sold recently. A ton of ore, taken seventy-five feet from the surface, recently assayed, yielded over $30 a ton. One hundred thousand tons of ore are now within easy access, with an unlimited quantity back of that. The expense of taking out and reducing the ore will be about $5 a ton.

News and Notes.

The attention of Mr. Courrier, of the Cunard company's agency in New York, was called to the despatch from Liverpool containing a statement that a barrel, purporting to contain cement, taken from the steamship Malta, was opened by Liverpool custom house authorities and found to contain an infernal machine prepared with dynamite. Bill heads with O'Donovan Rossa's name were also said to have been found. Mr. Courrier said the Malta had not carried anything in the shape of barrels of cement for some time. She left New York for Liverpool May 18th, which was the last trip made from that city. The Malta sailed from Boston for Liverpool on the 23d inst.

William L. Robertson, who was appointed by President Garfield collector of the port of New York, took the oath of office Monday afternoon. Collector Robertson's bondsmen qualified in $400,000, and the instrument was forwarded to the secretary of the treasury for approval.

Near Satartia, Miss., last Saturday, a white girl was outraged and murdered by a negro blacksmith, Isaac Fisher. Thinking he had killed her by choking, he threw the body into a well and went to his shop. Returning soon after he found the girl standing in water two and a half feet deep, and going down on the rope he drowned her. Being then unable to get out he was found there with the dead body of his victim. Citizens assembled and voted to hang him, but decided to hold him until after the inquest.

John Nichols and a man named Anderson were killed by lightning at Elizabethtown, N. J., Monday, while standing under a tree.

Mary Gorman, aged twenty-two years, committed suicide at Hunnington, Vt., on Monday, by taking Paris green. The young man to whom she was engaged to be married called at the house where she was employed, and did not inquire for her. The family joked with her about it, and she went to her room and took the poison.

Deacon Brainard, eighty years old, was struck on Saturday afternoon by a train at a private crossing on the Albany railroad in Palmer, Mass., and fatally injured.

Assistant Engineer Read of the Havana steamer Knickerbocker, is under arrest in Brooklyn, N. Y., charged with causing the death of William Kronish, a coal passer. It is alleged that Read knocked Kronish down with a shovel, and beat and kicked him, and that while he was lying on a bed of ashes in front of the boilers, Read opened the furnace door and exposed him to the fury of the fiery heat until he became unconscious. Kronish died a few hours afterward.

A postal telegraph company has recently been incorporated and organized in New York with a capital of $21,000,000. The company claims to embrace all the modern improvements in telegraphy and wire, and, by the new automatic system, to be able to compete successfully with the present system. It proposes, with its improved methods and facilities, to perform all the work now done by the present companies in a more satisfactory manner, for which the public will pay them less than it now actually costs the existing companies to perform the service, and to be able even at this reduced rate to earn dividends.

The funeral service of Moy Ni Chung, a Chinese laundryman of Boston, was solemnized in the Mount Vernon church, Ashburton place, on Sunday afternoon. The sermon was delivered by Rev. D. W. Waldron, city missionary, being translated into Chinese by an educated Chinaman named Moi Deu For. There were about sixty Chinamen present, and during the services they sang two songs, appropriate to the occasion, in their native language. The sermon was necessarily short, owing to the necessity of its being repeated, but was nevertheless very impressive. The remains were taken to the Chinese plot in Mount Hope cemetery, and were followed by a long train of carriages.

George S. Day of Stamford, Vt., recently shot and killed a black bear in the woods while hunting for partridges. The animal weighed 425 pounds. The state pays a bounty of $15, and the skin is worth $10.

AROUND HOME.

The St. Mary's Benevolent society of this city will have a picnic at Chelsea beach, Mass,, on Thursday, the 28th inst.

Blueberry parties have skimmed the pastures in this vicinity of their fruit, and raspberries are having a death struggle to get ripe.

Commodore George F. Cutter, paymaster general of the navy, paid an official visit to the navy yard on Tuesday and received the salute due his rank.

The sloop belonging to the contractors for the removal of Gangway rock has within a few days discharged her third cargo at Neil's wharf, Kittery.

The navy yard dry dock was hauled out on Monday, in readiness to receive the Plymouth, which it was intended to take up on Tuesday. Owing to circumstances the ship was not docked that day, but will be to-day.

The stove and house furnishing business of Mr. John P. Sweetser, at No. 46 Market street, has grown to such dimension as to be inconveniently crowded in the extensive premises occupied by him, and the proprietors of the building (Mr. N. F. Mathes and the Varrell estate) have commenced an addition at the rear, twenty feet by twenty-two on the ground, and to be carried up two stories.

The new road in Rye, from the end of the road leading to Jenness' beach by the site of the former Ocean house, to the Direct Cable station, is a great thing for the town, and the projectors should be heartily thanked for the improvement. Rye needs more of these roads along the borders of the sea, and we are happy to state that a progressive spirit in this direction seems at last to have become developed in the town.

A thunder storm passed over this city about three o'clock Tuesday morning, the lightning being very vivid and the thunder the heaviest of the season, while the rain fell liberally. During its continuance a flash of lightning struck a tree near the house at the junction of Brewster and McDonough streets, and leaving the tree entered the house, doing slight damage. The house is occupied by Thomas E. Rand, none of whose family received injury.

The observatory on Garrison hill, Dover, it is thought by some of the people of that city should be closed on the Sabbath. A Mr. Haley takes two columns of the Democrat and the Republican to convince the Dover people that it should be open on that sacred day. We incline to think that if so much space is needed in the argument of the proposition, there may be good reasons for the friends of the Sabbath side of the question. The population of Dover, however, is fast changing from the staid race which lived in that place thirty years ago, and an element has been introduced which has far less respect for the Sabbath than was once the rule in the Cocheco region.

The Exeter Coal Co. have sold the schooner Horatio Nichols, the vessel proving too long for the use they wished to put her to, viz: the transportation of coal from the coal-shipping ports to Exeter without transhipment. It will be remembered that a year or two ago she used up the whole season in making a couple of trips, her time being about equally divided between lying aground in Exeter river, and on the marine railway at Kittery to repair damages. The company have purchased the schooner John Lenthal, a vessel of 144 tons register, and she has just completed her first trip, having sailed from this port for New York on Friday of last week. She was towed to Exeter on the previous Sunday by the tug Naumkeag, without trouble.

The republicans of this city will hold their caucus for the nomination of a candidate for mayor at the court house this afternoon, from four o'clock to eight.

The Pullman train due in this city from Boston at nine o'clock Monday evening did not arrive until two hours later, the engine having broken down when between Seabrook and Hampton. A locomotive was sent from this city to bring in the belated train.

A German boy twelve or fourteen years old, employed in Robeck's confectionery manufactory, was so badly burned about the legs, Monday evening, that he had to be taken in a hack to his home in the Eldredge block, above Alton's store on Islington street. No serious results are anticipated.

Hereafter "The Wentworth" orchestra will give morning concerts every Monday, Wednesday and Friday from ten to 11:30 o'clock; afternoon concerts every week day from four to 5:30 o'clock; Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Sunday evenings from eight to ten o'clock. Hop each Wednesday and Saturday evening.

Some person or persons committed several burglaries in Hampton, Monday night. They stole $250 from the house of Warren E. Lane, and $20 from the house of S. W. Dow, also taking goods valued at about $100 from the latter place. Unsuccessful attempts were made to break into the Union house and the residence of Dr. Merrill.

A man named Saunders, a boarder at one of the near summer resorts made an unprovoked assault Monday afternoon in Thompson's confectionery store, on the driver of Chief Engineer D. B. Macomb's private carriage. The latter was struck full in the face, causing a swelling and much pain. City Marshal Entwistle was sent on the track of the assailant, whom he captured, Saunders paying a liberal sum to the man he assailed, rather than appear before the police court.—Times.

A gentleman residing near Lincoln hill informs us that all through the heavy thunder shower of Tuesday morning a small bird—a linnet or song-sparrow—near his chamber window kept up an incessant singing, evidently in rivalry of the tremendous peals of thunder, not giving it up even during the intensely dark moments between the flashes of lightning. The bird could not make so much noise as the thunder-storm, but lasted longer, for his musical notes were heard until the thunder had degenerated into a distant rumbling, after which he probably went to sleep again, satisfied that he had won a big victory; at any rate he gave up his song.

Hon. Thomas E. O. Marvin of Portsmouth arrived in this city from Warner last evening, where he has been engaged in the prosecution of a party charged with cruelty to animals. From Mr. Marvin we learn the following particulars regarding the case: On the Fourth of July, Edward H. Atwood took a cow from Waterloo to Contoocook, dragging her a portion of the distance by means of a rope attached to her head, and maltreating her in other ways. The animal was so exhausted by the abusive treatment that for nearly two days she was unable to regain her feet, and a knowledge of this condition of affairs coming to the ears of Mr. Marvin, who is president of the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, he brought a complaint against the man. The case was heard before Justice A. P. Davis, Mr. Marvin conducting the prosecution, and Rev. John C. Ager of Brooklyn, N. Y., appearing for the defense. The trial resulted in Atwood being bound over in the sum of $50 for his appearance before the October term of the supreme court, and some of the friends of the respondent were so incensed at this result that one of them committed an assault upon the justice.—Manchester Mirror, 25th.

THE PERENNIAL NUISANCE.

Mr. Editor: By one of the ordinances of the city, no one is allowed to drain a vault into either of the mill ponds; this ordinance is good, and should be enforced. Let us look. Who are the principal parties who violate the ordinance? 1st, the city itself, which drains into the north mill pond part of the refuse matter of the city collected from thousands of inhabitants, from sinks and vaults, delivered into sewers built and maintained by the city and running through many of the principal streets. I will mention but one sewer (there are others) that runs into the north mill pond,—the one built not many years ago by the city, of the Shea cement pipe (horse-collar style) at least three feet in diameter, laid in Bridge street and emptying into the pond above mentioned. There are several other sewers running into this pond, that are maintained by the city. I will say nothing of the largest nuisance of all, that of the drainage from the two breweries, nor of the minor ones of the vault drains which directly enter into the pond, for as the city is the most guilty transgressor by violating its own ordinance, I think that no fault should be found with corporations and private individuals who are simply doing that of which the city has set the example.

Sometime since, the city at considerable expense employed the services of a competent civil engineer, whose advice, had they followed, they would have been as Solomon, that man accounted wise; but, no, a marginal sewer as proposed would cost a little money, and so they let the stench go on.

There seems to me but one way to abate this nuisance; if the city cannot afford the marginal sewer, then put into the pond a light-draft dredging machine, with a few scows, and dredge from the bottom of the pond at least one foot of the decaying matter that the pond contains; then float the scows through the gates and dump it in tide water. Should this be done it would temporarily relieve our citizens (and only temporarily) from our two nuisances. What I have said regarding the north pond, please apply also to the south pond. XX.

MARSHALL HOUSE, YORK, July 26th.

Horace Lunt of Boston, formerly of this town, gave humorous readings in the parlor of this house on Monday evening, the 18th inst. The room was well filled and the audience thoroughly delighted with the reading, after which those present contributed liberally toward the artist's purse. On the same evening, about eleven o'clock, a party of excursionists landed here coming on the steamer Startled Fawn. Some of them took rooms in the house while others hung around outside, sleeping under the piazza, etc.; some were very noisy and didn't act at all gentlemanly. The proprietor says he shall have to put a stop to their landing here, in the future.

A party of girls and boys from this house, to the number of fifteen, enjoyed a clam-bake on the 22d inst., on Huckleberry island, York river.

There are twenty-four colored waiters here now, who are both attentive and obliging to the guests. They are quartered under the bowling alley, in which there are six rooms. They have certain rules and regulations, and any one violating these is brought before a mock-court of justice and always found guilty, the penalty being from three to one hundred stripes. The boys contemplate giving a concert in the new hall, Friday, the 29th; they also have a base ball team, and are ready for challenges.

There were religious services in the parlor, Sunday forenoon, Bishop Burgess, Episcopal, of Quincy, Ill., who is a guest, officiating.

The yacht Hertha G., of Portsmouth, with a party of gentlemen, visited us on Sunday. Mr. Odion says they made the run in one hour and a half. After partaking of a bountiful dinner they left for home, much pleased with the place. On the same day the yacht Ella, Capt. Blaney, of the Wentworth house, with a small party, came here for a short stay.

Every room in the house and cottage are now occupied, and cots have to be set up in spare corners to accommodate transients who come here, not thinking the place so crowded. A great many of the present occupants will have to give up their rooms to new-comers, who have engaged them, on the first of August. Every day there are applications for rooms, but all are refused. The stable in connection with the house is carried on by Mr. Joseph W. Bragdon, who has a very good selection of horses and carriages and an efficient corps of men, including Mr. Charles Main, the trusted stage driver.

Senator Rollins of New Hampshire left here yesterday for Rollinsford. He, with a party of relatives, to the number of eleven, has been stopping in this vicinity for the past week. T.

Honolulu advices state that a stream of lava commenced flowing into the fine harbor of Hilo during the last week in June, bidding fair to destroy it. The natives have cleared out of their habitations in the neighborhood, and are leaving Hilo. The town itself is not menaced by the flow mentioned, but there is another stream which, if it breaks out in a similar manner, must overwhelm a large part of the town.

Sin's Wages.

In Wales the common people are very much behind the age. A certain confusion in their intellects may arise from the fact that in many of the common schools educational information is conveyed in English, of which the Welsh children are almost utterly ignorant. In some of the churches the services are variously conducted, now in the Welsh dialect, and now in English. The result is a happy ignorance of the meaning of words, which is aptly illustrated by the following anecdote. In a certain Welsh village it was customary to assemble the young people after service and enlighten their ignorance by catechising them; the subjects being generally drawn from a small manual entitled, "Mother's Gift on Sundry Points of Scripture Doctrine." After many comparatively easy questions put upon a Sabbath afternoon came one which fairly puzzled the juveniles. "What," asked the teacher, "are the wages of sin?" There was a considerable hesitation among the pupils, and an elder lad being present the teacher turned to him and repeated the question: "John, my lad, can you tell me what are the wages of sin?" After a pause of consideration John, with a glance of intelligence, replied: "Well, sir, I canna tell for certain—but—what should you say to eighteen pence a day and find yourself?"

Spoiled the Oration.

A lawyer in central New York gives the following account of one of his first cases:—

"My client sued a neighbor for the alleged killing of a favorite dog. The proof consisted in the mysterious disappearance of the animal, and the possession of a dog's skin by the defendant, which, after considerable argument, was brought into court in evidence. It was marked in a singular manner, and was positively identified, with many tears, by the plaintiff's wife and daughter as the undoubted integument of the deceased Bose. In summing up to the jury I was in the midst of a highly colored picture of the virtues of the deceased, and of the love of the children for their four-footed friend, when I was interrupted by a slight disturbance in the crowd near the door of the little school-house. Looking around, I saw my client's youngest son, a tow-headed urchin of twelve, coming forward with a dog whose skin was the exact counterpart of the one put in evidence. The dog wagged his tail with a good-natured composure, and the boy cried in his childish treble, 'Paw, Bose has come home.' I gathered up my law-books and retreated, and I have never had perfect confidence in circumstantial evidence since."

—John James Piatt, the poet, has been dismissed from the money-order department of the Cincinnati post-office because he writes so badly no one can decipher his manuscript.

—A bride died in San Francisco last week under peculiarly sad circumstances. With the consent of her parents she had been married to an estimable young man at her father's house. The marriage was kept a secret, to indulge the innocent whim of the lady, who wished to surprise her friends by the announcement of her wedding reception. But a day or two after the wedding she fell down stairs, and was so seriously injured that she died. The cards that had been prepared for her reception were sent around among her acquaintances, summoning them to her funeral.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

—There is a good deal of human nature in the canary. He never feels so much like lifting up his voice as when others are talking.

Adamson's Botanic Balsam has gained a reputation which places it in the front rank of curative agents. It has been in the market but about nine years. It is now recommended by the best physicians because it cures coughs and colds every time. Price, 35 cts.

What is the Use!

Of buying worthless medicines, and spending money on quack doctors whose only idea is to gull the public. Is it not better to buy a reliable medicine like Sulphur Bitters? I think so, as they cured me of catarrh after suffering three years. —J. P. Clark, Manchester.

—A saloon-keeper in New London, Conn., whose lost pocket-book, containing nearly $400, was returned to him by the finder, impulsively exclaimed: "You pees von honest poy; I vill shake mit you for de drinks." And they "shook," and the honest boy lost and paid.

—Whenever young ladies learn so to stick a pin in their apron strings that it won't scratch a fellow's wrist, there will be more marriages.

"The Domestic Tyrant."

"The average man," quote Mrs. Partington, "is a weak and irritable domestic tyrant," and Mrs. P. is correct. Tyrannical to a fault the average man will enter the blissful paradise of a happy home, scratch himself in fiendish glee, send the baby into convulsions, and for what? Why, because he has the itching piles, and is too mean to buy Swayne's Ointment, which is an infallible cure for the worst cases of that annoying complaint.

RAILROAD LONGINGS.

If I were a railroad brakeman,
I'd holler the stations so plain
That the man who was going to Texas
Would go clean through to Maine;
I'd open the door of the smoking car
And I'd give such a mighty roar,
That the passengers back in the sleeper
Would all fall out on the floor,
For I couldn't afford a tenor voice,
And I couldn't afford to speak
In the sweet, soft tones of Æolian harps
For eleven dollars a week.

If I were a baggage master
I'd rattle the trunks about;
I'd stand them up in the corner
And I'd tear their bowels out.
I would pull the handles out by the roots,
I would kick their corners in,
And strew their stuffing all round the car,
And make them lank and thin.
For I couldn't afford to wear kid gloves,
Nor put soft pads on my feet,
Nor to handle things gently, when all my pay
Just kept me in bread and meat.

If I were a railroad conductor,
As through the train I'd go,
I'd have for every question they asked
This answer all ready: "Don't know."
I'd miss the connections for lots of men,
I'd run lone passengers past;
I'd tell them 'twas eight, when I knew 'twas ten,
And I'd swear their watches were fast.
For I couldn't afford to be civil,
When I knew every man in the load
Would look at my watch and ring, and say:
"He stole all that from the road!"

Old People.

Mrs. Emma W. Skelton, of the Old Ladies' Home of Boston, is approaching 104 years. She has seldom left her room since the celebration of her 100th birthday, and the inmates are not allowed to weary her with talk. She is never sick. She has been in the home about twenty-four years. She has one daughter living, a Mrs. Page.

George Lessard, a Napoleonic veteran, who fought under the great general in Germany in 1804, and who afterwards, coming to this country, served with the British in the war of 1812, rising to the rank of captain, is living in almost full possession of his faculties in Montreal, Canada, at the age of 104 years. Three years ago he married, his bride being then sixty years old, and recently both appeared as witnesses in a court of justice in Montreal.

Mrs. Jidette Windsor Hathaway died at Duxbury, Mass., Friday, July 22d. She was the widow of the late Dr. Rufus Hathaway, and was aged 102 years, ten months and eleven days. She retained her faculties wonderfully, and almost the last day of her life was able to take care of herself and do ordinary housework. She was the mother of eleven children, five sons and six daughters. Four sons survive her, the oldest aged eighty-five years, and the youngest sixty-three.

Honored and Blest.

When a board of eminent physicians and chemists announced the discovery that by combining some well known valuable remedies, the most wonderful medicine was produced, which would cure such a wide range of diseases that most all other remedies could be dispensed with, many were skeptical; but proof of its merits by actual trial has dispelled all doubt, and to-day the discoverers of that great medicine, Hop Bitters, are honored and blessed by all as benefactors.—Democrat.

Thirty thousand citizens of Georgia have petitioned the legislature, asking that the question of the sale of intoxicating liquors may be submitted to a vote of the people.

William Walker Phelps, our new minister to Austria, speaks French fluently, and is already quite popular at court.

When pangs the mortals flesh assail,
And give a bitterness to life,
Making the cheek with anguish pale.
Amid the fierce internal strife;
Then Sanford's Ginger soothes the pain,
And smiling Health looks up again.

New Orleans has secured more than $1,000,000 from the sale of street railway franchises in two years, and the money is used to extinguish the city debt.

"The Domestic Tyrant."

"The average man," quote Mrs. Partington, "is a weak and irritable domestic tyrant," and Mrs. P. is correct. Tyrannical to a fault the average man will enter the blissful paradise of a happy home, scratch himself in fiendish glee, send the baby into convulsions, and for what? Why, because he has the itching piles, and is too mean to buy Swayne's Ointment, which is an infallible cure for the worst cases of that annoying complaint.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

THURSDAY, JULY 28, 1881.

The President.

The President slept quietly all through the night of the 26th inst., and on the 27th the great anxiety over his condition which had existed for several days was much allayed. The improvement in his condition was very marked, and the doctors were in excellent spirits.

New Hampshire Legislature.

In the house, July 26th, the following bills were passed: Relating to the duties and rights of registers of deeds; to provide for a deficiency in the income of the state prison; recognizing the right of religious freedom in prisons and reformatory institutions; to provide for the assessment and collection of an annual state tax of $400,000 for two years; changing the name of the state reform school to industrial school; to amend the charter of the Claremont & White River Junction railroad; to amend the charter of the Nashua savings bank. A hearing before the railroad committee on the bill to establish a general railroad law took place in the evening; a number of witnesses in favor of the bill were examined.

The Vacant Judgeship.

The Manchester Union says: "If the consideration that a democrat should be appointed to succeed Judge Clifford upon the bench of the Supreme Court is to be disregarded, and if a republican should receive the appointment, Chief Justice Cooly of Michigan should be the man." The New York Herald says there will be no lack of suitable men in New England to select from, for Judge Devens, Chief Justice Gray, Judge Hoar, and Senator Edmunds are able men. There will be much speculation, of course, upon the matter of succession. It is early to predict the result, but the chances of the Massachusetts chief justice are regarded at present as the best.

A Big Thunder Storm.

The thunder storm of Monday night, July 25th, was of wide extent, and much damage was done by the lightning. In Weare, Eben Bartlett lost two barns and forty tons of hay; E. R. Farley of Goffstown lost all his farm buildings, with six cows and two horses; in Henniker the buildings of a Mr. Childs were burned; in Acworth, Ed. Kingsbury's barn was burned, with twenty tons of hay, two cows and one horse, and George I. Bond's manufactory was damaged; Mr. Clement of Deering, Mr. Blanchard of Hillsboro', Cyrus Blanchard of Peterboro', George Hurlburt of West Littleton, and Benton Symonds of Hopkinton, all had barns burned; the house of Mr. Stanwood in Hopkinton was damaged, and the costly summer residence of T. A. Sweetser in Greenfield destroyed; the Methodist church in Swanzey had the top of its steeple knocked off; and buildings were destroyed or damaged in Washington, New Boston and other towns. The lightning struck an old pine tree about twenty feet from the Greenfield depot, and on the track in the yard several times. Lightning struck in Keene in several places, damaging barns and telegraph poles, and bursting the water pipes in two places, causing considerable damage. While Michael Quigley and James Joyce were riding in Keene their horse was killed by being struck by lightning. When the men came to their senses they found themselves sitting in the wagon with the horse dead, in a violent shower.

In West Newfield, Windham and Sweden, Me., Tuptridge, Guildhall and Northumberland, Vt., Fitchburg, Mass., and other places, buildings were burned or badly damaged by lightning the same night.

News and Notes.

The sale of the Sprague Manufacturing company's property in Augusta, Me., took place at noon on Wednesday, July 27th. The cotton mills, saw mills, boarding houses, etc., were sold to Samuel Haines, of Greenville, N. H., agent for Wright, Bliss, Fabyan & Co., Boston, the selling agents for cotton goods, for $350,000. There were no other bidders. Gen. Geo. Lewis Cook, representing Trustee Chase, guaranteed a clear title to the property. The sale is bona fide, and it is the intention of the Boston parties to utilize the magnificent water privilege by erecting new cotton mills. The sale of the separate parcels of real estate was postponed until August 16th.

Sarah Coburn, the wife of R. C. Coburn of Fairlee, Vt., committed suicide on Thursday morning, July 21st, by taking strychnine. The recent death of a much loved child is said to have caused insanity.

At Reading, Pa., July 26th, John Patten, aged twenty-two years, and John Kutz, aged nineteen, were instantly killed by a blast in an iron-ore quarry.

Eben D. Pettingell is on a visit to Newburyport, his native place, from his home in Kansas, after an absence of thirty-five years. Mr. Pettingell is a son of the late Amos Pettingell, who was in partnership with Mr. George Donnell, now living, and the oldest person in Newburyport, their ropewalk extending from Bromfield to Marlborough street, near where Chestnut street now is.

Rev. Angelo Cannel, pastor of the Second Episcopal church at Newport, R. I., was accidentally shot on the afternoon of July 26th, his pistol going off while he was arranging his clothes. The ball has been extracted, and no danger is apprehended.

Seven men, recently arrested for stealing sugar from vessels at Jersey City, N. J., have been committed to await the action of the United States grand jury. They stole 48,000 pounds from one vessel.

The Brooklyn Eagle states that the last man claiming to be the descendant of Sir Roger Tichborne, in San Diego, Cal., is known in Brooklyn as Charles Ogden Ferris, has a daughter living in Brooklyn whom he deserted, and she and other relatives pronounce him a fraud.

A telegram has been received at the state department from Mr. Angell, United States minister to China, announcing the ratification of the two treaties between the United States and China, which were exchanged at Pekin, July 19th.

At Crawford, Miss., July 25th, Jeff Wooten and Mrs. Alfred Borders deliberately murdered the husband of the latter with clubs, and threw his body into a cistern. Both were arrested.

It seems that Portsmouth is a healthy place to live in, whether in this country or in England. According to the registrar-general's return for the week ending July 9th, Portsmouth was the healthiest of all the large towns and cities of England, if the rate of mortality—11.4 per 1,000—be accepted as proof. The highest death-rate was in Liverpool, and was 24.3 per 1,000.

Nathaniel Stevens, a rich man of Andover, Mass., returned from Europe in the steamer Baltic, and declared to the custom house officers that he did not have over $100 of dutiable goods. The purser of the Baltic, however, gave information that Mr. Stevens and his two sisters had seven large trunks and seven packing boxes, which were examined and found to contain about $3000 worth of dutiable goods. Moreover, Mr. Stevens said he had no invoices of goods; but invoices to the amount of $750 were found, so the goods were seized and the case reported to the law bureau.

The police of Providence, R. I., having obtained a search warrant, have found, it is said, in the house of Rev. W. F. Whicher, a prominent clergyman of that city, several books which were missing from the libraries of the Rhode Island Historical society and Brown university, and from Mr. Ryder's store, and it is stated that the accused clergyman has been also detected in pilfering from Littlefield's book store on Cornhill, Boston.

Gov. Crittenden of Missouri it is said will offer $50,000 reward for the arrest of the Rock Island train robbers. Twenty thousand dollars of this sum is to be given for the capture of the two James boys, supposed to have been the leaders of the robbers, and $6,000 each for the other five men of the party.

At Woodbury, Canon county, Tenn., two shocking murders have just taken place. One was the shooting of an aged man, Odem by name, by his son-in-law, Wilson. The other was the killing of John Page by Lewis Bremer, with a dirk. Both were unprovoked, malicious murders.

A shocking accident occurred at Muir, Mich., July 25th. A small house occupied by Alonzo Derrick, wife and six children, accidentally took fire and burned to the ground. The fire originated in an upper chamber where three children were sleeping, and they were suffocated and burned. The unrecognizable remains were gathered up and buried in one coffin.

In New Haven, Conn., July 22d, Charles Adams, a boy of twelve years, played awhile with a toy pistol. The doctors think they may possibly save his life, unless lockjaw sets in.

A despatch from New Westminister, British Columbia, July 26th, says: "The run of salmon in Fraser river surpasses all precedent or calculations. Steamers and row-boats are laden to the guards. The fish are arriving at canneries faster than they can be packed. Hands are scarce and labor high. Many fish are thrown away, as they cannot be packed. One boat, just arrived, brings 9,000 large salmon. The pack will be enormous. Eight canneries, representing $500,000 capital, are in full blast."

Some time during the afternoon of Saturday, July 23d, Mrs. Charles A. Moody, wife of the cashier of the First National bank of Biddeford, and only daughter of Dr. John Parker, a well known Biddeford physician, mysteriously disappeared from her cottage at Old Orchard beach, and up to Tuesday, the 26th, had not been heard from. The lady was dangerously ill with brain fever last spring, and for some time previous to her disappearance had complained of terrible headaches; and her friends think it probable that in a state of mental aberration she wandered away and got lost.

The barn of John Boston, about two miles from Kennebunkport village, was burned Sunday evening about eight o'clock. Loss $300; insured. The owner and his wife were away at the time.

Some Fools.

Baron Von Geyso, a young German officer of much promise, has been shot dead in a duel with a brother officer. Two students of Gottingen fought a duel with pistols on Thursday last, and one of them was mortally wounded.

A Gibraltar despatch says a duel took place July 25th within the Spanish line, between Spanish officers, a captain and a lieutenant. The captain was killed, and the lieutenant seriously wounded.

Burnett's Cocoaine.

A Lady's Hair Saved by its Use.

BURNETT'S COCOAINE will keep the hair in a strong and healthy condition by stimulating the roots of the hair and restoring the natural action upon which its growth depends. Twenty years ago a single bottle saved a lady's hair in a desperate case where every other treatment had failed; and since that early success thousands of cases of Baldness, Dandruff, Loss of Hair and Irritation of the Scalp have yielded to this remedy.

The superiority of Burnett's Flavoring Extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength.

GRIEF.

Excessive anxiety, or prolonged study, will produce infirmity in the Nervous System, in proportion as the strength of that system is expended upon the mind in troubled thought, so are the organs of digestion, assimilation and nutrition, rendered inactive and sluggish in proportion as the system becomes infirm. Every individual has some one organ weaker than the rest, and this is always the first to suffer during nervous prostration; for example, afflicting news sometimes causes total suspension of the muscular action of the heart, producing sudden hemorrhage and death. No doubt any longer remains of the practibility of restoring nervous system, and through the nerves the muscles of the impaired organs. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been proved to possess such power in numerous instances. It will impart strength to overcome trouble and affliction. Persons who are accustomed to looked upon the dark side, and who see no pleasure in living, on using this Syrup soon learn to value and enjoy life, and those who study, and during long hours, will find in the Syrup a promoter of the power of endurance in the brain.

There is no doubt of this fact, that an impaired Nervous System causes Consumption, Neuralgia, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Heart Disease, and a host of others. Fellows' Hypophosphites, which effectually cures Nervous debility, should cure these diseases also. "Remove the cause and the complaint will cease."

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., Feb. 25d, 1880.

JAMES I. FELLOWS, ST. JOHN, N. B.

Dear Sir—I have been prescribing your Hypophosphites for several years, both in Canada and the United States, but more particularly at this famous resort for invalids, where thousands annually congregate. For those in whom the brain and nervous system has been exhausted from excess or overwork, I have found no combination of remedies so prompt and efficacious in restoring the vital forces. I hope that every person needing relief will avail themselves of so valuable a preparation.

Respectfully,
ALEX McMASTER, M. D.

There were brewed in New Hampshire during the year ending May 1st, 1880, 175,151 barrels of beer; in the year ending May 1st, 1881, 203,497 barrels. In the United States, for the year ending May 1st, 1880, were produced 12,800,900 barrels; for the year ending May 1st, 1881, 14,125,466. Boston sells 641,603 barrels of the fluid in a year.

The navy department awarded to C. E. Walker & Co., the Water street coal dealers, the contract to furnish 1350 tons of coal at this navy yard—seven hundred tons of steamboat coal, six hundred tons of Cumberland, and fifty tons of Lehigh lump. The bid of Messrs. Walker & Co. on Cumberland coal was a cent and one-half a ton lower than that of E. F. Sise & Co.,—just $9 difference on the lot of six hundred tons.

The schooner A. B. Crabtree, with 164 tons of coal, the Peacedale with 167 tons, and the William Thomas with 151 tons, all from Port Johnson, went up the river to Dover on Monday of this week, all their cargoes being for the Cocheco Manufacturing Co. The schooner B. Frank Nealley, from Philadelphia, and the W. A. Dubosque and C. H. Boynton from New York, all for Dover, arrived on the following day, and all proceeded up the river.

During the heavy thunder storm on Monday night of this week, a flash of lightning struck a tree near the house of Mr. Geo. Jenness, in Rye, leaving the tree for a stone wall, of which it demoralized several rods, and then leaving the wall took to the ground in a potato field, digging up a quantity of the tubers and leaving them scattered over the surface of the ground. An unusual jarring sensation was noticed in several houses during the continuance of the shower, and next morning forty-four panes of glass in one house were found to be cracked, all having been whole on the previous evening.

REPUBLICAN MAYORALTY CAUCUS.

The caucus of the republicans to nominate a candidate for mayor was held in the court house on Wednesday afternoon, 27th inst., from four to eight, Geo. Pendexter presiding and Chas. E. Batchelder acting as secretary. The voters seemed inclined to heartily endorse Mayor Sise. No other candidate appeared in the field, and at eight o'clock the result of the voting was announced as follows: Whole number of ballots 443, and Col. William H. Sise received 442 votes, and was declared the nominee. A committee of five gentlemen was appointed to wait upon Col. Sise, inform him of his nomination, and request his acceptance. The committee soon after returned with the nominee, who upon being introduced accepted the nomination, referred to his past service in the office, expressed his gratification at the compliment paid him by his fellow republicans, and pledged his efforts to serve the city if again elected, to the best of his ability. Hearty cheers were given by the audience. On motion of Michael E. Long the thanks of the meeting were extended to the presiding officer for the able manner in which he had discharged his duties, and the meeting dissolved. This is the first instance in the history of our city government where a fourth nomination for this office has been conferred on a candidate, and it probably was the most nearly unanimous mayoralty caucus ever held, where a ballot was taken.

PORTSMOUTH COMPANY.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth Company was held at the counting room of the corporation in South Berwick, Me., on Wednesday forenoon of this week. The treasurer submitted his annual report, which manifested that the affairs of the company had been well managed during the past year, and the business satisfactory. The net earnings amounted to about eight per cent on the capital stock, which amount had been applied to liquidating the indebtedness of the corporation caused by the purchase of new machinery. The following directors were elected for the ensuing year: F. W. Hale, William Hale, E. H. Jewett, W. H. Rollins, John Sise, Chas. H. Rollins, W. D. Jewett.

MOUNT AGAMENTICUS.

Three officers of the Rockingham bicycle club left here on Saturday, July 23d, to ascend Mt. Agamenticus. They bicycled the first eight miles in an hour, without dismounting from their machines. They found the roads in excellent order, excepting the last two miles near the base of the mountain, which however were ridden with but few dismounts. The frequent excursions of summer boarders at York beach keep the foot-paths to the summit in good order, and visitors from this city will find the ascent an easy climb, the summit being but 673 feet above the level of the ocean.

The view from the top is unsurpassed. The whole coast from Cape Elizabeth to Cape Ann is sharply defined, while the Shoals are apparently but a short distance from the mountain, and every vessel along the coast and on the Piscataqua is visible, while the view of Dover, Great Falls, Berwick and other towns and villages is very fine. On the western side of the mountain a good view of Saddleback and the Blue hills of Strafford is obtained, but the grandest view is toward the north, where the Ossipee mountain, Mt. Kearsarge and the four-toothed summit of Chocorua are distinctly outlined, and farther to the north is the whole Franconia range, surmounted by Mt. Lafayette, to the east of which Mt. Washington looms up surrounded by the numerous peaks of the Jackson range.

After descending the mountain the bicyclers rode to Cape Neddick and Union Bluffs, and spent several hours riding on York beach, which they found the hardest and best beach for bicycling on the New England coast. Side trips were made to the Norwood farm and the Marshall house, making the distance travelled forty miles, a part of which was over roads heretofore deemed impassable for bicycles, all of which were run over without unusual fatigue or accident.

The most exciting incident of the trip was the charge on the president by a furious ox which was loose on the road near Union Bluffs. At sight of the wheelmen the animal first tried to demolish a stone-wall, and only half succeeding he made a vicious plunge at the mounted bicycler, who quickly came down on the opposite side, considerably scared, and found the backbone of his bicycle considerably scarred where the ox exchanged the paint for a portion of his horn. An inch lower charge, and the bovine would have worn off a sixty-spoked steel wheel for a head gear.

The bicycles being the pioneer ones attracted considerable attention from the basket-makers who live in the huts about the base of the mountain, some of whom had never seen or heard of "them things" before, and were very inquisitive as to how the "devils on trucks" could climb into the seats and run the machines up the hills. One intelligent old lady, who evidently takes the papers, enquired if they were the Columbias she had seen advertised, and asked for detailed descriptions of the tricycle, and especially of the marine bicycle.

The next run of the party will be along the coast to Old Orchard beach and Portland. The clubs about Boston are making the preliminary arrangements for a four days' run in September, to Rye beech and this city.

Excursion parties from this city to Mt. Agamenticus, by turning to the left at the telegraph office at York will find a fair road by Chase's pond to the base of the mountain, a distance of about thirteen miles; while the road by way of the Cape Neddick house, though a few miles longer, is kept in better condition. H.

Government by Town Meeting.

Recent political events have directed fresh attention to the evils of machine politics, without, it must be said, evolving thus far any new and practical remedy. The question is a grave one, the more so because, as time goes on, we must expect to see political machines become more indispensable and more complicated than they are even now, and the inherent difficulties of reform are not likely to diminish as the system itself grows. An article in the current Scribner makes a curious suggestion upon the subject, which is perhaps of interest as showing what impracticable measures may be seriously proposed from the most intelligent sources. This article asks us to institute a system of government National, State and Local, by town meeting. It complains that under the existing system much of our voting is for men we know nothing about; also that there are so many offices and so many elections that a professional class has sprung up to fill the one and conduct the other; and that as a consequence the people have abdicated their political functions in favor of machine politicians. It proposes, therefore, the application of the present system of nominating conventions to the work of elections. For example, when a President is to be elected the citizens of each election district, comprising say 250 voters, shall meet and, by a two-thirds' vote rather than a majority, for the sake of greater deliberation, select a delegate to a convention of say one hundred such districts. The one hundred delegates shall elect a Presidential elector, and the electors shall actually choose the President; the same plan to be adopted with all elective officers.

The proposition is an interesting type of its class, and like most of them would play straight into the hands of the politicians, whom it is its whole purpose to avoid. The bosses would think as well now as the fathers of the Republic did of the idea that a small convention of 300 or 400 men should choose by direct election the President of the United States, without any fear of the subsequent ordeal of a popular vote. It is interesting to imagine an application of the project to the great cities, where not every citizen can perform the simple duty of voting, with the polls open ten hours to give men of all occupations the chance to snatch some convenient moment in the day. Interesting, also, to think how, with the two-thirds vote, the land would be strewn with Albany deadlocks and whitened with the bones of the participants.

The evils of machine politics will never be cured in any such way. The suggestion would hardly be worthy of so much attention if it did not stand for a class. The progress of the time is toward a more direct judgment by the people upon all the final and supreme events of government. The system of Presidential electors is regarded by many as a useless and cumbrous sham, in its present form, and it is not likely that a proposition to carry out the original intention of the framers of the Constitution and permit the electors actually to choose the President, would be received with any favor. Instead of propositions that the electoral system shall be applied to the selection of governors, mayors, congressmen, etc., we hear only propositions that there shall be a direct vote even for President—that the high court of the people shall vote straight at the issue. A system of electing public officers which shall deprive us of the final safeguard of a review of the acts of all men and all parties by the people at the polls, would be generally regarded now as a dangerous one. The campaign of character, foul as it sometimes is, has its uses. It leads parties to be careful whom they nominate, and vulnerable men to consider whether it will be safe or agreeable to face the fire. Is it not a mistake to say that we know nothing of the men for whom we are voting? A fiercer light never blazed than that which beats for four months upon a candidate for the Presidency. The same is true of candidates for almost every important office. The license of campaign warfare invades every detail of a candidate's life. While it is often true that candidates for municipal offices, the legislature and other minor places, are unknown to the majority of voters, it is so only, as a rule, in the great cities. It is to be regretted, but we cannot expect omniscience in our citizens any more than omnipotence.

We are sure that the best opinion of the American people would hold that the popular election is the keystone of our system, as it is to-day. Relief from some political evils might come by the lengthening of various official terms, and from others by making some of the elective offices appointive; so that there shall be fewer campaigns and fewer candidates. But no system has yet been proposed which secures such a good average of results as the present one. The evils of machine politics are many, and must be cured; but the machine itself is with us, and is likely to remain.—N. Y. Tribune.

The camp meeting of the Alton Bay Association of Adventists will commence Aug. 18th, and continue over the 28th, after which the Union Evangelists will occupy the grounds for another week, holding a camp meeting.

Hon. C. B. Eddy of Bellows Falls, Vt., counsel for Ellery A. —The most objectionable class of guests are said to be the young men who go to the watering-places with a week's salary drawn in advance, and only remain from Saturday to Monday. They act as though they owned the whole establishment and all its surroundings.

—The Kentucky Central railroad has been sued for $95,000 damages for the deaths of William Welkhaus, John Pye and a young man named Corter, who were killed in a collision July 4th, the sums demanded being respectively $50,000, $20,000 and $25,000.

—Mrs. Samuels, the mother of the James boys, whose exploits in the western country have given them an infamous notoriety, looks upon her villainous progeny as heroes. She lives about four miles from Kearney, Clay county, Mo., and always appears in Kansas City promptly after the committal of a conspicuous crime. A few hours after the recent train robbery, in which her sons are supposed to have participated, she arrived there in accordance with the predictions of the police, anxious to hear all the news, and talk about her "boys." She affirms that Jesse and Frank are dead, and therefore could not have been engaged in the robbery; but not the least confidence is placed in anything she may say.

A Fool Once More.

"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her, she is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Such folly pays."—H. W., Detroit, Mich.—Free Press.

"A Girl's Choice."

It was in a drug store of course. All interesting incidents occur in drug stores, —that is, nearly all. She was pretty, with blue eyes and golden hair, one of those kind of beauties the poet would have called an "angel," but for the fact that a colony of pimples on her fair fruitis-place precluded all thought of a celestial being. Bowing timidly to the handsome clerk, she asked for "Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases," and upon receiving it vanished like the morning dew before the summer sun.

SANFORD'S

· GINGER ·

Impure water, unhealthy climate, unripe fruit, unwholesome food, cramps, chills, malaria, excessive heat and the thousand and one ills that beset the traveler or family are nothing to those fortified and sustained by the use of Sanford's Ginger, "the delicious." As beverage it quenches thirst, open the pores, relieves the head, regulates the stomach and bowels, constitutes a craving for intoxicants and imparts new life to the languid, careworn, overworked, nervous and sleepless. Beware of imitations said to be as good. Ask for Sanford's Ginger and take no other.

Over 5000 Druggists AND Physicians

Messrs. Seabury & Johnson, Manufacturing Chemists, 21 Platt St., New York:

Gentlemen:—For the past few years we have sold various brands of Porous Plasters. Physicians and the Public prefer Benson's Capcine Porous Plaster to all others. We consider them one of the very few reliable household remedies worthy of confidence. They are superior to all other Porous Plasters or Liniments for external use.

Benson's Capcine Plaster is a genuine Parmaceutical product, of the highest order of merit, and so recognized by physicians and druggists.

When other remedies fail get a Benson's Capcine Plaster.

You will be disappointed if you use cheap Plasters, Liniments, Pads or Electrical Magnetic toys.

A SURE REMEDY AT LAST. Price 25cts. A MEAD'S Medicated CORN and BUNION PLASTER.

FETE — SARATOGA STYLES.

Without instituting a philosophical inquiry as to whether "shadings" have brought about moire designs, or vice versa, the fact is patent that they have arisen to life; budding forth in gay Saratoga toilettes and destined to bloom out in full fruition by fall and winter. The connection between the two is almost instinctive, since where can lights and shadows play more perfectly than in ripples which simulate the glancing of sunshine on the water? Yet withal there is a striving after those lines and columns that are so marked a feature of the day, for the new moire patterns do not spread themselves over the breadth as formerly, but of smaller compass, ascend in regular rows; being connected often by narrower lines of diminutive wavelets; throughout meanwhile being deftly mingled, poetic alternations of deeper or paler hues. Again we see co-mingling of marked contrasts, such as red with blue, gold with bronze, etc., and these run into each other with a charm increased by reason of perpetual vagueness. Combinations of plain material continue to find favor, as for example in a costume of blue moire worn recently by Mrs. Bell, (formerly Jeannette Bennett,) where a dark shade of satin was used to offset pale blue moire. The skirt was of satin with two kilt plaitings; the close basque was of moire, finished with a deep scarf of the same draped at the back. For

LIGHTER SUMMER COSTUMES,

Spanish lace is the rage. Elegant polonaises of Spanish lace are worn over summer satins, and bare bodies serve to complete a toilette where the skirt is covered with rich falling flounces; it is placed ad libitum on corsages, and gives finish to not a few pretty fancies for the neck and shoulders. China crape is in vogue for costly dresses, and the most unique of these are curiously embroidered in pagodas, birds, butterflies and Chinese flowers. Overdresses of this style are sometimes draped upon satin skirts; a toilette worn by Mrs. Lorillard being a combination of cream colored crape wrought in pale pink chrysanthemums, with blue satin skirt.

UNIQUE MORNING DRESSES.

Should a war come suddenly upon us, our soldiers might be compelled to go tentless to the field, because fashionable beauties have so largely appropriated the supply of tent cloth that it has run short. It is made up into skirts as a completion to costumes of gray, brown, green or blue flannel, and the orthodox idea of the moment is that one stripe of the tent or awning cloth shall match the flannel in color, while the other stripes serve as contrast. Bed ticking too is held in high estimation for similar purposes; still more remarkable skirts, or even entire dresses, being composed of the coarse blue cotton cloth brought out for laboring men's overalls. In direct contradition to all this, we find nothing more popular than the soft qualities of mull for morning dresses. Indeed there is quite a rage for mull, not only as made up into costumes but for ties, handkerchiefs, jabots, etc., as well also as for light shawls to be thrown over the shoulders. Ultra fashionables delight in creamy mull of so decided a yellow as apparently to need the good offices of the washerwoman, and languish during the morning hours in draperies of such a tinge as under ordinary circumstances would shock them beyond recovery. But the industry of the fair creatures is admirable; there is a furor for fancy work, and cavaliers pay their vows across yards of knitting cotton that if stretched out would bridge the Atlantic. Fortunately it is rolled up in balls, and the new anti-tangle attachment is in great favor since it not only prevents the thread from tangling but also from becoming soiled when in use.

GENERAL REFLECTIONS.

There is no little uncertainty in the public mind concerning bustles. Fashionables whose verdict commands respect, insist that they are obligatory; others, equally worthy of deference, say to the contrary, and writers on fashion, wishing to keep fair with all parties, hesitate between the two. A corset that finds favor with everybody, however, is Warner Bros. Coraline, and there is reason for it. The shape is graceful, while the new material (Coraline) possesses marked advantages when compared with whalebone. Some of these are that it adopts itself more readily to the movements of the wearer, and is, in consequence, much more comfortable. It is also tougher than whalebone, and will not break on the most trying figures. In conclusion let me add that in threading the thronged brakes of watering place life, there is no guide more safe than a handsome para-

sol. It is a very ark of refuge, and sheltered by it you can dispense with a hat if need be; gloves ditto; or if neither are quite what they ought to be, the passer-by looks reverently at your parasol, and concludes of course that you have something nice in your trunk which you haven't cared to take out. If your costume has not cost by several dollars what it should have done, that parasol makes amends, and the reflection rises up: "She certainly has better, but wears a plain dress to-day by way of change. See what a lovely parasol." LUCY CARTER.

What is the Use!

Of buying worthless medicines, and spending money on quack doctors whose only idea is to gull the public. .s it not better to buy a reliable medicine like Sulphur Bitters? I think so, as they cured me of catarrh after suffering three years. —J. P. Clark, Manchester.

A clerk in a store at Washington, D. C., has been fined $15 for selling a toy pistol to a boy under sixteen years of age.

When pangs the mortals flesh assail,
And give a bitterness to life,
Making the cheek with anguish pale,
Amid the fierce internal strife;
Then Sanford's Ginger soothes the pain,
And smiling Health looks up again.

A nine-year-old boy named Lord has been severely injured in the face and eyes at Framingham Centre, Mass., by a toy pistol.

"The Domestic Tyrant."

"The average man," quote Mrs. Partington, "is a weak and irritable domestic tyrant," and Mrs. P. is correct. Tyrannical to a fault the average man will enter the blissful paradise of a happy home, scratch himself in fiendish glee, send the baby into convulsions, and for what? Why, because he has the itching piles, and is too mean to buy Swayne's Ointment, which is an infallible cure for the worst cases of that annoying complaint.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

FRIDAY, JULY 29. 1881.

Defeat of the Lake Shore Railroad.

The resolution to indefinitely postpone the consideration of the bill for the extension of the Dover & Winnipeseogee railroad was adopted in the house of representatives by a vote 186 to 100, on Thursday afternoon.

The President.

The President continued to improve during night of the 27th. On the forenoon of the 28th he was so much better that the bed was wheeled into another room, in order to have cleaned the one where it has so long been. The doctors talked very encouragingly.

Judge Clifford's Funeral.

The funeral of Judge Clifford at Portland was largely attended on Thursday. Private services with the family were held at his son's residence, and at three o'clock P. M. the burial service was held in the First Unitarian church, Rev. Dr. Thomas Hill officiating.

There were present Chief Justice Waite and Judges Miller and Harlan of the Supreme Court of the United States, Judge Blodgett of Illinois, Ex-Dist. Judge Knowles of Rhode Island, the clerks of the Circuit Court of Massachusetts, Maine and New Hampshire, District Attorneys Sanger of Massachusetts and Lunt of Maine, Marshals Banks and Coggswell of Rhode Island, the judges of the Supreme Court of Maine, and a very large number of the members of the bar of Maine.

Dr. Hill's tribute to the memory of the deceased jurist was finely rendered. A large number of residents of Portland were in attendance. The remains were interred in the Evergreen cemetery.

New Hampshire Legislature.

In the house on the 27th, the time was chiefly occupied by the debate on the Lake Shore railroad. The following were passed: An act to incorporate the Moosilauke Mountain Hotel company; a joint resolution enabling the governor and staff, accompanied by three companies of militia and a band, to attend the Yorktown centennial celebration in October next.

The Infernal Machines.

Further advices from England show that the government officials there were advised of the shipment of the infernal machines from this country, and that on their arrival they were seized; and that after the explosives and mechanism had been removed from the "cement" barrels, the barrels were made up so as to appear as if undisturbed, and were left on the quay, but nobody claimed them.

One of the machines retained at the head constable's office at Liverpool, is described as very beautifully made and most effectively designed. Although the machines are all charged with the explosive substance, there is tolerably conclusive evidence that there was no intention on the part of the senders that they should explode in the hold of the steamers while in transit from Boston to Liverpool. They were so carefully packed as to resist any amount of concussion they were likely to receive on the voyage, or in handling on the quays. The machine is enclosed in an oblong case of zinc, of which it occupies the upper portion. There is a clockwork arrangement, which, upon being set, runs about six hours; then it causes a lever to descend upon a tube bearing a cap and communicating with the lower half of the case. The tube is filled with the explosive material, which, upon being fired, sets off a detonating cap placed in the middle of the dynamite compound in the bottom of the case. The presumption is that the machines were intended to be used for the destruction or injury of the public buildings throughout the country, in accordance with the avowed Fenian programme.

The London Telegraph says: "It is felt that the customs officials made a mistake in the infernal machines affair. Had they waited until the barrels were claimed, the consignees might have been captured, but they removed the barrels before the shipping companies were aware that anything was wrong with them, thus placing a barrier in the way of capture."

Inquiries in Boston in regard to the shipment of the infernal machines from that city to England on the steamers Bavarian and Malta, show that the consignment was made by a stranger giving the name of Charles Mills, who said his barrels contained cement. On the 17th of July the bill of lading for the freight by the Cunarder was prepared, the consignee being "Joseph Evans" of Liverpool. On the following day the shipment by the Bavarian was arranged for, the barrels purporting to come from the Phœnix Manufacturing company—a fictitious concern—and to be for John Lawson. Both consignments were received at the wharves from unknown teamsters. It is rumored that the British authorities, having considerable reason to suspect more shipments are in contemplation, are anxious to allow the matter to drop for the present here, and keep a stricter watch on English soil for the consignees. Their reason for this is said to be that they are by no means sanguine of as vigorous enforcement of the laws here as in England, and would prefer that the matter should be dealt with there rather than here. But the present strict watch kept by the companies agents at the leading American ports allows of little chance for a repetition of the crime.

The English flurry over O'Donovan Rossa is not unnatural. He has been threatening to burn up their cities and blow up their ships for months past, and as they don't know him very well over there they naturally believe he may mean something by his bluster. On this side of the ocean his mouth has been regarded as the most dangerous part of him, but if he has really been dabbling in the dynamite business we shall be obliged to alter our estimate of him. He is already suffering for his vaporings, for the several steamship companies which allowed him to sell tickets for them have recalled the authority and taken away the tickets. In this way he loses the business which was his chief support. He has nobody to blame except himself.—Tribune.

The Century Co.'s New Quarters.

The Century Company — formerly Scribner & Co.—will vacate its old quarters in Broadway over Charles Scribner's Sons, early in September, and has taken a ten years' lease of the fifth floor of the handsome new building on the north side of Union Square. The space at its command is in the form of an L, with the base on Eighteenth street, and is equal, altogether, to a space nearly one hundred feet wide by two hundred feet long. Three steam elevators, front and rear, bring these high quarters in easy communication with the pavement. The publication offices will overlook Union Square. Adjoining them will be the reception rooms. The editorial rooms of "Scribner's Monthly" and "St. Nicholas" will be in the angle of the L. The art rooms will overlook Eighteenth street, and a long, wide corridor running the entire length of the floor will give wall-space on which can be shown the pick of the company's accumulating art treasures. Mr. John La Farge and his corps of artists and assistants in his new business of colored glass decoration, occupy the top floor of the building.—New York Tribune.

FELLOWS' Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

GRIEF.

Excessive anxiety, or prolonged Study, will produce infirmity in the Nervous System, in proportion as the strength of that system is expended upon the mind in troubled thought, so are the organs of digestion, assimilation and nutrition, rendered inactive and sluggish in proportion as the system becomes infirm. Every individual has some one organ weaker than the rest, and this is always the first to suffer during nervous prostration; for example, afflicting news sometimes causes total suspension of the muscular action of the heart, producing sudden unconsciousness and death. No doubt any longer remains of the practibility of restoring the nervous system, and through the nerves the muscles of the impaired organs. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been proved to possess such power in numerous instances. It will impart strength to overcome trouble and affliction. Persons who are accustomed to looked upon the dark side, and who see no pleasure in living, on using this Syrup soon learn to value and enjoy life, and those who study deeply during long hours, will find in the Syrup a promoter of the power of endurance in the brain. There is no doubt of this fact, that an impaired Nervous system causes Consumption, Neuralgia, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Heart Disease, and a host of others. Fellows' Hypophosphites, which effectually cures Nervous debility, should cure these diseases also. "Remove the cause and the complaint will cease."

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., Feb. 23d, 1880.

JAMES I. FELLOWS, ST. JOHN, N. B.

Dear Sir: I have been prescribing your Hypophosphites for several years, both in Canada and the United States, but more particularly at this famous resort for Invalids, where thousands annually congregate. For those in whom the brain and nervous system has been exhausted from excess or overwork, I have found no combination of remedies so prompt and efficacious in restoring the vital forces. I hope that your new preparation meeting with all merit, will recommend itself to all valuable preparation. Respectfully,

ALEX McMASTER, M. D.

AROUND HOME.

An excursion party filling seven cars went from Newmarket to Old Orchard beach, Me., July 26th, over the Boston & Maine railroad.

Mr. J. P. Morse has returned from a two weeks' sojourn at the Shoals. His complexion apparently suffered a little, but in all other respects he looks first-rate.

John J. Bagley, ex-governor of Michigan, died in San Francisco July 27th. He was well known in this vicinity, having spent the summer season at Rye beach for a number of years past.

Mr. Bookwalter, the democratic candidate for governor of Ohio, is now referred to generally as Mr. Pocketbookwalter—a delicate hint at the judicious manner in which his nomination was secured.

The first potatoes turned out in York this season were raised by Hon. E. C. Moody, and sold to the Marshall house at York harbor. Mr. Moody expects to have six hundred bushels of potatoes to put on the market this fall.

The hotels and boarding-houses at York are rapidly filling up. The Marshall house, at the harbor, and the Sea Cottage, have been full for some days, and both have been compelled to turn away intending patrons.

On Wednesday of this week C. Morris Tredick bought eighty barrels of large mackerel taken in weirs at the harbor's mouth, and on Thursday one hundred barrels. The weirs have been doing a very good business lately.

C. E. Boynton, the extensive manufacturer of light summer drinks, and bottler of lager and refined cider, is now and for some time has been employing ten men in his establishment. No better articles of the kind are furnished than he supplies.

The steamer Fearless is liberally patronized on her trips between this city and Kittery Point, via Newcastle. The trip is one of the pleasantest ones we know of, the boat is speedy and safe, and the expense is trifling. For small picnic parties at this season an excursion to the point in the Fearless is a judicious arrangement.

The ice cut at York last winter finds ready sale now to the beach houses, at remunerative rates. Andrew R. Webber cut three hundred tons of extra quality, and is only sorry he was not able to harvest more. Charles A. Grant cut thirty tons from Chase's pond, for use in his summer hotel. Gardner Donnell cut about one hundred and fifty tons from the Bayberry marsh, back of Long beach, and several other persons housed larger or smaller quantities from various places.

On Saturday, the 30th inst., the administrator of the estate of Charles W. Berry late of Rye, will sell at public auction the interest of the deceased in the land at Straw's point, part of which is that upon which the Direct Cable company's building are situate, and the Life-Savings service house on the other side of the road. The lands extends in rear of the cottages owned by gentlemen from Concord and Manchester. This is the most valuable land in Rye, and the sale will doubless attract the attention of many buyers.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, July 28th, Mayor Sise in the chair:

Charles H. Kenison asked leave to encumber Fleet and Hanover streets for building purposes. Granted.

James Preble was appointed special police without pay, on Lafayette road.

Nicholas J. Campbell's bill of $8.25 was ordered to be paid.

Mrs. Richard C. Yeaton asked for a new sidewalk on Richards avenue. Granted.

E. G. Peirce, Jr., asked for a gas light on the corner of Warren and Church streets. Referred to the committee on street lights, with power.

The trustees of the public library reported that they had not elected officers, owing to a lack of authority, and an ordinance was introduced to empower them. It was read a first time, and referred to the committee on bills on their second reading.

Joseph Neff, representing the Mutual Union Telegraph Co., appeared before the board in support of the company's request (negatived by the board at the meeting July 14th) for permission to set poles in certain streets of the city. Mr. Neff made a statement, at the close of which the vote of the 14th was reconsidered, and the prayer of the petition was granted under the usual restrictions.

The mayor reported that some of the leather hose of the fire department had been condemned. Ald. Hazel made a statement as to the custom of the board of fire engineers in regard to inspecting the hose and condemning that found worthless; and the matter was referred to the committee on fire department, with power.

The matter of appointing supervisors of elections was brought up, and the following nominations were made by the aldermen of the several wards:

Ward one, James F. Jenness, John Shannon; ward two, Joseph R. Curtis, Samuel R. Gardner; ward three, John Hand, James Stearns; ward four, Chas. E. Senter, John E. Colcord.

On a ballot being taken, the persons named were declared elected, the mayor being authorized to fill any vacancy should such occur.

The petition of I. P. Miller and others for the establishment of a public bathing house was discussed, and Ald. Noyes stated that the committee to whom the matter was referred could not see their way clear to the establishing of the same, there being no funds available, nor special appropriation for it. The matter was referred to the next board.

Ald. Sanborn reported that Mr. Ayers, clerk of the Aqueduct Co., complained that water supplied to the reservoirs was allowed to run to waste. The mayor said he had watched the reservoirs, and had seen no waste. Ald. Hazel said one reservoir, at least, was locked up, to keep boys from throwing stones in it. The mayor said reports had been made in the newspapers that the supply of water in the city was insufficient for public purposes, and that the aqueduct people said water enough to supply whole families was wasted in front of the custom house; the city has no control whatever over the water, and government is not to blame for any thing that may occur in regard thereto. The matter was referred to the committee on fire department.

Adjourned for one week.

The republican and democratic caucuses in wards one and three are called for this evening, at the same place in each ward, and in waid three—of course inadvertently—at the same hour. In ward one the republican caucus meets at 7:30, the democratic call being for 8:00; the democrats of the ward rely on the courtesy of the republicans to yield possession of the hall as soon as the business of the caucus is completed.

News and Notes.

John C. Burch, secretary of the United States senate, died in Washington on the 28th inst.

Clarence Horton, son of H. F. Horton, and John T. Ward, Jr., colored, two lads of Providence, R. I., are dangerously ill with lockjaw, caused by Fourth of July toy pistols. It is reported that there are three other cases in the same city.

Rev. W. F. Whitcher, pastor of the Mathewson street Methodist church in Providence, R. I., who had been charged with purloining rare books from various public libraries, on the evening of July 27th confessed himself guilty, and announced his determination to retire from the ministry and church.

A young girl named Bertie Forrest, employed in a mill at Lowell, Mass., committed suicide by jumping into a canal, July 27th. She left a note at her boarding house saying she was tired of life.

George Robbins, a brakeman employed by the Fitchburg railroad, was throwing a switch in the depot yard at Greenfield, Mass., July 26th, when a bolt of lightning struck the rails, and Robbins sustained a paralysis of his right side. He may recover.

Mary German, who attempted to commit suicide at Huntington, Vt., July 21st, by taking Paris green, died on the following Sunday morning. It appears that she had contracted a marriage engagement with a young fellow named Warren, who she was led to suppose had deserted her. As soon as Warren heard of the sad affair he went to see the girl, and stayed with her until a short time before she died. He said he had promised to marry her, and always intended to do so.

A man calling himself William Johnson Smith was arrested at F. Shirley's farm house, near Fryeburg, Me., July 27th, having in his possession a team stolen from William Jones of Salem, Mass.

Midhat Pasha and all the others convicted of the murder of the late sultan of Turkey, except the two actual assassins and Izzet Pasha and Seyd Pasha, who were implicated in the crime, embarked July 25th for El Hedjaz in Arabia, where they will remain in exile for life.

On the arrival at Havana, July 26th, of the steamer Alicante from Vera Cruz, the police immediately went on board and arrested Luis Gil and Ignacio Rouve Hernandez, the defaulters of the Matanzas branch of the Spanish bank; also two brothers Ibanez, one of whom is a broker in Havana and the other at Matanzas, and the first engineer of the steamer, in whose charge was found money and securities amounting to $80,000, including $40,000 in specie, bonds and various drafts on Mexico, and a draft on New York for about $20,000. The prisoners, who were handsomely attired, had small sums of money concealed in their boots, hats and other parts of their clothing, and even in their matchboxes.

The late Judge Nathan Clifford represented the York district of Maine as a member of the national democratic convention at Baltimore, in May, 1844, at which time there was a warm contest for the presidential nomination between the friends of Mr. Van Buren and Gen. Cass. Judge Clifford was a warm supporter of the former, but when it became evident that neither of them could be nominated he gave his support to James K. Polk, and it is said was largely instrumental in securing the latter's nomination.

Following is the capacity of the principal hotels at Old Orchard beach: Old Orchard house, 500; Ocean house, 300; Sea Shore house, 150; St. Cloud, 150; Fiske, 110; Blanchard, including three cottages, 250; Hotel Brunswick, 125; Lawrence, 150; Irving, 75; Belmont, 80; Central, 150; Aldine, 75. There are a dozen or more small houses that are not included in this list, bringing the accommodating capacity up to about 3000; it is said, however, that not more than half that number have been at Old Orchard at any one time this summer.

The first fare of Block island mackerel, the present season, arrived at Gloucester, Mass., on Monday, July 25th, by the schooner Edward E. Webster, Captain Solomon Jacobs, which vessel carried in 170 barrels of nice fish, which were sold for $7 5 per barrel. The Webster also took in about ninety barrels of shore mackerel, caught off Eastern point, which sold for $5.50 per barrel. The net stock of the trip was about $3000, giving an average of $90 per share to the crew. Captain Jacobs' total stock this year, up to that date, was over $11,000, making him high line of the Gloucester fleet so far. The schooner John S. Presson, Captain Hardy, also took in 280 barrels of Block island mackerel on Tuesday, the 26th; she stocked about $4500, the best single trip of the season, the crew sharing about $125 each; she was out seventeen days.

—At a point in Peoria, Ill., where a water pipe underlaid a gas pipe, the water pipe burst the other day and the escaping water boiled the sharp sand against the gas pipe until it actually wore a hole in it, and then the water entered the gas pipe and ran over the city—at least so a local paper says.

Portsmouth, N. H.

New Hampshire Items.

At a meeting of the governor and council, July 27th, Hon. William L. Foster was appointed a trustee of the state library. A petition with a large number of signatures was received, asking for the appointment of John C. Tasker of Dover as fish commissioner.

It is reported from Contoocook that property to the amount of least $15,000 was destroyed in that vicinity by the heavy thunder storms of July 25th and 26th, excluding all losses of which the reports are too vague to form a reliable estimate.

Naval Affairs.

Cadet Midshipmen White, Stewart, Matthews, Hayton, Clark, Miller and Wilson have been ordered to the United States steamer Tennessee at New London.

The Powhatan has left Boston for Newport, R. I., where she arrived July 27th.

The Portsmouth has left Boston for Portland.

Petitions to the Legislature.

The total signatures for and against the passage of the general railroad law now aggregate more than one-fourth as much as the total vote of the state at the last election. There are in favor of the law 165 petitions, bearing 14,239 names; against it, 176 with 12,839 names. This leaves a balance in favor of the law of 1400 names, which is further reduced to 1170 by those persons who have withdrawn their signatures in favor, and enrolled them against the law. In addition to these there are about two hundred more petitions and remonstrances relating to the Dover & Winnepiseogee railroad, the marriage and divorce law, to temperance and to miscellaneous matters, bearing in all some 14,000 names. This would make for the session thus far nearly 550 petitions and remonstrances, with over 42,000 names. Who says that the right of petition isn't exercised in New Hampshire?

Mr. Conkling, next to P. T. Barnum, appears to have become the best advertised man in the country.

Mr. J. W. Simonton, the general agent of the New York Associated Press, some time since tendered his resignation, owing to ill health and the pressure of private interests. The association endeavored to induce him to retain his position. Mr. Simonton, however, insisted upon the acceptance of the resignation. Mr. J. C. Hueston, at present the Associated Press agent in London, has been chosen as Mr. Simonton's successor.

Experience taught Me!

And my money paid for it. After having liver complaint four years, and spending money on nostrums and doctors who didn't help me, I tried Sulphur Bitters. Six bottles cured me. I shall always use them.—Mullwright.

The Chinese students who are to leave America number one hundred, and they will go to France, England and Germany.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

A crazy man was arrested in Albany, N. Y., July 27th, as he proposed to go gunning for Governor Cornell.

Senator Conkling it is announced recently told a reporter that he had retired from politics forever, and would not accept the position of justice of the supreme court. He will devote his attention to his law business.

"A Girl's Choice."

It was in a drug store of course. All interesting incidents occur in drug stores, —that is, nearly all. She was pretty, with blue eyes and golden hair, one of those kind of beauties the poet would have called an "angel," but for the fact that a colony of pimples on her fair frontis-piece precluded all thought of a celestial being. Bowing timidly to the handsome clerk, she asked for "Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases," and upon receiving it vanished like the morning dew before the summer sun.

Daily Chronicle.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

Houghton, Mifflin & Co., are preparing a new edition of "The History of Dartmouth College," which will contain an appendix by the author, Mr. Baxter P. Smith, of Brookline, describing the administration of President Bartlett. Mr. Smith is also collecting materials for a work upon "The Battle of Antietam," which will contain memorials of the more prominent soldiers who lost their lives there.

"Harper's Young People" of August 2d contains a parlor drama for young people, entitled "Mere Michel and Her Cat." It is a dramatization by Miss Olivia Lovell of a clever story which Mr. T. B. Aldrich translated from the French, and published in "St. Nicholas" with the title "Cat and Countess." The little drama has been given in children's theatricals with great success, and Mr. Aldrich commends the skill with which it has been adapted from his translation

"Synnove Solbakken: by Bjornstjerne Bjornson." Translated from the Norse by Rasmus B. Anderson. 16mo, pp. 197 Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston.

This edition of Bjornson's works is published by the Boston firm by special arrangement with the author, who has designated Prof. Anderson as his American translator, co-operates with him, and revises each work before its translation, so that the personal attention of the author is given to this edition. The volume contains a brief, interesting sketch of Bjornson's birth, education and literary progress.

The story of Synnove Solbakken is the recital of the love of a Norwegian girl, Synnove, the "Solbakken" meaning the resident of a sunny hill. There is nothing contained in the recital which partakes in any degree of the ingredients of the modern English novel. It is the plainly drawn picture of the simple life of the people whose national songs Bjornson has written, and among whom he has lived and has become distinguished as a novelist, poet, orator and contributor to the daily press, as well as a dramatist. In the story before us, we do not leave heroine and her lover dwell, but are the secluded valley in which the regaled throughout with the incidents of country life in this land of toil, peopled only by those in the humbler stations of society. The course of love runs not smoothly over the rugged paths and up the steep hill sides, and some of the incidents are perhaps not to the taste of the average novel reader; but the writer shows his appreciation of the nobility of womankind in this, his first story, written in 1857, when he had attained the age of twenty-five years. At its appearance it created a profound impression, and the author at once took a high rank in literary celebrity.

The characters in the work are all strong. There are no insignificant personages brought to our view, and the utterances of each give doubtless a fair illustration of the salient points in the character of there sturdy people.

The book will be followed by other stories of the gifted author, whose profile makes the frontispiece of the volume. M. Goodrich has it for sale.

The numbers of the Living Age dated July 16th, July 23d and July 30th, contain articles on The Unity of Nature, "Contemporary;" The Early Life of Thomas Carlyle, by J. A. Froude, and Intelligence of Ants, "Nineteenth Century;" Hindu Households, "Fortnightly;" A Talk about Odes, and Junis, "Blackwood;" In Umbria, Consolations, and The Late Governor of Madras, "Fraser;" Personal Reminiscences of Lord Stratford and the Crimean War, and Richelieu, "Temple Bar;" Among the Dictionaries, "Cornhill;" Sir Walter Scott and his Mother, "Good Words;" Timoleon, "Macmillan;" The Arabs of the Desert, and the Small Squire of a Century Since, "Spectator;" A Squire's Note-Book in the Seventeenth Century, "Saturday Review," Mere Chatter, How She told a Lie, (by the author of "John Halifax, Gentleman,") My Poor Little Kite, Cousin Felix, a continuation of The Frere's, the conclusion of The Shut-up Houses, and the usual amount of poetry. For fifty-two numbers of sixty-four large pages each (or more than 3,300 pages a year,) the subscription price ($8) is low; while for $10.50 the publishers offer to send any one of the American $4 monthlies or weeklies with the Living Age for a year, both postpaid. Littell & Co., Boston, are the publishers.

A Fool Once More.

"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her, she is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Such folly pays."—H. W., Detroit, Mich.—Free Press.

"The Domestic Tyrant."

"The average man," quote Mrs. Partington, "is a weak and irritable domestic tyrant," and Mrs. P. is correct. Tyrannical to a fault the average man will enter the blissful paradise of a happy home, scratch himself in fiendish glee, send the baby into convulsions, and for what? Why, because he has the itching piles, and is too mean to buy Swayne's Ointment, which is an infallible cure for the worst cases of that annoying complaint.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

SATURDAY, JULY 29. 1881.

The Lake Shore Railroad.

One of the most vigorous railroad contests ever experienced in the legislative history of the state of New Hampshire, was terminated on Tuesday afternoon by the adoption of a resolution to indefinitely postpone the consideration of an act authorizing the extension of the Dover & Winnepiseogee railroad by the House of Representatives. The vote on this question was 186 yeas and 100 nays, showing a majority sufficiently large to demonstrate that the sentiment of the state is pronounced against the bill in the shape in which it was presented by its friends for legislative sanction.

The question as originally submitted was not unattractive especially to the people of this section, who are always ready to listen to any plan that may be proposed to restore Portsmouth to its former glory of commercial importance. The hearing before the railroad committee of the house occupied about eight weeks and was exhaustive in its character. During that hearing all facts that related to either side of the issue were fully explained and thoroughly demonstrated. The result of that investigation was that a large majority of the railroad committee united in reporting a resolution that the bill be indefinitely postponed, and the question before the house was on the adoption of that resolution.

On this question the Portsmouth delegation were anxious to vote in the manner which would best subserve the interests of this city without any reference to the special desires of any of the different railroad corporations which entered into the contest. The Lake Shore managers assured our people that from the passage of this charter dated the future prosperity of Portsmouth. They said that they would secure at least half the business of the Boston & Maine railroad and bring it down over the Portsmouth & Dover and through to Boston via the Eastern. On the other hand they told the people of Belknap and Grafton counties that they would soon take half of the business of the Eastern railroad up over the Lake Shore, and thence into the Boston, Concord & Montreal, and thus increase the business of the latter road and enhance its value. And thus, with a view to conforming them to some practicable plan upon which Portsmouth could reasonably hope to receive some benefit from the new railroad—the citizens of Portsmouth through their committee submitted to Mr. Furber of the Boston & Maine road, (who has been the man at the wheel on the part of the applicants,) an amendment providing for our interests which they asked to have reported with the bill, which should then receive the support of the Portsmouth delegation.

This amendment provided that a part of the business should come down through Portsmouth, instead of its all going to Boston by way of Dover. This amendment Mr. Furber utterly refused to allow. The question then resolved itself into this. Inasmuch as Portsmouth could not derive any benefit from the new road, what harm, if any, was likely to result from it. A clause in the bill provided that the Boston & Maine should connect with any railroad at Rochester. This was a shaft levelled directly at the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway railroad. If the bill passed, the Boston & Maine would soon take a large share of the business that comes down over the Conway road and carry it through to Boston over their iron, and this apparently innocent clause in the charter, would result in materially crippling the Eastern railroad to the aggrandizement of the Boston & Maine. Now the welfare of the Eastern railroad is to some extent the welfare of Portsmouth. The city holds $350,000 of Portsmouth & Dover stock. The citizens and savings banks hold $100,000 of Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway bonds—aside from the fact that we consider the Eastern railroad in a certain sense our road—that is, it is our outlet, and expends a considerable sum of money here each year, and the Boston & Maine is, and always has been a rival corporation, and as appeared in the hearing before the railroad committee, had been antagonistic to Portsmouth interests. Why then should Portsmouth assist in placing in the hands of the Boston & Maine railroad a cudgel wherewith to whack the Eastern? This was the view taken by the committee of citizens and by the delegation, and were the grounds upon which, with a single exception the Portsmouth delegation was a unit in favor of the resolution to indefinitely postpone. This result was attained after mature deliberation upon the several aspects of the question, and was as the delegation honestly believe in the best interests of their constituents.

News and Notes.

The competing lines of the great Western railroad routes are cutting each other in their passenger rates without regard to their pecuniary interests. Five dollars from Boston to Chicago is now advertised. The purchaser of a ticket pays fifteen dollars for it at the office in Boston, receiving a coupon check for ten dollars, which be can get cashed in Chicago. This arrangement has something to do with continuous through travel.

A smart girl lives in Augusta, Me. She is the sixteen-years-old daughter of Captain Charles H. Beck, who owns a farm on Western avenue. During the past season the young lady has assisted her father in the hay-field, driving a two-horse mowing-machine and horse-rake. After the day's work is done, she sits down in the parlor and plays the piano with finish and skill.

A new torpedo boat, which works successfully under water, has been built in New York, by an inventor named Holland, who is believed to be a Fenian. The boat is thirty-one feet long, six feet in diameter, cigar shaped, driven by a propeller, and makes six miles an hour under water. She was built by the Delamater iron works and is now at Bergen's wharf, Jersey City. Everything in connection with her has been kept secret, but it has been ascertained that two wealthy Irishmen of Philadelphia are the owners.

An East Bridgeport (Conn.) man is convinced that a dream can come true. The other day, while at a picnic at High Rock, he lost papers representing a value of $8000. During the following night he dreamed three times in succession that he saw them lying in a certain place on the railroad track. He went to the place the next morning, and to his astonishment found the papers just as he had seen them in his dream.

Sitting Bull.

A correspondent of the New York Herald thus describes Sitting Bull as he now is: "An ordinary specimen of his race—a swarthy buck a little above the medium height, slightly stooped (but not stupid,) and sadly lacking a commanding or impressive presence. His appearance disappoints one. He neither looks the typical brave of whom Fenimore Cooper wrote, nor has he the cut throat demeanor ascribed to him by the newspapers. The Indian dash and vim are wanting, although these are attributes of half a dozen of his counselors compared with whom the wily savage does not appear to advantage. He has something of a stolid look, yet his countenance is frank and peaceful. What he suffers in looks, however, he more than counterbalances by his other qualities—his tact, his what we Yankees call cuteness. These make him the master mind of the camp, whose sovereignty none dare dispute. True it is that many of his followers have disagreed with him, but their difficulties did not disturb the serenity of the camp; he curbed the disturbing spirit, or the discontented fled for other fields instanter. His following has decreased gradually and steadily, until now but a handful of warriors and a horde of squaws and pappooses and old men remain. But of these he is king—his word is law."

BURNETT'S COCOAINE will keep the hair in a strong and healthy condition by stimulating the roots of the hair and restoring the natural action upon which its growth depends. AROUND HOME.

Rev. Mr. DeNormandie and family are stopping at Rock Cottage, Newcastle.

Seventy barrels of mackerel were taken from the weirs off Fort McClary, Friday morning.

The board of inspectors of checklists will be in session to-day at the city rooms, to correct the list of voters,—their last meeting before election day.

Members of the police force with invited guests to the number of about thirty chowdered at Pocahontas point on Thursday. They report a splendid time.

The fishing schooners Mayor Jones, Helen F. Tredick, Julia A., Norma, Clara Bella, and Addie & Hattie, of this port, were lying in Biddeford pool on Thursday and Friday, weather bound, all well.

A gentleman of this city having business at Gerrish's island one day this week, and not being able to manage a boat, hired one of Major Urch's bicycles, and made the run to the Burnham farm in twenty-five minutes.

A game of base ball was played at the Plains on Thursday afternoon last between the Farragut club of Rye beach and a picked nine of this city, resulting in a victory for the Rye beach club in seven innings, by a score of fourteen to four.

Even a city ordinance will not put brains in a fool. In spite of all the care taken to enforce the law against the use of fire-arms on the Fourth of July in Philadelphia, a man has died there of lockjaw, caused by injuries received in handling a toy pistol.

Major Urch made a run to the lower harbor on one of his marine bicycles, Friday afternoon, and circumnavigated the U. S. S. Portsmouth at anchor there, attracting much attention from the ship's company, who had never seen such a sea-monster before.

The Madison Square Theatre Co., of New York, in "Haze] Kirke," has just completed one of the most successful seasons ever known on the Pacific coast, the profits amountsng to $17,000. This play will figure among the early attractions in Portsmouth the coming season.

The Boston Traveller of July 28th says: "Francis Tobey attempted to board a train on the Third avenue elevated road, New York, on Wednesday, after it had started. He struck the railing and fell into the street. He was taken to the hospital, where he died. He has a sister, Mrs. Charles J. Barclay, at the Portsmouth navy yard."

Quite a number of Houghton, Mifflin & Co.'s publications are sold on the trains of the Eastern railroad. As this firm publish only good books, the opportunity to purchase their volumes by travellers is a great improvement over the offering for sale of much of the worthless "railroad literature" which has in times past been placed before the public, to the great annoyance of passengers over a route which carries so many persons who have correct taste in the matter of reading.

The United States training-ship Portsmouth, bound from Boston to Portland, put into the lower harbor on Thursday, and remained at her anchor all day Friday on account of fog and head winds. Target practice with small arms was going on a good part of the day Friday, the target being set on the water about two hundred yards seaward of the ship, the riflemen firing over the taffrail. As the threatening weather kept nearly all the vessels and small boats at their moorings until late in the day, there was nothing to interfere with this exercise.

Farmers are anathematizing the dog-star Sirius whose ascendancy is supposed to be responsible for this dog-day weather. It is certainly serious for the haymakers.

The committee on military affairs from the legislature are to visit this city on Wednesday next for the purpose of inspecting the condition of the state arsenal on South street.

A special meeting of Rockingham Lodge, No. 37, I. O. G. T., will be held at their hall this evening at eight o'clock. Business of special importance will come before the meeting.

During the severe thunder storm on Monday night of this week, the barn of Reuben M. Burley in Newmarket was struck by lightning and damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars.

Star Island, Isles of Shoals, was visited by a severe hail storm on Tuesday evening, hail stones falling on the deck of the steamer Appledore to the depth of an inch, while at Appldeore island not a stone was to be seen. So says the Newburyport Herald.

The bakery of J. W. Sowersby on Water street, which was damaged by fire and water on Monday evening of this week, is being repaired and cleansed for a renewal of business. Mr. Sowersby is quite sure that the fire was the work of an incendiary, although he cannot imagine who the scoundrel was that thus wantonly fired his property.

A few days since a very handsome diary was picked up on Market square, evidently the property of some young man, and is closely written down to July 20th, with all sorts of things, except the name of the owner thereof. On Jan. 9th, there is written diagonally across the page of that date, "I have shaved off my mustache, but have left the side lights." Again on May 2nd, "The boss has come down fifty cents, and I went to Joe Bell's this evening and had a stew." The owner of the aforesaid diary can have it on calling at this office and proving property.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUSES.

The ward caucuses of the republicans were held on Friday evening, when candidates to be supported at the polls on Tuesday, Aug. 2d, were nominated as follows:

WARD ONE.

Aldermen—William F. Noyes, George T. Vaughan, William R. Martin.

Common Councilmen — George W. Frost, Michael E. Long, Moses Plumer, William C. Robinson, Willard J. Sampson, Charles H. Clough.

Assessors of Taxes—George W. Pendexter, Joseph H. Berry, Robert King.

Overseer of the Poor—Henry M. Clark.

WARD TWO.

Aldermen—John H. Slater, Thomas E. Call, Alfred Stavers.

Common Councilmen — Charles F. Shillaber, Albert C. Anderson, Edwin Underhill, Samuel M. Joy, James M. Jarvis, G. Ralph Laighton.

Assessors of Taxes — Samuel Adams, Moses Yeaton, Joseph H. Gardiner.

Overseer of the Poor — Samuel S. Green.

[G. Ralph Laighton declining to be a candidate, the name of Albert W. Parsons was substituted for his by the ward committee, who were empowered by the caucus to fill any vacancies; and Benj. F. Webster was nominated for assessor of taxes in place of Samuel Adams, declined.]

WARD THREE.

Alderman—Charles H. Hayes.

Common Councilmen—John A. Cate, Horace D. Whidden.

Assessor of Taxes—Charles T. Wiggin.

WARD FOUR.

Aldermen—William H. Rollins, Joshua Stackpole.

Common Councilmen — George M. Ayers, John A. Yeaton, Langdon M. Perkins, Albert R. Junkins.

Assessors of Taxes—John Nutter, Oliver H. Locke.

Overseer of the Poor — Lafayette V. Newell.

Ward Committee, ward three: Frank Cole, (chairman,) John Turner, (secretary,) Albert C. Warburton, Joseph O. Ham, Edward W. Clough, James Stearns, George B. Foss, Ezekiel Burns.

THE NEXT MAYOR.

Commenting on the nomination of Mayor Sise for a fourth term by the republicans, the Times of the 28th inst. says:

All people know that he has been, during his three terms, in most instances, wholly for Wm. H. Sise, and when not for that personage, it was for the republican ring which has elected him. In his official duties, he has done nothing which has not been for his own aggrandizement, and to increase his own popularity. He gives the laboring man work, only as a bid for that man's vote. He patronizes them only when there is policy in it. This, we believe, the most of them have found out, and have fathomed the depth of his motives. At the same time it must be admitted that the interests of the city have been as well cared for as could be expected from one connected with the political ring which controls not only this city but the state. As good or better men have been dropped at the end of a second term, and we see no reason why the present incumbent should be elected for a fourth term. There certainly are men who would make just as good a mayor as William H. Sise, and who have never yet held the office.

If, as the Times asserts, "the interests of the city have been as well cared for" by Mayor Sise as they would be by any republican—for that is what its assertion amounts to—the people are not particularly interested as to the motives which have actuated him. Col. Sise has spared neither time nor trouble in looking after the city's interests, and we do not believe he has made a dollar out of his three years' incumbency. His private business has never been allowed to stand in the way of any official duty, and his prompt personal attention has been given to every matter brought to his notice.

As to his having been elected by a "republican ring," the statement is simply absurd. The democratic voters are well aware, and openly say, that their leaders last year caused the nomination of a candidate by their party with the purpose that he should be defeated, and made not the slightest effort to secure his election. The Times can "see no reason" for Col. Sise's election for a fourth term; one reason for it is that he is apparently satisfactory to all the republicans, and to the democratic leaders as well. Our neighbor must possess his soul in patience; Col. Sise is not only to be mayor until August, 1882, but for the following year also, when "the sons" will come home.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

The democratic caucuses in wards one and three were held on Friday evening. In ward one the following-named gentlemen were nominated as candidates to be supported at the polls on August 2d:

Aldermen—William Ward, Marcellus Eldredge, Frederick E. Potter.

Common Councilmen—Sewell W. Webber, Ozro J. Hobbs, Allison S. Littlefield, Dennis J. Lynch, John T. Shea, Alexander G. Cobb.

Assessors of Taxes—Moses H. Goodrich, Solomon Seymour, Samuel P. Treadwell.

Overseer of the Poor—Ira C. Seymour.

GREENBACK CAUCUS.

The greenback caucus for the nomination of city officers was held on Friday evening, and the following candidates selected:

Mayor—Stewart A. Sheldon.

Aldermen—ward one, Marcus M. Collis, Benjamin Cheever, Ernest S. Johnson; ward two, Edward J. Moulton, William Plaisted, John E. Roberts; ward three, James M. Goodrich; ward four, Walter T. Brooks, Lindell A. Johnson.

The caucus then adjourned to meet on Monday evening at No. 61 State street, to complete the ticket.

Preserving Fish.

Since the first of January a company in this city has been quietly engaged in shipping fresh fish to various Canadian cities, without packing with ice. These fish have arrived in first-class condition, and have sold at such prices as will make the business of shipping fish prepared in this manner, from the Atlantic coast to western and Canadian cities, a very remunerative one. The fish are immersed in a liquid for a short time, and a layer of them placed loosely in a box. Then there is a tier of laths placed above them, and then another layer of fish, and so on, until the box is filled. The expense by this method is not more than one-quarter cent per pound, and by this means the cost and transportation of the ice in which the fish is usually packed is saved, and as the box can now be entirely filled with fish, while before at least one-quarter of the space was reservedfor ice, a considerable gain is also made in this manner.

A profitable and interesting business is also being done in the buying of red codfish and rusty mackerel, and, after immersion in this liquid, the codfish are cleared of the fungus growth, which it is claimed causes the redness, and the mackerel are thoroughly cleansed of the rust. They are sold at a splendid advance over what was paid for them. This redness, or rustiness, when once started in a mess of fish, spreads rapidly, and heretofore practically ruined them, as they were rendered unfit for anything but fertilizers; but after being subjected to this treatment they are sold for as high a price as they would have been had they not become red or rusty.

Experiments are now being made in the preservation of fruit, with fair prospects of success, and if it is successful a sight may be witnessed in Boston never seen before—that is, tropical fruit which was entirely ripe when picked. As is well known tropical fruit is now picked when green, and a large quantity is lost in the passage to our markets, and if this loss could be avoided in any manner it would certainly prove a great advantage. —Boston Commercial Bulletin.

—It is told that a few days ago a freight engineer on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad had a "falling out" with his sweetheart, who lives near Bloomington, and that the damsel in revenge oiled the rails on the track in front of her swain's train which was struggling up a seventeen-mile grade. It is said to have taken the locomotive proper, the "helper," and several tons of sand to overcome the effects of the girl's stratagem. And he wasn't a bit grateful to the girl for smoothing his way for him.

Albert Rand, leaves Jones' wharf, near the foot of Deer street, for these favorite and widely known ocean resorts, daily, (Sundays excepted,) at 11 o'clock A. M., and six o'clock P. M. Returning, leaves the Islands in season to connect with the morning and evening trains on the Eastern railroad for Boston and the west. GRIEF.

Excessive anxiety, or prolonged study, will produce infirmity in the Nervous System, in proportion as the strength of that system is expended upon the mind in troubled thought, so are the organs of digestion, assimilation and nutrition, rendered inactive and sluggish in proportion as the system becomes infirm. Every individual has some one organ weaker than the rest, and this is always the first to suffer during nervous prostration; for example, afflicting nervous sensitiveness causes total suspension of the muscular action of the heart, producing sudden hemorrhage and death. No doubt any longer remains of the practibility of restoring the nervous system, and through the nerves the muscles of the impaired organs. Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites has been proved to possess such power in numerous instances. It will impart strength to overcome trouble and affliction. Persons who are accustomed to looked upon the dark side, and who see no pleasure in living, on using this Syrup soon learn to value and enjoy life, and those who study deeply during long hours, will find in the Syrup a promoter of the power of endurance in the brain.

There is no doubt of this fact, that an impaired Nervous System causes Consumption, Neuralgia, Bronchitis, Dyspepsia, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Heart Disease, and a host of others. Fellows' Hypophosphites, which effectually cures Nervous debility, should cure these diseases also. "Remove the cause and the complaint will cease."

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., Feb. 23d, 1880.

JAMES I. FELLOWS, ST. JOHN, N. B.

Dear Sir: I have been prescribing your Hypophosphites for several years, both in Canada and the United States, but more particularly at this famous resort for invalids, where thousands annually congregate. For those in whom the brain and nervous System has been exhausted from excess or overwork, I have found no combination of remedies so prompt and efficacious in restoring vital forces. I hope that every person needing relief will avail themselves of so valuable a preparation. Respectfully,

ALEX McMASTER, M. D.

Of the different summer beverages manufactured at this establishment it is hardly necessary to say a single word. They have become popular "on their own merits," and can be found in many private families and on sale in every hotel, saloon and restaurant in this locality.

The Lagers bottled by me are from the best breweries in the country, and it is safe to say that there is no better in the world.

Infernal Machines.

It is stated that, in accordance with instructions from Secretary Windom, the chiefs of the several divisions of the treasury department having charge of customs, commerce and navigation, have hunted up the laws bearing on this subject, and the collector of customs at Boston, from which port the infernal machines and combustibles are said to have been taken, will be instructed carefully to examine manifests of the cargoes of the two vessels that are supposed to have carried to Liverpool the dangerous materials referred to. The law requires that all manifests shall contain a full, just and true account of all articles shipped on the vessel applying for clearance papers. It is believed that, by this proposed examination of the manifests of the two vessels that carried the infernal machines, a clue may be obtained that will lead to the apprehension and punishment of the guilty persons.

The customs officials at Cork and Queenstown, Ireland, have been ordered to use much caution in regard to the importation of suspicious-looking parcels. Those who have been prominent among the Fenians at Cork and who are men of advanced political views utterly discard the notion that the infernal machines which arrived at Liverpool were forwarded by any section of Fenians, and they strongly reprobate any resort to such abominable stratagems for redress of Irish wrongs.

Where is Beecher's Money.

The newspaper gossips of New York are wondering what Henry Ward Beecher has done with his money. At one time he was in receipt of $20,000 from his church, $10,000 from his newspaper, $20,000 from his lecturing, and $10,000 from marriage fees, literary works and his books, making a total of $60,000 a year. Yet Beecher never had any money to spare. His household was modest, not expensive; his wife was apparently not extravagant; he gave nothing that was known to charity, and yet he was always impecunious. When he wanted to help Tilton he gave a mortgage upon his house, furniture and buildings, and now he has sold his house and furniture and gone to live with a married son. He said he did this because the young birds had all grown up and flown out of the nest, and yet it was a marvel that in his old age he should leave his comfortable home upon the heights of Brooklyn, and go into narrow quarters as a boarder. He spoke with a sigh and very evident regret at the breaking up of his old home, and the common opinion is that it is lack of money which compels it. The whole thing has a queer look, and the question which agitates newspaper men is, where has all the money he has had in the last quarter of a century, amounting to millions, gone to? That there is a mystery, perhaps a mystery of charity, connected with the man's life and his daily expense, no one can doubt.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptoms indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

There are twenty-nine potteries in Trenton, N. J, with an aggregate capital of $1,900,000. Nearly 3000 hands are employed, and the annual value of the products is about $2,000,000.

Honored and Blest.

When a board of eminent physicians and chemists announced the discovery that by combining some well known valuable remedies, the most wonderful medicine was produced, which would cure such a wide range of diseases that most all other remedies could be dispensed with, many were skeptical; but proof of its merits by actual trial has dispelled all doubt, and to-day the discoverers of that great medicine, Hop Bitters, are honored and blessed by all as benefactors.—Democrat.

William R. Dickinson and Juel Van Arsdalen, two lawyers, were convicted at Philadelphia, July 27th, of forging the will of Robert Whittaker, by which it was proposed to divert an estate valued at $800,000 to their own ends. Sentence deferred.

"A Girl's Choice."

It was in a drug store of course. All interesting incidents occur in drug stores, —that is, nearly all. She was pretty, with blue eyes and golden hair, one of those kind of beauties the poet would have called an "angel," but for the fact that a colony of pimples on her fair fronts-piece precluded all thought of a celestial being. Bowing timidly to the handsome clerk, she asked for "Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases," and upon receiving it vanished like the morning dew before the summer sun.

A $10.00 Bible Prize.

The publishers of Rutledge's Monthly in the prize puzzle department of their Monthly for August make the following offer:

To the person telling us which is the longest chapter in the Bible by August 10th, 1881, we will give $10.00 in gold as a prize. The money will be forwarded to the winner August 15th, 1881. Those who try for the prize must send twenty cents with their answer, for which they will receive the September number of the Monthly, an excellent Magazine of thirty-two pages, in which will be published the name and address of the winner of the prize, with the correct answer thereto. The Glass-Snake.

Eli Perkins tells this terrific snake yarn: Along the Upper Brazos and in western Texas, where flourish the horned frog, is the strangest snake known to naturalists. He is sometimes called the glass-snake. He is from two to four feet long, with a striped back. He is not poisonous. His way of defending himself when attacked by a powerful foe is similar to that of the 'possum or skunk. Instead of fighting back, he breaks into a dozen pieces, and every piece, distinct in itself, lies apparently dead on the ground. Sometimes the pieces are a foot apart. When the foe disappears, the pieces gradually come together, unite into one snake and crawl off. The naturalist will naturally ask if the pieces are entirely separated. I answer, they are. No film or tendon holds them together. You can chop the ground with an ax between the pieces. Mr. H. Edwards, whose post-office address is Montgomery, Alabama, showed me one of these snakes at Waco. He still has it alive, and will prove with the living snake, or by answering a letter from any naturalist, the accuracy of this story.

The glass-snake which Mr. Edwards showed me had lost the tip of its tail. When I asked the owner how that happened, he said:

"The snake went to pieces one day, and before it got together, a hungry king-snake, which I still have, swallowed the tail."

Mr. Edwards has several king-snakes. Like the glass-snake, they are not poisonous. Still, they kill the largest snake in the bottoms. They make a spring at a large snake or rabbit, coil instantly around its neck and strangle it—choke it to death. A king-snake five feet long will strangle a dog or rattle-snake. The only snake able to defend itself against the king-snake is the glass-snake. When the king-snake springs at the glass-snake, the glass-snake breaks into pieces, and its foe might just as well try to strangle a basket of clothes-pins or a pailful of sardines.

—Queen Victoria went through a pleasant little ceremony lately when the boys of Christ's Hospital, of the foundation of King Charles II., went to Windsor to exhibit to her their drawings and charts. The young fellows had luncheon in the dining room, and then each of the forty was formally presented to the Queen. After that each boy in succession laid his drawings and charts before her for inspection, and the kindly lady selected four which especially pleased her.

What is the Use!

Of buying worthless medicines, and spending money on quack doctors whose only idea is to gull the public. Is it not better to buy a reliable medicine like Sulphur Bitters? I think so, as they cured me of catarrh after suffering three years. —J. P. Clark, Manchester.

Charles Parker, the guide who assaulted Mrs. George Bull while conveying her from Forked lake to Long lake, in the Adirondacks, has been arrested in Kingston, Ont.

Adamson's Botanic Balsam has gained a reputation which places it in the front rank of curative agents. It has been in the market but about nine years. It is now recommended by the best physicians because it cures coughs and colds every time. Price, 35 cts.

A telegram from East London, Cape of Good Hope, states that a terrific gale has occurred there, during which three vessels were wrecked and thirty persons were drowned.

When pangs the mortals flesh assail,
And give a bitterness to life,
Making the cheek with anguish pale,
Amid the fierce internal strife;
Then Sanford's Ginger soothes the pain,
And smiling Health looks up again.

The American consul at Aix La Chapelle writes that as a result of the late enormous importations of wheat from America, pure wheat bread, which two years ago was considered a luxury in the home of the German laborer, has now become an article of every day food.

Big Results from Little Causes.

"Do you know?" remarked a man to his friend on Chestnut street, a day or two since, "I believe both Conkling and Platt had a bad case of skin disease when they resigned!" "What makes you think so?" inquired the listener in astonishment. "Well, you see they acted in such an eruptive manner—so rash—ly as it were. Save?" "Oh! yes, I save," replied the other, "they were boil—ing over and merely resigned to humor themselves, I suppose." If such be the case, the National difficulty might have been averted by applying Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

MONDAY, AUGUST 1, 1881.

New Hampshire Legislature.

In the house on the 29th a general law providing for the erecting of telegraph and telephone poles and wires, and similar structures for electric lighting, was passed; also an act incorporating the New Hampshire association of chiropodists, and an act incorporating the Portsmouth Electric Light company.

The referee bill, which has passed the house, makes it the duty of the judges of the supreme court to sit as referees at the close of each term, after the dismission of the juries, without expense to parties who wish to avail themselves of the opportunity. For this extra work the salaries of the judges have been increased $500 each.

Big Storm in Maine.

A tremendous hail-storm visited Yarmouth and Cumberland, Me., on Tuesday evening of last week, destroying the growing crops, stripping the trees of leaves and fruit, and breaking nearly ever pane of glass in the windows of houses exposed to the storm. A heavy wind accompanied the storm, and trees from a foot to eighteen inches in diameter were snapped off or torn up in the track of the cyclone, which was from a quarter to half a mile wide, and several miles in length. The aggregate damage is estimated at $30,000. Piles of hailstones were found next morning as high as a man's knee, the piles being circular in form, showing the rotary motion of the wind. On the piazza of the house of R. O. Conant, at Cumberland Foreside, the hail was two feet deep next morning, and 140 panes of glass in the house were broken. A train of cars from Portland over the Grand Trunk road was struck by the storm near Cumberland Foreside, and many of the car windows and the engine headlight broken; the engineer could not see the station, but felt his way along until he arrived there, where he stopped the train until the tornado was over. No lives were lost.

News and Notes.

On Monday of last week Walter H. Burr of Brewer, Me., aged seventeen years, disappeared. Friday his body was found in a haymow in the barn, partially decomposed, shot through the head. A pistol was found by his side, and it is supposed to be a case of suicide. He was a young man of unblemished character, and no cause is assigned for the act.

The body of the woman who drowned herself in Pawtucket canal at Lowell, Mass., Wednesday forenoon of last week, was recovered Friday night by grappling. It has been ascertained that her true name was Caroline Brand, that her parents reside in Gardiner, Me., and that the occasion of the act was an amour.

A despatch of July 28th from Lake City, Minn., says: "A gentleman just arrived from the Eau Galle woods says a party headed by Sheriff Doolittle came upon the Williams brothers, the desperadoes, on Wednesday, were fired upon by the latter, and the sheriff and two others killed. The desperadoes then escaped."

A despatch from Little Rock, Ark., says: United States Marshal Houghwout has captured Thomas Andrews, called the "King of the Moonshiners," who has been long operating in Baxter county, Ark. He once murdered a United States marshal in Tennessee. He is now in prison.

A bottle containing a slip of paper, on which the following is written with pencil, was picked up at Hunting point, near Hall's Harbor, King's county, Nova Scotia, July 24th: "Ship Edgar sprung aleak 15th day from Parrsboro'; crew all mutinous; captain shot twice; crew left in boat, short provisions and water, lon. forty west, lat. about forty-seven. S. and B. Dotty." The Edgar is a Yarmouth ship, and sailed from Parrsboro' in June last.

In Brooklyn, N. Y., July 28th, Mrs. Celia Schmidt, forty years old, and her daughter Eliza, sixteen years old, were both fatally burned by the explosion of a kerosene stove. Vapor at the wick of the stove ignited, causing the stove to burst, and burning oil was thrown upon their dresses.

At Berlin, Germany, July 28th, a duel was fought between a student and an officer of the army reserve. The weapons were pistols. The student was killed. This is the fifth affair of a similar character in Germany within about a fortnight.

Advices from Maple Springs, Minn., say that new life has been infused into the pursuit of the Williams brothers by the arrival of eight Indian scouts at Maple Springs, with thirty blood-hounds, employed by the United States government. The scouts are headed by Buffalo Charlie and Yellowstone Kelley. The trail of the outlaws is to be taken up in the vicinity of Doolittle's camp, and the scouts will go ahead with the bloodhounds, making such a hunt as was never witnessed in the big woods before.

The forces of the ameer of Afghanistan have been totally defeated by the army of Ayoob Khan. This overthrows the last remaining representative of British influence in that country.

David Franklin, a colored man of Westfield, Mass., was fatally stabbed by his wife July 29th, while he was beating her. Both were drunk.

Morris Monihan is under arrest for the murder at Wilbraham, Mass., of Reuben S. Caldwell, a town pauper aged seventy-three years, who was found dead on the 27th ult., having had his skull fractured and then been choked to death.

The Portland Press in a sarcastic mood, says: "Men get office in various ways, some by intrigue, some by favor, some by fawning and some by merit, very much as men get everything else in this world. Only those appointed by Ex-President Hayes and Ex-Secretary Schurz got their places solely on account of their virtues."

The Chicago, St. Louis & New Orleans railroad, 550 miles long, with a branch twenty-one miles long, and all the sidings in addition, was changed from broad gauge to the standard gauge on July 29th, work commencing at four o'clock in the morning. At three o'clock in the afternoon the trains were running on time. Three thousand men were employed at the work.

Mrs. Catharine Devine, a wealthy lady of Jersey City, N. J., on the 29th ult. fatally stabbed her son-in-law, John Sennett, a worthless fellow who has frequently annoyed her about making her will in his favor. The occasion of the assault was an unusually aggressive appeal, backed by threats of violence, on the part of Sennett.

Naval Affairs.

Cadet Engineers Gustave Kæmerling and O. B. Shallenberger are ordered to special duty connected with the Lancaster.

The Vandalia sailed from St. Johns, N. F., on the 30th ult., for Halifax.

Passed Asst. Paymaster J. C. Burnett and his clerk, Jesse Minshall, who are in arrest for irregularities which occurred while they were on duty with the ironclad fleet at City Point, Va., were transferred for trial last week from the receiving ship Franklin, at Norfolk, to the navy yard at Washington, in charge of Lieut. L. C. Webster, of the marine corps.

The naval advisory board it is said has decided to recommend the construction of three classes of fighting cruisers, to have a speed of thirteen, fourteen and fifteen knots an hour, the largest class to have a capacity of five thousand tons. They also recommend the construction of a number of gunboats for river service, of a capacity of seven hundred tons, speed ten knots an hour, and to carry one gun each. These are designed to serve on the Chinese and other coasts, for which there are no suitable boats now in the navy. The gunboats will be of wood, and the larger vessels of iron.

The U. S. S. Powhatan arrived at Newport, R. I., from Boston, at three o'clock in the morning, July 29th, and sailed again at ten for Norfolk, Va., having taken on board eighty-five officers and sailors from the training fleet for the purpose of taking them to Norfolk to bring the New Hampshire, now at that place, to Coaster's Harbor Island, Newport harbor.

The Razor Clam.

When the tide is out, one may find the razor-fish, so called because the shell resembles the handle of a razor. If laid hold of suddenly, the chances are that before he can be drawn out he will slip out of his shell, leaving that empty in the hand, while the "soul and essence" of him has gone down half a fathom into the sand. Yet he is not more slippery than any individual, who when pressed to do some magnanimous deed in behalf of the community, slips out of his shell, and losing the grip, you can no more find the soul and essence of him than you can find the soul of this razor-fish, which has gone deep into the muck and sand. In either instance, the empty shell is only the sign of the thing wanted.—The Californian.

—The whaling vessel Thomas Pope, having small-pox on board, was not allowed to enter Honolulu harbor, and there was no alternative but to go to the Arctic. Although, by all calculations, it was too early to enter Behring Strait, the vessel was apparently urged in that direction by the stern necessity of the case, and on arriving Capt. Millard found that the winter had been the most open ever known. The result was an easy entrance, long in advance of the rest of the fleet, and in a few days the Thomas Pope was on her way to Frisco with all the oil and bone she could carry, and in ample time to make a second Arctic cruise before winter. It is, indeed, an ill wind which blows no one any good.

THE CITY ELECTION.

The election for municipal officers takes place on Tuesday. Occuring at a period in dog days when zeal in politics does not seem to be as lively as it once appeared to be in March or November, nevertheless the duty of every citizen to see that the men of his choice receive his support at the polls is none the less imperative. It sometimes occurs that members of the republican party are inclined to regard the election of city officers as an unimportant affair, and do not attend the polls on election day, but we trust that on Tuesday no one will omit this duty.

In the larger cities the disinclination of many men of sound political views to become interested in municipal elections has resulted in the control of the government of these cities becoming gradually fixed in the hands of unscrupulous men, until their reckless waste of money has at last aroused citizens to a sense of their responsibility in this respect, but at a most costly experience. It is for such reasons as these that every republican, however important his other engagements, however disinclined he may be to take a part in politics oftener than once a year, should show his desire for good government, and his endorsement of sound measures in municipal affairs, by giving countenance to his political friends by a prompt discharge of his duties as a voter on Tuesday.

Men have been selected to serve in the city government who are of acknowledged fitness for the positions for which they have been nominated, and they deserve and should receive the compliment of a full vote. Let us show our desire to keep our city in the hands of well meaning men as to the direction of its municipal administration; and let no minor engagement, or disinclination to attend to this duty, or undorestimate of its importance, prevent any republican from a prompt discharge of his obligations at the polls on Tuesday.

DEMOCRATIC MAYORALTY CAUCUS.

The democratic mayoralty caucus was held in the court house on Saturday evening, the meeting being called to order by N. K. Raynes. David Urch was chosen chairman, and Howe Call secretary, with F. E. Potter and Simon H. Mills as tellers. A ballot was taken, the number of votes declared being 459, of which John S. Treat had 428, Daniel Littlefield twenty-eight, William W. Cotton two, and Charles H. Downs one. On motion of F. E. Potter the nomination was made unanimous. The following-named persons were appointed a committee to notify Mr. Treat of his nomination: Charles W. Stimson, ward one, Samuel R. Gardner, ward two, Edward D. Coffin, ward three, Henry F. Wendell, ward four. Mr. Treat returned with the committee, and in a brief speech accepted the nomination.

AROUND HOME.

The Rockingham county delegation in the legislature will visit the county farm at Brentwood on Friday next.

The coaches for the Wentworth and other sea-side resorts were heavily loaded with passengers on Saturday night.

The recent spell of dull weather was seriously injurious to the quality of whatever hay was in course of curing last week:

Messrs. George Herbert & Co. and C. Morris Tredick have connected the offices at their fish wharves with the central telephone station on Market square.

William H. Gardiner, Esq., who has been teaching in Centreville, Hickman county, Tenn., for several years past, arrived home on Saturday to make a brief visit before going to Illiopolis, Illinois, to take charge of a large graded school.

Rev. Charles F. Dole of Jamaica Plain, Mass., preached in the South Parish church in this city on Sunday. Rev. H. W. Bellows, D. D., left this city on Saturday in order to preach on Sunday at the Grove meeting at the Weirs; the previous announcement in a local paper that the doctor was to preach in the Unitarian church was incorrect.

Mr. John K. A. Hanson was on Friday and Saturday last circulating for signatures the following: "To his honor the mayor and the board of aldermen: The undersigned would respectfully enquire why the fountain that was recently voted for by your honorable body has not yet been placed in position?" He secured a good number of names to the paper.

The Great Council of the Improved Order of Red Men of New Hampshire was held at the wigwam of the Newichewannock Tribe in this city on Thursday of last week, Great Sachem William E. Littlefield presiding. Representatives from four tribes were present, from Manchester, Salmon Falls, Dover and this city. The business before the council was of an important nature, and it was in session during the whole day.

The schooner Gov. Goodwin, of this port, with 2200 quintals of codfish, arrived at St. Johns, Newfoundland, on the 30th ult., from the banks, and reports fish abundant, but that there have been many disasters from the overloading of dories. More than forty fishermen have lost their lives this season on the banks from this cause. There were fifteen Gloucester schooners at St. Johns awaiting squidding time to enable them to go to the banks.

Among the schooners detained in the lower harbor on Friday of last week by the fog and threatening weather were the schooners Free Wind, War Eagle, Loella, Golden Gate, Adeliza, H. Prescott, Senator and Billow, all light. The British hermaphrodite brig Eliza, from Cape Breton with a cargo of coal, was waiting a berth at the wharf before coming up to town; and a number of lumber-loaded coasters, bound west, were at anchor behind Clark's Island.

The hop at the Wentworth on Saturday evening was a very brilliant affair; a large party of ladies and gentlemen from this city were in attendance, and united with the guests in the enjoyment of the festivities. The large hall was filled with dancers, and the costumes of some of the ladies were quite elaborate. The music of course was the best to be heard at any seaside resort on the coast, and was of itself a most enjoyable feature of the pleasant occasion.

A couple of gentleman who were down river in a boat on Wednesday of last week were returning just at the time a blast was made on the Gangway rock. Seeing the sloop haul off from the platform and hang to her anchor, and hearing the order given to "fire," they watched the effect of the shot, and saw hundreds of small fishes flung into the air with the water thrown up by the explosion. Many of the fish were afterward seen floating on the surface, killed by the concussion.

C. Morris Tredick last Friday purchased 107 barrels of culled mackerel, taken in the weir at Fort McClary and the two at Gerrish's island. Fishermen inform us that large as the quantity of these fish is which has been reported as taken at the weirs within a week or two past, a much larger quantity of small, unmerchantable mackerel have been captured, only to be thrown overboard as food for sculpins and lobsters. It seems a great pity that so many thousands of small fish should be destroyed.

The republicans of ward one, being unable to find the key to the ward room on Friday evening, held their caucus in the room occupied by the fire extinguisher, on the lower floor. The business of the caucus was soon despatched, and the meeting adjourned some time before the hour set for the democratic caucus, which was eight o'clock. The democrats also failed to find the ward room key, and after some search were about to follow the example of the republicans and hold their caucus in the engine house, when Mr. Goodwin, ticket clerk at the Eastern railroad station, came along, and after trying a number of keys on his bunch found one that unlocked the door.

Mr. John E. Harmon, clerk at Lafayette V. Newell's store, met with a painful accident on Saturday. While engaged in putting ice in the ice-chest, a ladder on which he was standing slipped at the foot, throwing him heavily to the floor and breaking one of his wrists.

Secretary Hunt it is said has concluded to organize sub-commissions in each of the navy yards in the country to ascertain the amount of the old, worn-out material which has accumulated since the war, and which is of no use to the service. This will be done with the view of asking the authority of Congress to sell the old material, and clear it from the yards.

Considerable anxiety is felt for the safety of a carload of ordnance stores, including fuses, etc., shipped by the ordnance department at Washington a month ago for the Lancaster, of which no trace has been found. The car would add largely, it is thought, to any fire it might be involved in while switched off at some unknown station. Its contents would be safer to innocent travellers when in their proper place in the navy yard.

The sale on Saturday by William H. Hackett, as administrator of the estate of Chas. W. Berry, late of Rye, of deceased's interest in the land at Straw's point, attracted quite a number of people, many of whom were prominent owners of adjacent lots, such as Ex-Governors Straw and Cheney, Colonels Phinehas Adams B. F. Martin, of Manchester, Hon. Dexter Richards of Newport, Capt. Wm. Walker, Messrs. Lewis Downing, B. A. Kimball and others. The bidding was confined mostly to representatives of the heirs and of the Straw's point landholders. The statement of the condition of the estate, and the right of the Cable company and Life-saving service etc., to occupy the land on which their buildings stand, required a considerable time, when after a spirited bidding the property was knocked down to Gardner T. Locke, who represented the Berry heirs. The price realized was $1,600, for one undivided half part.

A special despatch to the Boston Sunday Globe says that Orris W. Farrar of that city is missing, as is also Miss Ida Littlefield, a girl twenty years old and of hitherto unblemished character, and that the pair have fled together. Farrar has been quite prominent in Dover. He was proprietor of a fancy-goods store, manufacturer of ladies' under-clothing, etc., and Miss Littlefield has been about a year in his employ. He has served several terms in the Dover common council as an independent democrat, and was again elected in November last from a strongly republican ward; he has for several years been a member of the board of instruction, and belongs to the Knights of Pythias, Templars, and Reform Templars, in the latter organization being a grand officer of the Supreme Lodge of the World; he has been very prominent as a temperance man, being secretary of the state temperance organization. Farrar's wife is the daughter of one of Dover's most respected citizens; the Littlefield girl is also of respectable parentage, and no breath of suspicion was ever uttered against her character until the rumor got abroad that she had disappeared with Farrar. Where the guilty couple are is unknown. It is said that Farrar made all arrangements before he left, making over the property in his store to his wife, paying up any little debts he owed, and collecting several bills due him.

The total amount of capital represented in the Pepperell, Laconia and Water Power companies of Biddeford, is $2,500,000. The York company, on the other side of the river, in Saco, represents an invested capital of $1,000,000 or more in addition.

The woman who murdered her three-months-old child at Kennebunk on the night of Tuesday, July 19th, by drowning it in the Mousam river, having previously cut off a piece of its tongue with a pair of scissors to prevent its crying out, has been discovered. She registered herself at the Mousam house, Kennebunk, on the 19th, as "Fannie Smith, Rochester, N. H.," and left on Wednesday, July 20th, for Portland, without the child which she had been seen with on the evening of the 19th. The dead body of the infant was afterward found in the river. The murderess, who went from Portland to Kennebunk to rid herself of the child, remained in Portland until Thursday night, July 28th, when having read a description of herself in the papers she started for Rochester, N. H., where she was arrested on the afternoon of the 29th at the house of a Mrs. Moody, and taken to Alfred jail. Her real name is Sarah Whitten, and her age is about twenty-five years.

Hon. O. C. Moore, of the Nashua Telegraph, with his wife and daughter, and Hon. A. A. Woolson, while returning from a trip to Sugar Hill, Lisbon, Monday evening, July 25th, were caught in a terrific thunder-storm, their carriage was overturned, and Mrs. Moore and Mr. Woolson were precipitated down a bank into the river, from which they escaped with difficulty.

A remarkable shower passed over portions of Warner, Salisbury and Webster on the night of July 28th. Three inches of rain fell in an hour.

The new democratic board of commissioners for Merrimack county, which came into office the first day of July, have removed Milton B. Neal, the superintendent of the county farm at North Boscawen, and have appointed to the vacancy one of their own number, John A. Peaslee, of Bradford.

At a meeting of the governor and council, July 28th, Messrs. Powers and Hayes were re-elected fish commissioners, and Edward Spaulding was also elected a member of the board.

A son of Noah B. Waters, aged sixteen years, was drowned while bathing in the Connecticut river at Stratford on the night of July 27th.

Herbert Rand, aged fourteen years, of Raymond, was found dead near his home July 28th, with a revolver by his side and a bullet hole in his head. He had been dead some hours when found. The shooting was no doubt accidental, and done by the boy himself.

Quickly Made Up.

Monday evening a woman came to the Central Station in a furious passion, saying she was about to leave her husband, that it was impossible for her to live with him longer, and that she desired an officer to accompany her to her home, in the near vicinity of the corner of Acushnet avenue and Middle street, that she might remove her personal property without fear of molestation. Her request was granted, and on reaching the house a stormy scene ensued. The wife heaped maledictions upon her husband, and made vile accusations, all of which were recriminated by him. The wife threw her own clothes into a trunk and hurled his property across the room, and on one occasion the officer with difficulty prevented violence, for the wife claimed a certain picture in the house, and the husband the frame which enclosed it, but finally the article was divided and the lady left for her mother's house, and the officer repaired to his beat. In less than half an hour the policeman met a man and woman coming along the street chatting and laughing merrily, and to his astonishment found it to be the very pair who had parted in such anger but a few minutes before. The lady explained to the officer that her husband followed her to her mother's, and at his request she had consented to live with him once again.—New Bedford Mercury.

Experience taught Me!

And my money paid for it. After having liver complaint four years, and spending money on nostrums and doctors who didn't help me, I tried Sulphur Bitters. Six bottles cured me. I shall always use them.—Mulberright.

Two boys, Lewis Langham of Philadelphia, and Frederick Colson of Wilmington, Del., were drowned at Cape May while bathing, Friday.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

George Griffin, colored, was hanged at Elyton, Ala., Friday, for criminal assault last spring. Crowds of colored people were at the hanging.

How Long Would it take to Count two Millions?

Over two million volumes of the revised edition of the New Testament, were sold on the first day of its issue. These figures can only be equaled by the enormous sales of Swayne's Ointment for Itching piles, which is universally used as a standard remedy for stopping the itching at night, when one thinks that pin worms are crawling about the rectum. To calculate the extent of its sale in actual figures, would involve the labor of a lifetime. Will you be pestered longer from the aggravating piles?

New Hampshire Items.

Brackett L. Greenough, Abigail Ela, Heman Rix, Ziba Huntington, and Mrs. Millie Colcord of Lebanon, were born in 1800, and all reside on the same street, within half a mile of one another.

Rev. G. B. Smith closed his pastorate with the Baptist church at Plainfield on Sunday.

Probably never before were the manufacturing interests of Manchester in so flourishing a condition as at present. The stock of the Manchester mills has doubled in price, the Amoskeag nearly so, while that of the Stark and Langdon so seldom changes hands one can hardly judge of its selling price. The locomotive works are driven to their utmost, with large orders ahead. The paper mills are doing all they can. The pay-rolls never were so large as in the months of June and July.

The Bedford Manufacturing company, hosiery manufacturers, of Lake Village, have suspended, their creditors peremptorily demanding the closing of their works. It is doubtful about their being able to arrange matters so as to continue in business.

The Fourteenth New Hampshire Volunteer association will hold its fourth reunion at the city hall, Keene, on Thursday, August 18th.

Conrad Ott, a German, with a wife and five children, attempted suicide at Manchester by drowning in the Squog river Sunday afternoon. He was rescued by parties who witnessed the attempt.

The proprietors of seven summer resorts at Lake Massabesic, Manchester, have been summoned to appear before the police court for keeping their places of business open on Sunday for the sale of liquor.

Rev. W. F. Whitcher, the Rhode Island clergyman accused of stealing books from libraries, was on Saturday fined $20 and costs on one charge. The other charges will not be pressed.

At Lynn, Mass., Friday night, two girls named Vinnie Catwell and Kate Connors, about sixteen years old, who recently went from Manchester, N. H., to Lynn, and procured work at a boarding house, were enticed into the house of one Hines, a married man whose wife was away, and there brutally assaulted by Hines and James A. Corcher. Hines was arrested before he could leave the house, but the other fellow escaped by jumping from a window; he was however captured on Saturday night, in Boston.

Honored and Blest.

When a board of eminent physicians and chemists announced the discovery that by combining some well known valuable remedies, the most wonderful medicine was produced, which would cure such a wide range of diseases that most all other remedies could be dispensed with, many were skeptical; but proof of its merits by actual trial has dispelled all doubt, and to-day the discoverers of that great medicine, Hop Bitters, are honored and blessed by all as benefactors.—Democrat.

At South Windham, Conn., at one o'clock Sunday morning, three burglars attempted to rob a store. The watchman had been warned, and put one charge of buckshot into the abdomen of one of the thieves, and another charge into his neck, fatally wounding him. The ruffian, who bears plenty of old scars, refuses to give his name; his companions escaped.

When pangs the mortals flesh assail,
And give a bitterness to life,
Making the cheek with anguish pale,
Amid the fierce internal strife;
Then Sanford's Ginger soothes the pain,
And smiling Health looks up again.

In South Boston, Saturday night, Coleman Manning was fatally stabbed in a drunken brawl by Michael Cloherty.

"Buchupalba."

Suicide and Dyspepsia.

A most remarkable cure for dyspepsia, "Wells' Health Renewer." The greatest tonic, best billious and liver remedy known. $1. Druggists. Depot, Thacher's.

An unknown man threw himself between two cars of a Boston & Albany gravel train at Brookline, Mass., Saturday, and was ground up.

Big Results from Little Causes.

"Do you know?" remarked a man to his friend on Chestnut street, a day or two since, "I believe both Conkling and Platt had a bad case of skin disease when they resigned!" "What makes you think so?" inquired the listener in astonishment. "Well, you see they acted in such an eruptive manner—so rash—ly as it were. Save?" "Oh! yes, I save," replied the other, "they were boil—ing over and merely resigned to humor themselves, I suppose." If such be the case, the National difficulty might have been averted by applying Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 2, 1881.

The President.

The President's condition shows steady improvement. On the 1st inst. one of his physicians said he considered him out of danger. The bullet is said to have been definitely located in the front wall of the abdomen. Secretary Blaine on the night of the 30th ult. notified the ministers in Europe that the daily telegrams to them would cease, and that not hearing from him they may infer that all is going well.

News and Notes.

The Massachusetts members of Congress are giving their views of civil service reform. They will have no occasion for the service of the office holders for some time to come, but when the period fixed for the conventions to nominate caudidates comes round, the representatives will be quiet on this subject. Senator Dawes is the prime mover in this agitation, and as he admits that he cannot control the Boston navy yard appointments of course he is for reform.

P. W. Crowe, of Peoria, Ill., proclaims himself to be the manufacturer of the infernal machines discovered at Liverpool. More of them he says are making in Peoria, and the order he represents, believing themselves not liable to prosecution, will continue their work until England shall do justice to Ireland. If there is no law in this country that will reach such scoundrels, such a law should be passed at the earliest possible moment. To give a home and citizenship to refugees from European oppression is one thing; to allow them to use this country as a base of operations for wholesale assassination is another.

Hon. S. J. Chadbourne, deputy secretary of state of Maine, was drowned at Kent, R. I., on Sunday. Mr. Chadbourne belonged in Dixmont, Me., was forty-five years old, and leaves a widow and two daughters. He has represented his town in the state legislature, was assistant clerk of the house for four years, clerk for seven years, and secretary of state for four years.

George W. Tabb, a former citizen of Jefferson county, West Virginia, who was foreman of the jury that convicted John Brown, in consequence of which his family was greatly persecuted during the war, died at Fredericksburg, July 30th.

John McCombe of East Greenwich, R. I., and Miss Isabella Wright of Apponaug, his affianced bride, were walking on the Stonington railroad track Saturday evening, when the steamboat train came up behind them. They stepped on the other track just as the Newport express came sweeping around a curve from the other direction. Blinded by the dust of the first train they did not see their peril, and both were crushed to a shapeless mass.

An explosion in Woolner's distillery at Peoria, Ill., Saturday evening, killed one of the proprietors and his son, and seven other men, fatally wounding three more. Eighteen persons in all were injured by the explosion.

Rhodes and Crowder, two desperadoes from Texas, were assassinated in their camp at Orange City, Fla., last week.

A lad named Ferguson, belonging in Boston, while gunning with two other boys near St. Mary's, York county, N. B., accidentally shot himself in the breast last week, and died in half an hour.

At the Germania beer garden, Indianapolis, on Sunday, a quarrel arose between Elisha T. Scuttle and Geo. S. Fisher over a girl. Scuttle shot Fisher three times, killing him instantly. Scuttle has been arrested.

Two young Boston men, twin brothers named Jackson, stopping at East Baldwin, Me., went out gunning Friday last with a young man named Richardson. The latter had his ramrod stuck in his gun, and cocked the piece to blow it out, but Fred Jackson thought he could draw the rod. While pulling at it the gun was discharged, driving the rod completely through Jackson's body so that it only held by the knob on the end. Holding the rod with his hand, he walked nearly a mile to a doctor, where he had it cut out without flinching. The rod passed through the abdomen near the large intestine and bladder, but it is hoped neither are pierced. His age is seventeen years.

In Salem, Mass., Saturday night, Samuel M. Davidson, steward of the yacht White Cap, was stabbed in the side by Fred E. Roberts, one of the crew. Roberts attempted to blow up the yacht by placing a lighted match in a keg of powder. The injured man was removed to the hospital and Roberts was locked up.

Ehret's brewery in New York had the roof blown off by an explosion, Saturday, and 15,000 bushels of malt were destroyed. Loss $25,000.

George W. Nelson, land broker, D. L. South, a stock broker, and one Miller, were arrested in Pittsburg, Pa., July 29th, for negotiating nearly $6,000 worth of stolen bonds, the property of Wm. Connors of Catfish, Clarion county, Pa. The robbery was committed in March last, when Connors, an aged farmer, supposed to be very wealthy, was found one morning, bound and gagged. During the night some half dozen masked men had entered the house, and after threatening death and torturing the old people by burning, procured from them the keys and stole from a safe $16,000, $6,000 being railroad and bridge bonds.

The laws of the United States require vessels of every description to keep lights burning during the night while at anchor in any roadstead, and the penalty for neglecting to do so is two hundred dollars. The collector of customs of Newburyport has imposed the above-named fine on the owners of the scow Zulu, which was lying at anchor, without lights, just above the draw of the Newburyport bridge, on Monday evening, July 25th, and which was run into by the steamer Startled Fawn.

At Baltimore, Saturday, a shark seven feet long went into the dry dock near Fort McHenry with a steamer, and was not discovered until the water was nearly pumped out. It was very savage, and lived for nearly an hour after the water left it.

John McCormick and Michael Doherty, two Boston thieves, on Sunday night attempted to rob Officer Carr, who was dressed in plain clothes, being on a job of detective duty. The officer grappled Doherty, but was soon attacked by a mob of thieves led by McCormick, who however failed to rescue Doherty, the officer putting a bullet into McCormick. The two ruffians were finally locked up.

Edward Collins, a freight brakeman on the Boston & Albany railroad, was instantly killed by being run over in the freight yard at Worcester, Mass., on Sunday.

AROUND HOME.

This is election day. Vote early, and vote right.

Voters should remember that the polls are closed by law promptly at six o'clock this evening.

The steamer Williamsport, Willetts master, from Philadelphia with 1664 tons of coal for J. Albert Walker, arrived at this port on Monday afternoon.

A cat, with otherwise good habits, living on Bow street, is said to be fond of drinking ale. It is discovered to be a hereditary trait. She is a Maltese.

A new mail car built at Salem, Mass., for the Eastern railroad, was on exhibition in that city on Saturday. It is a handsome car, sixty feet long, and weighing 17,400 pounds.

The training ship Portsmouth, which was in the lower harbor on Thursday and Friday of last week, detained by fog and unfavorable winds, arrived at Portland, Me., on Sunday evening.

It is stated that Capt. B. F. Jacobs will again assume command of the ship Grandee, which is expected shortly to arrive at New York from Manila, and will take his family to sea with him.

We hope that the first acts of the new city government which will be elected today will be to abate the two nuisances now maintained by the city, viz.: the north and south mill-ponds.

We learn that Faith Home is in a prosperous condition. It has lately received a pleasing memorial of the late president of the board of trustees in the gift of a fine portrait of Hon. Wm. Simes, from his sons, which has been placed in the Home.—Journal.

Mr. William S. Hazel, who has been an alderman from ward four two terms, was renominated for a third one by the democratic caucus in that ward last week. There being some "kicking" at this, Mr. Hazel declined to accept the nomination.

Four bicyclers started from this city at about three o'clock Saturday afternoon for Portland, stopping at Kennebunk for the night, and proceeding to their destination next morning via Old Orchard. They returned to this city by train, Monday forenoon.

The inspectors of checklists will be in session to-day at the city rooms, from eight to ten o'clock A. M. and from one to two o'clock P. M., for the purpose of furnishing certificates to any persons having a right to vote whose names are not on the check-list.

The iron steam yacht Freyja, from Philadelphia for the Isles of Shoals, put into Gloucester, Mass., Saturday. The New York yacht club's fleet will end its summer cruise at the Shoals, where the vessels will probably arrive on August 9th or 10th, and where the fleet will separate.

One of the very strongest proofs of the excellence of any article is the fact of its imitation by rival manufacturers. The favorite brand of cigars made by Hyneman Bros. of Boston, widely known as "The Three," has found many imitators, but none of them approach the original in excellence. An advertisement in another column tells where these cigars can be found in this city.

There were two smash-ups on the road leading from Sagamore road to the hotel Wentworth, Sunday evening, both being caused by collisions. One carriage had a shaft broken, another had a wheel shattered, and other slight damage was done; no person was hurt. The occupants of the several carriages were quite successful in keeping their names and hailing-places from the knowledge of our informant.

Secretary Hunt has issued a circular amending the navy regulations so as to prevent gambling on government vessels lying at the navy yards.

A very pleasant occasion was that observed Saturday evening last, at the residence of Geo Pickering, Esq., at North Portsmouth, being the birthnight of Miss Helen Chesley. This young lady, whose many amiable qualities have made her the favorite of a large circle of acquaintances, received the sincere congratulations of her relatives and friends, some of whom, residents of other states, came home from a distance to be present on that happy evening. The festivities closed with a brilliant display of fireworks.—Times.

Mr. B. P. Shillaber has recovered from his lameness so far that he can walk about his house, but does not trust his legs a great way upon the street on their own responsibility. He has made good use of his time, however, during the last eight months, even if his tether has been a short one. Not only has he given the Hartford Evening Post a weekly letter, which has proved a rich mine to its contemporaries from one end of the country to the other, but he has also about two-thirds completed the third book of his recent series of contributions to his juvenile literature, in which our friends Ike and his companions and, their philosophic mentor, Capt. Bob, appear again in new and interesting relations. The book is full of promise, and it will doubtless form one of the pleasantest features in the prospective array of holiday literature.—Boston Post.

A celebrated writer has said that "no man was ever known to fly into a passion immediately after putting on a clean shirt." This too before the era of studs, when a missing button might perhaps have incited the ire of the wearer. Cleanliness in linen is not only one of the luxuries, but an acklowledged prerequisite to a proper development of the better nature in our race. The modern laundry system is one of the advanced ideas of the age, and in our city, noted for its visitors especially at this season, it is one of the conveniences of which very many avail themselves. The Portsmouth Steam Laundry, located opposite the south door of the post-office, at No. 72 State street in the Times building, has been in successful operation since the first of January, and does much of the laundry work for sojourners at the sea-side resorts, for naval officers and private families. The managers rely upon the character of their work as the guaranty of the faithful manner in which all orders will be filled. Price lists will be furnished on application at the office, or by mail.

The following bits of Newmarket local news we compile from the Newmarket Advertiser of July 30th: Mrs. Daniel Neally fell out of a hammock a few days since, and broke one of her legs just above the ankle.——The barn of Reuben M. Burley, which was reported as struck by lightning during the storm on the night of July 25th, and damaged to the amount of $200, merely had the saddle boards split and some of the shingles torn off. The only other harm done was the killing of a strange cat, which was found dead in the barn floor next morning.——Two hundred and forty-four tickets were sold for the excursion of the Newmarket Sunday schools at Old Orchard beach, July 27th.——A guy rope attached to the derrick on the gondola belonging to the parties removing the rocks in the river gave way Saturday, July 23d, and the derrick fell, breaking in four pieces, one of the fragments striking one of the workmen on the head, cutting an ugly gash.——The children of the Congregational society of South Newmarket held an ice-cream supper at the vestry recently. The little people conducted the affair very nicely, and realized $15.

At Old Orchard junction, on the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad, a short distance east of Saco station, is a new and attractive station house, at which the trains between Boston and Portland make regular stops.

At Biddeford, on Saturday, July 30th, Sarah F. Whitten of Alfred was taken before the municipal court for the murder of her female child at Kennebunk on the 19th. She pleaded guilty, and said that Richard D. Day of Alfred, Me., formerly of Fall River, Mass., was the father of the child, and advised her course, furnishing her with the necessary money. Day has disappeared. He is twenty-five years old, short and thickset, has light blue eyes, brown hair and mustache, and very small feet. A reward will be offered for his arrest.

The Biddeford Journal says that James Kelly, an overseer in the mule-spinning room of the Laconia company, eloped week before last with an unmarried woman of low character, named Moulton, abandoning a wife and five children. Kelly took away with him about $6000 in money, but left his family in possession of a good and well furnished house.

Naval Affairs.

A despatch from Washington says that the naval advisory board "has neither made a report nor arrived at any conclusions. The various reports which have been published, purporting to be the conclusions reached by the board, are pronounced by the navy department officials to be purely speculative."

Secretary Hunt has countermanded the detail of the flagship Trenton, ordered to transport the descendants of Gen. Lafayette to the Yorktown centennial, explaining that the Trenton's accommodations are inadequate, and the French visitors will be furnished transportation on a merchant vessel. The Trenton is ordered to Yorktown, however, to take part in the celebration.

Rear Admiral Bryson reports to the navy department that the semi-annual inspection of the United States flagship Shenandoah was held by him at Rio de Janeiro, June 28th, and that the general condition of the vessel, and her efficiency and that of her crew for action, are excellent.

Lieut. R. Clowes and Ensign John N. Jordan are ordered to duty on the coast survey. Lieut. C. H. Arnold is ordered to temporary duty at the Washington navy yard, and Lieut. John F. Merry to the Tallapoosa.

Rear-Admiral George B. Balch assumed command of the United States naval forces on the Pacific station July 18th, and in an order of that date announced his personal and general staff as follows: Personal Staff—Captain William P. McCann, chief of staff; Lieutenant M. Buford, flag lieutenant; Lieutenant R. R. Ingersoll, secretary; Ensign F. H. Sherman and Cadet Midshipman T. H. Hunicke, aids. General Staff—Chief Engineer George F. Kutz, fleet engineer; Pay Inspector Rufus Parks, fleet paymaster; Surgeon W. K. Schofield, fleet surgeon; Captain F. H. The Dartmouth College Investigation.

The committee of the trustees of Dartmouth college, appointed to investigate the charges brought against President Bartlett by thirty-one of the alumni of the college residing in New York and its vicinity, have reported to the trustees. The committee divided its investigation under six heads, as follows:

1. The financial condition of the college;
2. The number of students;
3. The tone of scholarship and instruction;
4. The order, discipline, and tone of morals;
5. The relation of the connected schools;
6. The internal condition of the faculty.

Under these heads the committee say:

1. The present financial of the college is the most satisfactory it has known for a long series of years. For the first time in a sadly protracted period, the annual revenue of the college has this past year met its annual expenses. * *

2. The number of students in the college proper is almost precisely what it was during the last year of the administration of President Smith. In the Chandler scientific department, the number has maturially diminished, the number in the agricultural college decidedly increased.

3. The tone of instruction and scholarship has been raised. The head of the college, himself an acomplished scholar, has, we believe, stimulated all parties. The reports of annual examining committees are, indeed, abundant evidence of this satisfactory condition of the college. * *

4. The order, discipline and tone of morals are satisfactory. Evidence satisfied your committee that there is an increasing manliness of behavior on the part of students, less breaches of college order than once, and little occasion for active discipline. This is due to the president and faculty combined. * *

The 5th and 6th points cover the difficulties which have troubled the college—being the relation of the connected schools and the internal condition of the faculty; and these were almost exclusively the substance of whatever was substantial in the charges and specifications made by the New York alumni. The two, however, cover more than the particular things framed into those charges, and have given your committee very great uneasiness.

So far as the New York charges and specifications are concerned—the bearing on those forming one item in our examination—the committee do not find it necessary to now re-examine them in detail, inasmuch as many of the board heard the whole quasi-trial, and the board as a whole was present during the last half of that hearing. But it is necessary to say that the committee consider that while the "charges" were serious, the specifications were inadequate, many of them trivial, nearly half of the specifications were withdrawn, and as a whole, unsupported by adequate proof of any important error. * *

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and imperverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

Robert Prentice, a brakeman, was killed at Pomfret, Conn., Saturday night, by an express train he had been sent out to flag. It is supposed he sat down on the track and went to sleep.

A Fool Once More.

"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her, and I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her, she is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Such folly pays."—H. W., Detroit, Mich.—Free Press.

Mrs. Charity Winn committed suicide at Wallingford, Me., last Friday night, by hanging. She was seventy-one years of age, and had long been sick.

How Long Would it take to Count two Millions?

Over two million volumes of the revised edition of the New Testament, were sold on the first day of its issue. These figures can only be equaled by the enormous sales of Swayne's Ointment for Itching piles, which is universally used as a standard remedy for stopping the itching at night, when one thinks that pin worms are crawling about the rectum. To calculate the extent of its sale in actual figures, would involve the labor of a lifetime. Will you be pestered longer from the aggravating piles?

They are an imitative race—the Mongolians—but they don't thoroughly understand the American methods of doing business. An individual can't do what a corporate body can, and the Chinaman will find it out some day.—Brooklyn Eagle.

—"Will you return my love?" he murmured. "Yes, Henry, I will, for it does not seem to fit me." Thus another nice young man was driven to desperation.

—The people of Wilcox, Pa., were greatly alarmed and angered by the news that a torpedo of nitro-glycerine was to be exploded in their town by oil-well borers, and they determined to avert the danger if possible. They discovered a tin cylinder in an office, and a brave volunteer carried it to a safe distance where it was buried deep. It really was a case containing a surveyor's drawings.

A New Sanitarium.

The Atlantic-Sanitarium and Health Institute is the name of a new institution in New York city, which has recently been established and is operated on strictly business principles by a joint stock company, having paid up capital of $500,000. It was established by some well known medical gentlemen for the treatment and cure of all character of diseases. We published a letter a short time since from the New York correspondent of the Hartford Evening Post, and we are pleased to learn that the subject of the letter, Dr. R. C. Flower, is the president of this Sanitarium. We near the occasion is to be at the Vendome Hotel, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday & Thursday, and at the Falmouth Hotel, Portland, on Friday of next week to meet several patients from this vicinity who cannot travel so far as New York. His reputation is national, and from facts we have learned of his special work, we believe he is fully entitled to the adjectives which that well known paper, the Philadelphia Record, applies to his cures, "wonderful, matchless and almost incredible."

John Murphy, while lying near the Old Colony railroad track in Brockton, Mass., in an intoxicated condition, Monday afternoon, had his right leg cut off by a passing freight train. He was taken to the Massachusetts general hospital.

One of the greatest statesmen that America ever produced, Hon. James G. Blaine, uses Adamson's Botanic Balsam in his family, and endorses it as a safe and effectual remedy for coughs and colds.

During a bar-room fight on Saturday night, July 30th, at Maspeth, L. I., John Scott fatally shot Barney and James Kine, both minstrels. Scott escaped.

What is the Use!

Of buying worthless medicines, and spending money on quack doctors whose only idea is to gull the public. Is it not better to buy a reliable medicine like Sulphur Bitters? I think so, as they cured me of catarrh after suffering three years. —J. P. Clark, Manchester.

Eliphalet S. Keyes of Bolton, Mass., pleaded guilty to a complaint charging him with poisoning with Paris green a horse, the property of Mrs. Mary A. Mace. The district court at Clinton did not take jurisdiction, but held Keyes in $500 to await the action of the grand jury.

When pangs the mortals flesh assail,
And give a bitterness to life,
Making the cheek with anguish pale,
Amid the fierce internal strife;
Then Sanford's Ginger soothes the pain,
And smiling Health looks up again.

A valuable horse belonging to John Weston, who lives two miles from Skowhegan, Me., was stolen Sunday night, with a new open buggy belonging to Edward Osborn, his nearest neighbor. A tired horse and an old wagon were left by the thieves.

Big Results from Little Causes.

"Do you know?" remarked a man to his friend on Chestnut street, a day or two since, "I believe both Conkling and Platt had a bad case of skin disease when they resigned!" "What makes you think so?" inquired the listener in astonishment. "Well, you see they acted in such an eruptive manner—so rash—ly as it were. Save?" "Oh! yes, I save," replied the other. "they were boil—ing over and merely resigned to humor themselves, I suppose." If such be the case, the National difficulty might have been averted by applying Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases.

News and Notes.

The house of James Heath, of Saco, was burned Aug. 1st, with most of its contents. Loss $1200. Cause of fire unknown.

Passed Assistant Paymaster Burnet and his clerk, Mr. Jesse Minshall, were released from arrest on board the Passaic at Washington last week. There were no formal charges against the latter, and he has left the city. Mr. Burnett will resign, it is understood.

Ex-Secretary of the Navy Robeson went to Wolfeboro' on Tuesday, to try the fising in that vicinity.

Mrs. Howard found a rattlesnake in bed with her at Burlington, Iowa, the other night. The snake was killed before it bit her.

The wharves at New Orleans are to be lighted by electricity, so that vessels may be unloaded at night, when the hot sun is not shining.

Stuart, county clerk of San Francisco county, Cal., is missing. So is $50,000 or more.

The steamer Parisian made the fastest time on record between Derry and Rimouski on her last trip, seven days, including six hours' detention in a fog.

John McDermott and Ed. Moran got into a quarrel at a dog-fight, in Grand Rapids, Mich., Aug. 1st, and Moran was shot dead.

In Chicago, Ill., Aug. 1st, Jack Spanners, a low character, shot and killed his mistress, Lizzie Cleveland, through jealousy, in her bagnio.

John Kerry was thrown overboard, and a boy shot, on the picnic of the St. Patrick's Mutual Alliance of New York city, on Sunday.

David Franklin, the Westfield, Mass., colored man who was stabbed by his wife on Friday, died Saturday, and was buried by the town authorities Sunday. The woman will probably be held for trial for murder, as she freely admits the stabbing, and after her arrest expressed the hope that David would die. It is said the evidence will show jealousy as well as rum to be at the bottom of the affair. A colored girl named Eva Tobias, with whom Franklin had been intimate, attempted to poison herself Saturday with laudanum. When found she was in a comatose state, but recovery is now assured. [illegible] between Franklin and his wife.

MARSHALL HOUSE, YORK, Aug. 2d.

The vocal concert given in the hall of this house on the evening of the 28th ult. was a marked success, the hall being crowded and the concert first-class. Mr. A. P. DeLyons, with R. H. Terrell, Chas. Churchill, R. Hucles and Walter Buckley in the chorus, led off with the beautiful ballad "Only to see her face again," which was heartily encored by the delighted audience, as was also the duett "Beneath the daisies," by DeLyons and Churchill. The appearance of Mr. John Darlen in his female impersonations created considerable merriment, and a very nicely arranged bouquet was extended to him by his admirers. Each did his part gracefully and well.

A party of ladies and gentlemen (real ones, this time) from Haverhill, Mass., and vicinity, made an excursion here on the steamer Startled Fawn, Friday, the 29th ult., partook of a dinner, and left for home.

The sloop yachts Hattie, Cooper, Gloucester for Portland; Clytie, Gray, Marblehead for Mt. Desert; and White Wing, Charnoc, South Boston for South Boston, —this being the termination of her journey eastward—arrived in this harbor on the evening of the 1st inst., intending to sail to-day.

The schooner Arcola, Brookings master, brick-laden, left this port on the afternoon of the 1st inst., for Boston.

Quite a revolution took place in this house on the 1st. Some people who, hitherto, had occupied the best rooms, and wished to remain a longer period, had to give them up to others, who had engaged them ahead, and take inferior ones, they thinking themselves lucky to get any; others were actually driven away, there being no way to accommodate them. The little parlor, the dressing rooms connected with the concert hall, and the reading room, are monopolized as sleeping apartments, while all the available rooms in neighboring houses are hired by the proprietor to lodge those who can't find space in the house, they taking their meals here. Last winter Mr. Marshall had about thirty sleeping rooms annexed to the house, and thought he could accommodate all his patrons this season. T.

Another Social Stir in West Chester, Pa.

The effect of chance is so very curious that many of our readers whom rational prudence and forethought would forbid even to indulge in the amusement of spending a dollar for a ticket in a perfectly fair lottery, yet read of the facts connected with some others' success with the greatest interest. The event that now agitates the staid Quaker borough of West Chester, Pa., is that the chance fell upon Mr. Jesse E. Webb, one of the best and most favorably known business men there. He has a large jewelry store on Gay street, in West Chester. Mr. Webb was fortunate enough to hold half of ticket No. 78,112, that called for the capital prize in the last drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery, held at New Orleans on the 12th inst. This entitled Mr. Webb to $15,000, one-half of the capital. He was found by a reporter behind the counter in his store courteously receiving the congratulations of his friends, and as cool and self-possessed about the matter as though it was an every-day occurrence. Mr. Webb bought his ticket on the 5th of July by sending by mail in a registered letter one dollar, addressed to M. A. Dauphin, at No. 212 Broadway, New York City. He had always heard that the Company paid its prizes promptly, and he thought that he would try his luck and therefore sent on $1 for a half ticket. It was not more than two days after the drawing that he was informed by telegraph that he had drawn half of the capital prize, and that the money would be paid him when he desired it. Mr. Webb said he knew the money was all right, and therefore was in no hurry about it, but he sent for it promptly, and received it nevertheless without any discount except the slight express charge. He will try a chance in the next drawing, which takes place August 9th, as he knows of no concern that has ever paid him such a big return for so small an investment.—Phila. Sunday Dispatch, July 24.

Regularity, Integrity and Punctuality Beget Confidence.

The regularity with which the drawings of the Louisiana State Lottery Company take place in variously on the second Tuesday of every month at New Orleans, La., and the price of tickets is only two dollars, has become so generally known, and confidence so well established in the integrity of management, that it is hard to find a man or woman who has not written to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., in the hope of receiving $15,000.

Election day was pleasant, though hot. Everything passed off quietly, most of the work of both parties being done in ward one. Both parties were confident, but the foregoing figures show that the republicans had the best reason to be.

In 1878, the year of Mayor Sise's first election, he had a majority of 227 in a total vote of 1751, the detailed vote being as follows: Sise 989, Samuel P. Treadwell, democrat, 592, Luther E. Martin, greenbacker, 165, scattering five.

In 1879 the vote was: Sise 851, Solomon Seymour, dem., 381, Martin 65, scattering one. Total vote in the city, 1298; Sise's majority, 404.

In 1880: Sise 858, Josiah H. Morrison 756, scattering five. Total vote, 1619; Sise's majority, ninety-seven.

The democratic voters and ward-managers have always asserted that they were "sold out" in the election of 1880 by the big men of the party, who nominated a candidate they did not intend should be elected, in support of which view the grumblers have adduced the absence from the city on election day of several of the aforesaid "heavy guns," and the absence from the polls of the democratic candidate for mayor, who did not work at all to secure his own election. But for this alleged trickery on the part of their leading men, the democratic ward workers have maintained that Col. Sise's election would have been defeated, through the aid of certain republicans who were so strongly opposed to a third term that they remained away from the polls, and who would have voted for the democratic candidate had the democrats made any real contest.

This year the case was different, at least so far as the candidate for mayor was concerned; for Mr. Treat, who is one of the best political workers in the city, commenced bright and early to strive for success, and ceased his efforts only with the closing of the polls. But the general result was the same as last year; the total vote was increased 128, but the republican candidate for mayor has a clear majority, and the city government is politically divided as before. The total vote was larger than at either of Col. Sise's previous elections, except the first one, when the vote exceeded that of last Tuesday by four.

A comparison of Tuesday's vote with that of November 2d, 1880, may be of interest. On that day the total vote for governor was 2398, or 651 more than this year. Of this vote Jones had 1327, Bell 1058, and there were thirteen scattering; Jones' majority, 256; plurality, 269. As Col. Sise's majority is 65, the republican net gain since last November is 321.

The question as to whether it is expedient for the city to establish public bathing places was submitted to the voters, the question being without answer on all the tickets excepting the democratic ones in ward three, on which "no" was printed. The vote on this question was very light, only 413 in the whole city, divided as follows: Yes—ward one, 86; ward two, 70; ward three, 28; ward four, 28; total, 212. No—ward one, 13; ward two, 25; ward three, 128; ward four, 35; total, 201. Majority in favor of clean young ones, eleven.

We tender our thanks to Messrs. William S. Hazel, William T. Rand, James A. N. Rugg and Plumer D. Norton, for prompt returns of the election in their respective wards.

CITY OFFICERS ELECT.

Mayor—William H. Sise, republican.

Aldermen—William F. Noyes, George T. Vaughan, William R. Martin, ward one; John H. Slater, Thomas E. Call, Alfred Stavers, ward two—six republicans; John W. Caswell, ward three; Henry S. Hartshorn, Alonzo K. W. Green, ward four—three democrats.

Common Councilmen—George W. Frost, Michael E. Long, Moses Plumer, William C. Robinson, Willard J. Sampson, Charles H. Clough, ward one; Albert C. Anderson, Charles F. Shillaber, Edwin Underhill, Samuel M. Joy, James M. Jarvis, Albert W. Parsons, ward two—twelve republicans; Simon H. Mills, George A. Jackson, ward three; Howell C. Russell, Charles E. Senter, Richard I. Walden, George S. Marshall, ward four—six democrats.

Assessors of Taxes—George W. Pendexter, Joseph H. Berry, Robert King, ward one; Benjamin F. Webster, Moses Yeaton, Joseph H. Gardiner, ward two—six republicans; Alexander L. Rand, ward three; Henry F. Wendell, William P. Bennett, ward four—three democrats.

AROUND HOME.

If the democrats nominate a good man for mayor this evening, victory is theirs, SURE.—Times, July 30th.

It seems to us that the above paragraph needs revision—too many "caps" in it. But perhaps our neighbor will say that Hon. John S. Treat is not a good man.

Let there be a full attendance at the democratic caucus to-night. From present indications, Hon. John S. Treat will be the nominee—and if so, he will be elected. And the CHRONICLE should not forget it.—Times, July 30th.

All right; we'll do our best to remember it.

The CHRONICLE says, speaking of the Times: "Our neighbor must possess his soul in patience; Col. Sise is not only to be mayor until August, 1882, but for the following year also, when the sons will come home." What confidence our friend, the colonel, must have in himself, to claim the mayor's position not only for the coming year, but for the year following.—Times, Aug. 1st.

"The colonel" had nothing more to do with the "claims" made by the CHRONICLE, than our friend Treat had with the confident assertion of the Times that if he was nominated by the democratic caucus on Saturday evening he would be elected on Tuesday, "sure." The prediction was solely our own, and one-half of it has already come to pass—pretty good luck for a modern prophet to have, and much better than our neighbor made out. The other half will prove correct, too. "And the Times should not forget it."

The two houses Nos. 64 and 66 Islington street, with barn, will be sold at public auction at noon on Thursday.

The schooner Addie & Hattie arrived on Tuesday with nine sword-fish, which were sold to Randall & Caswell.

Mr. Thomas J. Sanborn, of Rye, formerly mail agent on the Eastern railroad, has been appointed a weigher in the Boston custom house.

The schooner Grace Choate arrived on Monday, having caught during her trip one hundred and fifty-two barrels of mackerel, and three sword-fish.

Hon. Robert T. Lincoln, secretary of war, has arrived at Rye beach with his family, who will remain during the season. The secretary himself returns to Washington in a few days.

The schooner Helen F. Tredick, which left this port on Tuesday of last week for Richmond's Island, after mackerel, arrived back on Monday last with her seine badly torn, and minus fish.

Mrs. M. J. Smiley, formerly of this city, but now of Grand Rapids, Mich., is at the Rockland house, Nantasket beach, Mass., with her son and a party of friends from her western home.

Our Kittery correspondent writes that "Ephraim C. Spinney, Esq., who is one of our largest real estate owners, has recently purchased of Geo. L. Treadwell and wife, of Portsmouth, one-half of sixty-one acres of land, a part of the Rice place, for $1500."

Miss Georgie Cayvan, well known in this city through her several appearances as a reader, is camping out with friends at East Northwood in this state. She is at present a member of the Madison Square Theatre company of New York, and the papers say that during the theatrical season she drives to the theatre in a fine coupe.

The schooner Hattie Lewis, Coleman master, was at Portsmouth bridge Tuesday forenoon, with a cargo of bricks on board for Boston. The G. W. Raitt and Emily A. Staples were up the river, loading similar cargoes for the same destination; and the Triton, Card master, Satellite, Adderton master, and Ocean Eagle, Maxwell master, all from Boston, proceeded up the river the same day to load bricks for the return trip.

The Manchester Mirror says a roadmaster in the employ of the Concord railroad has been in the habit of riding a great deal on a certain locomotive, and recently occupied a fireman's seat, and in doing so seated himself upon the quantity of shoemaker's wax. The wax stuck to his pantaloons, and occasioned him considerable difficulty in regaining a standing position, which circumstance greatly incensed him against the fireman, and caused the road-master to report him to the officials of the road at Concord. This led to the latter being summoned to headquarters, where a statement of the case was made, and the fireman reinstated, and he is now in the employ of the road.

The Dover Republican says that Ida Littlefield, the young woman with whom Orris W. Farrar of that city recently eloped, was not of so good reputation as the first accounts of the affair stated, she having been expelled from the Belknap Congregational church some time since for improper conduct with Farrar and others. Her partner in guilt had evidently had the elopement in contemplation for some time, as on the 28th of May last he resigned the position of Supreme Master of the Supreme Council of the United Order of Reform Templars of the World; when the resignation was presented the council wrote to him requesting an explanation, and he replied that under certain circumstances he was compelled to resign, and that time would develope the cause. Before he left he acknowledged his unfaithfulness to his wife, and made over to her his store and some other property. It is reported that one or two minor temperance organizations in which he was prominent will disband on account of the disclosures made.

The Bad Squaw.

Early one morning, recently, four bucks were seen carrying a comely squaw over Clark street hill. The squaw was tied hand and foot, and appeared as reconciled to her fate as an Egyptian mummy. In answer to a question as to what they were doing with the prisoner, a sturdy buck, whose cheeks were daubed with a brilliant red, replied: "Bad squaw; heap run away from husband for some other fellow. Take him back to camp and whip him. He no run away again."—Eureka Sentinel.

James Keene's New Scheme.

If Mr. James B. Keene, the great bonanza king, is really in earnest in his proposed telegraphic schemes, and not seeking a merely temporary notoriety and financial advantage, the country is probably about to see a competition between him and Jay Gould compared with which all others of whatever nature must be dwarfed to insignificance. Mr. Keene declares that he will construct lines of telegraph across the continent, communicating with ocean cables, and connecting all the leading cities and towns in the United States, Canada and Mexico where a profitable telegraph business can be done. He claims that he can do all the business in the sections named on 80,000 miles of wire, whereas 250,000 miles of line are now required for the same service. The lines, he adds, will cost less that one-fifth of the actual cost of existing lines capable of doing the same amount of business. And the projector of this enterprise proposes to complete all his lines in about one year and a half.

The combination which is to make the aggressive movement has already been organized as the "Postal Telegraph Company," a postal service, as the name implies, being a prominent feature in addition to the transaction of a general telegraph business. By means of certain inventions owned by Mr. Keene and his new company, it is proposed to do a distinctive business whereby commercial, financial and other parties may communicate directly and promptly with each other without the intervention or knowledge of any officer or employe of the company, and on the longest circuits. It is claimed that these inventions will save millions of dollars to the company both in point of construction and maintenance of lines, one wire only being needed to do business where it takes forty wires under the old system used by the Jay Gould or Western Union company. The inventions will enable, it is asserted, commercial and financial firms to prepare their messages in their own offices, and send them instantly to their correspondents at any point without the intervention or knowledge of the company's agents or employes. They can transmit the exact handwriting of a written message, delivering a perfect fac-simile at the opposite end of the line. This dispenses with operators entirely, the writer being both sending and receiving operator, the transmitting being mechanical and automatic, and wholly without error, and preventing fraud by forgery.

"The company will really enter upon a new field," declares Mr. Keene. "Its business will not be restricted to a division of the present volume of business with existing companies; because they are incumbered with limited facilities, not easily duplicated, poor wires, cumbrous and expensive methods, high tariffs and lack of promptness and reliability; while with its perfect wire, improved methods and low tariffs the use of the telegraph may be increased and multiplied almost indefinitely, until it will, to a large extent, supersede the mail. Concerning the postal features of the enterprise, Mr. Keene says: "It will supply a distinctive postal telegraphic system, by which long messages, letters, etc., will be received and delivered through the post-office and sent over our wires. These messages will be delivered through the post-office in cities having a delivery system—and to remote points from the lines by posting at the receiving office. For this purpose the company will issue postal telegraph stamps at uniform low rates, for messages of a given number of words and multiples thereof."

How Long Would it take to Count two Millions?

Over two million volumes of the revised edition of the New Testament, were sold on the first day of its issue. These figures can only be equaled by the enormous sales of Swayne's Ointment for Itching piles, which is universally used as a standard remedy for stopping the itching at night, when one thinks that pin worms are crawling about the rectum. To calculate the extent of its sale in actual figures, would involve the labor of a lifetime. Will you be pestered longer from the aggravating piles?

A CHAPTER ON COMETS.

Mr. Editor:— As much has been said about the comet, by the way of comment and surmising, and having at various times been questioned regarding its importance as an omen, I give Ferguson's explanations: Sir Isaac Newton says of new stars, it is plain they could not be comets, as none of them could ever be perceived to have tails, especially as they had no parallax, even when largest and brightest. And as for those which break out with such lustre of a sudden, it is by no means improbable they are suns whose fuel is almost spent, and again supplied by some of these comets. Now I have to say of comets, this last is in the path of the one sun in July, 1819, mapped in the Lynx constellation in the Huntington Planisphere of 1835; its course as then was and is in the direction of the north star, from the same place first seen, at each time from this part of the earth's surface; but what is most singular in the comet of to-day contradicts the long taught and established belief that they travel so fast through space that they eluminate their trail or wake or the part of their orbit passed several degrees from them, simply because this one is travelling tail first, or in the direction of its tail; but then I suppose Newton and Ferguson were right in one respect, they go head on as a general thing, which having an exception constitutes a rule, but it seems strange to me for this reason: Not a great while ago a citizen of Portsmouth lost a valuable horse because he concluded to go stern first over the wharf, and every newspaper spoke of it; but here we have an outrageously balky comet that, in direct violation of the most approved method of comet travel, is ascending, not as one might say hand over hand, but tail first, and making good time at that; and not one word about it from the press. As it made its appearance about the time of the attempt to murder the president I presume it may as well be construed a forerunner or token of disaster, though one would hardly suppose the people would need more light from above on that point. And I for one almost concluded that it backed out from pure astonishment at seeing the gate to the Raynes ship-yard opened again, supposing we were out of bondage and about to resume ship building.

Yours, N. J. COFFIN.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building-up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

By the explosion of a boiler in a coal yard at Pawtucket, R. I., Aug. 2d, Bernard McCudden, the engineer, was blown forty feet and instantly killed.

Be Wise and Happy.

If you will stop all your extravagant and wrong notions in doctoring yourself and families with expensive doctors or humbug cure-alls, that do harm always, and use only nature's simple remedies for all your ailments— you will be wise, well and happy, and save great expense. The greatest remedy for this, the great, wise and good will tell you, is Hop Bitters—rely on it. See another column.—Press.

A double wedding occurred at Brewer, Me., July 27th, when Dr. D. A. Robinson of Bangor, late instructor at Bowdoin college, and Rev. Geo. F. Pratt, recently settled at the Episcopal church at Bath, were united in marriage with the Misses Harlow of Brewer, sisters. Both the bridegrooms are graduates of Bowdoin.

Big Results from Little Causes.

"Do you know?" remarked a man to his friend on Chestnut street, a day or two since, "I believe both a Coukling and Platt had a bad case of skin disease when they resigned!" "What makes you think so?" inquired the listener in astonishment. "Well, you see they acted in such an eruptive manner—so rash—ly as it were. Save?" "Oh! yes, I save," replied the other, "they were boil—ing over and merely resigned to humor themselves, I suppose." If such be the case, the National difficulty might have been averted by applying Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases.

Civil Service Reform.

An examination of the books of the New York custom house shows that while three appointments are credited to Roscoe Conkling, the "machine boss," Mr. George William Curtis, the "civil service reformer," is credited with four, one of Mr. Curtis' appointments being his brother, Horace Curtis, who draws a salary of $2200 a year. Oh!

New Hampshire Legislature.

In the house, on the afternoon of the 2d inst., the following bills were passed: To change the times of holding trial terms of the supreme court in Grafton and Coos counties; for the protection of hotel keepers from hotel swindlers; to incorporate the Manchester Electric Light company; in relation to the taxation of railroads and telegraphs; to incorporate the Manchester Telephone company.

A bill was also passed redistricting the state, for the election of representatives in Congress as follows: The state shall be divided into two districts for choosing representatives in the Congress of the United States, and each district shall be entitled to elect one representative. The counties of Rockingham, Strafford, Belknap and Carroll, and the towns of Allentown, Canterbury, Chichester, Epsom, Hooksett, London, Northfield, Pembroke and Pittsfield in the county of Merrimack, and Bedford, Goffstown, Merrimack, Hudson, Litchfield, Manchester and Pelham, in the county of Hillsborough, shall constitute the first district. The remaining towns of Merrimack and Hillsborough counties, with the counties of Cheshire, Sullivan, Grafton and Coos, shall constitute the second district. The act is to go into effect upon the passage by Congress of an apportionment act allotting to New Hampshire two representatives in Congress.

In the evening a session was held to consider a series of resolutions on national affairs introduced by Mr. Chandler, who spoke for some time in support of them.

The Internal Revenue Service.

Commissioner Raum has written his annual letter to the secretary of the treasury, reviewing the condition of the service for the last fiscal year. It shows that during the year $135,225,902 was collected and paid into the treasury, and that the amount collected during the five years of Commissioner Raum's administration aggregated $602,310,787, the entire amount of which, without loss or defalcation, has been paid into the treasury.

And yet certain ardent admirers of British customs, who would have America ape England in all things possible, do not tire of proclaiming that our civil service is the most corrupt of any on earth—in saying which, of course, they simply lie.

News and Notes.

There is great excitement in Deadwood, D. T., over the discovery of rich carbonates nine miles west of that city. Ore taken to Deadwood on the 2d inst. was alive with native silver, and assayed $2,600 to the ton. Big strikes have been made in Lawrence, Union, Amsterdam, Greenland and Jefferson mines. Miners are flocking there from all parts of the hill.

At McKeesport, Pa., Aug. 2d, a man named McClure, with four policemen, surrounded a hut in which were some thieves who had robbed McClure's store. The thieves opened fire on their pursuers, killing McClure and fatally wounding one officer, and seriously wounding two others. An immense party went in pursuit of the assassins.

Mrs. Garfield received on the 2d inst. a letter of sympathy and condolence from the Christian churches of Southampton, Chester, Southport and Liverpool, England, together with a draft for £100 as a contribution to the building fund of the Church of the Disciples in Washington, D. C., with which the president is connected. The draft is sent by the adherents of the same religious faith in England as a token of thankfulness for the preservation of the president's life. On the same day the Earl of Shaftesbury, as president of the World's Convention of Young Men's Christian associations at Exeter hall, London, sent a congratulatory telegram to Mrs. Garfield.

Fred Jackson of Boston, who was injured on the 29th ult. by a ramrod passing through his body, at East Baldwin, Me., died on the 2d inst.

McGrath and McKevitt, the men charged with attempting to blow up the town hall at Liverpool, Eng., have been found guilty. The former was sentenced to penal servitude for life, and the latter for fifteen years.

In Chicago, on the night of the 1st inst., Tom Cahill, a sewer worker about twenty years of age, fired a shot at a boy named Chris Dixon, who had tormented him. Dixon complained to policeman Ray, who was prevented by Tom's mother and brother from arresting him. Ray summoned the police, and several officers attempted to enter the house, which meantime had been barricaded. The door was forced, and Tom Cahill shot officer O'Brien, inflicting probably a mortal wound. He also shot Ray in the head, but not fatally. During the melee Tom received a wound in the body which it is supposed will prove fatal. His mother was also shot. The arrests were finally made.

At Dreysburg, Tenn., Aug. 2d, Mike Wells, colored, was hanged in the court house yard by a mob for attempting to outrage a white woman. On the same day, at Union City, Tenn., a negro named Jordan Thompson, who had killed a white man, was riddled with buckshot while resisting arrest.

Near Magnolia, Ark., on the 31st ult., Joseph Doyle, who fled after seducing the daughter of Capt James H. Walker, returned for some reason, and was shot dead by Capt. Walker within an hour after entering the town. Walker surrendered, and was bailed.

Twelve deaths had occurred at Peoria, Ill., up to the night of the 2d inst., from the explosion of the Woolner distillery on the 30th ult., and three more were expected to die.

John Carney and Thomas Carney, brothers, were shot dead on the 1st inst. at Indianapolis by a street car driver named W. H. Collier. The brothers were drunk, and Collier claims that they were trying to rob him.

Two daughters of Dr. Dauth of Coteau du Lac, Canada, aged respectively twenty and seventeen years, were drowned at St. Dominique, Quebec, July 30th, while attempting to rescue a younger sister, who got beyond her depth while bathing. The latter was saved.

A post-mortem examination of G. A. Ware, who died at Shelburne Falls, Mass., last week, revealed some interesting facts. The heart had become so enlarged that its unusual action had worn the rib almost away, leaving it in a state of putrefaction. The main artery leading from the heart to the brain was found to be ulcerated throughout its entire extent; while the brain, being forced to perform an unnaturally vigorous duty, had worn the skull nearly through to the scalp—in some places there being but a mere crust as thin as an eggshell.

A New Sanitarium.

The Atlantic-Sanitarium and Health Institute is the name of a new institution in New York city, which has recently been established and is operated on strictly business principles by a joint stock company, having paid up capital of $500,000. It was established by some well known medical gentlemen for the treatment and cure of all character of diseases. We published a letter a short time since from the New York correspondent of the Hartford Evening Post, and we are pleased to learn that the subject of the letter, Dr. R. C. Flower, is the president of this Sanitarium, as under his auspices it must flourish. We hear the doctor is to be at the Vendome Hotel, Boston, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday & Thursday, and at the Falmouth Hotel, Portland, on Friday of next week to meet several patients from this vicinity who cannot travel so far as New York. His reputation is national, and from facts we have learned of his special work, we believe he is fully entitled to the adjectives which that well known paper, the Philadelphia Record, applies to his cures, "wonderful, matchless and almost incredible."

—Different persons have different ways of showing their regard. A woman visited the office of our esteemed contemporary, the New York Commercial Advertiser, yesterday, and as a slight token of her esteem, presented the establishment with an infant. It would probably be as well just here to say to our circle of advisers who may be exercising their brains in the matter of presents, that there is a wide range of gifts which would be acceptable to us, but if it is all the same to them we would rather have no babies in ours.—Kingston Freeman.

The steamer Acushnet arrived from Boston on Tuesday evening of this week with about fifty passengers and a full cargo of merchandise. The cargo gang had to work all night to clear her, but she was ready to start on the return trip at the advertised hour on Wednesday, taking with her between forty and fifty passengers. On Tuesday evening of next week the Acushnet will make a moonlight excursion from this city outside the harbor; the Portsmouth cornet band has been engaged to furnish music, and if the evening is fair the excursion will be a most enjoyable one.

The ship Grandee, of this port, which arrived at New York from Manila, on the 1st inst., reports that when three days out from Mauritius the British ship Brenda, from Calcutta for the West Indies, was spoken in a disabled condition. In a gale May 7th, 8th and 9th, the seas broke over the vessel with great violence, burst through the cabin doors and washed out all the provisions, charts, and the clothing of the captain, his wife and children, leaving them perfectly destitute, with the exception of what they had on. The captain's wife and children were in the cabin at the time, and it was with great difficulty that they were rescued from drowning. The captain of the Grandee furnished the Brenda with provisions and charts, when the latter vessel put back for Mauritius for supplies and repairs.

The resignation of Miss Sarah A. Whittem was received and accepted, as also was that of Miss Eliza M. Marshall. The following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved: That a vote of thanks be extended to Miss Eliza M. Marshall and Miss Sarah A. Whittem for the faithful manner in which they have discharged their duties as teachers in our public schools during a term of nearly half-century.

The question of the salary of the writing master was discussed at some length, and it was voted to increase his salary two hundred dollars. It was subsequently reconsidered, however, and laid over for one month.

The question of increasing the salary of Mr. Dennett at Gravelly Ridge was reported upon adversely by the salary committee, and the report was adopted.

The committee from the third district recommended the promotion of Miss Irene O. Clark to the vacancy created by the resignation of Miss Marshall; Miss Prescott to Miss Clark's room; Miss Smart to Miss Prescott's room; and Miss Ham to Miss Smart's room. It was also recommended that Miss Matilda Rothwell, at the Lafayette school, be appointed to Miss Ham's room in the sixth division of the Haven school. The foregoing report was unanimously adopted.

An effort was made to change the time of commencing the schools to the first Monday in September, the present regulations prescribing the time of commencing "on the Monday preceding September 1st." The motion could not be entertained save by unanimous consent, (in obedience to a standing rule,) and it was therefore lost.

Adjourned.

LEGISLATIVE VISIT.

The committees of the senate and house on military affairs arrived in this city on Wednesday forenoon of this week from Concord, and were received by Captain Coffin of the Cavalry, and Capt. Cunningham, late of the Heavy Artillery. These exponents of democracy wasted no ammunition in useless display at the reception, but the members of the war committees were at once invited to take seats on boards placed across a job wagon, and were conveyed to the arsenal on South street, Capt. Coffin leading the way with his private carriage, and regaling the company with some of his newest and best stories.

Capt. Cunningham shew the members of the "board" National block, the residence of Hon. Daniel Marcy, and the ward room in which his political triumps have been achieved.

The committee expressed much pleasure at the taste of salt air on going over the south mill bridge, and with the peaceful condition of the arsenal so soon after a combat at Sebastopol.

After the inspection of the arsenal, which was eminently satisfactory, the committee and their guides took steamer for the Shoals, and recuperated their exhausted energies with a dinner at the Oceanic, which was even more satisfactory than the inspection of the arsenal.

RESIGNATIONS.

By reference to the report of the meeting of the Board of Instruction on the evening of the 3d inst., it will be seen that two of our oldest as well as most faithful teachers have resigned. In thus losing the services of Miss Eliza M. Marshall and Miss Sarah A. Whittem from our Grammar schools, two vacancies are made that cannot be easily filled. Both have taught schools in this city for upwards of a quarter of a century, and have given the utmost satisfaction. Conscientious and painstaking to a rare degree, they have given profitable instruction to class after class of young minds as they have succeeded each other from year to year; and many a wayward youth who thought the restraints of the school-room under the watchcare of these veteran teachers to be irksome and grievous, will "rise up and call them blessed," as indeed some have already done within a short time. We trust that the pecuniary results of their many years of weary and anxious toil have placed them beyond any concern regarding their future—that they may fully enjoy the repose they have so well earned.

Miss Marshall (with her sister, who resigned some thirteen years ago,) commenced teaching in the Old South school forty-five years ago last December, and has continued uninterruptedly in the service through all changes of subordinates and principals in District No. 3 up to July 1st of the present year. For quite a number of years these two sisters had the entire charge of the schools in the south ward, and it was a remark of the late Mr. Phineas Nichols of the High school, that during his term of teaching no better classes in the town were sent to him than those that came from the tutorship of these estimable ladies.

Mrs. Tillinghast A. Springer of Augusta died at Old Orchard beach, Tuesday morning, the 2d inst., while bathing in the surf opposite Googin's rocks. Heart disease was the probable cause.

The dedication services of the tabernacle on Ocean park at Old Orchard beach, owned by the New England Baptist assembly, began at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon on the 2d inst. A special prayer for the Ocean park enterprise was offered by Rev. J. B. Jordan of Auburn, Me. At ten o'clock the welcome was given by Rev. E. W. Porter of Lowell, Mass. The dedicatory sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Bowen of Lewiston, Me., after which came a poem by Mrs. V. G. Ramsay of Berwick, Me. In the afternoon Mr. G. F. Mosher, of the Dover, N. H. Morning Star, delivered a lecture on "Glimpses of Rome," followed by an invocation by Prof. B. F. Hayes of Bates college. A lecture was given in the evening by Rev. I. D. Stewart at 7:30 o'clock, followed by vocal and instrumental music.

On Sunday, July 31st, about noon, while bathing with other lady friends upon the beach opposite the Ocean Bluff hotel, at Kennebunkport, a Miss Hooper of Arlington, Mass., got into deep water where a strong flood tide took her feet from the bottom and swept her in by the end of the stone pier, where she would have perished but for the very prompt, courageous and efficient action of Miss Dunbar of Boston, a boarder at the Cliff house, who had not taken off her bathing suit, but was standing on the rocks. This young lady, only about fifteen years of age, instantly realized the peril and rushed deliberately into the tide, and brought the drowning girl where she could be taken on to the pier. After several fainting turns and hysteric attacks, and the care of two physicians, Miss Hooper recovered, and was able to leave the next day for Massachusetts.

Mr. Bookwalter's letter of acceptance is admirable, able statesmanlike, scholarly, philosophical, and and has but one democratic fault—it does not satisfy expectation on the money point. That, however, is a matter of expectation rather than of public declaration. If anybody can make anything out of Mr. Bookwalter's declarations on any of the several subjects which he touches and adorns, he will deserve a prize. That is the quality which enables us to describe it as admirable, able statesmanlike and democratic. And now the boys want to know when Bookwalter is going to begin to pay his footing.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

How Long Would it take to Count two Millions?

Over two million volumes of the revised edition of the New Testament, were sold on the first day of its issue. These figures can only be equaled by the enormous sales of Swayne's Ointment for Itching piles, which is universally used as a standard remedy for stopping the itching at night, when one thinks that pin worms are crawling about the rectum. To calculate the extent of its sale in actual figures, would involve the labor of a lifetime. Will you be pestered longer from the aggravating piles?

Daily Chronicle.

The Camden Murder Case.

The boy-murder case at Camden, Me., is a mystery yet. It will be remembered that a boy ten or twelve years old, named Willie Cain, disappeared, and a playmate of his, a little older, told a story of Cain's being pushed out of a boat in a pond and drowned by himself and another boy, because Cain would not give them a few cents which he possessed. The other boy has steadily denied the story, but both have been kept in jail; both of them are rather bad characters. The latest report in the case is contained in the following despatch from Camden, dated Aug. 3d:

The body of the Cain boy was found this afternoon by Henry Davis, in a small stream leading from Hosmer's pond to Rockport, about one mile from the village. His clothes lay in a pile on the bank, near a deep hole in the stream, where boys frequently go in swimming, and the body was found a number of rods below, on a pile of brush, which was on the side of the stream, lying face downward and in a very decomposed state, being nearly all out of the water. He was lying in a position that would naturally warrant the belief that he came to death while swimming. An inquest was held this afternoon, and from an hour's investigation nothing was found to indicate that he met his death otherwise than from drowning. A more complete examination will be given to-morrow.

New Hampshire Items.

A terrific storm visited Charlestown on the 2d inst.; trees were torn up, and a barn belonging to Bezer Wood demolished. At Warren and Salisbury the worst damage of the season to growing crops occurred.

The eighty-fifth annual course of lectures in the Dartmouth Medical college was opened on Wednesday, 3d inst., with an introductory address by Prof. H. M. Field, M. D., of Newton, Mass. An unusually large number of students were present.

The Dover Democrat says: "Charles McIntire, engineer of the day freight between this city and Boston, was tested a few days ago for color-blindness, and disqualified. He will have to resign his position, notwithstanding he was as efficient an engineer as ever was employed on the road. McIntire's many friends in this city very much regret his misfortune."

Frank Nelson, a house painter belonging in Nashua, was drowned in a canal at Lawrence, Mass., on the night of the 1st inst. The body was recovered on the 2d, by drawing off the water in the canal.

George Fish, a mulatto, and a white girl fifteen years old, of respectable family, left Glastonbury, Conn., together on the night of the 30th ult., and cannot be traced by the girl's parents. Fish is a reckless fellow. The girl has borne a good reputation, and her friends are greatly surprised and grieved at her actions.

—"Lillie, have you said your prayers?" "Yes." "Who did you say them, to, Lillie?" "There wasn't nobody here to say 'em to, so I said 'em to God."

—Miss Helen E. Coolidge has become a law partner with her father, who is an ex-judge, at Niles, Michigan, and the firm name is Coolidge & Daughter, attorneys and counsellors at law.

What is the Use!

Of buying worthless medicines, and spending money on quack doctors whose only idea is to gull the public. Is it not better to buy a reliable medicine like Sulphur Bitters? I think so, as they cured me of catarrh after suffering three years. —J. P. Clark, Manchester.

The dory Little Western, from London June 14th, for New York, was spoken in latitude forty-eight degrees north and longitude thirty-six degrees west by the steamer Donau, which arrived at Southampton, Eng., on the 3d inst. She wanted no assistance, although her main boom was broken and the crew said she was leaking at the rate of four inches an hour.

When pangs the mortals flesh assail,
And give a bitterness to life,
Making the cheek with anguish pale,
Amid the fierce internal strife;
Then Sanford's Ginger soothes the pain,
And smiling Health looks up again.

The brewers of St. Louis, Mo., are in a row, and have reduced the price of beer to $7 a barrel.

Big Results from Little Causes.

"Do you know?" remarked a man to his friend on Chestnut street, a day or two since, "I believe both Conkling and Platt had a bad case of skin disease when they resigned!" "What makes you think so?" inquired the listener in astonishment. "Well, you see they acted in such an eruptive manner—so rash—ly as it were. Save?" "Oh! yes, I save," replied the other, "they were boil—ing over and merely resigned to humor themselves, I suppose." If such be the case, the National difficulty might have been averted by applying Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases.

The annual meeting of the officers of the first regiment New Hampshire National Guard was held in Manchester on Thursday, the 4th inst., two officers being present from this city. Lt. Col. John B. Hall was elected colonel of the regiment, Major Lane being advanced to the position of lieutenant-colonel, and Capt. Abbott of Dover to that of major. The number of each company is to be increased to fifty-eight. Brigade muster at West Concord, commencing Sept. 13th, and continuing four days. After the business of the occasion was over, the officers of the regiment were invited by Col. Hall to a dinner at the City hotel.

News and Notes.

Three men attempted to rob the Manufacturers' bank at Cohoes, N. Y., on the 2d inst., at noon. One of them invited the cashier to see a man in a carriage. While he was outside another one requested the teller to change a $20 bill, and while he was doing so a third seized $9,500 in bills, but Clerk Clute covered him with a revolver, when the thief dropped the money and fled, but was captured. The others escaped. The man arrested gives the name of John Petre of Troy, which is supposed to be an assumed name. His underclothing was of the finest silk, and he wore paper-soled shoes that made no noise.

A bill declaring a wife a competent witness against her husband, where he commits an assault upon her, has passed the Georgia senate. Likewise one to make it a misdemeanor to carry intoxicating drinks to any public gathering.

A grandson of Daniel D. Tompkins, once vice president of the United States, was arraigned in a New York police court the other day for theft.

A commission will be shortly appointed by the postmaster-general to visit the larger post offices throughout the country, to investigate the matter of salaries and allowances, the amount expended under these heads, and the general administration of such offices.

At a colored picnic at Morefield, Ky., a day or two since, a fight occurred between Carlisle and Sharpsburg negroes, during which five were killed. No further particulars ascertained.

St. Patrick's Catholic church in South Lawrence, Mass., was broken into on the evening of the 2d inst., the poor boxes rifled, and the vestments and sacred vessels scattered about the floor. O'Leary, for complicity in the affair.

McDerby will remain on duty under the immediate order of Colonel John Newton.

The Old Colony railroad is now trying a carbunter for freight cars patented by H. L. Robertson of Springfield, Mass. This arrangement does away completely with going between the cars to either couple or uncouple them, which is attended with so much danger to life and limb.

Mr. W. H. Lincoln, of the agency of the Leyland line of steamers at Boston, ridicules the idea that the infernal machines sent abroad were made either in New York or Peoria, and intimates that he knows where they were made, but withholds his knowledge from the public in order that a premature disclosure may not defeat the ends of justice.

A strange disease has, it is reported, broken out among the cattle of Nova Scotia, and mortality among the animals attacked appears to be very high. The disease is pronounced non-contagious and confined to the vicinity of the towns, but what it is has not apparently been determined.

Mary Clapp of Holyoke, Mass., was terribly burned on the 3d inst. through attempting to light a fire with kerosene oil. A young man named Fitzgerald extinguished the flames by wrapping his duster about her, but her recovery is doubtful.

Two men registered at the McDonough house, Middletown, Conn., Tuesday, 2d inst., as C. S. Thompson and Charles A. Buck. Early Wednesday morning Buck paid his bill and left. A short time after, a strong odor of gas was noticed coming from Thompson's room, and on entering it Thompson was found dead in bed and the gas-cock turned on. There is suspicion of foul play. A small amount of money was found in Thompson's pocket.

A boy named Charles I. Taylor, Jr., aged nineteen years, of a party of excursionists connected with churches in Bloomfield, fell from an excursion train on the Connecticut Western road, near Canaan, Conn., Aug. 3d, and was run over by the cars and killed. The accident was due to his own carelessness.

The late William M. Hunt, who died at the Isles of Shoals a few years since, used to go to Magnolia, a point on the Gloucester branch of the Eastern railroad, every year, and his quaint studio still stands there. He was greatly troubled, the Boston Courier says, by visitors who came about him while he was painting, asking him questions, and interrupting him in his work. So one day he appeared with a huge placard, which he placed in plain sight, bearing the inscription: "This man is deaf and dum," meaning, of course, that he did not wish to be talked to. The man who painted it, being somewhat deficient in his orthographical attainments, had omitted the letter "b" in the word "dumb;" but this only made the sign more attractive to Mr. Hunt, who wouldn't have had it corrected for all the world.

The wife of William Dodge, baggage-master at the Eastern railroad depot in Salem, Mass., died very suddenly on the 3d inst. Her brother, Rev. G. F. Bassett, died in a similar manner last May.

The Boston Post of Thursday says: "The first train of stock from the Eastern railroad under the new management arrived at Union market, Watertown, Tuesday morning. The train consisted of thirteen cars. The eastern drovers expressed themselves as well pleased with the change."

The Swatara was ordered to Chefoo, China, on July 13th, as the weather at Shanghai was becoming very warm. BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 2164; Sheep and Lambs 3697; Swine 10,500; Veals 45; number of western cattle 2069; eastern cattle 60; milch cows and northern cattle 43.

Prices of Beef Cattle per 100 lbs, live weight—Extra quality $6 12 1-2 to $6 75; first quality $5 62 1-2 to $6 00; second quality $5 12 1-2 to $5 50; third quality $4 50 to $4 90; poorest grades of coarse oxen, bulls, etc., $4 02 1-2 to $4 37.

Brighton Hides 8 1-2 to 9c per lb.
Brighton Tallow 5 1-4c per lb.
Country Hides 7 1-4 to 7 1-2c per lb.
Country Tallow 4 to 4 1-2c per lb.
Calf Skins 12 1-2c per lb.
Western Sheep Skins 40 to 50c each.
Northern shorted Skins 35 to 40c each.
Western Lamb Skins 65 to 85c each.
Northern Lamb Skins 50 to 60c each.

The trade for beef cattle opened quite actively yesterday, and nearly all the western cattle changed hands early in the day. The quality of the offerings was about the same grade as those in one week ago, and prices declined nearly 1-8c per lb from those realized one week ago. The trade was mostly confined to butchers' cattle, the demand for shippers being light this week in consequence of the Eastern cattle being taken to Watertown. The trade at Brighton this week has been confined mostly to western beef cattle, there not being any working oxen or milch cows offered in the market for sale on Tuesday.

We were informed by Directors of the Cattle Fair Hotel Corporation that the old yards would be kept open for the sale of live stock, as usual, and it was the current report that a prominent eastern dealer had leased the yards and would continue business in them as has been in the past.

Sheep and Lambs—These from the west were owned by G W Hollis, who employs agents at the west to buy and ship direct to him for slaughtering purposes, sheep selling from 5 1-2 to 6 1-4c, lambs from 7 to 8c per lb live weight.

Swine—Live Hogs—Prices 6 1-4 to 7 1-2c per lb, live weight; Store pigs $2 50 to $3 00 per head, or from 8 to 10c per lb.

Important.

AROUND HOME.

Mr. D. F. Borthwick, who for some time past has kept a dry-goods store on Market street, has sold his stock to L. E. Staples.

The schooner Clara Bella came in on Thursday last, bringing nine fine swordfish, which were bought by Randall & Caswell.

The steamer Startled Fawn came into this port from the Merrimack river on Thursday, with a company of nice-looking excursionists on board.

The tickets for the moonlight excursion of the steamer Acushnet on Tuesday evening are placed at fifty cents. The advertisement can be found in another column.

A new steam drill for sinking through rock, recently purchased by the government for the purpose of boring wells on the navy yard, will be put in operation there to-day.

Solomon R. Littefield has built for C. Sullivan & Co., at their store, a refrigerator about ten by fifteen feet on the sides, and the full height of the room. It is for the purpose of storing meats and game, and is furnished with all the necessary hooks, shelves, etc. The ordinary temperature of the air in this big box is thirty-eight degrees above zero.

The schooner Rover's Bride, Sol. White master, picked her way up the river through the thick fog Thursday morning, with her seine-boat ahead, and landed one hundred and twelve barrels of good-sized mackerel at Tredick's wharf. She was more than full, for she had about twelve barrels of fish in her dory astern. She sailed again Thursday evening.

Immense schools of mackerel, most of them being "tinkers," were in the pockets of the weirs on Thursday; the quantity in the Lowry weir was estimated by fishermen at four hundred barrels, and in one of the other weirs at three hundred barrels. The nets had to be cut to let the fish out, only about seven hundred large mackerel being secured from the lot; the nets were considerably damaged, as it was.

A dispatch received from New York on the 4th inst. states that the ship Calcutta, formerly of this port but late of Boston, Capt. A. J. Smith, has been lost at sea. No particulars are given. She sailed from Cebu (Phillippine islands) on the 3d of May for Boston. She was 848 tons register, built at this port in 1867, and was owned principally by Edward Lawrence, Jr., a part of her we believe being owned here. The vessel was insured in Boston offices.

At the Wentworth, Saturday, a series of sports will take place, commencing at twelve o'clock with a race for double-oared working boats, first prize $20, second prize $10; to be followed by a dory race, first prize $20, second prize a silver watch, third prize $5. A walking match will take place after the boat races; first prize a silver cup, second prize a silver watch. Other amusements will follow. A clam-bake, complimentary to the boarders and guests of the Wentworth, will be given at two o'clock.

Wednesday evening of this week, about seven o'clock, a ten-months-old child of Mr. James Thuer, who lives at No. 17 State street, was lying on a bed in the second story, the bed being close to and on a level with an open window, when it rolled out and fell to the sidewalk below, a distance of about seventeen feet. A doctor was called, who found no bones broken, and no signs of any internal injury; and the child, though of course rudely shaken up and somewhat bruised, may not suffer any permanent harm.

Mr. Samuel G. Hooper left this city on Wednesday, the 3d inst., for Prince Edward's Island, to be absent several weeks.

On Thursday last the managers of the Chase Home for Children received a check for $100 from J. Fisher Sheafe of New York, to be applied to the repairs of the old Chase mansion.

The men engaged in blowing the Gangway rock to pieces shifted the position of the "band-stand" on Thursday last. They report the removal of one-tenth the amount of rock necessary to be taken out in order to give the depth of water called for.

The ship Paul Jones of this port, Gerrish master, has made another fine passage, having arrived at Hong Kong on the 21st ult., in ninety-six days from New York. She evidently can do some good sailing, as she ought, for a handsomer vessel never left the stocks—or if she did, we never saw her.

The Shoals maintain their old-time reputation for popularity. Cots and other improvised sleeping accommodations have been in demand at both the Appledore and Oceanic hotels for two weeks past—a report that a good many other summer hotels along the coast would be glad to make, but can't without misrepresentation.

On Thursday, the 4th inst., C. Dwight Hanscom & Co. sold at auction the houses numbered sixty-four and sixty-six on Islington street, owned by Mr. John W. Stavers, formerly of this city, but now residing in Taunton, Mass. Mr. William Conn bought No. 66, paying therefor $2500, and the taxes for 1881. No. 64 was bought by Mr. James J. Hogan, who paid $2600, and this year's taxes.

The fishing schooners Mayor Jones of this port, Amy Hixon of Chatham, and Flying Dart of Swampscott, arrived at Gloucester, Mass., on Tuesday, Aug. 2d, with their seines badly torn, and without mackerel. They reported the mackerel as schooling close inshore among the rocks, where it is difficult to get at them with seines. But few had been taken since the previous Thursday. The Minnehaha arrived on the 3d with a hundred barrels of mackerel, which were sold to the canning factory. The codfish arrivals at Gloucester on the 3d only aggregated 172,000, lbs., and only 500 lbs. of halibut was received.

The missing woman, Mrs. Cartledge, had not been heard of up to Thursday evening, to the great distress of her friends. The following is a description of the missing lady: Height about five feet three inches, age forty-five years, hair dark, eyes blue; vicinity of one eye discolored, as if from a blow. Face thin and pale. Had on when she disappeared a dress of dark, small-figured brown-and-white print, with a ruffle; hat of white Fayal straw, with a dark blue vail tied around it. Any person who may have seen or heard of her since Wednesday forenoon, 3d inst, will please leave word with the city marshal, or at No. 92 Islington street.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, Aug. 4th, Mayor Sise in the chair:

A communication from J. W. P. Carter and about forty other persons was received, asking why the fountain on Market square voted by the board to be erected, had not been put in position. Referred to the next board.

A communication from Charles E. Senter and others was received, asking what had been done toward expending the $3000 appropriated for the boring of an artesian well on Market square. Referred to the next board.

John M. Tebbetts and Dr. Curtis asked permission to open streets to work on drains. Referred to the committee on streets, with power.

Silas Philbrick asked permission to lay a sidewalk in front of premises. Granted.

Wm. H. Rollins and James Janvrin sent in a communication stating that Pickering street is in a dangerous condition, and needs repairs. Referred to the committee on streets.

Ald. Slater reported that the naphtha lights in his district had not been properly attended to. Referred to the committee on street lights, with power.

The committee on bills on their second reading reported a bill "for the establishment and government of a public library," which was passed.

The committee on streets reported on the matter of the acceptance of Elm court as a highway. Question referred to the next board.

The mayor made a statement regarding the vote of the board at its last previous meeting granting certain privileges the Mutual Union Telegraph Co., and advised that the vote be rescinded, which was done. The impression of the board seemed to be that the new enterprise is merely a scheme for "selling out" to the Western Union, and is not intended as a genuine working rival to the old line.

The board received an invitation from the county commissioners to visit the county farm at Brentwood on the 5th.

A message was received from the common council, announcing the passage, under suspension of the rules, of the bill relating to the public library; also that the council was ready to meet the board in convention to canvass the votes for mayor.

In convention the votes were canvassed and on motion of Ald. Hazel a resolution was passed declaring William H. Sise elected as mayor for the next municipal year. The mayor returned thanks to the boards for the courtesy shown him during the past year, and the convention then rose.

On resuming, the board of aldermen notified the council that they should adjourn in five minutes if the council had no other business to bring before them; a vote was passed thanking the mayor for the able and impartial manner in which he has presided during the year now at an end, the mayor responding appropriately, and the board then adjourned.

Mrs. Margaret Huff left Kennebunkport on Sunday, the 31st ult., and was found dead in the woods near the village on the morning of the 3d inst. No marks of violence were discovered.

A gentleman who has recently spent a week or so in Eliot informs us that the rock taken from the top of the shaft in the Eliot gold mine assayed $8 to the ton; half-way down the shaft the assay was $30 to the ton; and from the bottom, eighteen feet down, rock was taken out that assayed $58 to the ton.

The Pepperell mills at Biddeford are very prosperous. Since 1860 they have made dividends of twelve per cent annually, with only few exceptions, offener above than below; twice they divided fifty per cent, once forty-five, and several times twenty. The par value of the stock is $500; it now sells for over $1000.

The Manchester Mirror tells the following fish story: "Mr. A. Whitman Dole, who is stopping at York beach, where he is regarded as one of the most skillful of summer fishermen, recently experienced a most remarkable catch. He was fishing in deep water, and feeling a smart tug at his bait pulled into the boat a creature that puzzled the oldest fishermen to name. Its appearance is that of a monkey, its head and body being quite perfectly defined, while upon its tail are sharp bristles. Mr. Dole calls it a 'sea-monkey,' and will probably have it preserved, as it certainly is a curiosity."

—At the Bagshot (Eng.) fancy fair, in which royalty shared so active a part, a young gentleman took a fancy to a certain article, and remarked to a lady at the stall that it was very pretty. She assented, adding, "My mother sent it." "Really," softly resumed the customer; "Why, let me see; I almost think I must have met your mother. Her name is——?" "The Queen," replied the "saleslady."

—In an Illinois village during service on a sultry Sunday morning, the pastor's little girl of nearly three summers became somewhat wearied at the length of the sermon, and in rather a low tone of voice, but earnestly, said, to the amusement of those who sat near, "Come, papa, that's enough; let's go home."

—Rev. W. W. Colley, recently a missionary in Africa, has distinguished himself at Norwich, Conn., by declaring in a lecture that there is no barren Sahara, and that the whole country known on the maps as sterile and uninhabitable is fertile and densely populated. The wily Arabs started the lie, he explained, in order to keep out competition in the ivory traffic.

The morning of the second day will be given to completion of organization, election of officers, address of welcome by Gov. Plaistead, and responsive speeches. In the afternoon a memorial service will be conducted by Commander W. G. Haskell, and an oration be delivered by Rev. J. E. Lovering of Worcester. The evening will be devoted to regimental and social festivities.

Afternoon—Sham fight by veterans on the plain adjoining Bramhall's hill. The evening will be devoted to a grand camp fire at the park, with speeches, music, fireworks and other attractions.

Arrangements have been made with the several railroad and steamboat lines for one fare the round trip during the reunion.

Invitations have been extended to the president of the United States and to the members of his cabinet, to the generals of the regular army and to distinguished generals and prominent naval officers who commanded Maine troops during the war of the rebellion, and to the governors of the New England states, with their respective staffs.

Gen. Chamberlain will officiate as commander in chief.

Stop My Paper.

We occasionally meet a man in this world who is under the impression that if he "stops his paper" he will thus "get even" with the editor for some supposed injury—maybe it is only a gentle request for subscriptions past due.

Some business men, or rather men in some business, are laboring under the same apparition. Why, don't these blissful fellows know that when a man "cuts" his paper it causes no commotion with the editor? He is used to it. It is only a proof that his paper is appreciated.

Aside from that, an editor is very like an ordinary man. He eats, he drinks, he wears clothes (when he can get them—they may not be the finest, but he wears them all the same,) he wears a hat, he eats bread, eats meat, and all other "indelicacies" of the season (sometimes eats crow.)

No, the editor does not go barefooted (unless he has to.) Paradoxically speaking, he is a man like any other man; has feelings like a man; likes his friends as any other man, and as a rule is not less charitable than other men.

Now, "stop my paper" man, don't think to hurt our feelings by paying up and quitting. This is a very large world, friend, and there are some very large people in it. If we discover that we can't get along without you, why then we will sell out and quit the business.—Topeka Commonwealth.

—A seaside journal says that the nice, spider-legged masher, with the cork-screw-toed shoes and twirling cane, is a necessity at a watering-place, in order that he may break the monotony and excite the curiosity of the children.

Experience taught Me!

And my money paid for it. After having liver complaint four years, and spending money on nostrums and doctors who didn't help me, I tried Sulphur Bitters. Six bottles cured me. I shall always use them.—Millwright.

Ex-Marshal A. King, of Marion, Ala., was shot at six times when entering his gate early in the morning on the 2d inst., and riddled with buckshot. Six negroes have been arrested for the crime.

The salve is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction in every case or money refunded. Be sure you get Henry's Carbolic Salve, as all others are but imitations. Price 25 cents. Dr. Green's Oxygenated Bitters

Are a cheap and simple remedy for dyspepsia and billiousness in all their worst forms. It is a well known preparation, and has been known and endorsed by physicians for many years, and has been used by thousands of sufferers in all parts of the world as a standard and reliable remedy.

Charles Parker, the Adirondacks guide who feloniously assaulted Mrs. Bull, escaped from custody at Long Lake, N. Y., on the night of the 2d inst.

Terrible Loss of Life.

Millions of rats, mice, cats, bed-bugs, roaches, lose their lives by collision with "Rough on Rats." Sold by druggists, 15cts.

Catarrh of the Bladder.

Stinging, smarting, irritation of the urinary passages, diseased discharges, cured by Buchupaiba. Druggists. Depot at Thacher's.

The Grand Trunk railroad is transporting passengers between Boston and Chicago for $5 apiece.

How Long Would It take to Count two Millions?

Over two million volumes of the revised edition of the New Testament, were sold on the first day of its issue. These figures can only be equaled by the enormous sales of Swayne's Ointment for Itching piles, which is universally used as a standard remedy for stopping the itching at night, when one thinks that pin worms are crawling about the rectum. To calculate the extent of its sale in actual figures, would involve the labor of a lifetime. Will you be pestered longer from the aggravating piles?

Naval Affairs.

The frigate Franklin arrived at Trieste July 17th. The Nipsic sailed from Copenhagen for Stockholm July 9th. The health of the European squadron is reported good.

Captain Joseph Skerritt has been ordered to take passage for Aspinwall and thence to Panama, and upon his arrival there to report for the command of the United States steamer Richmond. Pay Inspector George Cochrane is to take passage also and report for duty on the Richmond, and also as fleet paymaster of the Asiatic station.

The democrats of the second Maine district, at Auburn on the 4th inst., nominated Franklin Reed for Congress, by acclamation. The proposition to endorse Judge Gilbert, the greenback candidate, was summarily squelched. This action means the election of Hon. Nelson Dingley, the republican candidate.—but then he would have been elected anyway.

A state election was held in North Carolina on the 4th inst., on the question of prohibition or no prohibition. The vote was very light, "no prohibition" having a very large majority.

The commander of the North German Lloyds steamship Donau writes to the English newspapers complaining of an hour's delay to his vessel, caused by the supposition that the dory Little Western contained shipwrecked persons. He says the experiment of crossing the Atlantic in small boats is now only a sporting venture, made for money and notoriety. Every shipmaster is morally obliged to investigate small boats, to discover whether they are cases of distress. It is to be feared that some shipmasters, after being fooled in the way he was in regard to the Little Western, may not pay attention to cases of actual urgency if these sea tramps continue to cross the ocean.

Miss Louise Montague, the variety actress who was engaged to ride in Forepaugh's circus procession as "the most beautiful woman in America," has been discharged, and she now threatens to sue the manager, not for the $30 a week which was to be her actual pay, but for the $10,000 prize which, in his advertisement, he awarded her.

No good Preaching.

No man can do a good job of work, preach a good sermon, try a law suit well, doctor a patient, or write a good article when he feels miserable or dull, with sluggish brain and unsteady nerves, and none should make the attempt in such a condition when it can be so easily and cheaply removed by a little Hop Bitters. See other column.—Albany Times.

Advices from Sonora and Fort Craig, New Mexico, report fresh Indian outrages, many whites having been massacred.

Persons suffering from impure blood, or whose health is giving way, either as ministers or those who study closely, will find in Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites the material to build them up and the tonic to keep them there. Dr. C. CLAY.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon dobility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

Shark catching from the piers in New York harbor is the new sensation. Three were captured Thursday morning from the Washington market pier, one of which was ten feet long. The harbor police report the North and East rivers infested Mehamed Begair Ali, a Persian, declared his intention in New York, Wednesday, the 3d inst., to become a citizen of the United States. He is the first native Persian who ever sought naturalization in this country. He is forty-six years old, and was born at Maschid, in the province of Khorassan.

One of the greatest statesmen that America ever produced, Hon. James G. Blaine, uses Adamson's Botanic Balsam in his family, and endorses it as a safe and effectual remedy for coughs and colds.

A young man of western Massachusetts went to Amherst to get a marriage license, and his prospective mother-in-law accompanied him, in order to see to it that he got back in time for the ceremony in the evening; but at Amherst they got drunk together, and were in jail at the hour appointed for the wedding.

Big Results from Little Causes.

"Do you know?" remarked a man to his friend on Chestnut street, a day or two since, "I believe both Conkling and Platt had a bad case of skin disease when they resigned!" "What makes you think so?" inquired the listener in astonishment. "Well, you see they acted in such an eruptive manner—rash—ly as it were. Save?" "Oh! yes, I save," replied the other, "they were boil—ing over and merely resigned to humor themselves, I suppose." If such be the case, the National difficulty might have been averted by applying Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 6, 1881.

New Hampshire Legislature.

The bill to repeal the act taxing church property when in excess of $10,000 was indefinitely postponed, by a vote of 120 to ninety-nine. Mr. Chandler gave notice of a motion to reconsider.

The bill to punish bribery at elections received the approval of all the members who voted, except twenty-seven. The bill provides, in brief, that any voter may challenge any other voter at any election, and that unless the challenged party subscribe to a long, iron-clad oath, setting forth that he has not hired or attempted to influence in any way any person to vote or to refrain from voting, and has not been hired himself, he shall be disfranchised. Other severe pains and penalties are attached, and the bill has been made as strong as the ingenuity of its authors could make it. The great objection to the bill in its present form, and what was no doubt the cause of the votes against it, is that under its provisions any bummer and scoundrel in any town or ward could compel every honest man to take an oath that he is not a criminal before he would be allowed to vote, and by doing this to prolong, almost indefinitely, the town and ward meetings.

Communistic Twaddle.

We have received the first number of "Liberty," a fortnightly paper published in Boston, edited by Benj. R. Tucker, and having "Down with authority" for its war-cry. We give a few extracts from this new candidate for public favor:

The Church has become an object of derision; the State must be made equally so. The State is said to be a "necessary evil;" it must be made unnecessary. This century's battle, then, is with the State: the State, that debases man; the State, that prostitutes woman; the State, that corrupts children; the State, that trammels love; the State, that stifles thought; the State, that monopolizes land; the State, that limits credit; the State, that restricts exchange; the State, that gives idle capital the power of increase, and, through interest, rent, profit, and taxes, robs industrious labor of its products.

The reformer who abolishes the fiction God as a factor of authority in human concerns can never stop, if he is logical, till the whole machine of government which grows out of it is also abolished. The State is as much a theological superstition as the doctrine of the atonement.

Gound-rent exists only because the State stands by to collect it and to protect land-titles rooted in force or fraud. Interest and house-rent exist only because the State grants to a certain class of individuals and corporations the exclusive privilege of using its credit and theirs as a basis for the issuance of circulating currency.

Gone from bad to worse.—the young woman of Chicago, who a fortnight ago left a house of ill fame to join the church.

On the wrapper of this brilliant sheet was marked a big "X," but we have no use for such trash. Mr. Tucker is rather out of the latitude in which attacks upon property and decency are profitable; he had better return to Europe, where the common school is a phenomenon.

News and Notes.

At the coroner's inquest at Camden, Me., last Thursday, over Willie Cain's body, Drs. Paine and Eaton of Camden, Banks of Rockland and Walker of Thomaston agreed that there were no marks on the body to show how he came to his death. The jury adjourned for two weeks to give time for collecting and arranging testimony. The body was buried. The case is still a mystery, and the people of the vicinity are divided in opinion as to whether it is a case of murder or drowning.

The New York Sun states that Leo Hartmann, the Russian nihilist who has boasted of his complicity in several attempts to murder the late czar, which resulted in the death of a number of persons, has fled to Canada, he having become convinced that he was in immediate danger of seizure and extradition to Russia under orders of the state department. Whether the assassin will be any safer in Canada than he thought himself to be in the United States, remains to be seen.

The eighth company or detachment of the committee of public safety was organized in the second district of New Orleans, on the 3d inst. It is mainly composed of creoles or natives. The organization is formed to put a summary check to the riotous and lawless conduct of the hoodlum element, which is composed mainly of political office-holders and their followers. A lawless spirit pervades the whole class of local office-holders, and many of them are accused of robbery, rape or murder. Their retainers follow their example. Almost the only exception to this rule is Mayor Shakespeare, who was elected by the people, irrespective of politics, at the last election, and who has been giving the hoodlums no quarter.

A small yacht has been sunk off the coast of Buteshire, Scotland. Five persons were drowned, including three ladies.

Two vessels, the Diogenes and Socrates, which were built at Kiel, Germany, have been placed under embargo, and measures have been taken to prevent them from leaving, as it is believed that they were built for the Peruvian government. The London Standard's Berlin correspondent says one of the rumors in regard to the vessels embargoed at Kiel is that the vessels are for the fenians.

Coldest and Hottest Regions.

Where is the coldest known region? Up to the present time, Yakutsk, in northeast Siberia, has often been cited as the place of our earth where winter is coldest. But a distinguished traveler now disputes this, and claims that to Werkhogansk, in northeast Siberia, in longitude 134 degrees east from Greenwich, and latitude 67 1-2 north, belongs that honor. The lowest winter recorded at Yakutsk is 77.3 degrees Fahr. below zero, and at Werkhogansk, 81.0 degrees below zero. The hottest spot in the world is believed to have been discovered in the desert interior of Australia. A thermometer, graduated to 127 degrees Fahr., was hung on a tree, sheltered from both the sun and wind, and yet the heat was so great that the mercury rose till it burst the tube, and the temperture must have been thus at least 128 degrees, apparently the highest ever recorded in any part of the world.

One of the hottest localities on the globe is along the Persian Gulf, where rain seldom or never falls. At Bahrin the shold shore has no fresh water, yet a considerable population contrives to exist there, thanks to the copious springs of fresh water which issue from the bottom of the sea. The fresh water is secured by divers, and brought to the surface in goat-skin bags. The source of these submarine springs is thought to be the green hills of Osman some five or six hundred miles distant.—Phila. Sun. Night.

AROUND HOME.

Friday was a boiling hot day, the thermometer reaching nearly one hundred in many parts of the city.

The steamer James Sampson took a party outside the harbor on a moonlight excursion, Friday evening.

The steamer Startled Fawn came into this port again on Friday, with an excursion party from Haverhill, Mass.

Tickets for the moonlight excursion per steamer Acushnet, Tuesday evening, can now be procured. See advertisement.

There is trouble in the Methodist church because cigars were sold at the Sunday school festival to small boys. several of whom indulged in their first smoke on that occasion.—Times.

The millponds made themselves painfully apparent to the olfactory nerves of everybody in the city who slept with their chamber windows open, Thursday night.

The heat at the navy yard on Friday was so great that the mercury stood about eighteen inches above the top of the thermometer. At least that is what some of the navy yard workmen report.

Capt. Bancroft Gheradi, assigned to special duty in connection with the fitting out of the Lancaster, arrived in this city on Tuesday of this week, and reported at the navy yard for duty on Wednesday.

The steamer James Sampson will take passengers between this city and Newcastle this afternoon, leaving this city at 1:00, 4:00, 7:10 and 9:00; leaving the Wentworth at 4:30, 7:45 and 11:00. A large number of people will no doubt go down to see the sports at the Wentworth.

Among the sojourners at the Franconia house, Franconia, N. H., are Commodore Pickering, U. S. N., with his wife and daughter, Mrs. Surgeon Heflinger, U. S. N.; Capt. H. J. Bishop, United States marine corps, with his wife, and Mrs. Bishop's sister, Mrs. Capt. J. H. Higbee, and son; Lieut. Arthur S. Watson, U. S. N., with his wife and son.—Boston Post.

The legislative delegation from Rockingham county, with invited guests from this city and other places, visited the county farm at Brentwood on Friday by invitation of the county commissioners, and inspected the establishment. The visitors were much pleased with what they saw.

The third annual reunion of the Emery family will take place at Dover point, on Thursday, September 8th. A large tent will be pitched on the point, on the bank of the river, where dinner will be served. Papers or remarks are expected from Rev. Rufus Emery, Hon. Thomas C. Amory, Rev. E. J. Emery, Mr. George E. Emery, Mr. Edwin Emery, and others.

Mrs. Abigail Morrison Cheney died at her home in Ashland, August 3d, aged eighty-five years. She was the widow of the late Deacon Moses Cheney and mother of a large family of children, of whom were Rev. O. B. Cheney, D. D., President of Bates college, and Ex-Governor Person C. Cheney of New Hampshire. She was a sister of the late Jonathan Morrison, formerly a merchant in this city.

The ship Calcutta, previously reported wrecked, was driven ashore on the coast of Kaffraria, South Africa, and became a total loss, only the mate and two seamen escaping with their lives. She was laden with a cargo consisting of 8,000 piculs dry sugar, 7,400 piculs hemp, and 144 piculs sapan wood, the combined value of which was fully $200,000. On this there was insurance of $190,000, the sugar being insured to the amount of $40,000, and ship and hemp $150,000.

The sloop America arrived at the navy yard a few days ago from the Charlestown navy yard, with guns for the frigate Lancaster.

The new Lake Shore road: On Wednesday, 3d inst., a switch at the junction of the Eastern railroad track and the track leading to the Concord wharf got misplaced, and the train that leaves this city at 12:20 for North Conway went the wrong way, and brought up on the coal wharf. No particular damage was done. —Times.

Mr. Lowell Jenness on Friday brought into our office some bean leaves that measured eight inches and a half across, and some pea vines eight feet high, bearing pods four inches and a half long and an inch and a quarter wide. These peas are eaten pods and all, the same as string beans, and we should think about a dozen of them would make a good dinner for a hungry man.

It is announced that Commodore Nicholson will go to Europe as commander of the United States naval forces in those waters, with the Lancaster for his flagship, Commodore D. McN. Fairfax, who had been assigned to this duty by popular report, having requested to be placed on the retired list,—the New York Times giving as a reason for his action that he has been displeased by Secretary Hunt.

There was seen at the Eastern railroad freight yard at Portland, on the 3d inst., twenty cars loaded with paving stones for the city of Chicago. Each car contained about fourteen tons. The stones came from Hurricane island quarries, and this is the first lot of what will require 600 cars to convey to their destination. This pioneer train was gaily decked, and on each car was a placard stating the contents, where they were from and whither going. The train goes through as a special via the Hoosac Tunnel road.

Men were on Friday engaged in setting a gas light on the post-office corner at the junction of Warren and Church streets, under the direction of Mr. Thomas R. Martin, assistant superintendent of the Portsmouth Gaslight Co. This will be one of the most serviceable lights in the city, as it will light the whole of Church street, and Warren street from Fleet to Pleasant, which have hitherto been dark as a coal bin. Indeed, we know of but one light which is of more value than this new one, and that is a naphtha light on the top of the hill in Russell street, which very fairly illuminates one way down to Market street, and the other way as far as the Elm street ward room, lighting up the railroad crossing quite satisfactorily.

A day or two ago a colored man applied for employment to the foreman in charge of the building operations at the new Christ church, and was told that his services were not needed. Some of the workmen, by way of a joke on the "darkey," slily directed him to go to work, stating that it would be all right, no matter what the foreman said—if any trouble was made they (the workmen) would pay him. So the colored brother turned to, doing his work in excellent style. Soon the foreman came along, and after watching his new acquisition for a few minutes enquired who set him to work, and on receiving his answer replied: "Well, I guess I'll set you to work now; you can keep on." So the colored laborer got a job which will last him for some time, and for the life of him can't see any joke about the matter.

LET "WELL ENOUGH" ALONE.

The U. S. S. Lancaster has been coppered and the ram fastened in place, and the ship will be ready to go afloat by the 10th inst. There have been rumors that the navy department has hinted that the Lancaster would be sent to some other station before going to sea. This transferring of a new or "repaired" vessel from one station to another to be completed, is one of the mistakes of which it is important for a new secretary to be informed. When a new ship is sent from the station where she was constructed to some other yard, the efforts of all hands at the newly-arrived-at station are concentrated towards keeping the ship as long as possible, and all kinds of alterations are suggested, so that the carefully-prepared plans of the construction department of the station where the ship was launched are thrown aside, and excuses for all sorts of new notions are made. We could instance cases of this kind which have cost the government immense sums for worse than useless "improvements" and alterations.

The Lancaster will be in readiness to receive her officers and men full as soon as they can be detailed for her, and if the friends of other stations want a vessel upon which to expend time and money they had better look up some other ship.

DEATH-BED REPENTANCE.

Mr. Editor: I was delighted to read in your report of the last regular meeting of the city councils of 1880-81, that

The board of aldermen notified the council that they should adjourn in five minutes if the council had no other business to bring before them.

In the standing "joint rules and orders of the city councils," which have been adopted by the two boards year by year ever since I can remember, occurs the following:

Either board may propose to the other for its concurrence, a time to which both boards will adjourn; and neither shall adjourn without giving notice to the other board through the clerk or otherwise.

This provision, it will be observed, is for the guidance of both boards alike; and yet I never before heard of the notice of intention to adjourn being sent to the common council by any board of aldermen. I once served in the council for several years, and while the council never once adjourned without previously notifying the upper board, the aldermen never once gave to the council the notice called for by the rules. Hence I was amazed and gladdened to read that the retiring board at its last meeting actually observed the rule—although it looks very like a death-bed repentance, as I believe it never sent down such notice before.

Reform in Politics.

Occasionally some member of the republican party may feel dissatisfied with some of the local officials, and desire to see a change. Possibly one may imagine that either he or some one of his political friends has been overlooked in the nomination for prominent offices, or that some other man has received more than his share of honors. From whatsoever cause, it frequently occurs that the democrats indulge in "great expectations" from republicans who are said to be lukewarm, or would like to see the republicans deprived of municipal control and the democracy come into power, to be succeeded perhaps by a new deal when peradventure the trumps may be in the hands of the disgruntled. A case in point is seen at the Queen City of the West. It appears that Cincinnati is discovering that any such thing as reform through democratic agencies is a delusion and a snare. Last spring certain republicans of that city, represented by the Gazette, became dissatisfied with the republican mayor, and offered to support any respectable man whom the democrats might name for the position. The Gazette proposed a man, and the democrats nominated him. The Gazette supported him, and carried over to him enough republican votes to secure his election. Great reforms were promised as the result of this movement, but they don't seem to have been delivered, for the Gazette now turns upon its own mayor in an article which is decorated with these energetic headings: "Mayor Means makes some disreputable appointments. Good men turned off because they are republicans, and bummers, jailbirds and gamblers substituted because they are democrats. Has our Reform Mayor gone back on his promises? It is the old story. The wonder is that so late as last spring there were any republicans anywhere who were so innocent as to believe a democratic promise of reform would ever be redeemed.

It is well for republicans to vote the straight republican ticket. It makes a good record when in after times one comes up for position, to know that his orthodoxy has been unimpaired by any dereliction of duty at the polls,—much less putting faith in democratic promises.

Cincinnati "Benevolent Enterprise."

Some years ago a number of patriotic citizens of Cincinnati who placed their head the benevolent Mayor Moore—whose heart always overflowed with desire to do good to mankind—formed a society "for the propagation of marriage." The object was to encourage single persons to marry by furnishing them an outfit of a wedding ring and something in the line of housekeeping utensils, and by the public spectacle of being married by a benevolent clergyman before a large concourse, assembled to give them a starting benison.

The benevolent enterprise was to be made self-supporting by making these marriages the periodical spectacle of a fair, held at Inwood Park, at which the gate-money and the profits on the beer were to go to the marriage fund. It appears also that in this case benevolence was to be made profitable to the benevolent originators. Two marriage fairs were held, drawing large crowds, and three couples were induced to marry. Without detailing a long story, the result may be summed up in a few words. The whole plan turned out disastrous in the extreme, and as usual, the women concerned were the victims. Of the three young girls thus married by machinery, one lies dead in the potter's field, one is living in dishonor, and one has just been murdered by her husband. The "mayor and patriotic citizens" have much to answer for.

—"I'll have no more of your lip!" is what the discarded lover remarked to his angry sweetheart.

Making Things Over.

"Maria" said Mr. Jones upon one of his worrying days, "it seems to me you might be more economical; now there's my old clothes, why can't you make them over for the children instead of giving them away?"

"Because they're worn out when you're done with them," answered Mrs. Jones. "It's no use making over things for the children that won't hold together; you could not do it yourself, smart as you are."

"Well," grumbled Jones, "I wouldn't have closets full of things mildewing for want of wear, if I was a woman, that's all. A penny saved is a penny earned."

That was in April. One warm day in May Mr. Jones went prancing through the closets looking for something he couldn't find and turning things generally inside out.

"Maria, he screamed, "where's my gray alpaca duster?"

"Made it over for Johnny."

"Ahem! Well, there's the brown linen one I bought last summer?"

"Clothes-bag!" mumbled Mrs. Jones, who seemed to have a difficulty in her speech at that moment. "Just made it into a nice one."

"Where are my lavender pants?" yelled Jones.

"Cut them over for Willie."

"Heavens?" groaned her husband; then in a voice of thunder, "Where have my blue suspenders got to?"

"Hung the baby-jumper with them."

"Maria!" asked the astonished man in a subdued voice, "would you mind telling me what you have done with my silk hat; you haven't made that over for the baby, have you?"

"Oh! no, dear," answered his wife cheerfully, "I've used that for a hanging basket. It is full of plants, and looks lovely." Mr. Jones never mentions the word economy or suggests making over—he has had enough of it.—Detroit Post.

A Strange Amusement.

A curious story is told of an exhibit in a show window of one of the leading jewelers of Vienna. The object of attraction is a brooch magnificently studded with gems, in the middle of the chasing of which is enclosed the most singular of centres—four common, old, bent and corroded pins. This brooch is the property of the Countess Lavetskoiy. The pins have a history, of course. Seven years ago Count Robert Lavetskoiy, as the story runs, was arrested at Warsaw for an alleged insult to the Russian government. The real author of the insult, which consisted of some careless words spoken at a social gathering, was his wife. He accepted the accusation, however, and was sent to prison. In one of the dungeons in which the Czar is said to be fond of confining his Polish subjects, the unfortunate martyr for his wife's loose tongue spent six years. He had only one amusement. After he had been searched and put into his cell, he found in his coat four pins. These he pulled out and threw upon the floor; then in the darkness he hunted for them. Having found them, perhaps after hours, even days, he scattered them again. And so the game went on for six weary years. "But for them," he writes in his memoirs, "I should have gone mad. They provided me with a purpose. So long as I had these pins to hunt for I had something to do. When the decree for my liberation as an exile was brought to me, the jailor found me on my knees hunting for one pin which had escaped me for two days. They saved my wife's husband from lunacy. My wife therefore could not desire a prouder ornament."

Be Wise and Happy.

If you will stop all your extravagant and wrong notions in doctoring yourself and families with expensive doctors or humbug cure-alls, that do harm always, and use only nature's simple remedies for all your ailments—you will be wise, well and happy, and save great expense. How Long Would it take to Count two Millions?

Over two million volumes of the revised edition of the New Testament, were sold on the first day of its issue. These figures can only be equaled by the enormous sales of Swayne's Ointment for Itching piles, which is universally used as a standard remedy for stopping the itching at night, when one thinks that pin worms are crawling about the rectum. To calculate the extent of its sale in actual figures, would involve the labor of a lifetime. Will you be pestered longer from the aggravating piles?

A Discouraged Farmer.

"I stood it well for a considerable time," said an old Australian bushman, when he was asked why he abandoned his section. "I stood it well, but the place was run over by kangaroos; they chopped off the wheat the moment it was above ground; they walked off with the maize stalks like an army of volunteer rifles; used up all my pumpkins at foot-ball; but when an old man kangaroo came to the house one day and asked for a spade to dig up the potatoes, I thought it was about time to clear out."

Porter Again in Command.

A Washington despatch says: The assignment of Admiral Porter to active and responsible duty, as commanding officer of the United States naval fleet at the Yorktown celebration, has much significance, as showing a disposition on the part of Secretary Hunt to treat the admiral with rather more consideration than has been shown him of late years. It has been said by the navy gossips for some time that the admiral was regaining his influence, and Secretary Hunt's action confirms such a theory.

Several singular orders of Secretary Hunt, some of which were in the most direct and positive manner a snub to prominent senators, makes it seem as if Porter was running the machine and paying off some of his enemies. This may last till Congress meets, then "stand from under there."

New Hampshire Items.

The legislature has indefinitely postponed the bill to provide for the purchase of the Concord railroad by the state.

Friday was a scorcher throughout New Hampshire. At Hanover the thermometer marked 101 in the shade, and 132 in the sun. At the Weirs it was 101, and at Manchester from 100 to 103 according to locality.

The houses of Expressman Clark and Dr. Dinsmore, at Amherst, were entered and robbed on Thursday night of jewelry, surgical instruments and money, amounting in all to $40.

A meeting of the trustees of the State Normal school was held at Concord on the 3d inst. The old board was re-elected as follows: President, Geo. B. Spalding of Dover; secretary and treasurer, Charles A. Jewell of Plymouth; William E. Buck of Manchester, Daniel C. Roberts of Concord, Hosea W. Parker of Claremont. The governor and superintendent of public instruction are members of the board ex-officio. The legislature has made an appropriation of $3,500 for the repair of the buildings, which work will be immediately begun. The buildings will be heated by steam, and supplied with all modern improvements and conveniences.

William C. Merrill was arrested at Manchester, Aug. 4th, for horse stealing, and was bound over before the police court, on three complaints, in the sum of $500 each, one for breaking and entering a barn in Francestown and stealing a horse, wagon and harness; another for burglary in New Boston; and the last, for stealing a wagon in Bedford. There is still another complaint. Merrill left the state prison last May, having served a four years' sentence for stealing a horse.

A strange cow, confused by the gaslights, made a violent attack upon a young lady in Manchester, Friday evening, and threw her several feet into the air. The infuriated animal was soon driven off by a crowd of spectators. The young woman escaped with a torn dress and a few severe bodily bruises.

News and Notes.

Robert Hottinger died in Chicago on Thursday of last week from the effects of a dose of morphine administered by his own hand, and his sweetheart, Katie Hild, is at the point of death from the same drug, taken with suicidal intent. A Washington despatch of the 6th inst. says the essence of the verdict in the Whittaker case is the finding of Whittaker guilty of committing the alleged outrage on himself. This verdict is unanimous, and is coupled with the unanimous recommendation that he be dismissed the service.

The supreme court of the United States has decided that a state may require the taking out of a license for the sale of manufactured articles, and the fact that the article is produced under a patent will not defeat this power.

Nathan Orlando Greenfield was executed at Syracuse, N. Y., Friday morning, for the murder of his wife Alice, at Orwall, Oswego county, Oct. 21, 1875. Greenfield was sentenced to death for his crime no less than seven times, but six of the sentences missed fire in consequence of legal quibbles; the seventh one fetched him.

The barque Aberdeen, from Santa Cruz, Cuba, for New York, has put in at Key West, with all hands sick with malarial fever. She had taken five men from the pilot boat to work the ship in. The captain and every man on board went to the hospital.

Mayor King of Philadelphia on Friday appointed four colored men to the police force, the first to wear the police uniform in that city.

At a meeting held in Boston, Nov. 6th, 1880, of members of the different branches of the family of Poor or Poore, all having a common origin, it was decided to hold on the 14th day of September, 1881, at Newburyport, Mass., a gathering of all the members of the family, not only those of the name, but all kindred bearing other names. A ladder was put up to a window of the chamber occupied by Mr. Thomas Burns, a member of the Boston Museum company, who is boarding there; the noise of placing the ladder aroused some of the inmates of the house, who saw a man descend from the ladder in a hurry, and run away before he could be successfully interviewed.

James Wilmer, clerk of the Brooklyn Ferry company, is held for trial for embezzling $2500.

Speed at Which Wings are Driven.

The speed at which some wings are driven is enormous. It is occasionally so great as to cause the pinions to emit a drumming sound. To this source the buzz of the fly, the drone of the bee, and the boom of the beetle are to be referred. When a grouse, partridge or pheasant suddenly springs into the air, the sound produced by the whirring of its wings greatly resembles that produced by the contact of steel with the rapidly revolving stone of the knifegrinder. It has been estimated that the common fly moves its wings three hundred and thirty times per second, or nineteen thousand eight hundred times per minute, and that the butterfly moves its wings nine times per second, or five hundred and forty times per minute. These movements represent an incredibly high speed even at the roots of the wings; but the speed is enormously increased at the tip of the wings, from the fact that the tips rotate upon the roots as centers.

AROUND HOME.

The sports and clam-bake at the hotel Wentworth, Saturday afternoon, attraated a throng of people.

Michael Cary, employed in the Jones brewery and living on Creek street, cut his throat on Sunday while in the delirium tremens; the wound will not prove fatal.

Mr. George L. Stoddard, of No. 11 Dennett street, died at an early hour on Sunday morning from a sunstroke received on Friday while at work haying on the city farm. He leaves a widow and seven children in destitute circumstances.

The Maine railroad commissioners have ordered the Eastern railroad company to build and maintain a depot at its junction with the Old Orchard railroad, from the first of June to the first of October each year. As the station has been for some time built, and trains make regular stops at this point, there can be no doubt that "Barkis is willing."

Mr. Walter H. Page of the Times started on Sunday for Troy, N. Y. He has recently purchased the Portsmouth Steam Laundry, and we understand he goes to Troy in order to procure help from that noted laundry city of the country, to do the work in this city. The laundry is a great convenience, and when managed as he intends it shall be, it cannot fail to be a paying institution.

John Coleman of South Eliot on Friday last insulted some ladies in a boat on the river, and shortly afterward landing on Noble's island, was indignantly remonstrated with by Mr. Daniel H. Trefethen, who lives on the island. Coleman, who was probably drunk, seized a piece of board from a fence and struck Mr. Trefethen on the forearm, breaking the bone. The ruffian escaped arrest for the time being.

The moonlight excursion on the steamer Acushnet to-morrow evening will draw a large company, if the weather is favorable—and if the weather is not favorable the excursion will not occur until Friday evening. The boat is steady and staunch, a band of music will acompany the party, no rowdism will be allowed, and the price of the trip is but 50 cents. A good many people will be glad to pay that trifling sum for a whiff of sea air.

The paint on the houses and fences in the immediate vicinity of the north millpond was discolored, and metal door-knobs, silver and plated ware, etc., in the houses, turned black, by the miasm from the pond, Friday night. The language used by some of the persons who were awakened by the horrible effluvium is a subject too painful for us to dwell upon; we can only hope the city government will have to answer for it all at a future date.

The Leavenworth (Kansas) Times of July 30th says: "Co. K, 19th Inf., Capt. Towle commanding, is encamped three miles south of town in the territory. His company has orders to proceed to Fort Gibson, Texas, at once, to quiet a disturbance between the Cherokee Indians and the white settlers. The trouble seems to be about some ground rent which the whites refuse to pay. The company's horses were sent to Fort Leavenworth today, and the troops will leave Thursday."

The schooner Albert Woodbury, Downs master, came in on Friday with her seine badly torn, and with no fish worth mentioning. We saw two women (one belonging in Newcastle and the other in this city) unconcernedly at work on the wharf, Friday afternoon, repairing the seine, and getting along at a speed that was marvellous in our eyes; and we were assured by a fisherman that there are not in the city any four men who can keep up with these two women at net-mending, their work being also done in the very best manner.

The yacht Prospero came into the lower harbor on Friday night.

Mr. William H. Gardiner leaves this city this morning for his new field of labor at Illiopolis, Illinois.

The schooner Addie & Hattie arrived in the lower harbor on Saturday for ice, having eight sword-fish on board.

The Pepperell house at Kittery point is full of guests; applications for rooms and board are numerous, but are necessarily refused.

At South Hampton, Friday, Stephen Kimball received a fatal sunstroke. Joseph Jewell was sunstruck, but will recover.

James Janvrin of Hampton Falls fell dead on Friday evening, at the close of a day's work mowing. He was fifty-six years old, and leaves a widow and one son.

The gondola Edgar Weston, Phillepot master, was chartered on Saturday afternoon and evening for a sail in the harbor by a party from the Wentworth hotel.

Mr. Charles J. Wood, for some years past clerk with Mr. Wm. P. Walker, the merchant tailor of Market square, on Monday of last week went to Claremont to take charge of a similar business there, having bought out an establishment.

Four new and elegant cars are to be placed on the Eastern railroad line between Boston and Bangor. Two of them were constructed by the Maine Central company, and the other two by the Eastern. The cars are models in every respect, having all the latest improvements, and being handsome.

Capt. Bird, of the steamer Acushnet, which arrived at this port from Boston about six o'clock Friday evening with a large freight and a number of passengers, said the trip was the hottest one he ever made in any vessel, there being scarcely a breath of air on the water, and what little there was being hot as if from a furnace.

The schooner Nulato, Small master, which arrived at this port on Friday from Port Johnson; the John Bracewell, Chatfield master, from Philadelphia, and the Clara Rankin, Griffin master, from Weehawken, which arrived Saturday, all brought coal to E. F. Sise & Co. The schooner Damon, Haskell master, from Hoboken, and the Laura Bridgman, Hart master, from Richmond, Va., arrived Saturday with coal to J. Albert Walker. Also the Fleetwing, from New York for South Newmarket; the Ann, from Perth Amboy with coal to C. E. Walker & Co., on their navy yard contract; the W. C. Bee, from Mobile for Dover with 1000 bales of cotton; and the Peirce, Ivy Bell, Nancy J. Day, George W. Collins and Harry Percy, all for Dover with coal.

Several gentlemen connected with the fire department of Manchester have been camping out for two weeks on the government reservation at Gerrish's island, Kittery, and we learn have been enjoying themselves greatly. Our inland friends, though unacquainted with the eccentricities of our swift-running river, and unused to the dense fogs that have prevailed during their stay, have nevertheless managed to make many excursions to points of interest hereabouts, Robert MacFarland, a member of the party and a former resident of this city, acting as helmsman and pilot. The dwellers on Pocahontas point, and the occupants of the farm houses contiguous to the fort, speak in warm terms of the courtesy and gentlemanly bearing of the visitors whose vacation ended on Saturday, and express the hope that all future campers-out on that part of the island may be as orderly and well behaved. Mr. George S. Heaton, formerly of this city and connected with the Marine band, is with a party of New York friends enjoying the sea breezes at Sea point, Gerrish's island.

Immense quantities of small mackerel were in the lower harbor last week, and horse mackerel were also very numerous, feeding on their smaller brethren. A party of gentlemen off Fort McClary, Friday, saw an enormous horse mackerel (estimated by them to be fifteen or twenty feet long) breach perpendicularly into the air entirely clear of the water, through a dense mass of mackerel near the surface, sending aloft a literal shower of the smaller fish; the men at the weir told the gentlemen they might follow schools of mackerel for years without seeing another such exhibition. The pound of the weir off Fort McClary was filled with "tinkers" on Friday, the amount being estimated at six hundred barrels; the net had to be cut to let them escape. When the tide fell the net presented a remarkable appearance, almost every mesh up to the high-water mark containing a mackerel, so that the netting was almost invisible. Two Georgesmen baited up at the lower weir one day last week, and on another day the large weir boat was loaded down four times from the catch of that day.

BODY FOUND.

The body of Mrs. William Cartledge was discovered on Sunday by a son of Mr. George J. Fernald, lying on the bottom of the river near the Noble's island end of the railroad bridge which spans the cove between the island and Freeman's point. The police were notified, and the unfortunate lady's body was removed from the water and delivered to her friends. As the north millpond was drained during the search for the missing woman, it is probable that the body was carried out through the gates by the receding waters.

PORTSMOUTH LAND LEAGUE.

The regular monthly meeting of the Portsmouth Branch of the National Land League was held on Thursday evening last in St. Mary's hall, when it was voted to remit to the national treasurer, Rev. Lawrence Welsh of Waterbury, Conn., the sum of $35, making a total of over $200 contributed to the cause by this branch since its organization in February last. The regular meetings are held on the first Thursday evening of each month at St. Mary's hall, and all persons interested are cordially invited to attend. The initiation fee is $3, and the monthly assessment twenty-five cents per member; the branch has about fifty members, and is officered as follows: President, Dennis J. Lynch; vice president, Michael T. McCarthy; secretary, William A. Cullen; bookkeeper, Patrick Keefe; chairman of the executive committee, William Muir; treasurer, John Broderick.

The league meetings are held in the upper hall over Mr. Chas. H. Joy's store, which has been handsomely fitted up at an expense of over $500 by the St. Mary's Benevolent society, which organization has leased the hall. As its name implies, this is a benefit association; it pays a sick benefit for ten weeks, and in case of death pays $40 to the family of the deceased. The society was organized here by Rev. Canon Walsh, and now numbers about one hundred members.

THE "LAKE SHORE" RAILROAD.

The editor of the Portsmouth Journal in an article upon the Lake Shore railroad, after giving the vote of the members from Rockingham county, goes on to say:

It will be seen that seven of the members from Portsmouth vote for indefinite postponement and one against it. * * * The talk of bringing business to Portsmouth was all made to secure votes for the charter, but did not have the desired effect; our members were too sharp to be caught with any such nousense. Should this road be built and run by the Boston & Maine corporation, it would be a serious blow to the Great Falls & Conway road, and would very materially reduce the value of their bonds. It is undoubtedly for the interests of Portsmouth to have this road built, provided it can be controlled by some other corporation than the Boston & Maine railroad. We believe our members acted wisely in voting against the charter in the form it was presented.

Voting against granting a charter to a railroad which every one even (the editor of the Journal) acknowledges would be for the advantage of Portsmouth, because it might depreciate the value of the bonds of the Great Falls & Conway railroad, may in the opinion of the editor of the Journal show "smartness," but it certainly is not the qualification which our citizens generally would require of their representatives.

A Lively Corpse.

Mr. Cheney, a farmer of Indiana, having a married daughter living in Nebraska, was shocked by a telegram from her husband saying that her body would arrive the next evening. The family was overcome with the sudden blow. Hurried preparations for mourning garments and the preliminaries to the funeral were made, and, on the dismal evening, dressed all in black, they went to the station to meet the corpse. The hearse and two or three carriages were drawn up in line, and a numerous crowd, attracted partly by curiosity, partly by sympathy, accompanied the bereaved household. As the train approached a solemn silence settled upon the assembly, and as it stopped there was a respectful hush until the ceremony of receiving the corpse was concluded. But the train hands did not share this feeling. The baggage-master pitched his trunks about and swore as briskly as ever, and just as if a part of his load was not of a character to call for decorous behavior.

The conductor came upon the platform laughing and trying to joke with the station agent's daughter, who told him he ought to be ashamed to carry on that way at such a time. In the meanwhile the long and narrow box which so quickly tells its story had not made its appearance, and after a painful delay, Mr. Cheney stepped forward and asked for the corpse. The baggage-man stared at him as if he were crazy, and making no reply, went on overhauling the trunks, as if it might be under them somewhere. Suddenly Mr. Cheney felt an arm about his neck and a kiss imprinted upon his cheek. The female members of his family went into hysterics. There were shouts and tears and laughter. The daughter, appalled at the sombre dresses, the hearse and cortege, was frightened almost into a fainting fit. She could offer no explanation of the telegram. She could not say positively whether in a moment of absent-mindedness her husband had actually sent the dispatch as received, or whether he wrote it so blindly that the operator misread it. At any rate she refused to ride home in the hearse, and took her place in the carriage with the chief mourners.

American Book-Hunters.

It is an unfortunate thing for people curious in matters of taste to be natives of a new country. The Australian bibliophile, reduced to collecting rare and early works on the history of Port Jackson, is not to be envied. The United States of America are much better off than our colonists, and many American rare books are esteemed even in Europe. Poe's early poems, for example, are rarer than Keat's, and many American historical works are coveted by English collectors. But people of taste in the United States are invading our markets with their long purses, and our treasures are slowly crossing the Atlantic and gracing the book-shelves, the china-closets and the cabinets of coins in the houses of Boston and New York. Thus, at Monday's sale of some of Lord Clare's books at Messrs. Sotheby's, the Americans secured the cream of the collection. They were allowed to purchase a fine copy of the first edition of Shakespeare's Poems for £52. Was there no patriotic Englishman present to keep our Shakspeare's verses in their own native land? Scotchmen basely allowed the original autograph manuscript of Scott's "Guy Mannering" to be purchased, at the cost of £390, for America. We doubt whether the French would so lightly have parted with the manuscript of one of their great authors. Horace Walpole's own copy of his "Anecdotes of Painting" went "to the Hurons," as the author would probably have said. This, again, seems to be a book we should have kept in England. But these possessions follow the money, and the Continental collectors find that they need all their wealth when they compete for rare Elzevirs with Americans and Russians.—London News.

—"Cremation fashionable?" said Mrs. Shuttle. "Well, I sh'd hope not. It's bad enough to think of your soul burning up, let alone the body." "Mrs. Shuttle, I wish you wouldn't accent the word 'your,' and look at me so sharply."

What is the Use!

Of buying worthless medicines, and spending money on quack doctors whose only idea is to gull the public. Is it not better to buy a reliable medicine like Sulphur Bitters? I think so, as they cured me of catarrh after suffering three years. —J. P. Clark, Manchester.

—Men give each other a compliment, occasionally, when they can't think of anything pretty to say about women. A Boston maiden lady suspect that curiosity as a moral trait of character is more equally shared by the sexes than the world's foolish satirists would have us believe; certainly the most inveterately and impertinently inquisitive persons of my acquaintance are men." Verily, there is truth in beans.

"Rough on Rats."

The thing desired found at last. Ask druggist for Rough on Rats. It clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, bedbugs; 15 cts. boxes.

Skinny Men.

Wells' Health Renewer. Absolute cure for nervous debility and weakness of the general functions; $1 at druggists. Depot at J. H. Thacher.

—In the garden two six-year-old children, a girl and a boy, exchanged vigorous blows and scratches, meanwhile calumniating each other at the top of their voices like Homeric heroes. Mamma interferes, and after much difficulty succeeds in separating them. "What in the name of goodness are you up to, you unhappy little wretches?" "Playing husband and wife, ma!"

How Long Would it take to Count two Millions?

Over two million copies of the revised edition of the New Testament, were sold on the first day of its issue. These figures can only be equaled by the enormous sales of Swayne's Ointment for Itching piles, which is universally used as a standard remedy for stopping the Itching at night, when one thinks that pin worms are crawling about the rectum. To calculate the extent of its sale in actual figures, would involve the labor of a lifetime. Will you be pestered longer from the aggravating piles?

The Maine Hay Crop.

The Lewiston Journal says that reports from the Maine hay crop continue to be of a discouraging character. From six counties, Androscoggin, Cumberland, York, Oxford, Franklin and Hancock, private reports indicate a crop of not two-thirds the value of last year. In Franklin county, especially up the valley of the Sandy river, the crop is light, and what there is has been nearly ruined by bad weather in cutting time. In Oxford county the crop is fairly grown, but hay mown nearly three weeks ago was lying in the fields on Monday of last week. In York county there has been no weather suitable for hay-making, and the grass grown upon light soils is lost for want of cutting. Of course, only bearish reports come from the farmers, but any one who may have happened to try to dry hay during the past thirty days would be in sympathy with them, and at the best, considerable of the hay crop is injured.

William Kennedy, of Troy, N. Y., is reported to have invented the sinking apparatus of the Fenian ram which was found in New York bay. Kennedy, who is an enthusiastic Fenian, says the ram was a miniature model with a defect which can be remedied by an invention known only to one man. The larger vessel will carry forty men, can be provisioned for six months, can run seven miles an hour, can stay 1,000 feet under water for four hours, and after ten minutes respite on the water can go down again for four hours more. The project was conceived three years ago. Kennedy, who is fifty years old and who was born in Ireland, has nineteen medals and twenty-one diplomas for scale making.

No good Preaching.

No man can do a good job of work, preach a good sermon, try a law suit well, doctor a patient, or write a good article when he feels miserable or dull, with sluggish brain and unsteady nerves, and none should make the attempt in such a condition when it can be so easily and cheaply removed by a little Hop Bitters. See other column.—Albany Times.

At Cornishville, Ky., Aug. 6th, Tom Brown met Dan Huffman and asked him to take a drink, and then shot him dead with a pistol. Brown almost instantly fell dead with a ball from a pistol in the hands of some one thus far undiscovered.

Persons suffering from impure blood, or whose health is giving way, either as ministers or those who study closely, will find in Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites the material to build them up and the tonic to keep them there. Dr. C. CLAY.

Crow Dog, captain of police at Rosebud Indian agency, shot and instantly killed Chief Spotted Tail on Friday afternoon last.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

Two large iron-working mills at East Taunton, Mass., were burned on Sunday, involving a loss of about $200,000, and throwing 800 men out of employment.

Big Results from Little Causes.

"Do you know?" remarked a man to his friend on Chestnut street, a day or two since, "I believe both Conkling and Platt had a bad case of skin disease when they resigned?" "What makes you think so?" inquired the listener in astonishment. "Well, you see they acted in such an eruptive manner—so rash—ly as it were. Save?" "Oh! yes, I save," replied the other, "they were boil—ing over and merely resigned to hunge themselves, I suppose." If such be the case, the National difficulty might have been averted by applying Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 9, 1881.

The President.

Another operation was performed upon the President on Monday morning, the patient being under the influence of ether. This operation was necessary in order to empty a pus cavity which had been forming for several days. The physicians had known it was coming since Saturday, and say now that this fact explains the patient's rising temperature of the last few days. It would seem to be proper for these physicians to give full and truthful accounts of the President's welfare to the people, or else none at all.

The County Farm.

The County Convention made their usual visit of inspection to the county farm last Friday. The convention is composed of the representatives to the legislature from the several towns in the county. It is organized on the second week of the session, receives the report of the county commissioners, and makes the appropriations for county expenses. After the commissioners received notice of the intended visit, they invited quite a large number of prominent citizens to examine the county institutions at the same time. Only a few of these invited attended, but a company of nearly sixty representatives and citizens gathered at the house on the day appointed.

The farm buildings are situated in Brentwood, about three miles from the Epping station, from which the visitors who came by rail were conveyed in barges. The day being intensely hot, somewhat interfered with out door excursions, but some of the company looked at the growing crops. They examined all the almshouse and farm buildings pretty thoroughly. These consist of the main building, an insane asylum with fifty-three inmates, a jail, a boiler house with laundry overhead, barns, stable, etc. All the buildings, furniture apparatus, and stock appeared to be in first rate order. The kitchen and dining rooms for the inmates, and the dormitories, were visited, and the food provided was scrutinized. All the rooms were remarkably clean and pure; the food was of good quality, well cooked and abundant.

There are about two hundred inmates at the county house, more than one-quarter of whom are hopelessly insane, one-eighth are young children, and a large number besides are either sick, feeble or shiftless. At least one-half of the whole are totally unable to care for themselves, and must be looked after at all times. The most of the insane have been taken from the state asylum when it became apparent that they could not be cured, and are quite as comfortably provided for here at one-half the cost of the county. The entire cost of supporting all the inmates, including all the classes named above, was last year less than two dollars per week per head. One half of this entire sum would have been expended in supporting the insane alone at the Concord asylum. There was a common feeling among the visitors that the county system of supporting the poor was being successfully carried out at a moderate cost and in a very satisfactory manner by the commissioners, superintendent and matorom.

A simple but beautiful collation was provided for the visitors in the chapel of the institution. The chairman of the county convention presided, and brief remarks were made by the chaplain, the physician, and a number of the guests.

Strange Freak of Lightning.

In Darlington county, South Carolina, one day last week, a party of twenty white men who had been at work on the public highway, had stopped under an oak tree to rest and shelter themselves from the sun. Clouds were visible at a distance, and rain was falling some miles away, but in that immediate locality the sun was shining, the sky was clear, and nothing indicated the presence of electricity. One of their number had stepped off a few yards for water, when suddenly a terrific crash startled him, and turning he beheld his companions, some dead, some completely paralyzed, and others wounded and struggling in the throes of death. J. M. Mazingo, Rufus Mazingo, Willie Waters and John B. Gatlin were killed outright. These were all young men, recently married. Twelve others were struck and more or less stunned and mutilated, some of them seriously, if not fatally, injured. Their dogs were apparently killed, but one of them subsequently revived. There was a heavy fall of rain about an hour later, after the clouds had gathered. There were scattered all around the tree, at the time of the disaster, tools with which the men had been working on the road, and these probably attracted the electricity.

News and Notes.

George A. Stickney, nineteen years of age and a most exemplary young man, was drowned in Pine Island creek near Newburyport on Saturday, while bathing.

Timothy Cronin and Patrick Doyle, of Somerville, Mass., hired a horse and buggy at Mason's livery stable, Somerville, on Sunday. After driving all day, till about nine o'clock in the evening, when near the corner of Mason and Ash streets the horse dropped dead, upset the buggy and threw out the men, who escaped with slight bruises. They were arrested and locked up.

Saturday evening, on the railroad train at Shannondole, Mo., on a branch of the Wabash road, Geo. Wright, a passenger, while sitting in his seat in a coach, was approached from behind by two men, one of whom buried a hatchet in his skull. The other fired a pistol ball into his head. The murderers then rushed from the car, and escaped.

John Otis, a painter, thirty years old, was found dead Saturday in James Smith's barnyard in East Longmeadow, Mass. Turpin Jenks, seventy-eight years old, has been arrested, and circumstantial evidence of murder is strong against him.

At Livermore, Cal., Aug. 7th, John Taylor, a wealthy farmer, was killed by his son-in-law, John Poblitz. Poblitz was so cruel to his wife that she left him and returned to her father. Poblitz went to Taylor's house and beat the old man to death with a club.

At Skowhegan, Me., Saturday evening, the heaviest thunder storm ever experienced there occurred. The Congregational church steeple was struck, and the church damaged $700; the telegraph office was also struck, but no damage was done. Sargent Palmer's farm buildings and George Jewell's barn were burned; and after the shower six fires could be seen at once from the village, in different directions.

The body of Jennie Cramer, twenty years old, daughter of Jacob Cramer of New Haven, Conn., was found in the water off the West Haven shore Saturday morning. There were slight bruises on her face, made probably by the sand. She had been gone from home since Thursday noon. It is believed that she threw herself or was thrown from Kelsey's wharf, Friday night. An examination showed that she had been seduced within twenty-four hours of her death. It is known that she was in West Haven grove in company with a young man and another girl on Friday evening.

Patrick Keefe, a laborer, thirty-five years old, was sunstruck at Amesbury, Mass., on Saturday, and died in a few minutes. This made three cases of sunstroke within three miles, two of them being fatal.

Special post office department agents, ordered to investigate the use of United States mail bags in Canada, visited St. John, Halifax, Quebec, Montreal, Toronto, Windsor and Ottawa, and conferred with Dominion officials. They found that a large majority of the mail pouches in use belonged to the United States. The Canadian authorities have become convinced that the postmaster general is determined to break up the custom, and are now manufacturing large numbers of mail bags. This investigation shows that nine-tenth of the mailbags in use in Canada for several years past belonged to the United States, and that about $50,000 per annum has been lost to the United States in this way.

Mrs. Frank McGovern, twenty-six year old, of Woonsocket, R. I., was fatally burned last Saturday while lighting a fire with kerosene.

In Tracy City, Grundy county, Tenn., Friday night, there was a riot among miners, in which Thomas McGovern was shot dead by Taylor Street, and Street himself was mortally stabbed.

J. T. Nookes was taken from jail at Oroville, Cal., Sunday morning, by a body of masked and armed men, conveyed a short distance from town, and hanged to a tree. Nookes murdered an old man named A. J. Crum, at Chico, Cal., three weeks ago, by kicking him to death.

Rob Osborn and his son, Tom Osborn, on July 11th in Weakly county, Tenn., shot and murdered Frank Pate and his son, Willie Pate. On Saturday last Rob and Tom Osborn, when returning home from McKenzie, Carroll county, Tenn., were ambushed and shot dead.

A citizen of New York offers to become bondsman for Guiteau, provided he be released and unprotected by police or the military.

Mr. C. A. Cook, an old Ohio soldier, who slapped the face of one George Morrison of Brownsville, Ohio, when he publicly declared his hope that President Garfield would die of his wound, has been fined $10 for the assault by Squire Anderson of Newark, Ohio.

A correspondent at Rome says serious proposals have been made recently to the pope to transfer the Holy See to America, where an independent position will be assured him.

Orville Grant, brother of Ex-President Grant, who for some time past has been an inmate of the state asylum for insane at Morris Plains, N. J., died on Friday. He was forty-six years old. In 1878 he was living at Elizabeth, N. J., with his family, and being seized with a speculative mania became insane on the subject. He had been in the asylum since September, 1878, but could not be cured.

A despatch from Vienna says a nihilist named Grunberg, of noble birth, has been arrested at Belgrade. It is stated that the police found documents upon him proving that the nihilists and socialists have designs respectively on the lives of the czar and the Emperor William.

AROUND HOME.

First Lieut. C. W. Harrold, U. S. 3d Artillery, has been granted leave of absence for five months from Sept. 1st.

Michael McBennett, aged nineteen years, was drowned in the Cocheco river at Dover while bathing on Saturday.

The United States government has awarded all contracts for coal for the department of yards and docks at this navy yard to J. Albert Walker.

E. S. Fay of this city has recently purchased from the Kirby estate at Great Falls 1-32d of each of the three ships Paul Jones, Grandee and Chocorua.

Do not forget the moonlight excursion this evening on the steamer Acushnet. A safe, comfortable steamer, full moon, band of music, and two or three hours of pure ocean air; tickets fifty cents.

Among the improvements now under construction at the Jones brewery, and nearly completed, are a new turntable on the line of the Eastern railroad spur track and a brick reservoir twenty-eight feet in diameter and fourteen feet in height, in place of the old wooden tank.

The liabilities of Samuel Meserve, dealer in millinery goods at Dover, are about $4,000. The stock, which had been appraised at $4,000, was sold at thirty per cent of the appraisal to the debtor's brother, the first attaching creditor. The non-attaching creditors will probably get nothing.

It was Michael Gerry, and not Michael Cary, who attempted to commit suicide on Sunday by cutting his throat. We regret that the similarity of names, occupation and residence should have occasioned the mistake, for Mr. Cary is said to be a temperate and respectable young man, and his appearance supports the assertion.

Capt. John L. Amazeen, formerly of Portsmouth but now of Jacksonville, Florida, has been spending a few days in this city, having come north on a short vacation for his health and to greet his old friends. He has an excellent summer-resort color on, and finds himself much improved by his brief sojourn in his former home. He leaves to-day for Florida, his steamer running all summer with the United States mails.

A very handsome two-years-old bull, in tow of a man, attracted considerable attention from farmers and admirers of fine stock, on Market square Monday afternoon. The animal is owned by Mr. William H. Wentworth of Newbury Byfield, Mass., and has been at pasture in Cape Neddick, York, where Mr. Wentworth owns a place; his mother, a three-quarters Jersey, was sold for $160; his father was imported Dutch. Mr. Wentworth has an imported Jersey bull now in his pasture at Cape Neddick.

Among the large number of guests quartered at the Artists' Falls house, North Conway, are the following from Portsmouth: Albert R. Hatch, Miss Mary A. Hatch, Mrs. George W. Pendexter, Samuel Dodge and wife, Mrs. Capt. B. F. Jacobs and three children, Miss E. W. Barnes, and Miss Abby Barnes; a large party who have been "doing" the Wentworth and Farragut houses, are also sojourning here. At the Eastman house is Miss Belle Jones; Kearsarge house, Thomas E. Call, Jr.; Franconia house, at Franconia Notch, Commodore Charles W. Pickering and wife, and Mrs. Dr. Heffinger, U. S. N.; Miss Annable and Miss Nell are at Littleton. The mountain houses generally are now flush with company, the heated term of the last week serving quickly to fill up the vacant places. The travel to Mt. Washington is very large. GLEANER.

North Carolina has just raised a statue to her revolutionary governor, Caswell. We wonder how long John Langdon, the "war governor" of New Hampshire during the revolution, will have to wait for some other memorial of his greatness and self-sacrificing patriotism than the old tomb in the North burying-ground.

Vessels suitable for the coal trade are scarce, and in demand at good freights. At one time it was thought that the coal trade would be carried on by steamers, but those which have been lost have not been replaced by others, and hence the lack of tonnage. The steamers employed in the trade make good passages and have quick despatch in loading and discharging, but hardly pay their running expenses.

People who feel inclined to growl about the hot weather of the past week should remember the warm spell in July, 1872—we believe that was the year—when for twenty consecutive days the thermometer rose to eighty-five degrees above zero each day, and on many days went well up into the nineties. But we suppose it is little comfort to a man, when he is wretched and uncomfortable, to remind him that on some former occasion he was still more miserable.

Bartholomew Madden, thirty years of age and unmarried, a brakeman on the Portland freight train for Boston on the Boston & Maine railroad, was killed Saturday morning, at Somerville, Mass., near the Mystic avenue bridge. He is supposed to have fallen asleep, and dropped off. It was his first trip on the Portland freight, but he had been on the road eight years. He was a son of Michael Madden of Dover, an aged man who depended solely in his son for support.

Last year, when the first regiment of the New Hampshire National Guard was in camp at Manchester, a trophy was subscribed for to be given as a prize to the best drilled man in the regiment, and in the competitive drill the winner was Mr. Edward F. Hickey of this city, now first sergeant of the City Guards. For some reason the subscriptions were never paid in, and the trophy was never purchased, so Mr. Hickey's victory proved a barren one, but we are informed by one of the officers of the regiment that it may yet count, Col. Hall having announced his intention to procure at his own expense a handsome medal or token to be drilled for annually, the winner to hold it from one contest to the next year's one until some person shall have won it three times in succession, when it shall become his private property; and Sergeant Hickey's victory of last year is to count as one of the series.

Daniel Manning, for using profane and obscene language, was fined $1, costs $17.73, which was paid.

A CARD.

The family of the late Mrs. William Cartledge desire to express their deep sense of gratitude to Mayor Sise, to City Marshal Entwistle and members of the police force, and to the many citizens who so untiringly aided in the search for their deceased relative from the time she was missed until her body was recovered, for the generous sympathy expressed and the active assistance rendered by them.

Mr. George A. Hammond of Eliot will give a clam-bake this afternoon at two o'clock, on the Eliot side of the river, opposite Dover point.

Mrs. Carolina Talbot, a member of the Society of Friends, is said to have been cure of a very dangerous form of heart disease, and an old gentleman of his love of tobacco, at Dr. Cullis' recent faith camp-meeting at Old Orchard beach.

We are informed that Mr. Theodore Keen, proprietor of the steamer Fearless, is contemplating the putting of a larger boat on the line between this city and Kittery Point, the present one being altogether too small to accommodate the increasing travel over this pleasant route. Mr. Keen was obliged on several trips last week to tow a big boat behind the steamer, in order to take all the passengers who desired to go.

Naval Affairs.

The Yantic went into Rockland, Me., Sunday afternoon, the 7th inst., to get a pilot for Bangor, and sailed next morning. The training ship Portsmouth arrived at Rockland on the 7th, bound for Mt. Desert island.

The prospective retirement of Rear-Admirals C. R. P. Rodgers, Howell and Fairfax, and of Captain William D. Whiting, will render promotions in the lower grades of the line of the navy quite numerous this autumn. Commanders Matthews, Lull, Norton and Bradford will become captains; Captains McCauley DeKraft and Badger will become commodores; and Commodores Nicholson, Cooper and Beaumont will become rear-admirals.

Commander Henry L. Howison, U. S. N., will go to Portsmouth, N. H., about the 15th instant, to confer with the naval constructors there in regard to the construction of the decks of the proposed new unarmored cruisers. When these plans are made Commander Howison and Lieutenant Very will determine on a scheme of armament to be submitted to the naval advisory board, of which they are members.—Army and Navy Register, Aug. 6th.

New Hampshire Items.

Thirty-four females of Manchester hold $44,250 of registered four and a half and five per cent bonds, and thirty-four men of the same industrious city have $47,000. Probably no other place in the state can show such an even distribution of this kind of investment.

There were several cases of sunstroke in Warner last week; William V. Annis, a well-off farmer, died in the field on Saturday from the heat.

The Proposed Postal Order.

Postmaster General James will ask the authority from Congress to issue a new postal order in two denominations running from $2.50 to $5, respectively. These blanks will have the figures 1, 2, 3 and 4, printed in one column, the nine numerals in another, and again in a third. When a postmaster prepares an order for use he will punch out in the three columns the figure marking the sum desired. That is, if a party desires to send $1.75 he will pay that amount to the postmaster who will give him in return one of the cards with the figure "1" punched out in the first column, the figure "7" in the second and the "5" in the third. In the $5 order there will be three ciphers printed in the dollar column, which will be punched out if the sender desires to transmit that amount. No indication will be made of the sender or the intended receiver. A stub with the amount and date will be the only record of the post-office authorities. This card will be redeemed at any post-office where it is presented before the expiration of three months from its issue. The new order will be protected from counterfeiting by a fine lathe work and an official stamp, and will be printed on light note paper which cannot be easily detected in the envelope and removed by a thief. These orders may not be safer to send than money, but they will obviate the necessity of sending postage stamps for odd amounts, and will consequently come into general use. The lower denominations will be sold for two and the higher for four cents, in addition to the amount of the order. It is said that a bill authorizing these cards will be introduced in Congress in connection with one to extend the old money order to $100. It is also proposed to change the price of money orders from five to forty-five cents, as the orders increase from $5 to $100. These changes will be welcomed by thousands of people who are constantly annoyed in sending small amounts by mail.

—A little girl being asked on the first day of school how she liked her new teacher, replied, "I do not like her; she is just as saucy to me as my mother."

Maryland and Delaware Ship Canal.

The long contemplated scheme of shortening the distance from the port of Baltimore to the ocean by the building a canal across the peninsula of Maryland and Delaware is now practically assured. The great work will be built with the least possible delay, and mainly by the aid of foreign capital. The route selected, several having been surveyed by the government with a view of obtaining Congressional aid, extends from Chesapeake bay along the Sassafras river to Dover, where it turns to the headwaters of Blackbird creek, and thence along that stream to the Delaware river. The land cut is only eight miles, and the estimated cost of the entire work is $8,000,000.

The canal will be built under the charter of the Maryland & Delaware Ship Canal company, which provides that the rate of tolls shall not exceed twenty cents per ton. The company will issue $4,000,000 of bonds, all of which have been subscribed for abroad, and $4,000,000 stock, all bearing six per cent interest. Two millions of the stock has been taken by Paris bankers; the remainder will be held by New York capitalists, and disposed of as necessity requires. The canal will be one hundred and twenty feet wide, with a uniform depth of twenty-six feet, and it is estimated that the work will be completed in about eighteen months.

The great advantages to the port of Baltimore and the west by the construction of this interoceanic highway will be fully appreciated when it is known that it shortens the distance to the ocean, and consequently to all foreign ports, about 225 miles. Among foreign capitalists the enterprise is regarded with great favor, as a venture that will yield a good return for the outlay.

Squirrels Whip a Scorpion.

The Virginia City (Nevada) Chronicle relates the following: "A gentleman of this city, who has as pets a pair of the little cotton-tailed ground squirrels that abound everywhere on the hills, yesterday tried an experiment with them. He procured a live scorpion from some boys who had caught it in the hills, and threw the reptile into the cage containing the little rodents. On seeing the scorpion both squirrels uttered their shrill cry of alarm, a sound much the same as that made by the kingfisher when startled. The pair circled round the reptile, which stood with tail erected over its back and sting vibrating viciously. Finally, quick as a flash, one of the squirrels darted forward; with its paws it brought the tail of the scorpion to the floor, and instantly bit off the joint containing the sting; this done the squirrels dragged his disarmed scorpionship into their innermost den to feast upon his carcass at leisure."

Be Wise and Happy.

If you will stop all your extravagant and wrong notions in doctoring yourself and families with expensive doctors or humbug cure-alls, that do harm always, and use only nature's simple remedies for all your ailments—you will be wise, well and happy, and save great expense. The greatest remedy for this, the great, wise and good will tell you, is Hop Bitters—rely on it. See another column.—Press.

How Long Would it take to Count two Millions?

Over two million volumes of the revised edition of the New Testament, were sold on the first day of its issue. These figures can only be equaled by the enormous sales of Swayne's Ointment for Itching piles, which is universally used as a standard remedy for stopping the itching at night, when one thinks that pin worms are crawling about the rectum. To calculate the extent of its sale in actual figures, would involve the labor of a lifetime. Will you be pestered longer from the aggravating piles?

Battling a Monster.

"Well I'll be blewed," said a red-faced, jolly-looking personage, who was gazing at a diminutive squid advertised by a Rockaway showman as a "Monster of the Ocean."

"You have seen larger, then?" said a Sun reporter, who had also been attracted by the announcement.

"Well, I should say so," replied the red-faced man. "Let's see; this one here is about eight inches long. Well, I've caught squids whose eyes were just eight inches across. That'll give you an idea."

"They must have been ten feet long then?"

"Yes, if you add forty feet to it. I suppose you think that a pretty tough yarn, but it's a fact. You see I'm a Grand Banks' fisherman myself, off on a sort of vacation. I've heard about the games they play on a green-hand here, but I wouldn't want it to get out in Gloucester how I paid a quarter to look at a cod bait. We use those things for bait—catch them by thousands in nets with jiggers, and salt them down. I've carried fifty thousand out on one trip, and then to come way down here and pay a quarter to look at one—it's astonishing how fresh a man can be who has always been around salt water. I've tackled a squid three feet by actual measurement, and have seen chunks of others that I guessed were from sixty to seventy feet long. You can't get any idea of a big one from that little thing. I've been round the world, seen sharks, whales, and big snakes, but squid when he's cornered is about the worst looking creature you want to see. Generally their body is about ten feet long, looks like a grayish-white bag, with a tail arrowhead. The head is small, but the eyes are about as big as a large saucer or plate, and black and staring. When you catch a glimse of them eyeing you out from among their arms, I tell you it makes a man wish he hadn't come. The arms, ten of them, branch from the head, eight short ones about fifteen feet, and two long ones from thirty to forty, depending, of course, upon the size of the squid. Eight of them are lined with suckers, each one ranging in size from a ten-cent piece up to a half dollar. They are like so many air-pumps. In each one is a ring of bone with edges like a saw. These are pressed into you, and the air is sucked out, which, of course, forces the teeth of the saw in, and you can imagine the effect of hundreds of these flying around and striking on all sides. The long arms only have their suckers confined to the ends, which are flattened out. Between all these is the mouth, which has two beaks just like a parrot's, only larger, and the upper one sets into the under so they can nip a piece out of an oar blade as easy as to say the word.

"Do they swim? Yes, and backward, too, dragging the arms after them, and going like lightning. Sometimes they jump right out of water, and come down as slick as a flying-fish. The first one I ever tackled was just above Trinity bay, Newfoundland. We saw something in near the shore, and a couple of us jumped into a dory and pulled over to it. When we got near, a big wave tossed us right on top of it, and the first thing I knew I got a shot of water and ink (you know they spurt ink from an ink bag) fair in the face, and when I wiped it off the squid was half aboard us. It flung five of its arms over, and one struck my mate on his bare arm, and nearly hauled him over. I grabbed the axe, and managed to cut two of the arms, when another got round my leg, and hauled me off my feet; down it went into the boat, and I believe that's the only thing that saved us, as my hand landed on a big boat hook. I lay on my back, the boat half full of water, and jammed that hook right through the ugly creature's eyes, and as my mate had put an oar through it, it slipped into the water. All this time, mind you, it was funing and spurting water and ink; out it was in only about half a fathom of water, and I stuck the boat hook in again. After we had bailed out the boat we made the squid fast by the painter, towed it aboard, and cut it up for bait, after we had measured it. From the tip of the long arms to the end of the tail the line gave fifty-one and a half feet. We packed it in a tub that was made to hold exactly 900 pounds of cod, and filled it. I wouldn't tackle one again like it for the proceeds of a whole season.

"Why, everywhere a sucker had struck my mate's arm it looked as though a red-hot iron had been pressed on and sunk in, and where they had been torn away the flesh had gone, too. He was laid up a month. I had a heavy pair of boots on, and the leather showed the marks, as if they had been cut with a penknife.

"Yes" (in answer to a question), "most all the Gloucester men can tell big stories about squids. Capt. Collins, now one of of the United States Fish commission, used to run the schooner Howard, and they caught five in one day, averaging from thirty-five to forty feet on an estimate, and weighing about a thousand pounds apiece. Some difference between them and this monster, that we are money out on."

Big Results from Little Causes.

"Do you know?" remarked a man to his friend on Chestnut street, a day or two since, "I believe both Conkling and Platt had a bad case of skin disease when they resigned!" "What makes you think so?" inquired the listener in astonishment. "Well, you see they acted in such an eruptive manner—so rash—ly as it were. Save?" "Oh! yes, I save," replied the other, "they were boil—ing over and merely resigned to humor themselves, I suppose." If such be the case, the National difficulty might have been averted by applying Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 10, 1881.

The President.

The necessity for the second operation was because the drainage tube of the size hitherto used could no longer be passed along the track of the ball between the ribs. The process of granulation at that point had gone on so far as to partially close the orifice, and the ribs prevented the pushing aside of the flesh, which was healing between the mouth, so that the tube could be introduced. The result of this state of things was that pus formed in the deeper parts of the wound rather faster than it could escape through the half obstructed opening between the ribs, and its gradual accumulation began to cause disturbance. It was, therefore, decided to make a new opening into the track of the ball below the last rib, so that the ribs should no longer prevent the keeping open of the wound by the solid backing which they afforded to the granulating flesh between them. The operation was performed, at the request of the other surgeons, by Dr. Agnew. As soon as the patient had been put under the influence of ether, a long and slightly curved instrument was introduced into the wound, pushed between the ribs and carried downward along the track of the bullet until its end could be felt below the last rib from the outside. Holding this instrument in the wound as a guide, Dr. Agnew then made a counter incision below the twelfth rib, cutting directly through the integument until his knife met the end of the first mentioned instrument at the point where he wished to intersect the track of the ball. The operation was not a difficult or dangerous one, and the patient bore both it and the etherization extremely well. There is now an opening to the deeper parts of the wound, which does not pass between the ribs, and which can always be kept free and unobstructed, and no further trouble from the accumulation of pus is anticipated.

The special correspondent of the Boston Journal, after having stated that the President was etherized before the operation, reports a conversation that occurred with a son of Dr. Bliss. The latter said that the patient bore the surgeon's knife with his customary fortitude. "That man," said he, "has the most will power of any man I ever knew."

It is difficult for us to understand how will power could have been exercised while the patient was unconscious. The effect of the ether was to deprive him of his will power as well as to relieve him of the necessity of summoning his customary fortitude. We give it, however, as a specimen of the small talk, or waste of words in much that is telegraphed from day to day concerning the President's condition.

New Hampshire Items.

A council of ministers convenes in the Congregational church at Hopkinton, on Tuesday, to consider the dismissal of Rev. C. A. Stone, whose society has twice refused to accept his resignation. A dismissal will doubtless be granted.

A terrible tragedy is reported to have been committed in Lancaster, whereby several prominent persons in the family of Dr. Frank Bugbee were the victims of arsenical poisoning. The party suspected of having done the deed is a young woman of respectable connections and a member of the Methodist Episcopal church. She declares her innocence and is ready to meet the grave charges.

The weather was so warm in Dover, on Friday last, that two tin pans lying in the sun at the residence of Mr. Henry Goulding, concentrated the sun's rays to such an extent as to set fire to the house. When discovered the clapboards were in a blaze and in a few minutes the fire would have been beyond control. A hole in the wall of the house several inches in diameter was burned.

The coroner's jury at Lake Village, in the case of the three children of Charles Moody, colored, who were burned on the evening of July 4th, returned a verdict on Monday that the children were murdered and the house burned to conceal the crime. Moody and his wife were arrested and committed to jail to await the action of the grand jury.

News and Notes.

Walter Bray, a well-known negro delineator and minstrel, has become insane. He is now about fifty years of age. His right name is Baker. He is a son of General Baker who was killed at Bull's Bluffs early in the rebellion, and received a fine education, but preferred the stage to any other profession. His family was at one time in affluent circumstances. During the past three years he has filled variety engagements, off and on, at the Boylston Museum in Boston.

It is said that the condition of Mr. Bradlaugh from the erysipelas resulting from the wounds caused by the officers in recently arresting him while attempting to enter the House of Commons, is becoming very serious. His arm is now greatly inflamed, and the swelling has extended to his head and become dangerous. On the day following the expulsion, symptoms of erysipelas appeared and his surgeon advised him to keep quiet, but he ran down to Northampton, Friday, and addressed a meeting of his constituents, and the exertion thus occasioned greatly aggravated the disease.

J. S. Dawley of Springfield, who visited New York on business a week ago, has been missing since then. He is described as of medium height, dark gray hair and full beard, about forty-six years old, and was travelling agent for a sewing machine company at Springfield. Mr. Dawley had about forty dollars in money, and some valuable checks on his person when last seen.

About forty armed and masked men attacked the jail in Fredonia, Kas., Aug. 8th for the purpose of lynching two brothers named Hardin, confined therein for the murder of a man named Connor on the 28th of last June. The outer door was battered down and two guards overpowered, but not until one of the latter had passed his pistol to one of the prisoners in the cell. John Hoffman, the leader of the assaulting party, then approached the cell with a crowbar in hand to break open the door when he was fired upon by the prisoner who had received the guard's pistol, and mortally wounded. The mob then placed Hoffman in a wagon and fled. Meantime an alarm was given, the sheriff raised a posse and started in pursuit. It is stated that Hoffman has since died. He was a well-known farmer, and much respected.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

The ninth publication of the "No Name" (second) series is "Baby Rue: her adventures and misadventures, her friends and her enemies." Baby Rue's history begins with her birth, and we have pictures of frontier life, army experiences, the Indian mode of treatment, and much that is not commonly found in the modern novel. There is a little of the old-time slavery system sketched in the course of the story, and the characters are, in most instances, well drawn.

One finds an occasional departure from Christian conversation by some of the rougher elements introduced, but the recital of the incidents seemed probably to the author to demand these strong words to be here and there interjected. Roberts Brothers, Boston, who publish this series, are the publishers. Sold by all booksellers; price, as with others of this series, $1.00.

"Bigelow's hand book of pronunciation" is a note book on punctuation and other typographical matters, for the use of printers, authors, teachers, and scholars; by Marshall T. Bigelow, corrector at the University Press at Cambridge, Mass. Boston; Lee & Shepard; price fifty cents. Mr. Bigelow's experience at the University Press as a practical printer for nearly a half century, thirty years of which have been spent as a proof reader, should have, and we think has, abundantly qualified him for the preparation of this little manual, originally intended for the guidance of compositors and proof readers, but as well adapted to the wants of authors and teachers, and indeed all who write for the press, including lawyers who prepare briefs, and business men who issue circulars, etc. Mr. Bigelow justly holds that the tendency of our day is decidedly toward a less stiff and formal punctuation than that laid down in Murray's or Goold Brown's grammar, and it is now somewhat a matter of discretionary taste. The author acknowledges a careful study of Wilson's treatise, which has for some years been an authority in this respect. The book is divided into thirteen chapters, all devoted to important branches of the subject. It is a valuable aid both in the printing office and at the desk of every writer for the press. Much labor has been expended in its compilation by the author, who apparently has been trained to believe that what is worth doing, is worth doing well. Sold by M. Goodrich.

"Patty's Perversities." The last volume of the "Round Robin series" of novels published by James R. Osgood & Co., of Boston, is "Patty's Perversities." It has forty-six chapters of sprightly interest, the scenes being laid in and around Boston. The book is more noted for its style than its plot, and without inciting an intensity of interest, yet from its lively portraiture cannot fail to please in perusal. The characters are numerous, and all are well drawn. The work is from the pen of one who understands how to write. As with other of the series the author's name is not announced, and the public will have the privilege of guessing, until by and by some one will tell who wrote all these fine stories.

In these novels, Messrs. Osgood & Co. have thus far fulfilled their promises in the announcement of the series, that the books should commend themselves to all lovers and readers of the best fiction. Price $1.00, and sold by all booksellers, or sent postpaid on receipt of price by the publishers, whose address is 211 Tremont street, Boston.

"Insects: How to catch and how to prepare them for the cabinet:" by Walter P. Manton. Boston; Lee & Shepard; price fifty cents; for sale by Mercer Goodrich. This is a little manual of instruction for the field naturalist, by the author of "Taxidermy without a teacher." It contains directions as to the outfit of the insect collector; instructions as to the manner of preparing insects; treats of the cabinet, butterfly preserving, and "the times and places to hunt." One hardly needs instruction in this regard as to flies just now, as it is good hunting time now everywhere. The enthusiastic entomologist will find many valuable hints and timely suggestions in this little book, which can be carried in the pocket as one wanders in the fields and woods in his favorite pursuit.

AROUND HOME.

Hon. James W. Emery has returned from a brief trip to Europe, arriving by steamer Parthia at Boston, on Saturday.

The U. S. S. Lancaster was taken out of the dry dock on Tuesday, and put under the shears ready to receive her stores.

The tug Ann towed four schooners to sea on Tuesday, three loaded with bricks, and one in ballast.

The steamer Startled Fawn came to this city on Tuesday with a party of excursionists from Haverhill, Mass.

The steamer Naumkeag towed three scows loaded with coal to Exeter for the Exeter Manufacturing Co., on Tuesday morning.

The U. S. S. Leyden made a trip to the Shoals on Tuesday, having on board a large party of officers of the navy yard and their friends.

The steamer James Sampson lost her propeller off Tuesday morning, and was run on the flats near the navy yard bridge.

A wharf is being built at Kittery point for a landing for the steamer James Sampson. We are informed that she will make regular trips to that place during the warm season.

Several large yachts were in the lower harbor on Tuesday morning. They left for the Isles of Shoals, where it is expected the New York and Eastern Yacht squadrons will assemble to-day.

The steamer Appledore took a very large number of passengers to the Shoals on Tuesday forenoon. The number of guests at the Appledore and Oceanic hotels were never larger than at present.

John Erb, foreman lager brewer at Eldredge Brewing Co. works in this city was found dead in his bed on Tuesday morning. He had complained on Monday of feeling unwell and had retired from the brewery to his bed. His family are in Germany. The mayor has ordered an inquest to inquire into the cause of his death.

We have often mentioned that much of the fault found with the post-office department for non-delivery of letters is due to waste or carelessness on the part of those who send them. One of these culprits desires to make a voluntary acknowledgment of such remissness. A letter intended for Boston put in after ten o'clock was returned to him on the delivery of the mail an hour later, when he found he had addressed "Portsmouth, N. H.," instead of "Boston, Mass." Of course he would have been growling for weeks on account of the non-delivery of his letter, but for the fact that a card was on the outside of the envelope showing from whence it came.

The house of Mr. Ward of New York, who has a summer residence at Kittery point, was entered early on Monday morning by an unknown man, who stole a valuable gold watch and a set of jewelry. Entrance was made by the burglar by placing a barrel beneath the window, which awoke Mrs. Ward who remonstrated with the thief but was told by him to keep quiet and he would not harm her. After taking the jewelry he left the house and made his way toward Kittery Foreside. No doubt it was the same party who attempted to enter the house of Mr. Theodore Keen last week. A man answering to the description of the robber was seen lurking in the neighborhood of Brave Boat harbor, on Saturday.

INAUGURATION.

The new city government was inaugurated on Tuesday at the Court house. Daniel J. Vaughan was re-elected city clerk. The common council elected Albert C. Anderson as president, and Robbert E. Rich, clerk. The Mayor then delivered his inaugural address as follows:

Gentlemen of the City Councils:

We have come here this morning to inaugurate the City Government for the ensuing year and have invoked the aid of Divine Providence to assist us in the faithful performance of the trust committed to us by our fellow citizens. I wish here to humbly acknowledge my appreciation of the honor that for the fourth time has been conferred upon me.

For several reasons, the rate of Taxation is higher the present year than the one preceding; the destruction of the Kearsarge Mills last December by fire and the withdrawal of that taxable property tended largely to this increase. It should be our earnest endeavor to do all that can be done without injury to the prosperity of our city to reduce the rate this year.

In regard to our city's liabilities you will find a full and accurate statement in the City Book of Dec. 31st, 1880, at which time the financial year of the city ended.

Our schools still maintain their high standard. During the year some changes have been made in the corps of teachers. Mr. Clark after years of service has resigned as principal of the High School, and we have been fortunate in securing for that position Edward J. Goodwin. The influence exercised by our schools in the formation of the character of the men and women of the future is very great, and it behooves us to do all in our power for them. I think we have a corps of teachers to whom we can safely leave this sacred trust.

Our fire department is in excellent condition. We have purchased the past year 3000 feet of hose. At the Kearsarge Mills' fire we lost by bursting and fire so much that we were compelled immediately to add this large quantity in order to keep up the efficiency of his branch of the department. There has been appropriated this year $3000 for an artesian well on the Parade. Before commencing this work we should give the subject much consideration, bearing in mind that at best it is a doubtful experiment, and that the two just completed in this city have not proved what was expected of them. The officers and members of the force are an honor to our city and prompt when duty calls.

I can add nothing to the praise of our police force that I have not already said in previous years. At all times they have been both gentlemanly and efficient in discharging their duties and I hope no change will be made in the force.

Our streets and sidewalks are in excellent condition and it has been my endeavor to keep them so. Nothing adds more to the attractiveness of a city than well kept and clean thoroughfares. I would suggest an appropriation next year for covering a portion of Market street with crushed stone; in fact the whole street as well as that part of Vaughan street that is still paved should be so graded.

Our Almshouse and city farm under the watchful care of Mr. Shannon, the superintendent, and his wife, the matron, are in excellent condition, and the unfortunate poor residing there are well cared for.

Something must be done to abate the North Mill-pond nuisance, and I would recommend an early consultation with the owner thereof and the Eastern R. R. Co. to see if some plan cannot be devised for its abatement. As to the South Pond, if those who find fault because occasionally there is a bad odor from it would only reflect a little they would soon realize the great difficulty we have to contend with in keeping the water pure. Let them remember that a great portion of the city drainage is conveyed into that pond, and to get rid of it we must change the water, and when this is done of necessity an odor must arise. I hope by placing a flood gate on the tide gates to remedy this evil.

The poor of the city have been well cared for by the Board of Overseers; and there ought not (with our many other charities) to be any suffering among us. I would again suggest concert of action on the part of city and local charities.

The several suits against the city have been well managed by our solicitor, W. Russell Foster, Esq., and in most of the cases settled the city has come off best. As yet we have received no order from the Court to extend Short street to north mill bridge, yet they have awarded damages for the same.

Last year I called attention to the matter of establishing public bathing places. Owing to no definite plans and the large expenditure of money necessary for their maintenance, the last City Government did not feel that they would be justified in taking any steps toward that object until the sense of our citizens could be ascertained. At the late city election an effort was made toward that end. You know the result, and are thus enabled to act understandingly in the matter.

Gentlemen of the City Councils: During the past year the prosperity of our city received a severe blow by the burning of the Kearsarge Mills; but this should not discourage us; let us hope that this loss will be repaired. We have a city that we may well feel proud of. Our facilities for doing business both by sea and land are unsurpassed. Other cities offer building lots to Manufacturing Companies as an inducement to locate with them. What better can we do with that portion of the city farm that has been laid out for building lots than to give one of them to any Manufacturing Company wishing to locate here? thus opening up that portion of our city for building purposes and bringing in new taxable property where now there is none, and no revenue worth mentioning. In all we do let us be prudent and keep in view the prosperity of our beloved and beautiful city.

MOONLIGHT SOIREE.

Major David Urch whose aquarium has become so attractive that no one thinks of visiting Portsmouth even for a day without "taking it in," gave an entertainment to his friends on Monday evening at Newcastle bridge, that was as novel as it was enjoyable. More than fifty persons sat down to supper about twelve o'clock in the bright moonlight, at tables ranged along on the bridge close by the aquarium, which was so well lighted by naptha lamps and other accessories that the seals thought it was day, and refraining from taking their customary nightly repose at the bottom of the tank, sported about as if they enjoyed the festive occasion as well as their joyous visitors above them. At the conclusion of the banquet (which was served up in fine style) dancing was indulged in for an hour or more to the music of a quick-action organ, whose ordinary gait was somewhat disturbed by the light music necessary for the gaily tripping feet of the merry dancers. Some of the more daring of the ladies, under the guidance of the fair hostess and her sister, ventured to try the famous water bicycles and enjoyed propelling themselves through the water on these novel machines so well that their loud laughter could be heard in the stillness of the early morning hours away up the river as far as the navy yard. Fireworks were let off to animate the scene, and altogether it was a rarely merry time.

The True and the Stage Jaques.

The Jaques of the stage is a sentimental young man, who wanders about the Forest of Arden, mooning and maundering in a soft and almost silly way; a sweet-voiced young fellow, with dark eyes and dark curls, who is pitiful of wounded stags, and given to moods of tender melancholy; a moralizing dandy, whom the real Jaques would have made the butt of his ridicule. Shakespeare's Jaques is an elderly man of the world, a selfish, captious, crusty, clever cynic. In person he should be represented as a portly man of some sixty years of age, with gray in his beard, a head partly bald, and a constant sneer upon his lips. He had been a high liver and a hard liver; so much so that the Duke sharply rebukes him for his censure of others when he himself was open to so gross censure for his past life. The misconception of his character is the consequence chiefly of a misapprehension of the meaning of the word melancholy as applied to him,—"the melancholy Jaques." But Jaque's melancholy was a sort of ill-nature, a morose feeling towards his fellow-men. Briefly, it was cynicism; and this he shows not only in his act and speech, but in the description of it which he gives, Act IV., Scene I.: "I have either the scholar's melancholy, which is emulation, nor the musician's, which is fantastical, nor the courtier's, which is proud, nor the soldier's, which is ambitious, nor the lawyer's, which is politic, nor the lady's, which is nice, nor the lover's, which is all these; but it is a melancholy of mine own, compounded of many simples, extracted from many objects, and indeed the sundry contemplation of my travels, in which my often rumination wraps me in a most humorous sadness." This view of his character was set forth in Shakespeare's Scholar, but although it has since then been generally accepted by critics of Shakespeare, no actor has had the hardihood to displace the traditionary young sentimentalist of the stage, and give us the elderly cynic that Shakespeare conceived and wrought out with his finest skill. The modern stage tradition as to Jaques had its origin at a time—more than a hundred years after Shakespeare's death—when "As You Like It" began to come upon the stage again, and when the word melancholy had changed its significance. We may be sure that but for the civil war and the Puritans, tradition would have given us a Jaques of a very different character.—R. G. White, in August Atlantic.

The Chinese at Harvard.

The Chinese students have been recalled because they have cut off their pigtails, pared off their long finger-nails, and dropped their pork-pie hats. Besides this, they begin to manifest a degree of irreverence for the empresses of the east and west, think that the Tsung-li-Yamen is no great shakes alongside Congress, and, worst of all, have been caught chewing tobacco and using slang words instead of classical English. Yung Wing, the manager of the mission, lately surprised one of the Harvard Chinese students at the Parker house, Boston, playing billiards, drinking shelly cobblets and betting a pony that Vandelbiltee's Maud S. wouldn't beat her scole of 2:10 3-4. This miserable scene was the last straw that broke the mission's back.

—On the first introduction of ritualism into Scotland, the full choir service had been established in an Episcopal church, where a noble family had adopted those views, and carried them out regardless of expense. The lady who had been instrumental in getting up these musical services was very anxious that an old nurse of the family—a Presbyterian of the old school—should have an opportunity of hearing them; accordingly, she very kindly took her down to church in the carriage, and on returning asked her what she thought of the music, etc. "Oh, it's varra bonny, varra bonny. But, oh, my lady, it's an awfu' way of spending the Sawbath!"

—One of the chief results of fame is having your name spelled wrong. Mr. Schaeberle, having discovered two comets, now has his name spelled "Schabuip," "Schaberley," "Schaebe," "Schaeberley," "Schoebole," "Schwebele," "Zchaberlie," and otherwise most shabbily.

The Opinion of Sir Robert Christison, Physician to Her Majesty, the Queen, etc., etc.

Liebig Co.'s Coca Beef Tonic with sherry wine, iron and quinine is a remarkable preparation. It contains the nutritive elements of the muscular fibre, blood, bone and brain of carefully selected healthy bullocks dissolved in rare old sherry wine. To be precise, each tablespoonful contains the nutritive elements of one ounce of choice beef, one grain and a half of pure quinine, and two grains of iron. It also embodies a concentrated extract of coca, a South American tonic of which Sir Robert Christison, M. D., F. R. S., physician to Her Majesty the Queen, says: "The properties of this wonderful plant are the most remarkable of any known in the medical world. From repeated personal trials I am convinced that its use is highly beneficial and tonic." The price of Liebig Co.'s Coca Beef Tonic with sherry wine, iron, and quinine is $2 per bottle. This may seem high, but when its composition and quality are considered, the price is no higher than it can honestly be prepared for. The Liebig Company offers no cheap preparations. Only honest goods at honest prices.

Be Wise and Happy.

Fashion Notes.

Jet is more fashionable than ever.

Hanging pockets are in high fashion.

All red parasols grow in popular favor.

The return to polonaises is a fixed fact.

Queen's gray is a new shade of this color.

Dead white for dresses is called "snow-drop" white.

Odd-shaped Japanese hats are worn with coaching toilets.

A pink-tinted mitt is the newest thing in hand coverings.

Very simple jewelry is worn this season with summer dresses.

Wild roses and dead brown leaves are pretty on pale blue muslin.

The rage for lace grows in England, and shows no signs of ceasing.

Hollyhocks and peonies are just now very fashionable corsage flowers.

Large hats and poke bonnets of manilla straw are rivaling the porcupine and rough-and-ready straws.

Bracelets made of old silver medals, linked together with silver beads, are the fancy of the moment.

Stockings are made more decorative with embroidery, lace insteps, and gold, silver, steel and beadwork.

One black stocking and one deep cardinal red Lisle thread one forms the "real fashionable pair" at this moment.

Flexible cloth, a species of stockinet, has recently been introduced, and will in the fall be extensively used for corsages of dresses.

Silver gauze is the rage in Paris, where it is draped over satin with silver leaves or ornaments, and with silver Jerseys for corsages.

Brooches are made of red gold, made to represent a long letter—the initial of the wearer's name—a script capital of slender gold lines.

A new lace mantle, large enough to serve at the same time for head and shoulder covering, is a wide scarf bordered with a flounce.

New bathing dresses are of white wool, trimmed with wide worsted embroidery, wrought in bright Oriental colors and in odd designs.

The apron fronts gathered at the top and spreading thence to the hem of the skirt are called palm leaves, because they suggest the fan of that name.

Mothers who are not fond of darning, welcome the English stockings double at the knee, which have recently been imported for the use of youngsters.

Hats in the shape of an upset basket, full of flowers, tightened over the ears with a wide ribbon, are pretty and unique for completing toilets of wash materials

We have no nervous tonic at once so reliable and convenient as Fellows' Syrup of Hypophosphites, and we, therefore, gladly recommend it in the diseases of such organs as depend for health upon involuntary muscular action.

From Rev. Dr. Quimby,

AUGUSTA, ME., Jan. 5, 1878.

"Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam has been used in our family for more than three years, and we can recommend it as a superior remedy for coughs and colds."

When pangs the mortals flesh assail,
And give a bitterness to life,
Making the cheek with anguish pale,
Amid the fierce internal strife;
Then Sanford's Ginger soothes the pain,
And smiling Health looks up again.

Experience taught Me!

And my money paid for it. After having liver complaint four years, and spending money on nostrums and doctors who didn't help me, I tried Sulphur Bitters. Six bottles cured me. I shall always use them.—Millwright.

What is the Use!

Of buying worthless medicines, and spending money on quack doctors whose only idea is to gull the public. Is it not better to buy a reliable medicine like Sulphur Bitters? I think so, as they cured me of catarrh after suffering three years. —J. P. Clark, Manchester.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles, and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

Don't Die in the House.

Decline of Men.

Impotence of mind, limb, or vital function, nervous weakness, sexual debility, etc., cured by Wells' Health Renewer. $1. At druggists. Depot at Thacher's.

How Long Would it take to Count two Millions?

Over two million volumes of the revised edition of the New Testament, were sold on the first day of its issue. These figures can only be equaled by the enormous sales of Swayne's Ointment for Itching piles, which is universally used as a standard remedy for stopping the itching at night, when one thinks that pin worms are crawling about the rectum. To calculate the extent of its sale in actual figures, would involve the labor of a lifetime. Will you be pestered longer from the aggravating piles?

H. I. NATES.

We began using it over thirty years ago, and it always gives immediate relief. Would hardly dare to go to bed without a bottle in the house.

W. O. SPERRY.

Nearly every family in this section keeps a bottle in the house. DR. E. MORTON.

U. S. CONSULATE,

CREFELD, RHENISH PRUSSIA, Feb. 8, 1881.

I have known PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER for almost from the day it was introduced, and after years of observation and use I expect its presence in my household as an indispensable necessity.

L. S. POTTER, U. S. Consul.

21 MONTAGUE ST., LONDON, ENG.

During a residence of twenty-three years in India, I have given it in many cases of diarrhœa, dysentery, and cholera, and never knew it to fail to give relief. R. CLARIDGE.

Fashion Notes.

Hand painted medallions are used as buckles to fasten the belt. These medallions are set about with cut steel and facetted gilt to simulate brilliants, and are very pretty.

White lace stockings are worn over colored ones of silk or Lisle thread, matching the dress for evening toilets. The low slipper displays all the beauty of the lace inserted in the instep or up the ankles.

White Canton crape capes embroidered in white silk fringe, are richer and more becoming than any other kind of shoulder cape, but they are suitable only for watering place and country or indoor wear.

Buttons are superseded by clasps to avoid injury to costly materials by buttonholes. They are in antique designs, sometimes having broad bands, one blue, the other gold, in checks of an Oriental character.

Almond and pale gray cheese cloths make pretty morning dresses. They are trimmed with many rows of knife pleated ruffles around the foot of the skirt, and the long Greek overdress is draped in folds and trimmed with lace and bows of bright satin ribbon.

The latest movement in stockings show shaded (ombre) effects; for instance, a shaded stocking has a toe of the most delicate pink tint, shading gradually to deep crimson on the calf of the leg, and again to shell pink at the top, where it is sometimes finished with a lace frill.

Rough-and-Tumble Love Affair.

A fellow named Hubbard wanted to marry a Miss Garner, in Yazoo county, but the father and mother of the young lady objected, so Hubbard procured a double-barrel shot gun, went to the field where Garner and his wife were at work, and blazed away at the old man, but missed him. He then pulled down on the old lady, and wounded her severely. He was arrested and carried before a justice of the peace, and the old folks were there to testify against him. Just as the magistrate got ready to proceed with the trial Hubbard asked to be allowed to step into an adjoining room for a moment. In there he found Miss Garner and another justice, and they were married in double quick time. The family finally relented, the case was dismissed, and all were happy.—Brandon (Miss.) Republican.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

No good Preaching.

No man can do a good job of work, preach a good sermon, try a law suit well, doctor a patient, or write a good article when he feels miserable or dull, with sluggish brain and unsteady nerves, and none should make the attempt in such a condition when it can be so easily and cheaply removed by a little Hop Bitters. See other column.—Albany Times.

Big Results from Little Causes.

"Do you know?" remarked a man to his friend on Chestnut street, a day or two since, "I believe both Conkling and Platt had a bad case of skin disease when they resigned!" "What makes you think so?" inquired the listener in astonishment. "Well, you see they acted in such an eruptive manner—so rash—ly as it were. Save?" "Oh! yes, I save," replied the other, "they were boil—ing over and merely resigned to humor themselves, I suppose." If such be the case, the National difficulty might have been averted by applying Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases.

The President.

The condition of the President at noon on Wednesday was decidedly favorable, and Dr. Agnew expressed his confidence in his recovery, guarding his statement with the remark that quite a length of time will be necessary to accomplish such a result.

A Singular Shower.

A Central City special says: "The most destructive flood in the history of the country occurred on Monday, the 9th inst. in Denver, Colorado. At 2:30 a heavy storm-cloud appeared, accompanied by thunder and lightning. About four o'clock the citizens were startled by an almost unearthly roar to the west, and almost instantly a volume of water, between four and five feet, came rushing down Nevada and Eureka streets, taking everybody by surprise. Heavy quartz teams standing in the streets were overturned and carried down stream like feathers. Rocks weighing from five to six hundred pounds were rolled along the streets like pebbles. Animals and everything in the track of the flood were swept away in an incredibly short time. The streets were cleaned of people, everybody seeking shelter. During the flood large masses of debris were carried through the streets at the rate of about fifteen miles an hour. The whole length of the gulches, from Nevadaville on one side and the head of Eureka street on the other, presents a desolate scene. The roadways are entirely destroyed, in many places the ruts being five and six feet deep and extending hundreds of yards. For about three miles the road is strewn with debris of every kind. At several points the debris piled twenty-five feet high. On one street four feet of sand is deposited. The flood was caused by the bursting of a rain cloud, a little west of the city. The natural channel of the stream became damned, turning the water into the streets. The flood lasted but twenty minutes. The damage is estimated at $50,000. A number of small houses were washed away and many residences and stores flooded, and mud and sand deposited on floors and cellars to the depth of several feet. At Idaho Springs several houses in Virginia canon were carried away. Nearly all railroad and country bridges between the forks of the Ozark and Idaho were swept away, and nearly all the houses in the business part of the town flooded and streets damaged. The damage at Idaho will amount to $20,000.

News and Notes.

The counsel for Hartmann, the Russian nihilist, having addressed a letter of inquiry to Secretary Blaine, asking whether in the event of a demand by the Russian government his client could be arrested here, received a sharp response thereto from the State department to the effect that no hypothetical case involving such grave considerations as this will be considered. The reply closes thus: "It may perhaps be unnecessary to advise you that the conclusions and decisions of the department of state on important legal and diplomatic questions are not made prematurely public through the medium of newspaper interviews, nor in response to the attorneys of interested parties."

New Hampshire Items.

A. H. Belo, Esq., of Galveston, Tex., president of the Galveston News association, spent several days at the Waumbek house, Jefferson.

For seventy-six years the church at Barnstead has had but two pastors. Rev. Enos George served fifty-six years, and William O. Carr for the past twenty years.

The sixth annual meeting of the New Hampshire State Temperance Camp meeting association opened at Weirs, Lake Winnepesaukee, Aug. 9th, and will close on Aug. 12th.

New Hampshire has about half as many inhabitants as Maine, but she turned into the Unites Stated treasury last year, almost four times as much money. New Hampshire has breweries and Maine has not.—Boston Post.

The Fate of Nihilist Traitors.

Remorseless as destiny itself is the vengeance exercised by the Russian revolutionary committees upon traitors to their cause or spies employed by the police to ferret out their dark secrets. Since the cruel murder of Alexander II. redoubled the activity of the imperial executive and the perils with which the members of the nihilistic organizations are daily menaced, several agents of justice belonging to one or other of the above mentioned categories have perished by the assassin's hand. Only a fortnight ago a corpse was fished out of the Neva bearing upon its breast a placard on which was inscribed the single significant word, "Traitor;" and recently the body of a zealous detective named Primm, was found in the town cemetery of Smolensk, where the unfortunate man had been murdered in cold blood by the revolutionists. Primm, it appears, had learned that a meeting of conspirators was to be held during the previous night in the burial ground, and disguised as a laboring man, had joined the assemblage for the purpose of identifying those present. It was his ill fate to be recognized, seized and condemned to instant death. Several of the conspirators held him down while one of their chiefs deliberately cut his throat from ear to ear; thus, at least, runs the confession of two men who were subsequently arrested upon suspicion of being connected with the secret associations, and who, it is alleged, have frankly acknowledged their complicity in the crime.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

"The Directory of education and instruction, a reference book and manual of the theory and practice of teaching for the use of parents, teachers and others, by Henry Kiddle and and A. J. Schem;" New York; E. Steiger & Co., price $1.50.

The cyclopedia of education, the only publication of the kind in the English language, which about four years since appeared under the auspices of this well known publishing house, met with an unqualified endorsement from the ablest and best educators of both this country and Europe. The present work is issued to meet a want which may be supplied at a very moderate cost in proportion of the value of the book, by placing a work of this practical nature in the hands of every teacher and scholar in the country. The work is cheap only in price. It is replete with the broadest information upon educational topics arraigned in alphabetical order, full in its treatment of each subject, yet concise in style, giving a brief compendium of the theory and practice of education in definite shape, and with professional experienced ability. It can be afforded at the price charged for the sole reason that the publishers anticipate a most extensive demand among teachers, scholars and parents, when its value becomes known. Sent postpaid on receipt of price by E. Steiger & Co., No. 25 Park place, New York.

The "Art Amateur" for August is full of attractive features. Every one will be charmed with the plaque designs, one of a beautiful "Cithara Player," and the other by a Swedish artist, representing an astonished maiden discovering Cupid slyly ambushed in the bucket she has just drawn up from the depths of a well. The view of "St. Thomas's Church" is a strong drawing by Hughson Hawley after his unusually large water color. An article on Corot is illustrated by a striking portrait and an excellent drawing of one of his charming landscapes. The sketches by Landseer, and the illustrations of "Mediæval Embroidery," "Curious Ivories," and Artistic French Jewelry," are specially interesting. The articles on "Curiosities of Prints" and "Domestic Value of Old Furniture" are delightful art reading for midsummer, while such topics as "Landscape Painting in Oils," "China Painting for Beginners," "Color in Decoration," and the like are treated in the most practical and useful way. Price, $4.00 per annum; 35 cents a number. Montague Marks, Publisher, No. 23 Union Square, New York.

Women at Oxford.

This year's result of the Oxford examination of women over eighteen years of age will be scanned with some interest by the friends of women's education. The standing of the honor division is in most respects similar to that maintained in the university examinations, though, as the time of preparation never practically exceeds two years, and may be limited to one, the quality of the work done and the maturity of the training displayed ought to be compared with the quality and maturity shown by undergraduates in moderations rather than in the final schools. In the honor division, three of the sections—modern languages, English literature, and philosophy—have been attempted this year for the first time. Somerville hall has obtained a first class in modern languages, two second classes in the same section, and a second class in modern history. Lady Margaret Hall has obtained a second class in philosophy and a second class in English literature. There are also various third classes. Evidently, the examiners determined to maintain a high standard, of which the solitary first class out of ten honor candidates is a salutary indication. To this record should be added the success of a Somerville hall student in another field. One of its scholars appears tenth in the whole list of those matriculating in honors at the London university and first among the women candidates. Altogether the Oxford women's scheme has made a good start.

A young lady admitted to her mother that her beau had kissed her on the cheek. "And what did you do?" asked the old lady in a tone of indignation. "Mother," said the young lady, "I cannot tell a lie; I turned the other cheek."

A person overheard two countrymen who were observing a naturalist in the field collecting insects, say one to another, "What's that fellow doing, John?" "Why, he's a naturalist." "What's that?" "Why, one who catches gnats, to be sure!"

Departure of the Chinese Students.

The first detachment of Chinese students, twenty-two in number, being the class in telegraphy, started for the "flowery kingdom" on the 4:45 train Springfield, Monday afternoon, Aug. 8th. They go alone, the instructors waiting to go with the two other detachments to start later. The past two or three weeks the young Chinamen have been busy collecting articles to take home with them, and their purchases include about everything from a pocket knife to a bicycle. They have a failing for our fancy-figured cloths, and most of them have had made up two or three new suits to take with them. At the mission-house, to-day, everything was confusion. Express-men were leaving packages and boxes containing the students purchases, and the queer Chinese boxes were being packed for the trip. All the telegraph apparatus used in teaching the boys the mystery of the telegraph system is to be taken along, and each of the students will take the instrument with which he has been experimenting. The party are to make a brief stop at Niagara, so as to view the Falls, and the programme is to arrive at San Francisco on the 17th. They go by the steamer Belgic, and with a favorable passage will be at Shanghai by the last week in September. The remainder of the students and instructors will not depart until fall. Rumors as to the action of the Chinese-government are plentiful, but most of them if not all will not bear being traced. The home government knows what it is about, and probably thinks it unnecessary to consult or inform its subjects. There is some talk of the mission building being bought to be used as an inebriate asylum. It is well fitted for some such purpose, but it will undoubtedly be sold at a sacrifice.—Hartford Letter Aug. 6th, to the Springfield Republican.

—Queen Victoria, in later years, has lost much of the esteem which was felt for her a quarter of a century ago, but nothing she has done or left undone is more to her discredit than the manner in which she shows her opposition to women physicians.

AROUND HOME.

Mr. Channing Folsom, formerly of the Haven School in this city, but now of Boston, (Hanover street school) is in town.

The schooner Romer, reported ashore the 5th inst., and since reported a total wreck, was bound to J. Albert Walker with a cargo of coal.

The schooner Clytie recently arrived at this port with a load of coal in just two weeks from the time she left here for another cargo.

There were no fish in the weirs on Wednesday morning. Dover parties who have been regular purchasers of fish from this source failed to get their usual supply.

Keen's stage left for Kittery Point, Wednesday evening, loaded with baggage and passengers. Judging from the music of the horns, it was a tally ho coach.

The mayor in his inaugural hints to the newly elected members of the city councils that they had better go slow on that artesian well which was proposed to be located on Market square.

The schooner John Bracewell, Capt. Chatfield, originator of the Dover line of colliers, has made his last trip in his old vessel, having been engaged to take command of a large three masted schooner of 1100 tons.

Peaches of a very fair quality have made their appearance in this market. The crop this year is said to be very light, so we must fall back on the pears, of which there is promise of an abundant yield.

A prominent sea captain of Portsmouth, and a very nice gentleman by the way, was arrested at Kittery on Friday by the tax collector on an alleged indebtedness for back taxes to the amount of $40 on a certain ship which he claimed was unjustly assessed. To avoid further complications and expenses he made arrangements to settle the same.

A Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal says: "Engineer-in-Chief Shock, United States Naval Chief of the bureau of steam engineering, writes from Boston, where he has been visiting, that the work on the Lancaster has been very well done, and that the Boston navy yard is in a high state of efficiency. Slightly mixed in some respects!

The schooner Laura Bridgman was hauled out from her berth at Concord wharf on Wednesday noon to give place to the steamer Allentown, which has been waiting since Tuesday for a chance. It will be remembered that a law suit some little time ago grew out of a failure to observe the courtesy of waiting for turn.

Steamer Allentown, Swasey, from Philadelphia, with a cargo of 1662 tons of coal; schooner J. G. Stover, Arey, from South Amboy, with 247 tons of coal; the Isabella Thompson, Carver, from Elizabethport, with 276 tons coal; the Globe, Parker, from Hoboken, N. J., with 164 tons, and the Commonwealth, Smith, Rockland, with lime, arrived on Tuesday and Wednesday, their several cargoes being consigned to J. Albert Walker.

The employees of Mr. C. E. Boynton, the celebrated tonic and ginger ale manufacturer, are now fitting up a fine yawl boat, to be called the "Parnell," and it is predicted that she will compel the Humbug to take her water sometime in the near future. It has not been ascertained whether Hon. Mr. Parnell will present his namesake with a set of colors or not. She is to be commanded by Capt. John Jones.

The Eastern railroad managers endeavored on Wednesday, to get water from the bottom of their artesian well by means of tubing, but the coupling connecting one of the sections broke, compelling them to turn their attention from the search for water to that of extracting the broken pipe. The desire is to obtain water from the bottom of the well, as that which is at present used, foams in the boilers of the engines, rendering it practically unfit for use.

A large party availed themselves of the excursion down river on the steamer Acushnet on Tuesday evening. As a moonlight excursion, however, it was a failure, as the moon persisted in hiding herself behind heavy ominous looking clouds during the entire trip. The gentlemanly attention of the officers of the steamer to their patrons is pleasantly commented upon by those who went, and the American Band of this city is said to have played finely. The trip extended about a mile beyond the Shoals.

PORTSMOUTH & DOVER RAILROAD.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of this corporation was held at the Common Council room in this city on Wednesday. The clerk, Calvin Page, Esq., read the call for the meeting, and stated that in the absence of the president, Hon. Frank Jones, it would be necessary to choose some one to preside over the meeting. On motion of Col. Wm. H. Sise, William H. Hackett was chosen to preside. It was voted that the meeting proceed to choose seven directors for the ensuing year, and that a committee of three be appointed by the chair, to receive, sort, and count the votes cast. The chair appointed Messrs. William H. Sise of Portsmouth, J. B. Guppy of Dover, and Thomas H. Odion of Portsmouth, as such committee. Ex-Mayor Guppy of Dover addressed the chair stating that the citizens of Dover thought that the mayor of their city should be on the board of directors as the city has a large interest in the corporations. In reply to an enquiry from the chair Mr. Guppy said he offered no motion in relation to his suggestion. A ballot was had and Col. Sise, chairman of the committee reported the result as follows: Whole number of shares represented, 2491. Necessary to a choice, 1246. Frank Jones had 2491 votes; Daniel Marcy 2491; Albert R. Hatch 2491; William H. Sise 2491; Chas. H. Sawyer 1511; Andrew H. Young 1511; Oliver Wyatt 1492; and Charles M. Murphy 19.

The report was accepted and the president declared Messrs. Frank Jones, Daniel Marcy, Albert R. Hatch, William H. Sise, Charles H. Sawyer, Andrew H. Young and Oliver Wyatt, duly elected directors for the ensuing year. The meeting then voted to dissolve.

The directors subsequently organized by the choice of Hon. Frank Jones president, and Calvin Page clerk, and Geo. L. Treadwell, treasurer.

DOCTORS' BILLS IN THE OLDEN TIME.

Among the celebrated physicians who have lived in Portsmouth was Dr. Hall Jackson, who was a physician here during the last century. In 1782, the doctors of medicine in the town were Ammi R. Cutter, Joshua Brackett, Hall Jackson and John Jackson. These gentlemen on the 25th of March, 1782, were given by the town, permission to open a hospital on Henzells' Island, under such rules as should secure the town from danger, provided that the hospital should be of no expense to the town.

In 1795, when the excitement in and about Portsmouth was at fever heat concerning Jay's treaty, Dr. Jackson perpetrated the witty lines upon our neighboring town of Rye, "been 'sold out' for British gold," which will be remembered by many of our elderly readers.

We have before us an original letter written by the doctor nearly a century ago which shows how the doctors collected their bills in the olden time. The letter was given to us many years ago by the late William Pickering Haines of Biddeford, and reads thus:

PORTSMOUTH, March 1st, 1787.

Sir: The medical society formed in Portsmouth, have entered into an agreement and obligation to Credit all Persons employing them one year, after that time to exhibit the account, settle it by payment or note. I am one of that Society and bound by honor and obligation to desire you to comply with the rule. The multiplicity of my accounts and affairs will not permit of my making repeated applications on these occasions. If present payment is inconvenient, your signing the enclosed Note will much oblige your humble Serv't,

HALL JACKSON.

Mr. Samuel Brackett,
Berwick.

So it seems, that in one respect, the doctors of '87 agreed, that of making their patients either pay their bills or give a note. Very few of their patrons were probably so poor that they could not comply with the latter requisite.

—The western papers say this summer will long be remembered for its protracted and extreme heat. That may be the western experience but is not a New England one.

—A southerner, who has been attending the Chautauqua assembly, draws comparisons between northern and southern people, in which he says: "Their girls are not half so pretty as our. This is very marked. During the past week I have seen at these two resorts several hundred young ladies, belonging, I suppose, to the elite of northern society, and not one of them would be considered beautiful in the South Carolina capital. I am sure I could pick out a dozen girls there prettier than the very prettiest Yankee girl I have yet seen. Moreover, they don't dance as gracefully as our girls, nor flirt as outrageously, nor look as loving out of the eyes."

—The sharks that came up to the New York piers in search of youthful bathers have fallen victims to their voracity. Seven of them have swallowed pieces of pork in which strong hooks were incased, and are now on the piers objects of curiosity to the hoodlums who work there.

—Baroness Burdett-Coutts made a little speech to some schoolgirls the other day, in which she expressed the opinion that much of what had made England great, and would make her greater still, was, and would be, attributable to the grandeur of her womanhood.

—In the almshouse in a Michigan county, was a capable white woman, one of the employees was a stalwart, brawny, good-looking colored man. The woman and the man were very quietly married a few weeks ago, but the county officials found it out, and they are now out of employment.

—The Allen, a notorious gambler of New York, has just married an heiress worth about half a million dollars.

—As Governor Stone was not nominated by the Mississippi Convention, it is said that there is a strong probability of the nomination of a full republican ticket, headed possibly by General Alcorn, in the hope that democratic dissensions may result in republican victory.

—Sarah Bernhardt has been appearing in Scotland with great success. Sarah drove from Glasgow to Edinburgh—forty miles—in a coach and four.

Hint to Love-letter Writers.

An indignant head-clerk in the Baltimore post-office wants the newspapers to convey to the public his emphatic protest against the latest popular mania—confined as yet to sentimental writers of billets doux—namely, the sticking of postage stamps upon unusual and out-of-the-way parts of envelopes. There is, it seems, a "postage-stamp code" of flirtation, and each position of a stamp expresses some particular sentiment. Now the law allows the stamp to be put anywhere on the envelope the sender may please. But its position is a matter of importance to the cancelling clerks. "As long," says the Baltimore official, "as the stamps are in the orthodox place—the upper right-hand corner—they can work away like bees, and get through quickly, because the motion from the ink-pad to the stamp is a continuous one; but just as soon as they have to hunt around over the letter to find where the stamp is wafered, why, they can't get along near so fast. Please hint through your paper that every letter that comes here not stamped with a single stamp in the right-hand upper corner we use to make paper chickens out of."

—A St. Louis man wants "all the whiskey in the world sent to hell." He displays commendable forethought.

—The recent marriage of two gentlemen from Detroit, Michigan, at Lisbon, Portugal, with young ladies of the latter city, illustrates a peculiar fitness of things What more appropriate than that Michiganders should thus unite their fortunes with Portuguese!

—Out on a farm not a thousand miles from Austin, Texas, there are several colored families, who work a part of the farm on shares. Their cabins are all close together. The other day all of them were out in the field chopping out corn when it occurred to one of them (Sam Johnsing) that he had not locked up his cabin. He started back to do so, when Uncle Daniel called out: "What does you want to go up to yer for? Who am gwine to steal anything? Ain't we all out here togedder in de field?"

—The old battlefield of Ball's Bluff is infested by rattlesnakes. A few days ago a lady who was visiting the spot said: "What a smell of cucumbers!" the odor indicating the presence of snakes. A gentleman who heard her words rescued her from danger.

—A Connecticut editor, who his been skirmishing around in Maine, complains that the effect of prohibition has been to reduce the quality rather than the quantity of liquor sold. It didn't take him any longer to get drunk than it did at home, but he had a bigger head on him next day.

Be Wise and Happy.

If you will stop all your extravagant and wrong notions in doctoring yourself and families with expensive doctors or humbug cure-alls, that do harm always, and use only nature's simple remedies for all your ailments—you will be wise, well and happy, and save great expense. The greatest remedy for this, the great, wise and good will tell you, is Hop Bitters—rely on it. See another column.—Press.

—A little girl being asked on the first day of school how she liked her new teacher, replied, "I do not like her; she is just as saucy to me as my mother."

The Opinion of Sir Robert Christison, Physician to Her Majesty, the Queen, etc., etc.

Liebig Co.'s Coca Beef Tonic with sherry wine, iron and quinine is a remarkable preparation. It contains the nutritive elements of the muscular fibre, blood, bone and brain of carefully selected healthy bullocks dissolved in rare old sherry wine. To be precise, each tablespoonful contains the nutritive elements of one ounce of choice beef, one grain and a half of pure quinine, and two grains of iron. It also embodies a concentrated extract of cocoa, a South American tonic of which Sir Robert Christison, M. D., F. R. S., physician to Her Majesty the Queen, says: "The properties of this wonderful plant are the most remarkable of any known in the medical world. From repeated personal trials I am convinced that its use is highly beneficial and tonic." The price of Liebig Co.'s Coca Beef Tonic with sherry wine, iron, and quinine is $2 per bottle. This may seem high, but when its composition and quality are considered, the price is no higher than it can honestly be prepared for. The Liebig Company offers no cheap preparations. Only honest goods at honest prices.

—A young man, a short time ago, proposed to a lady several years his senior, and for an answer she said: "I guess I don't want to take a boy to raise!" The young man is now raising a mustache.

How Long Would it take to Count two Millions?

Over two million volumes of the revised edition of the New Testament, were sold on the first day of its issue. These figures can only be equaled by the enormous sales of Swayne's Ointment for Itching piles, which is universally used as a standard remedy for stopping the itching at night, when one thinks that pin worms are crawling about the rectum. To calculate the extent of its sale in actual figures, would involve the labor of a lifetime. Will you be pestered longer from the aggravating piles?
